Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS IN BOSTON.

In Boston all slaughtering of animals and dressing of meat must be conducted at the Brighton Abattoir. This establishment, known officially as the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association, was founded in 1870 by an act of the General Court in order to prevent the existence of numerous slaughterhouses within the city limits. Private individuals, if living within six miles of Faneuil Hall, were required to bring their animals to Brighton for slaughter. This step was taken since the very nature of the business frequently gives rise to public health problems, chief of which are noxious odors and rodent control.

In 1876 an inspector of the Board of Health was first stationed at the Abattoir to supervise slaughtering operations and to prevent the use of diseased or under age animals for food purposes. At that time the Abattoir was the main source of meat supply for the entire city, since transportation facilities did not yet permit the shipment of dressed meat for any distance. During 1876 approximately 74,000 cattle, 274,000 sheep and 8,000 calves were slaughtered. In 1942 the Brighton Abattoir handled a total of 149,948 animals.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being. —American City Magazine.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout. —Municipal Review.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

ODD ITEMS FOR WAR PRODUCTION.

Many an unusual item has crept into the shopping lists of automobile purchasing agents as a result of war production needs.

Toothpicks, dish mops, pure mutton tallow, dry ice, canvas foot covers, police whistles and razor blades are just a few of such implements being used by one company in its production of aircraft engines and combat vehicles. Toothpicks are used by the first-aid departments for medical dressings.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,853,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,823,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

TANKERS DO DOUBLE DUTY.

American shipyards are now making it possible for our tankers to carry extra loads. A scaffold-type extra deck enables a modern tanker to carry a load of extra freight the equivalent of 10 per cent of its normal load capacity. Some tankers now carry, in addition to its load of gasoline, deck loads of ambulances, planes, jeeps and trucks.

THE NURSING PROFESSION NOW AND IN POST-WAR PERIOD SYMBOLIZES CONSTRUCTIVE, HEALING AND CIVILIZING FORCES ON WHICH WHOLE FUTURE WORLD WILL DEPEND—DR LEONARD CARMICHAEL, PRESIDENT OF TUFTS COLLEGE AND DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL ROSTER OF SCIENTIFIC AND SPECIALIZED PERSONNEL, TELLS GRADUATING CLASS OF NURSES OF CITY HOSPITAL AT EXERCISES IN BOSTON COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL HALL—SAYS CIVILIZATION ITSELF IS IN MANY REAL WAYS IN THE CARE OF THE NURSING PROFESSION.

At the graduation exercises of the Boston City Hospital School of Nursing, at Boston College High School, on April 26, the following address on "Nursing in a World at War" was delivered by Dr. Leonard Carmichael, President, Tufts College; Director, National Roster of Scientific and Specialized Personnel:

You who are about to graduate this evening have a right to profound satisfaction. By arduous work you have prepared yourselves for one of the greatest humanitarian professions. In any period a community views with pride a new class of fully trained professional nurses when they graduate. In 1944, however, as you well know, society doubly welcomes you. In this hour of need America requires trained men and trained women in many fields of work, but in no field is the basic demand greater than in the field of professional nursing.

America and the United Nations will out-produce and out-fight the Axis. In order to do this America must out-train the Axis. Statistics and vivid diagrams have made all Americans clearly aware of the fact that in order to be successful in this world-wide war we must train vast armies of skillful soldiers, sailors and airmen. We are also fully aware of the fact that if we are to be successful in the present death struggle, we must maintain our production of steel, aluminum and thousands of specially machined products.

From Peace to War.

In our precedent-obliterating transfer from a constructive peace-time economy to an effective and really total war economy, almost every habit of the nation has been changed. We have produced new aviation devices, new tank guns, new submarine detectors, and above all we have done this job with speed, efficiency and precision. This means that we have used trained brains. We have mobilized our scientists, engineers, economists and business leaders, as well as great armies of fighting men and skilled laborers.

Our mammoth national task of creating a great Army and the world's greatest Navy has been accomplished by men and by women — by living human beings. Fighting men and production men and women need the best possible care, and hence today there is an unprecedented basic need for medical and nursing services. In this field as in many others, in order to grasp the victory as soon as possible, we must out-train so that we can out-fight our diabolically efficient enemies.

Almost four years ago I was given the task by the Federal Government of listing and mobilizing the scientific and specially trained men and women of the country. This endeavor led to the creation of what is called the National Roster of Scientific and Specialized Personnel. In connection with the work of developing this great and useful analytical list it has been expedient to secure some statistics concerning trained men and women in countries other than our own.

Unfortunately, such comparative figures have in recent years been difficult to secure. Therefore we must turn back a number of years in order to find truly comparative figures. In the mid-1930's it may be said in very round numbers that there were 300,000 trained nurses in America. In that same period there were about 286,000 trained nurses in Germany. Very roughly, therefore, in relation to the population it may be said that Germany had at that time almost twice as many nurses per unit of population as had America. In many ways nursing, as a profession, in Germany cannot be compared with nursing in this country, but the bald figures are striking. Thought-arresting figures of this sort could be given in relation to a number of other important professions. It is certainly not the part of wisdom to underestimate the trained might of one's adversary in modern total war. The figures that I have just given should again reinforce the tremendous importance of nursing education in the present period. When I said a few minutes ago that you are especially welcome in this invasion year I was not using a rhetorical phrase.

Contributions to Nursing.

It is a strange sociological paradox that war, as well as religion and science, has contributed to the development of the great profession of nursing. The art of nursing has had a long past. Egypt, Greece, pagan Rome, the East — so run the chapters of its early history. Not, however, until the rise of Christianity can the real roots be discovered of modern organized nursing of the sick as we know it in the western world today.

By the twelfth century of our era monasteries of religious orders provided inns for wealthy travelers, special hospitals for the poor who were ill, insane, or who had contagious diseases, asylums for orphans and the aged, and dwellings for physicians and nurses.

DR. CARMICHAEL'S ADDRESS BEFORE THE GRADUATING CLASS AT CITY HOSPITAL.

This great, ancient, distinguished religious organization of Christian philanthropy carries on to the present day in some significant modern organizations for nursing service. In the Catholic Church a number of religious orders especially consecrate themselves to the great service of nursing. St. Francis of Assisi, St. Elizabeth of Hungary, St. Catherine of Siena, St. Leonard, and in recent times St. Vincent de Paul, are but a few of the religious leaders whose names are associated with the care of social outcasts and nursing. The Sisters of Charity, established by St. Vincent de Paul, today constitute one of the most important nursing organizations in the world.

But as I have just said, war, as well as religion, has contributed to the past of the dynamic tradition of the merciful and scientific care of sick and wounded humanity. The Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, the Teutonic Knights, and the Knights of St. Lazarus devoted themselves to military service and to the maintenance of nursing hospitals.

Indeed, down through the years, war, disconcerting as it may seem, like religion, but in so different a manner, has been an energizing factor in the development of nursing organizations and nursing services. The horrors of war in modern times have been especially important in the growth of the Red Cross, the great international nursing and philanthropic organization started in 1862 as a result of the work of Henri Dunant in Switzerland and developed in this country especially by Clara Barton.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO CIVILIZATION.

The name of the eighteenth century is often called great in the family of the centuries. Literature in this period brought a quickening of new life to classic models. Fundamental steps of physical science were taken. Art, music, indeed much that contributes to what is commonly called civilization, flourished. Furniture-making possibly reached its greatest height, and domestic architecture in a new way became a fine art. But the fundamental biological sciences, save for anatomy, still slept the long deep sleep of the dark centuries. Thus medicine, while spectacular and full of pomp, Latin phrases, and scalpels made by goldsmiths, was still without real scientific basis. Little wonder, then, that in this period of great doctors with brocade coats and lace cuffs, nursing should have been degraded.

The care of the sick in the hospitals of Protestant Europe in this era was no longer a work of religious devotion. It became so abused that it was carried on in almost unbelievable filth and often with real depravity. The least intelligent menial servants of both sexes who could be secured for the smallest stipends were the nurses. The gilded coaches of London's great eighteenth century physicians carried men who, by our standards, were almost all, and almost necessarily, very callous to human suffering.

Anesthetics had, of course, not been discovered. Surgery still had to be a barbarous business of vivisection. But the populace as well as the profession was callous. In this period, Bedlam, the asylum for the insane in London, was considered to be one of the great amusements of the metropolis. Londoners in this period took out-of-town guests to the hospitals to poke and laugh at the incurably insane, chained naked or in a few rags in unheated dungeons.

REFORMS START.

Fortunately the very horror of the condition of the hospitals, asylums and prisons of the eighteenth century brought its own cure. Individuals of wide human sympathies were stirred to take up the unpopular enterprise of social reform. Elizabeth Fry, an English member of the Society of Friends, or Quakers, in the early years of the nineteenth century began her long period of ministering to the religious and physical needs of the neglected poor and sick in prisons, hospitals and asylums. She initiated a whole series of movements which have led to the enlightened social point of view of the twentieth century. In 1822 Pastor Fliedner, a German clergyman, met Elizabeth Fry and, inspired in part by her work he and his wife opened first a home for discharged prisoners; then, in 1836, at Kaiserwert on the Rhine they established a hospital on new principles.

The success of the self-sacrificing nursing sisters in Catholic centers had also suggested to Pastor Fliedner the advantage of establishing a group of fully and, for the period, scientifically trained Protestant nursing deaconesses to assist in the care of the sick. A few carefully selected young women were accepted in the small new hospital and the services of the hospitals so organized that each of these young women in training had an opportunity to learn, through first-hand service, all the various functions of the hospital.

A great advance in the Kaiserwert experiment over all previous nursing plans was that this practical training was reinforced by systematic and thorough theoretical and bedside teaching given by physicians. It is interesting to notice that all the deaconesses studying at Kaiserwert were required to take a full course in pharmacy and to pass the state examinations in this subject. Soon after the establishment of the initial hospital, a special hospital for the insane, where provision was made for instruction in the peculiar problems of what we now term psychiatric nursing, was included in the group of the Kaiserwert hospitals.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Florence Nightingale, perhaps the greatest individual figure in the history of nursing, was directly influenced in her career by studies both with the Sisters of Charity in Paris and at Kaiserwert. Again, however, it was war—this time the English campaign in the Crimea—which gave Miss Nightingale her great opportunity. Soon by her personal influence she effectively developed an organized nursing service in the English Army and later she led the way to a much more general development of scientific organized nursing throughout the English-speaking world and later indeed throughout the entire world. With the $50,000 raised in recognition of her war services in the Crimea, she started what came to be called Nightingale House for the training of nurses at St. Thomas' Hospital. This establishment makes her in many ways the real founder of scientific nursing training in the English-speaking world.

In Dorothea Lynde Dix, America produced a woman who was in one person a remarkable counterpart of Elizabeth Fry and of Florence Nightingale. In her way, Dorothea Lynde Dix did as much in this country for organized philanthropy and scientific nursing as these great women had done in England. She was born in Hampton, Maine, in 1802 and died in 1887 in the State Mental Hospital in Trenton, New Jersey, the first of the many hospitals—children she called them—which she had founded. During her long life she was teacher, reformer of hospitals and asylums, and, during the war between the states, superintendent of the women nurses of all the northern armies, serving in this capacity really directly under the Secretary of War. In this work she supervised the whole series of activities so strikingly described in Louisa May Alcott's too little known "Hospital Sketches."

One of the first American hospital nurses' training schools which is directly comparable to the modern training school as we know it was organized at the New England Hospital in 1872. It owed its inception to the general reform movements of the day and especially to a woman physician, Susan Dimmock, who had studied at Kaiserwert. Miss Linda Richards was the first graduate of this school and hence has sometimes been given the title of America's first trained nurse. In her published reminiscences it is interesting to read of the rigors of training in those early days.

The student nurses rose at 5.30 a. m. and went to bed, in little rooms between the wards, at 9 p. m., having been on duty during the intervening time. Moreover, even during these so-called sleeping hours the nurses were still subject to call, as there were no night nurses in the wards. The student nurses had no nights off duty, no hours for study or recreation, and were only twice a year given an opportunity to go to church. Out of this hard régime, however, a small group of nurses was graduated, and soon throughout the entire country training schools became recognized as important parts of most large scientifically managed hospitals.

Indeed there were other hospitals at just this time organizing schools of nursing which contended, with good reason it may be, with the New England Hospital for the honor of the first establishment of a real nursing school in America. In all these early schools much remained to be done—and even today much remains to be done—in improving conditions of training throughout the country. As the hundreds of thousands of trained nurses have become a more and more self-conscious professional group, they have themselves rightfully begun to press for higher educational standards and for reforms which raise both the quality and quantity of scientific work offered in schools of nursing.

OF DEEP SIGNIFICANCE.

In view of this history may I repeat that this particular graduation exercise has a deep and peculiarly timely significance. It is important personally to those who have gathered here, but in a more fundamental sense New England and indeed America must join in this celebration. The past has made it possible. Religion, philanthropy, war, and the biological, psychological, and above all the medical sciences have contributed to the development of the peculiarly human profession of nursing. Here before us are the new graduates. They are about to take up specialized duties. Some modern nurses devote themselves to private-duty nursing; others devote themselves exclusively to institutional nursing, to public health nursing, to industrial nursing, to psychiatric nursing, or to one of a dozen other specialties, as well as now to the pre-eminent great work of nursing as officers with the heroic armed forces of the nation.

The new graduate nurses before us will carry forward the unique tradition of the distinguished profession into which they are this evening officially inducted. Above all, in doing their work, they must, if they are to be worthy of their professional forebears, seek out the adventure of pioneering. They will all find, happily or unhappily, that the reward of skilled work in nursing as in other professions is not less work but more work. But still they will know the joy of being a cause. They will know the joy of initiating things.

The pioneer does not always push forward on the same frontier. The rough work of establishing nursing as a profession is over. But you members of this year's graduating class still have much to do in your own professional lives in elevating the standards of the almost sacred calling which you enter this evening as fully qualified members.

May I now directly address the new graduates? Human madness has set our world on fire, and it is burning today with an intensity unparalleled in the history of mankind. Many of you will find that you have specific duties in this great world conflagration. Some of you may well pay the ultimate sacrifice of life itself in your work with our Army or Navy, but we know that you will all be true to the great tradition of the American nurse in wartime.

In not too distant months our armed forces will gain complete military victory, and once again as a nation we will go forward by properly planned steps toward a better and more truly American social order. In this post-war world, as well as in the present global war, you as nurses will symbolize constructive, healing, civilizing force. You take on new and almost religious obligations as you graduate tonight. Mankind trusts you. Civilization itself is in many real ways in your care. I know that you will be worthy of the great trust which you assume tonight!

NATIONAL AND INTER-AMERICAN MUSIC WEEK PROCLAMATION.

MISS MARGARET E. ROBBINS, Director of Music, Community Recreation Service, 739 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR MISS ROBBINS,—As the twenty-first annual observance of National and Inter-American Music Week arrives, let me proclaim that every week in Boston is Music Week. No other city in any state has given more time, attention, and interest to this fine art than has Boston.

Boston public schools were among the first, if not the first, to teach music. Jenny Lind sang first in Boston almost one hundred years ago to such huge audiences that no place large enough to hold them was available, so that more than one thousand people at each concert were turned away.

Music lovers from everywhere have come to our city to listen and to learn. The great have come to perform before audiences who have been as appreciative and enthusiastic as any to be found.

Indeed it affords me great satisfaction to proclaim Music Week to the citizens of Boston.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors and supply places for furnishing labor, merchandise, supplies, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Boston, April 27, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Park Commissioners respectfully requests your approval for the award of the refreshment privilege at Carson Beach, Columbus Park, South Boston, for a term of three years beginning May 1, 1944, and ending April 30, 1947, to James P. Hoar, 1662 Columbia road, South Boston, at a rental of $1,500 per year.

Mr. Hoar has operated several concessions in this department and for a number of years had the concession at Castle Island prior to the time this territory was taken over by the Federal Government. He now operates the refreshment booth at the Head House, South Boston. His reputation for conducting concessions, both in and out of this department, is of the highest. At the present time he operates lunch concessions in City of Boston and Cambridge schools. He has always paid his rent, and due to the difficulty in these times of getting the proper person to operate a park concession, I believe we are fortunate in obtaining a man of Mr. Hoar's character and reputation to accept this concession.

In view of the above conditions, I believe nothing would be gained by advertising for bids and it is respectfully requested that the Board of Park Commissioners be allowed to award this concession to Mr. Hoar without advertising.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 28, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising in a sum not to exceed $895 to Thomas H. Spurr of Boston for washing, painting and striping the lobbies, corridors and dados on the various floors of City Hall Annex building.

On March 11, 1944, this department advertised for proposals for painting work to be done in the old City Hall building. There was much publicity given this venture in relation to the City of Boston "Clean-up Campaign" which dates had been announced for March 27 to April 8. It was decided then, in order to promote the campaign as much as possible, we could further aid by having more work done while the campaign was in progress. Then, on March 28, we issued an order to do this painting work in the City Hall Annex building.

As time was of the essence and this work starting at once would add zest to the clean-up campaign. I feel it will best serve the interests of the city and respectfully request your approval.

Respectfully yours,
•LEO F. POWER,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, April 24, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the Elgin Sweeper Company of Elgin, Illinois, for furnishing the following to the Sanitary Service of the Public Works Department:

Two Elgin 20-motor pick-up sweepers, including two extra sets of filled side broom segments for each machine and one extra main broom filled for each machine at (net delivered) $7,181.50 each.

Experience with various types of street cleaning machines over a period of years has demonstrated conclusively that the Elgin sweeper is the most satisfactory machine for use by the Public Works Department and, as the Elgin Sweeper Company is the manufacturer, no advantage would be gained through public advertisement.

Priority to purchase Elgin equipment was obtained from the War Production Board on the strength of letters of recommendations from your Honor and Commissioner Hyland and Doctor Gately, dated January 24, 1944.

The approximate amount of the contract will be $14,363.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, April 26, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without public advertisement for bids to the Hersey Manufacturing Company for furnishing two 12-inch Hersey Detector meters for the Water Division of the Public Works Department. These meters are for use at the United States Navy Dry Dock and at the United States Army Dry Dock, South Boston.

This particular type of meter has been specifically requested by these agencies and as the Hersey Manufacturing Company is the manufacturer, no advantage would be gained through public advertisement for bids.

The Hersey Company has quoted a price of $1,568 per meter, making the total amount of the contract $3,136.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, April 26, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the Simplex Wire and Cable Company, 79 Sydney street, Cambridge, for furnishing to the Fire Department 5,000 feet Simplex 20-conductor Type III Frankfort Arsenal rubber jacket control cable, in accordance with specifications on file in this office.

Because of war-time restrictions, it has been impossible for more than three years to purchase cable of the high quality that the Simplex Company is now prepared to supply. This particular cable is constructed with Latex insulation and 60 per cent rubber jacket. According to the written report from the Fire Department, the conductors "are composed of stranded copper which makes this type of cable especially adaptable for emergency use since it is flexible and can be readily reeled after using. Each conductor has five strands of steel which makes the cable especially strong to withstand pulling and handling. This cable with its particular construction will be of special advantage for the Fire Alarm Division since it can be pulled into ducts for either emergency or permanent use, or it can be laid on the ground or buried in a trench as the condition may warrant, and when used for emergency connections it can easily be reeled for future use." This cable is available at this time only because the Army released a certain quantity and the manufacturer is in a position to dispose of the stock for civilian use. These facts have been thoroughly checked by the Supply Department.

In view of the extremely reasonable price — $385 per thousand feet — quoted by the Simplex Company and bearing in mind the fact that we are able to purchase this cable only because of Government releases, your permission is requested to waive public advertisement and award the contract to the Simplex Wire and Cable Company without undue delay. The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,925.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, April 27, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested for the approval of the awarding of a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the George N. Parker Grain Company,

Danvers, Mass., for furnishing the following to the House of Correction, Penal Institutions Department:

Thirty-two tons Beacon test cow ration at $68.60 per ton; 11 tons Beacon fitting ration at $70.20 per ton; 500 tons calf starter ration at $99.90 per ton.

This cow ration will be needed during the month of May and would not be included in the regular monthly bid pending the acquisition of more cows by the House of Correction and final determination of the quantity needed.

The Master at Deer Island informs this office that the herdsmen have found through experience that Beacon dairy products are most suitable for their needs and for this reason I request the award to the Parker Company, the agent in this area for Beacon products. The approximate amount of the contract will be $2,992.38, less a cash discount of 2 per cent for payment in ten days.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, May 3, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested for the approval of an award, without publicly advertising for bids, to the George N. Parker Grain Company of Danvers, Mass., for the following emergency shipments of cow rations to the House of Correction, Penal Institutions Department:

Six tons Beacon dairy ration at $68.50 per ton; 4½ tons Beacon fitting ration at $70.50 per ton; 7 tons Beacon test cow ration at $68.90 per ton; ½ ton Beacon calf starter at $96.60 per ton.

These shipments, made during the latter part of February and the first weeks in March, were occasioned by the fact that three more cows had been acquired at Deer Island and no provision had been made for their feeding.

The approximate amount of the award will be $1,238.45.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE, SUFFOLK COUNTY.

I respectfully request your approval of these contemplated purchases.

Respectfully yours,

SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS IN BOSTON.

In Boston all slaughtering of animals and dressing of meat must be conducted at the Brighton Abattoir. This establishment, known officially as the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association, was founded in 1870 by an act of the General Court in order to prevent the existence of numerous slaughterhouses within the city limits. Private individuals, if living within six miles of Faneuil Hall, were required to bring their animals to Brighton for slaughter. This step was taken since the very nature of the business frequently gives rise to public health problems, chief of which are noxious odors and rodent control.

In 1876 an inspector of the Board of Health was first stationed at the Abattoir to supervise slaughtering operations and to prevent the use of diseased or under age animals for food purposes. At that time the Abattoir was the main source of meat supply for the entire city, since transportation facilities did not yet permit the shipment of dressed meat for any distance. During 1876 approximately 74,000 cattle, 274,000 sheep and 8,000 calves were slaughtered. In 1942 the Brighton Abattoir handled a total of 149,948 animals.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being. —American City Magazine.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout. —Municipal Review.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

ODD ITEMS FOR WAR PRODUCTION.

Many an unusual item has crept into the shopping lists of automobile purchasing agents as a result of war production needs.

Toothpicks, dish mops, pure mutton tallow, dry ice, canvas foot covers, police whistles and razor blades are just a few of such implements being used by one company in its production of aircraft engines and combat vehicles. Toothpicks are used by the first-aid departments for medical dressings.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,858,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,623,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

VETO OF ORDER NAMING SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 27, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith with my signature and disapproved the order of your Honorable Body of April 3, 1944, to name the square at the junction of Cedar and Highland streets in honor of George T. Scott, Jr., a member of the United States Naval Reserve who was killed on June 2, 1943.

In a communication to the City Council on May 24, 1943, I recommended that the subject of naming streets, avenues, parks and squares in honor of those who have lost or may lose their lives in the services during the present war be postponed until the war is ended, and that thereafter a commission be appointed to determine what locations are available for the purpose, and to submit to the City Council the outstanding names from what may possibly be a considerable number of Boston men whose lives may be sacrificed.

I believe that is the best policy for the City Council and the Mayor to adopt in this matter and in accordance with that policy I feel constrained to veto the order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

USE OF SAVIN HILL GARAGES AS TEMPORARY BATH HOUSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Park Commissioner relative to your order of April 3, 1944, regarding the construction of a temporary bath house at Savin Hill out of the block garages located on Denny street, which property is now owned by the City of Boston Real Estate Department, and which for the most part is unoccupied.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, April 24, 1944.
Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of April 6, with inclosure, order from the City Council directing the Park Commissioner to construct a temporary bath house at Savin Hill out of the block garages located on Denny street, etc., and I respectfully forward the following information.

I looked over the cement block community garages on Denny street, Dorchester, with the idea in mind of attempting to convert them into a bath house for the public who use Savin Hill Beach. At present these thirty garages are in very poor condition. They are built of cement blocks with a flat frame roof with a tar and gravel surface. The tar and gravel roof is in such poor condition that the rain water has leaked through and rotted the roof boards and rafters and caused the plaster from the ceiling to fall off in many places. There are so many repairs to be made to the cement blocks and doors, and the roof is in such bad condition, that to convert these garages to a bath house, structurally safe, would probably cost about $5,000.

There are no facilities or any opportunity of installing toilets or wash basins in these structures without spending a lot more money. Someone might suggest that some of the garages in fair condition be utilized for bath house purposes and the balance left alone. I do not agree with this plan as there are so many repairs to be made to the roof and cement blocks that it needs immediate attention. Even after all the repairs and replacements were made the building is not laid out properly for locker purposes. If the conversion was made, I think a cafeteria system should be installed with counters and checking boxes and a few dressing closets installed—the bath house to be sectioned off for boys and girls.

In many cases the doors would have to be taken out and the openings closed up so that there would not be too many doors. There are practically no windows or any other way of light getting into these buildings.

I understand this property is now under the control of the Real Estate Department of the city. If the property was turned over to us the Building Department would no doubt order these repairs and replacements carried out as a matter of public safety. I, personally, would rather see $5,000 spent on a building out on the park land near the beach.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. KELLY called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on annual list of appointments submitted by the Mayor April 17, 1944, of Constables not connected with official positions and authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds, as contained in City Document No. 45.

2. Action on annual list of appointments submitted by the Mayor April 24, 1944, of Constables connected with official positions and to serve without bonds, as contained in City Document No. 46.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I ask that these Nos. 1 and 2, be taken up separately.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question first comes on No. 1 on the calendar, that is action on annual list of appointments submitted by the Mayor April 17, 1944, of constables not connected with official positions and authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds, as contained in City Document No. 45.

The appointments contained in Document No. 45 were confirmed, Coun. M. H. Sullivan and Coffey acting as a committee to collect, sort and count ballots, yeas 15, nays 1.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question next comes on action on No. 2 on the calendar, the annual list of appointments submitted by the Mayor April 24, 1944, of constables connected with official positions and to serve without bonds, as contained in City Document No. 46.

The question came on the confirmation of the names contained in City Document No. 46.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I ask that action on four Ward 11 names, or four names put down as from Ward 11, be deferred for further consideration, so that before they are approved the matter may be taken up with the Mayor. The names are as follows: William G. Cass, James J. Flanagan, Jr., Fred H. Mathews and Arthur R. Matthews. I would also ask that the City Clerk correct the error in regard to Andrew J. Whelan who is put down in the printed document as from Ward 11, and I believe he is from Ward 19. I would trust, therefore, that the four names I have specifically mentioned—Cass, Flanagan, Mathews and Matthews be not confirmed at this time, but that action be delayed.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I don't quite understand the procedure here. I thought we were taking up No. 2 on the calendar.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Yes, we are, but the suggestion is made that certain names which have been given to us be not acted upon at this time, although there is no objection, I understand, to action on the other names.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I would like to get information from you, if I can, in regard to the new names added to this list from last year.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Can you give that information, Councilor Kelly?

Coun. KELLY—I cannot offhand, Mr. President. We had a committee hearing last Thursday, at which the other members of the Council had a chance to appear and look over the list. All the members of the Council were invited to the hearing. The reason why I had action on the list postponed from the previous meeting was so that the councilors would have a chance to look over the list. Of course, there are some new names this year. There are eighty names this year to be voted on.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, may I seek information? Do I understand that there are more names this year than last?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair understands there are four less. The question is on confirming the names that appear in City Document No. 46, with the exception of the four names that have been singled out, which will presumably be referred back to the committee.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, on the question of referring those names back to the committee, I think we should have a roll call.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I understand that there is courtesy granted to the councilors from each district by giving them an opportunity to know what is going on in their particular districts. I would ask, therefore, that the names I have referred to be held up temporarily, for reasons that are in my possession, and, apart from those names, I am entirely willing that confirmation shall be voted by the Council. I do feel, however, that action on the names I have given should be delayed, and I believe that is a courtesy which is extended to each and every member. I understand that that is the customary procedure in this body. Therefore, I would ask, Mr. President, for a ruling on that question.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair will rule that a member is within his rights in asking that the question be denied as suggested; that we can act on the other names at this time, and that the four names that have been referred to will not be acted upon at this time. I believe that action will be satisfactory to everybody. I think, as far as the other four names are concerned, they can be acted upon at the next meeting.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I am perfectly willing to put the names over for a week, but I would not want anything done that would keep them out of their jobs. If the thing comes up next week, it is perfectly all right with me.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—I think Councilor Kelly, chairman of the committee, will call a meeting this week.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the committee about that.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I will hold a committee meeting this week.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, I would like to inquire through you, sir, before these names are acted upon, if there will be any hardship to any of these men by delaying, if they will lose their pay?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Not if they are reappointments.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, I ask that the name of James P. O'Connor of Ward 18 be held over for one week.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair will now put the question on confirmation of the names of constables set forth in City Document No. 46, with the exception of the four names mentioned by Councilor Hanley and the name now suggested by Councilor Feeney, of James P. O'Connor.

With the exception of the five names above referred to, the names of appointed constables set forth in City Document No. 46 were approved, Councilors Dwyer and Kinsella acting as a committee to receive, sort and count ballots, yeas 19, nays 0.

MONUMENT TO CARDINAL O'CONNELL.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor appoint a committee composed of clergy and public-spirited citizens for the purpose of selecting and allocating a site on the Boston Public Garden for the erection of a statue and monument to the memory of his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, the late Archbishop of Boston. The inscription to embrace his life as a true spiritual shepherd; a defender of the inalienable rights of man; a lover of the poor, the infirm and the suffering; a steadfast foe against all forms of racial and religious bigotry and a champion of a more just and charitable understanding among men; be it further Ordered, That the fund for the above be procured from voluntary subscriptions of the boys and girls enrolled in the public and parochial schools of Boston, whom he admired and loved and whom he defended at all times by protecting the tranquillity and sacredness of the home and family from all foreign encroachments.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, never in the history of our great city has its citizenry witnessed such a spectacle of ecclesiastical grandeur as that which attended the burial of his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell. The pontifical requiem Mass celebrated by the Papal Delegate, Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, culminated six continuous days and nights of public manifestation of love, honor and respect. A cavalcade of 2,000 years of exquisite and most beautiful ecclesiastical pageantry and ritual passed in review. It was a public testament of a great church tendered to one of her illustrious sons. The public devotion, love, honor and respect from countless thousands of all creeds and races is a defiant and most patent refutation of those men with disreputable and maligning tongues, who would attempt to desecrate the great City of Boston, and in particular its citizenry. No mortal man can foretell the future events, but some day, somewhere, miraculous happenings attributed to his intercession before the throne of God may bring about his exhumation, beatification and canonization. A son of humble immigrant Irish parents, he was motivated early in youth by an ardent love for his God and fellowman. He was the recipient of the inestimable blessing and privilege of being ordained a priest. His brilliance and scholarly attainments augmented by his indefatigable labor in the Lord's vineyard procured for him elevation to Bishop, Archbishop, Cardinal and dean of the Catholic Hierarchy in America. Possessing a strong robust body, a superb intellect, an eloquent and linguistic tongue, a vibrant voice, and talented as a writer of prose, verse and a composer of music, all these gifts were nurtured and cultivated by his insatiable desire to fill up the courts of Heaven with all of God's children. His pastoral admonitions to his flock, his adamant stand for faith and morals against all opposition, his consistent and steadfast fight for a better understanding among people, and the eradication of racial and religious intolerance, his personal endorsement of all movements for the alleviation of poverty, sickness and suffering, his battle for peace among the nations of the world and the retention and perpetuation of American principles and ideals, had endeared him to all men regardless of race or creed, to men in exalted and humble positions, to the clergy and laity. His memorable life and happy death symbolized his service to God and Country. His passing is mourned, an irreparable loss has been suffered by the great City of Boston, our beloved Country and his Holy Church. His epitaph has been written and inscribed indelibly in the monuments he left behind. His humble birth, his achievements in life, his exalted position in the minds and hearts of man, his work, deeds and admonitions are bequeathed to us as a legacy to hold, to revere, and to cherish. His memory and life stands as an impenetrable bulwark, a challenge to false and materialistic principles. In conclusion, Mr. President, I would like to offer up my humble and public prayer that as his immortal soul winged its way up before the eternal tribunal he was welcomed with tender grace by the gentle Master, that a diadem studded with the most precious jewels obtainable in Heaven was placed upon his feverish brow, and that he was welcomed and ushered into the realms of Heaven with the unctuous words: "Well done, my good and faithful servant."

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

NATIONAL HOLIDAY ON APRIL 19.

Coun. BAYLEY offered the following:

Whereas, The 19th of April, 1775, witnessed the first military engagement between the American colonists and British troops and the opening events of the War of the Revolution and the struggles through which the nation passed in the early days; and

Whereas, The City of Boston played so important a part on that first Patriots' Day, and is concerned in strengthening general interest and knowledge of the historic events of that day which lighted the torch of American independence; and

Whereas, A frequent recurrence to the events out of which this great nation arose, and a better understanding of the principles upon which our forefathers grounded their independence cannot fail to stimulate and renew that high sense of patriotism which has ever been the glory of our country; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in session assembled hereby requests that favorable action be taken by the Judiciary Committee at Washington on House Joint Resolution 117 of

1943, introduced into the Congress of the United States by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, asking that national recognition be given to this date by authorizing and requesting the President of the United States to proclaim April 19 of each year as Patriots' Day, emphasizing the significance of the events that occurred on April 19, 1775, and inviting the people of the United States to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in commemoration of the patriots who laid down their lives for the cause of independence; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the Judiciary Committee of the Congress and to the United States Senators and Representatives from Massachusetts.

Coun. BAYLEY—A few days ago we in Boston and in Massachusetts celebrated Patriots' Day as a legal holiday. The 19th of April, 1775, is one of the most glorious dates in American history. It was on that day that the first military engagement occurred between American colonists and British troops and the fighting that took place at Lexington and Concord formed the prologue to the mighty drama of the Revolution and determined the character of its first campaign. The 19th of April has had particular attention in Massachusetts for many years and Patriots' Day was designated as such by act of the General Court, chapter 22 of the Acts of 1938, calling for an annual proclamation by the Governor and specifying that the annual observance is "to commemorate the opening events of the War of the Revolution and the struggle through which the Nation passed in the early days." Patriots' Day is annually set apart in Massachusetts, and also in Maine, in part to commemorate the events themselves that took place on that day in 1775. The opening scene of that eventful drama has been immortalized by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in his great poem "Paul Revere's Ride." It was here in Boston, in the North Church tower, that the lanterns were hung which were to flame into American liberty. And from Charlestown, after dodging a British patrol, Paul Revere, and his compatriot, William Dawes, Jr., sped to warn the countryside—to warn the men who faced the British at Lexington, and with the aid of Dr. Samuel Prescott, the men who at the historic and heroic stand at Concord Bridge "fired the shot heard 'round the world." Well did Longfellow write:

"That was all! And yet through the gloom and the light

The fate of a nation was riding that night;
And the spark struck out by that steed in his flight,

Kindled the land into flame with its heat."

But, as is stated in the preamble of House Joint Resolution 117, the significance of April 19th in the history of our country is not to be measured solely by the extent of the military forces that engaged in local battles in 1775, but "by the direction and strength of the intangible forces then set in motion which in due course established the United States of America." One hundred and sixty-nine years ago the people of Boston and of Massachusetts decided that they would fight and, if necessary, die, in order that they might have liberty and freedom of action. Here was the torch of liberty lighted and the patriots of 1775 thereby started America on the road to independence and victory, which came from their resolute determination, their actions, their sacrifices. Boston is often referred to as the "Birthplace of American Liberty." The lessons of Patriots' Day, 1775, should be commemorated, not only in this state, but in every state of the nation. We should encourage a vivid remembrance of all that the 19th of April means to a freedom-loving people. Passage of this resolution by Congress at this time would be timely and of great morale value to show that we in America want to hold what our forefathers have won for us and that America shall continue to be a beacon of liberty for the rest of the world to see and to try to emulate. Congresswoman Rogers deserves great credit for introducing into Congress this resolution to commemorate Patriots' Day nationally. I, as a direct descendant of one of the patriots of 1775, John Adams, and of a general in the American Army whose name I bear, take great pleasure in presenting this resolution here today. I hope that you, my colleagues, will likewise take pleasure in passing this resolution unanimously today. We in Boston are proud of April 19, 1775, so let us stand 100 per cent behind an action to have this day annually commemorated all over our great country in recognition of the glorious events of that day and of the principles of liberty, of freedom and of independence that were born thereby. (Applause.) I ask for suspension of the rules and passage of this resolution.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF HOMES BOARDING RECIPIENTS OF OLD AGE ASSISTANCE.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate all rest and convalescent homes where recipients of Old Age Assistance are being boarded.

Coun. KEENAN—Mr. President, the purpose of my introducing that order this afternoon was that during the past two weeks it has been called to my attention throughout Greater Boston, in these homes where aged people are put for room and board, which is paid for by the Welfare Department, in a great many places these poor unfortunates are not properly clothed or fed. Over the week-end I had two elderly women, one aged seventy-five, one aged seventy-seven, brought to my attention, that were housed in a room for a year and a half. Their food is brought to them on a tray. The person running the home has a license for only three, but has seven in the home, and all they are getting is one piece of bread, and if they ask for two they are told if they don't like it to get out. I have also come in contact with other rest homes throughout the city, trying to locate them in a home that would be better for them. I hope that his Honor the Mayor will see that there are better conditions in every home throughout the city that has a license to house these poor unfortunates.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPOSSESSION OF STOLEN CARS.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor suggest to the Police Commissioner that when an automobile reported stolen is later recovered by the police the owner of said car be given a sufficient opportunity to repossess the car before it is towed to a public garage.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, presumably acting under orders, whenever a stolen car is recovered by the police it is towed to a public garage, and the person from whom the car was originally stolen, in order to recover it, must pay a towing charge in addition to storage charges, and these charges have no O. P. A. ceiling on them. In the course of the last couple of months I have had two strange experiences. First, I was riding with a man who had reported his car stolen, and, in riding along one of the main thoroughfares of Boston he saw his car standing there, parked. The fellow said, "There is my car." So we stopped and got out and went up and told a police officer who was handy that the man's car which had been reported stolen was standing there against the curb. The officer said, "O. K., I will have it towed to a garage." I said, "I don't think you have to tow it to a garage. The guy that owns it is right here." He said, "I can't release it. I am supposed to tow it to a garage." So, in order to get the car, we had to ride to the police station and go through a lot of red tape before the proper owner could repossess it. The other evening one of my constituents came over and said that his car was stolen, that he went out and reported it to the police, and two nights later, about three o'clock in the morning, the doorbell rang, and there was a cruising car with two police officers. One of the officers said, "We have come to notify you we have recovered your car, and it is over on Sixth street," and gave the location. The man got dressed and called a taxicab and went over, and when he got to Sixth street his car was gone. So he went to the police station and asked what the story was. They said, "We had your car towed to a garage." So that man had to go to a garage, had to pay the towing charge and had to pay the cab fare, and his main complaint was that when he did get his car it certainly was in tough shape and, being an automobile mechanic, he believes that some of the damage done to the car was not done by those who stole the car. Now, when anybody runs into difficulty or trouble and it is necessary to call the police, generally the police officer stays there for a certain length of time, and there is no question with these stolen cars that when they are recovered, if they are locked they can notify the owner and give him a couple of hours to get there and pick up his car. Even if a police officer had to be left there to guard it, it wouldn't do too much harm, and a property owner would be protected. As it is now, you pay for towing charges, and you always find when you locate your car it is in very bad shape and needs the services of a mechanic who, happily, is right there in the garage to which it has been towed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

IV. APPRECIATIONS.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following letter from Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Administrator of the Boston Diocese, which he is pleased to publish for the information of the department.

"DEAR COMMISSIONER,—The magnificent cooperation given by the Fire Commissioner and all the officers and members of the Fire Department of the City of Boston during the Solemn Obsequies of the late Cardinal Archbishop of Boston will never be forgotten by me, the priests, the religious and the faithful of the archdiocese. The tribute you paid to our departed Shepherd among the members of the department was excellent. In fact, it was one of the best tributes I have seen.

Many people of all faiths have commented on the dignity and the order that prevailed throughout the obsequies. No small credit is due to the members of the Boston Fire Department. The personal tribute paid by the men, their commissioner and their chaplain was also universally praised.

Our grief in the loss of our Good Shepherd is tempered by the consolation that he now enjoys the eternal blessings that God promised to faithful stewards. We die and a candle light is extinguished. We enter heaven and billions of lights glow for us for all eternity. This is the human way of comparing the flickering light of our earthly lives with the Eternal Light of the Beatific Vision.

Every blessing and with abiding gratitude to all, I am,

Your devoted and grateful friend,

R. J. CUSHING,
Administrator."

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to acknowledge receipt of a check for $100 from Mr. R. A. Campisi, President of the Industrial Enameling Corporation, 81 Hano street, Allston, Mass., in appreciation of the efficient manner in which members of this department handled a recent fire on the property of the Industrial Enameling Corporation. The check has been sent to the treasurer of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

By order of Fire Commissioner
WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley-coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

MAYOR TOBIN BROADCASTS APPEAL TO WOMEN OF GREATER BOSTON FOR NURSING AID TO AGED AT LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL—IN ADDRESS OVER RADIO STATION WNAC, HE CALLS ATTENTION TO NEED FOR HELP CREATED BY DEPARTURE OF SO MANY NURSES FOR DUTY WITH THE ARMED SERVICES—NUMBER OF PATIENTS AT INSTITUTION REMAINS AT 550, AS BEFORE THE WAR, WHILE ONLY 26 NURSES REMAIN TO PERFORM SERVICES FORMERLY GIVEN BY STAFF OF 89—VOLUNTEERS ARE ASKED TO GIVE ONE DAY A WEEK TO WORK.

On Friday, May 12, over Station WNAC, Mayor Tobin broadcast the following appeal to the women of Greater Boston to aid in nursing aged and ill at Long Island Hospital:

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is Mayor Tobin. I want to talk to you tonight on something that is very close to all of us — the care of the sick and the aged, the care of elderly persons — who, in the twilight of their lives, find themselves alone in the world, without family or relatives to care for them, entirely dependent upon their city, upon you and upon me.

It is peculiarly appropriate that I should come to you tonight for help in a problem which now confronts our city. This is National Hospital Day, the anniversary of the birth of one of our first angels of mercy — Florence Nightingale — who did so much to place the nursing profession on its present high plane.

Florence Nightingale was born in Florence, Italy, on May 12, 1820. Just one hundred years ago, then at the age of twenty-four, she decided to enter the field of nursing and to devote her energy, her fortune, her very life to its advancement. She and her nurses were the first to go onto a field of battle to bring relief to wounded men.

I don't suppose that it is possible to evaluate the contribution that has been made to mankind by Florence Nightingale and the millions of girls and women who have followed in her footsteps, easing the pain of the suffering, helping to heal the hurts of the wounded, helping to nurse the sick back to health. Certainly the world owes them a great deal. And nurses today, many of them on battlefields, with our fighting forces and behind the lines with our wounded, are truly carrying on the work that Florence Nightingale started.

Serious City Problem.

But I want to talk to you tonight about a serious problem which is confronting the city in the care of the aged and the sick — men and women who are unable to care for themselves and who have no one to care for them in the sunset of their lives.

We have an institution in Boston Harbor that is called Long Island Hospital. I wish all of you could make at least one visit there to see the good work that is performed by a group of faithful conscientious workers. I am sure it would impress you more than anything I could possibly say.

We have some 550 patients at Long Island Hospital — men, women and children. The bulk of them are men and women whose average age is more than seventy.

These men and women came from all walks of life. Many of them were great successes in the business world and in the professions. Many of them knew real success in their early years. Many of them reared and raised fine families.

Some of the finest mothers that God ever produced are down on that island in Boston Harbor. Fine, upstanding men and women, who did their part to make this the greatest and grandest nation on earth. Through no fault of their own they have encountered misfortune, as might you or I but for the help of God. Many of them outlived their sons and daughters.

As Mayor of Boston I have tried to provide every comfort that money could buy for these men and these women. I knew that the warm-hearted people of Boston would want it that way. And Long Island Hospital today is one of the finest institutions of its kind in the country — yes, in the world.

But today those elderly men and women in the twilight of life need something that money cannot buy. If money could buy it I would not come to you tonight for help. They need the help and the assistance of their fellow citizens of Boston and of Greater Boston. The men can be of help, but this appeal is directed principally to the women of Boston and surrounding cities and towns. I am asking the ladies of Greater Boston to see that these elderly men and women are cared for in the manner that those who are listening to me would like to be cared for if conditions were reversed.

You all know there is an acute manpower shortage. You know that millions of men and women have been shifted from their normal peace-time tasks to assist in the prosecution of the most terrible war the world has ever known.

Making Sacrifices.

I fully realize that I don't have to tell you there is a manpower shortage. I know that every one of you is doing without things he would have in normal times. I know that every one of you is putting up with all kinds of inconveniences — willingly and cheerfully — to hasten the day of eventual victory and peace which — God willing — will come soon.

There are many things we can and are doing without. There are many peace-time services we have given up in the interest of winning the war. But there are some services which must be maintained in the face of all obstacles. One of them is the care of our sick and our aged.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

REPORT OF MARY W. CAULEY, DIRECTOR, HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE AND ARTS, ON HER ATTENDANCE AT NORTH ATLANTIC REGIONAL CONFERENCE ON HOME ECONOMICS EDUCATION AT NEW YORK, APRIL 11 TO 14, 1944, INCLUSIVE, PRESENTED TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The following is the report by Mary W. Cauley, Director, Household Science and Arts, on her attendance at the North Atlantic Regional Conference on Home Economics Education, in New York City, April 11 to 14, 1944, inclusive:

This is to report that I attended the twenty-fifth annual North Atlantic Regional Conference on Home Economics Education, which was held by the Vocational Division of the Federal Security Agency of the United States Office of Education, at the Hotel McAlpin, New York City, from April 11 to April 14, 1944. I attended all the Home Economics educational meetings.

During the conference great emphasis was placed on post-war plans. It was brought out that Home Economics education should keep in touch with these plans and should have representation on such planning boards. One of the most important objectives was to enlarge the scope of Home Economics education to include homemaking activities and the study of family life for all boys as well as for girls.

Home Economics has been taught in the Army in such a fundamental way that it opened a challenge to schools as well as colleges.

One of the greatest fields of influence for Home Economics teaching is in the nutrition program. The war has given great publicity to good nutrition. The "Basic Seven", which is a concrete example of the nutrition goals set by the Federal Government, has been widespread. Commercial firms, newspapers and radios have contributed largely to extending this information which was originally launched by the Federal Government.

The machinery for teaching Home Economics should be well oiled and the classroom activities should be extended to home experiences. In teaching we should strive for mastery of subject and should avoid the overlapping of subject matter. In our attempts to be broad, teaching sometimes has spread thin. We must avoid the superficial and train pupils to have a scientific approach to the subject.

Courses in Home Economics should be offered in order that family life may be regarded as a partnership. The problems that arise in the family should of necessity be solved jointly by both parents. Boys and girls should learn about the selection of the home, its furnishings, the planning and operating of the individual and family budgets, as well as those factors that promote healthful living in the home, i. e., Nutrition, proper housing, household sanitation, rest and recreation. They should be considered a unit in social study. Pupils of a low I. Q. should get direction, those of higher I. Q. should receive a challenge.

The majority of girls marry five years after leaving school. Something is wrong in education where girls are not permitted to study Home Economics in high school programs, when these same girls are to be the mothers in so short a time. These future parents are with us now and should have the benefit of good preparation for their life's work. Only 7 per cent of the people are now working in professions and it appears that society will never be able to support more than that percentage. High schools often have 50 or 75 per cent of the students looking forward to a professional career. As a result, many are bound to be disappointed. They could be saved the frustration by proper guidance.

We have increased our appreciation and revalued family living by what the war is doing and what the family is doing to meet the war situation. We must teach the children to seek cooperation and to learn the technique of having others cooperate. There is a technique. The first step is to obtain recognition. Second, to get the right emotional response. Third, to seek cooperation. These steps must be taken in the right order or cooperation cannot be obtained. Home Economics supervisors must interpret the subject to pupils, teachers, administrators and the public. The position must be clarified, a program advanced, a policy established and then auspiciously proposed. For success, steps must be taken in the right order.

A one-year course for all high school pupils, boys and girls, based on their needs, related to work experience and to other subjects, should be subscribed. We must see education in the light of today and tomorrow's events. The basic values of teaching should go down deeper into "blood, sweat and tears" of living. Inflexible requirements should gradually disappear under the influence of just claims. More education should be used to develop personality and social welfare. This is a prodigious development that we don't know too much about. There should be no settling in and no gradualism possible. We have had too much cleavage. We must leap and land in good places. This means we must see clearly before we leap. There must be freedom to work with other people and to take responsibility to gain good family and good community life. We must take the initiative of improving rapidly. The time element adds zest to life. We must have individual creativeness combined with good group action. Education must not be accused of giving "too little and too late."

MARY W. CAULEY,
Director, Household Science and Arts.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 10, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Charles H. Gallison of 15 Neptune road, East Boston, has operated the refreshment concession at World War Memorial Park since 1939. The booth and equipment are owned by him. During the last few years, due to the fact that Federal troops are quartered at this location and also because food and other refreshments are rather difficult to obtain, the business in this area has depreciated considerably. Last year we allowed Mr. Gallison to operate this concession for the payment of $50 to the city.

In view of the fact that he owns the booth and equipment and that I do not believe we would be able to get any one else to run this concession, it is respectfully requested by the Board of Park Commissioners that Mr. Gallison be granted this refreshment privilege for the summer season of 1944 for the sum of $50.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 3, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of December 29 of last year, your Honor approved the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the contracting firm of Appel & O'Toole Company of 78 Moreland street, Roxbury, for earth excavation and refilling of trenches, opened in connection with installation of new water services or water mains, repairing of mains, services, etc., in the City Proper, South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown and Roxbury districts.

While December 31 of the current year was specified as the date of completion of the work, the contract sum authorized to be spent under the provisions of the above-referenced contract has been expended, although it will be necessary, of course, to continue this type of work during the remainder of the current year.

The work of the above-referenced contractor is very satisfactory and the prices for which he is doing the work are exceptionally reasonable, and, in my opinion, no lower prices can be obtained if publicly advertised bids were requested. There are only two items involved in this contract; one for the excavation of 3,000 cubic yards of earth at $2.25 per cubic yard, and the other for applying 1,800 square yards of cold patch surface at 50 cents per square yard.

To substantiate my opinion that prices lower than the ones quoted above could not be obtained if publicly advertised bids were requested, I wish to call to your attention that publicly advertised bids were opened in this office on Friday, April 14, for the excavation of 3,000 cubic yards of earth material in the West Roxbury water district, and the bids submitted by four contractors varied from a minimum of $3 per cubic yard to a maximum of $4 per cubic yard.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

In view of the circumstances, therefore, I feel that it is to the best interests of the city to award a new contract to the above-referenced contractor, under the same conditions and at the same prices for which he is doing the work at the present time. I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the firm of Appel & O'Toole Company of 78 Moreland street, Roxbury, for earth excavation and refilling to allow the Water Division employees to install, regulate or repair Water Division structures in City Proper, South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown and Roxbury (Water Division) districts, at an estimated contract sum of $7,650, which is computed on the basis of 3,000 cubic yards of earth excavation and refilling at $2.25 per cubic yard, and 1,800 square yards of cold patch resurfacing at 50 cents per square yard.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, May 4, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—A proposal has been submitted to me by The Haller Engineering Associates, Inc., of 38 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, providing for the inspection and testing of ready-mix concrete used by the department or by contractors working for the department, during the current year on construction and reconstruction work.

This proposal is similar, except in one respect, to the one submitted by the above-referenced firm last year and which formed the basis of a contract awarded to that firm which was in effect last year, and which proved beneficial to the department in assuring the city that it was receiving not only the quality but the quantity of ready-mix concrete for which it was paying.

This work was done by The Haller Engineering Associates last year, at a rate of 20 cents per cubic yard, but the proposal submitted this year provides for an increase to 25 cents per cubic yard for these services. I discussed this increase with a representative of the above-referenced firm, and he has informed me that last year their firm was doing a considerable amount of this inspectional work for the Housing Authority and that, therefore, it could afford to give the city the reduced rate of 20 cents per cubic yard. This year, however, he has informed me, little or no inspectional work will be done for the Housing Authority and, therefore, the entire time of their engineering inspectors will have to be devoted to the contract with this department when concrete is being mixed at a particular ready-mix plant.

Aside from this point, he has informed me that this rate is at least as low as that charged by them to other municipalities in this area, and that it would be impossible for them to render proper service for less than the 25 cents per cubic yard figure submitted in the proposal.

The cost of the inspectional services is small when compared with the average cost per cubic yard of the concrete furnished, and, in view of this, I feel that it is good business for the city to enter into this contract with The Haller Engineering Associates, despite the increase of five cents per cubic yard as compared with last year's price.

It is also my opinion that work of this nature can be done to the best advantage of the city by an outside engineering firm rather than by city forces and I feel, therefore, that a contract should be awarded to The Haller Engineering Associates providing for the testing and inspecting of all ready-mix concrete used by the department during the current year. There is no advantage in publicly advertising for bids for work of this kind, because the price submitted is secondary in importance to the type of service rendered by the contractor. The work done by The Haller Engineering Associates on work of this nature for the department last year was most satisfactory, and I feel that it is to the best advantage of the city to award another contract to this firm at this time.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to

The Haller Engineering Associates, Inc., of 38 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, in an estimated amount of $3,750, which is based on the inspecting and testing of approximately 15,000 cubic yards of ready-mix concrete, at 25 cents per cubic yard.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, May 4, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Last Saturday at 1.20 a. m. one of our mechanical street-cleaning machines was involved in a serious accident with a passenger car in the vehicular underpass located at the intersection of Massachusetts avenue and Huntington avenue.

The accident was so serious that the operator of the passenger car was killed, and our machine was damaged to a large extent. An examination of the machine has been made by the Pratt Equipment Company of 173 Second street, Cambridge, the representative of the manufacturer, and it is estimated that it will cost in the vicinity of $2,500 to repair the machine; $1,000 of which it is estimated will pay for parts and materials, and $1,500 for labor.

It is the policy of the department to have these machines repaired by the above-referenced company, because, as stated, it is the direct representative of the manufacturer, the Elgin Sweeper Company of Elgin, Illinois, and no advantage would be gained by having the repair work done by a second party.

In view of this, therefore, I respectfully request your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the Pratt Equipment Company of 173 Second street, Cambridge, for the effecting of repairs to our Elgin Sweeper, No. S-386, at an estimated cost of $2,500, with the understanding that the actual amounts paid by the city will be based on the cost of the parts and materials furnished by the contractor, and also on the cost of the labor used in effecting the repairs, which is the same system in effect heretofore for paying for repairs made to the department's sweeping machines.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of May 3, 1944, your Honor approved this department's request for permission to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the Elgin Sweeper Company, Elgin, Illinois, for furnishing the following to the Sanitary Service of the Public Works Department:

Two Elgin 20-motor pick-up sweepers, including two extra sets of filled side-broom segments for each machine and one extra main broom filled for each machine, at (net delivered) $7,181.50 each.

Since this letter was written and approved we have been informed by the representative of the Elgin Company that the specifications set forth therein are incorrect and that the correct specifications are as follows:

Two Elgin 20-motor pick-up sweepers, including one extra set of side-broom segments and wire for filling for each machine and one extra main broom and fiber for each machine, at (net delivered) $7,181.50 each.

Your permission is requested, therefore, to revise the original award to conform to these changes.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, May 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of May 1, 1944, informal quotations were opened in this office on transit mix concrete for the Paving Division of the Public Works Department. These quotations were solicited of the various concerns in Boston which are prepared to furnish this material and but two bids were received:

J. H. McNamara, Inc.: 136 cubic yards 1-2½-5 mix concrete at $6.75, $911.25; 48 cubic yards 1-2 mix concrete at $11.25, $540. $1,451.25. Discount, 50 cents per cubic yard, thirty days.

J. P. O'Connell Company: 136 cubic yards 1-2½-5 mix concrete at $6.75, $911.25; 48 cubic yards 1-2 mix concrete at $11.25, $540. $1,451.25. Discount, 50 cents per cubic yard, ten days.

The Public Works Department is in urgent need of this concrete mix and inasmuch as we have contacted our regular source of supply, I respectfully request that permission be granted to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the lowest bidder, the J. P. O'Connell Company, 110 Forsyth street, Boston.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

REGISTRY OF PROBATE.

BOSTON, January 25, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—As you are aware it is necessary for me to purchase supplies for the Registry of Probate and the Probate Court under Item D-1 in the budget. The principal expenditures from this item are for the purchase of blank forms, of which we have approximately three hundred kinds. With such a variety it is very difficult, if not impossible, to anticipate the needs of the bar, the public and the office in that connection and very often we find it necessary to order some items for quick delivery, so that we cannot wait until our needs would amount to one thousand dollars.

We do not usually expend as much as one thousand dollars at any one time for the purchase of such blank forms and other supplies. I believe that if we were required to build up our orders to the one thousand dollar mark and advertise for bids such action would be likely to result (no matter how unintentionally) in overpurchasing.

In the light of the foregoing, I respectfully request authority to dispense with advertising for bids for the purchase of supplies under budget Item D-1. This request is made under the provisions of chapter 156 of the Acts of 1939.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR W. SULLIVAN,
Register.

MUNICIPAL COURT FOR CRIMINAL BUSINESS.

BOSTON, May 4, 1944.

HON. DAVIS B. KENISTON, Chief Justice,
Municipal Criminal Court, Boston,
Mass.

MY DEAR MR. CHIEF JUSTICE,—I respectfully submit herein reasons for exemption of this office from chapter 156, Acts 1939. No one or several items purchased by this office will amount to $1,000, with the exception of the purchases of various dockets and indexes. These various dockets, consisting of Domestic Relations, Drunk, General, Released Drunk, Inquests and Traffic violations differ in many respects and it would be impossible to class them in one contract. The dockets used in the Parking violations are of a greater variance from the rest, so this would have to be treated as an individual item. It would take many orders for over a period of months in the printing of our forms to total the amount of $1,000. It does not seem to me that there is any possible way to estimate the number of the arrests or cases brought by summons that would appear before this Court; therefore, one could not estimate the number of the various forms used for the various crimes that we would use in any given year.

The statistics of this Court will show that there is a variance in each year, sometimes increasing and sometimes decreasing, the increase or decrease not being consistent enough to set a figure for a certain amount of forms that would be needed for the particular offences. Again I would call to your attention that the printing of these forms should be done by a printer with plenty of experience along the line of printing legal papers, as it is very important that much care should be used in this work.

Therefore, I feel that the above should be sufficient to grant the exemption requested.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL J. LYNCH,
Clerk of the Court.

MUNICIPAL COURT FOR CIVIL BUSINESS.

BOSTON, May 3, 1944.

HON. DAVIS B. KENISTON, Chief Justice,
Boston Municipal Court, Boston,
Mass.

MY DEAR CHIEF JUSTICE,—With reference to section 1, chapter 156, of the Acts of 1939, requiring a written contract for purchases in excess of $1,000, or approval by his Honor the Mayor to dispense with contract formality, I wish to advise that no one item to be purchased by this office will amount to $1,000.

The different forms of writs, certificates, executions, summonses, etc., of which there are 140, are purchased from time to time as needed, as there is no manner in which an estimate could be made of the number of any one form to be needed during a given period.

The largest item needed annually is the docket, and the cost of having these printed and bound is in the vicinity of $600.

I know of no way in which these various purchases could be combined to amount to $1,000, and therefore feel that this office should be exempt from the requirement of a written contract.

Sincerely,

EDMOND J. HOY, Clerk.

DISTRICT COURT OF CHELSEA.

BOSTON, May 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with chapter 156 of the Acts of 1939, which requires contracts in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to be entered into only after they have been submitted to bids, there is one item in my budget which comes under the scope of the above-mentioned chapter, to wit, D-1.

Item D-1 covers all printing, dockets and office supplies. May I ask that you give us authority to dispense with advertising for bids in this item for the reason that every dollar in D-1 is spent through the City of Boston Printing Department.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD F. CANAVAN, Clerk.

MAYOR TOBIN BROADCASTS APPEAL FOR NURSING AID.

We have today the same number of patients at Long Island that we had five years ago, before this war even started in Europe. That is, 550 patients. But five years ago we had eighty-nine nurses to care for them. Today we have but twenty-six, ladies and gentlemen. Twenty-six, less than one-third of the normal number.

Most of the other nurses have left the city employ to serve with our armed forces, to help in the care of the wounded boys wearing the uniforms of our country.

I would like to say just a word, ladies and gentlemen, about those twenty-six nurses who have done such a grand job at Long Island, administering to the needs of our patients there. They have carried through a critical winter, and they have done an almost superhuman job. But they need help. They need your help. We have not only a shortage of nurses at Long Island but also a shortage of attendants of all kinds. I have tried in every possible way—in every way I know—to hire the necessary employees to staff Long Island Hospital. But I can't get them.

Tonight I am appealing to the women of Greater Boston to help meet the crisis at Long Island. I'm not trying to hire you. You can't buy the help I'm asking. I'm asking the women of Boston and of neighboring cities and towns who can give us a day a week or a day every two weeks to spend that day helping out at Long Island Hospital. I have launched a campaign to recruit an army of part-time Angels of Mercy to help out at Long Island Hospital in a real mercy work.

Mrs. Lily Marie Scanlon of West Roxbury is now organizing that army. She has been set up in an office in the Boston Civilian Defense headquarters on the fourth floor of the Houghton and Dutton building at 55 Tremont street. She may be reached by telephone at Capitol 5620. If any of you women among my listeners tonight are retired nurses and if you are in a position to do so I ask you to return to work and accept paid positions at Long Island Hospital for the duration of this emergency.

You former nurses, who have no one at home for whom you must care, can do no finer work than to return temporarily to your profession, take over the positions of the girls who have gone to serve with our armed forces and help us to care for the sick, the needy and the aged. If you are so financially independent that the pay itself means nothing to you, then take the jobs as a patriotic duty to your country and give your pay to charity.

Any retired nurses who are willing to accept nursing jobs at Long Island should contact Institutions Commissioner Hugh J. Campbell at Lafayette 5100, line 370, or Dr. James V. Sacchetti, medical director of Long Island Hospital, at President 1371.

I might say that I have advertised for nurses in the nursing journals all over the country. But this shortage of nurses isn't a condition that is confined to Boston. It is nation-wide. This same situation exists in every city in the United States.

And to you other women, even if you have no nursing experience whatever, if you haven't children or elderly relatives to care for, would you be willing to give a day a week or a day every two weeks to help out at Long Island Hospital—to help us care for these elderly persons.

I realize, of course, that many women have children at home for whom they must care, that other women have elderly relatives of their own to whose needs they must administer. I recognize fully that many, many women cannot respond to my appeal, much as they might like to help out.

ONE DAY PER WEEK ASKED.

But I am speaking now directly to the woman whose family may be fully grown, to the woman who does not have children for whom she must care, who is at her home while her husband is at work. To these women I am appealing. Would you give us a day a week of your time and help out at Long Island as nurse's aid or as an attendant of some sort.

We're not offering you any pay. We know we could not repay you in money. But we are confident that from that work you would derive a satisfaction that would more than reimburse you, for there can be no greater satisfaction in life than to know that one has contributed personally and with her own hands to the comfort and the happiness of the less fortunate.

Long Island Hospital, of course, is in Boston Harbor. It can be reached only by boat, though one of our post-war projects calls for connecting it with the mainland by a viaduct and a bridge.

We plan to provide hourly boat service to and from Long Island for those who are willing to enlist in the city's army of Angels of Mercy. You won't find the ride up and down the harbor unpleasant.

If you can give a day a week or a few hours a week, won't you contact Mrs. Scanlon at the civilian defense office. The number again is Capitol 5620, and the office is located at 55 Tremont street. You can call there in person. You can telephone. Or you can write.

I know that the patriotic, warm-hearted women of Boston and Greater Boston—and, incidentally, we would welcome your help whether you live in or out of our city—are going to rally to support this undertaking of mercy and to see that our elderly persons at Long Island receive during war time the fine care they enjoyed during peace time.

This is Mayor Tobin saying Thank You, God Bless You, and Good Night.

"I AM AN AMERICAN WEEK" — A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, The President of the United States, acting under authority given by Congress, has designated Sunday, May 21, 1944, as "I Am An American Day," in special recognition of all men and women who during the past year have become citizens of the United States either by naturalization or by attaining the age of majority; and

Whereas, The President has requested Federal, State and Municipal officials and patriotic, civic and educational organizations to arrange for this occasion public exercises which will assist all citizens to understand more fully the duties and opportunities of citizenship and their special responsibilities to our nation in time of war; now, therefore,

I, MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor of The City of Boston, do hereby proclaim May 16-21, 1944, to be set aside as "I Am An American Week" in the City of Boston, and I call upon all patriotic and civic, as well as religious and social organizations to observe the week in such manner as may seem to them appropriate and desirable for the purposes proclaimed by the President, expressing the love which our people feel for the United States as a land of liberty and justice for all, and voicing the pride affirmed by Daniel Webster, upon completion of the Bunker Hill Monument almost exactly 100 years ago, in the immortal words: "Thank God, I — I also — am an American."

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Boston to be affixed.

Done at City Hall, Boston, this 17th day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-four.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

By the Mayor.

WILFRED J. DOYLE,
City Clerk.

WAR MEMORIAL TO RISE IN THE FENWAY.

Mayor Tobin has authorized the erection of a war memorial in the Fenway, to be provided for from moneys out of the George Robert White Fund.

The memorial is to rise from an open plaza constructed at the northern extremity of the Fens on a level a few feet above the pavement of the present Richardson Bridge and directly on the axes of Boylston street and Charlesgate. It is of idealistic design, but with elements of usefulness that do not take from the commemorative meaning. It is circular in plan, 73 feet in diameter at the base and 108 feet in height from the level of the plaza. Immediately circling the memorial is a terrace 18 feet wide and 10 feet above the plaza level. Behind the monument towards the Fenway, Muddy river is broadened into a lagoon 460 feet wide, which forms the south foreground to the memorial. The difference of level of 29 feet is adjusted by a series of steps and broad landings at either end. A conduit beneath the memorial makes for the connection between the river and the Charles River Basin. The entire limits of the memorial setting occupy an area of two and a half acres.

The interior of the memorial is represented by a circular chamber 43 feet in diameter and 75 feet high, in the center of which, slightly recessed in the floor, is a block of granite surmounted by a bronze tripod, on which is to burn a perpetual flame, symbolizing the memory of those to whom the monument is dedicated. Tablets and inscriptions of historic purpose are arranged to be related to a deep-toned marble which frames the chamber to a height of 20 feet. Above this level the walls are to be of limestone. The basement story embraces the area represented by the terrace, and is to contain, besides a central chamber, a memorial library and committee rooms. The destination of the central space has not yet been determined, but its availability as a history museum is indicated.

The external walls of the memorial are to be of a New England granite.

SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS IN BOSTON.

In Boston all slaughtering of animals and dressing of meat must be conducted at the Brighton Abattoir. This establishment, known officially as the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association, was founded in 1870 by an act of the General Court in order to prevent the existence of numerous slaughterhouses within the city limits. Private individuals, if living within six miles of Faneuil Hall, were required to bring their animals to Brighton for slaughter. This step was taken since the very nature of the business frequently gives rise to public health problems, chief of which are noxious odors and rodent control.

In 1876 an inspector of the Board of Health was first stationed at the Abattoir to supervise slaughtering operations and to prevent the use of diseased or under age animals for food purposes. At that time the Abattoir was the main source of meat supply for the entire city, since transportation facilities did not yet permit the shipment of dressed meat for any distance. During 1876 approximately 74,000 cattle, 274,000 sheep and 8,000 calves were slaughtered. In 1942 the Brighton Abattoir handled a total of 149,948 animals.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being. —American City Magazine.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout. —Municipal Review.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

ODD ITEMS FOR WAR PRODUCTION.

Many an unusual item has crept into the shopping lists of automobile purchasing agents as a result of war production needs.

Toothpicks, dish mops, pure mutton tallow, dry ice, canvas foot covers, police whistles and razor blades are just a few of such implements being used by one company in its production of aircraft engines and combat vehicles. Toothpicks are used by the first-aid departments for medical dressings.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,858,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,828,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

REQUESTED REDUCTION IN POINTS FOR MEAT AND BUTTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Office of Price Administration, relative to your order of April 17, 1944, regarding the reduction in the number of points required for meat and butter.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Office of Price Administration,
55 Tremont Street,
Boston, Mass., May 2, 1944.

Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—Your request for consideration of the order by the City Council of the City of Boston that the Mayor request the Office of Price Administration to reduce point values for meat and butter has been appreciatively received.

Undoubtedly you have seen the newspaper stories of the past few days announcing the fact that butter, margarine and lamb point values have been substantially reduced for the month of May. We in this Region during recent weeks have urged that such reductions be made. Because of administrative difficulties, it is inadvisable to change point values between the dates of issuance of Point Value Charts covering all rationed foods.

This office appreciates the interest of the City Council and the Mayor's office in this matter and we earnestly solicit from you any information which may bring about the most efficient administration of the Food Rationing Program.

Sincerely yours,
ELDON C. SHOUR,
Regional Administrator.

City of Boston,

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of April 24 with inclosure, order of the City Council requesting the removal of all existing restrictions on Columbia road, between G and I streets, South Boston.

This department has no objection to the removal of these restrictions. In fact, all its restrictions were removed for the Housing Authority and they have been removed from the buildings at the corner of G street.

This section between G and I streets is the only section where restrictions prevent small business. There is no objection to their removal from the neighbors, and I do not see any reason why they should not be removed.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

The above-referenced section of Hyde Park avenue is in a deplorable condition and, if possible, should be resurfaced during the current year.

In the event that the appropriation for street construction and reconstruction work is not sufficient, however, to provide for the construction of the entire section referred to above, I assure you that at least part of it will be reconstructed during the current year, assuming that the City Council passes the order authorizing the issuance of bonds in the amount of $1,500,000 for the construction and reconstruction of streets.

RELEASE OF EASEMENT ON MYSTIC STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1944.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The City of Boston by order of its Board of Street Commissioners and Mayor in July, 1942, discontinued as a public highway that part of Mystic street between East Brookline and East Canton streets. This discontinuance was subject to "all rights of the City of Boston to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes and all rights of public utilities companies now existing therein." In December, 1942, your Honorable Body, with my approval, authorized a conveyance of the city's right, title and interest in and to the northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, for a nominal consideration. Pursuant to and in accord with such authorization a conveyance was made to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, excepting and reserving therefrom the city's rights and easements to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes and all rights of public utilities companies existing therein.

The Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, is the owner of the property bounded by Washington, East Canton, Mystic and East Brookline streets and is the owner in fee of the northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued subject to the aforementioned rights and easements of the City of Boston and the public utilities companies. The Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, desires to have the said northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued released from said rights and easements in order that it may extend the South End Boys' Club play space area and to construct in said lands a swimming pool.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston informs me that the rights and easements to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes in the northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued are no longer needed for public purposes. I am also informed that the public utilities companies having rights in said part of Mystic street have released their rights to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated.

I present to you herewith an order whereby the city may abandon its rights and easement to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes in the northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued and may authorize the conveyance of the city's right, title and interest in said northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, for a nominal consideration.

I recommend passage of the inclosed order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston by an order passed June 29, 1942, and approved by the Mayor of Boston July 1, 1942, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 5992, page 524, discontinued that portion of the public highway named Mystic street between East Brookline street and East Canton street subject to all rights of the City of Boston to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes and all rights of public utilities companies now existing therein; and

Whereas, By an order passed in City Council October 19, 1942, and passed a second time December 21, 1942, and approved by the Mayor of Boston December 22, 1942, a conveyance of the City of Boston's right, title and interest in and to Mystic street as discontinued to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, was authorized; and

Whereas, By a deed dated January 23, 1943, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 6059, page 108, the City of Boston conveyed to the Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, the City of Boston's right, title and interest in and to a portion of Mystic street as discontinued, excepting and reserving therefrom the rights of the City of Boston, and all public utility companies set forth in the said order of discontinuance; and

Whereas, The Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, is the owner of the parcels of land situated on the northerly side of that portion of Mystic street as discontinued and its title extends to the center line of said Mystic street as discontinued subject to the rights of the City of Boston and all public utility companies above referred to; and

Whereas, The Salvation Army of Massachusetts, Incorporated, desires to utilize land owned by it within the northerly half of Mystic street as discontinued; and

EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the trustees of the Boston City Hospital to open the East Boston Relief Station twenty-four hours a day.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LICENSES.

Coun. COFFEY, for the Committee on Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Morgan Memorial Cooperative Industries and Stores, Inc., for driveway opening at 41 Kirkland street, Ward 5 (referred February 28)—that same ought to pass.

Report on petition of Old Colony Trust Company for driveway opening at Medford street, Ward 3 (referred April 3)—that same ought to pass.

Reports accepted; said permits granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway Company (referred March 13) for license to operate motor vehicles between Maverick square and Airport—that same ought to pass.

Coun. COFFEY—Just briefly on this matter. I got up one Saturday morning and went down to the court house to intercede for a friend of mine, and while I was down there I was told that buses were running from Maverick square to East Boston airport and back. I went down to investigate and found this to be true. So I immediately came into the Hall and from the Hall called Mr. Dana of the Boston Elevated. I asked Mr. Dana why he didn't file a petition with the Boston City Council for this permit to run buses from Maverick station to the airport and back, and he said, "We don't need your body down there; we can just go to the Department of Public Utilities, and they grant us a 60-day permit." And he said, "In my opinion, under the War Emergency powers, the Governor will grant us a permit for the duration." I talked to one of the clerks here after the order came to us the following Monday. The buses had been running three days before the order came to the Boston City Council. I talked to one of the clerks here, and he said, "If the Department of Public Utilities has granted a permit for the duration, there is nothing that the members of the Boston City Council can do, because under the War Emergency powers the Governor has the right to grant a permit for the duration." Three weeks later I went up to the Department of Public Utilities and talked with the chairman, and I explained to him how the Boston Elevated for the past three years has been trying to take off the Jeffries Point carline in East Boston and substitute buses. I told him at the time that in East Boston we were very well satisfied that they take off the street cars provided they run buses over the same route, and back to Maverick street; provided also they take in the Maverick street section and give them transportation, and give us an escalator to take care of the elderly people. And I explained that there are at least four flights of steps, with twenty-eight steps in each flight, and it is a pretty long hike for an aged person. The Boston Elevated has appeared before us twice, and I gave them the same story both times, as to where the car line now is, and also as to servicing the people at the airport and the people who live in the Maverick street section. And, lo and behold, the Governor, who is very much interested in taking the airport and expanding it, has stepped into the picture and demanded of Mr. Dana of the Boston Elevated, according to the chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, that he run that bus line from Maverick square to the airport and back to satisfy the personnel who work at the airport—not to satisfy the people who live in the Maverick street section, not to give them service, but to satisfy the big shots that own the airlines at the airport. We have taken no action, I said, because, as chairman of that committee—and it is in my ward—I was under the impression this bus line was going to be granted by the Department of Public Utilities over the heads of the Committee on Licenses of the Boston City Council for the duration. Now, a week ago in the buses a sign appeared that "This bus line will be discontinued after May 16 unless a permit is granted by the Boston City Council." Of course, when that was called to my attention, I immediately went to work and got down around the neighborhood, and the majority—a great majority, I might say—around there do want the bus line because it does service some people living down in this section. I just want to bring out here that the Governor didn't put that bus line in there to service the people of East Boston. He put it in to give service to the airlines, and I might make known the fact that the Governor thinks so much of the people in this neighborhood, in the Maverick street section, that he has taken Amerena Park, the only park in the Maverick street section, for the expansion of the airport. That is something I will always call stealing. They will take Amerena Park along with Wood Island Park, and give it to the airport people, the Governor's friends. Of course I want the order to go through, granting the permit, because, if it only services one elderly person who lives in that district and saves her walking three or four blocks to Maverick station, it is well worth granting.

Coun. CAREY—One question. Prior to this bus, was there any service provided between Maverick square and the airport?

Coun. COFFEY—No, there was no service between Maverick square and the airport, except the old Maverick street carline that has been on there for fifty years, and that takes an entirely different route than this bus line is going to service.

The report was accepted and the license was granted under usual conditions.

INCLUSION OF PER DIEM EMPLOYEES IN ACTION FOR SKELETON FORCES ON SATURDAYS.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct department heads to include per diem employees in any action which is adopted for skeleton forces, so called, for Saturdays during the summer months.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPENING OF WARD 3 PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be directed by his Honor the Mayor to immediately open all playgrounds in Ward 3, and to supply proper facilities and instructors.

RESURFACING OF WARD 3 STREETS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be directed by his Honor the Mayor to resurface all streets in Ward 3 in need of attention, particularly Prince street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REGISTRATION OFFICE IN NORTH END.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be directed by his Honor the Mayor to open a registration office in the North End of Boston from June 12 to June 21, between the hours of nine in the morning and ten in the evening, to care for the registration of new voters in that district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FULL PAY FOR CITY HOSPITAL NURSES OUT SICK.

Coun. SCANNELL and D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of giving any nurse who has been employed at the hospital for one year full pay while out sick, particularly in view of the fact that many of them contract their illness while in the performance of their duty.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I believe that this order, having for its object just treatment of the nurses at the Boston City Hospital is a very meritorious one. It is for the benefit of those who have worked for one year at the hospital and who become sick, having in many cases contracted a disease while in the performance of their duties at the hospital. I have talked with many of the nurses in regard to the situation, and I am informed that 80 per cent of the nurses who become sick do so because of contracting their illness while on duty at the hospital. It seems to me, therefore, that these nurses should be treated in the same way as other employees of the city. In the Boston Police Department, for example, when they become sick or injured, a man gets full pay while he is out on sick leave. That also applies to an employee in the Fire Department. It seems to me, therefore, that these employees of the City Hospital, who do such a good job in the performance of their duties, should at least get paid while they are out sick. As I say, in most cases they have contracted diseases or have got injured while in the performance of their duties at the hospital. In many cases, for example, aside from their chance of contracting disease, they are dealing with men who are brought to the hospital delirious, and who, while out of their minds, assault or injure the nurses. It seems to me fair, therefore, that nurses at the hospital who have been employed for one year and who are out on sick leave for one reason or another, as I have suggested, should be given some consideration in the way of payment of their salaries and, in many cases, a vacation in which they may recuperate. I believe that the nurses at the hospital work harder than those in the School Department, who get a vacation in the summertime, and it seems to me there can be no argument that they should not get full pay while they are out sick. I have talked to some doctors in regard to the matter, and they say it is a darn shame that the nurses do not get paid while they are out sick under certain circumstances. They all believe that some action should be taken and that something should be done to take care of the girls when they are out sick. Therefore, I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WAGES OF ELECTION POLL WORKERS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of increasing the wages of election poll workers.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, in the administration of former Mayor Mansfield the wages of workers at the election polls were reduced, at a time when there was a depression. The times have now changed considerably, and wages generally have been increased accordingly, but wages of these workers at the polls still remain on this reduced basis. As a result, many of the workers have lost interest in their jobs and many vacancies among them have had to be filled at the last moment because the workers did not show up. I know that in my own ward recently the polls were not open till half-past ten because of the lack of poll workers, whose positions had to be filled before they could go on. There is no doubt that this situation is caused by the fact that those who work at the polls can at these times receive larger compensation by working elsewhere. Also they have to wait a long time for their money after they have earned it. I believe, therefore, that his Honor the Mayor should consider the advisability of increasing the wages of election poll workers so that we will have sufficient efficient help at the polls at our Primaries and Elections.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FIXING ONE STANDARD TAXICAB RATE.

Coun. HANNON and RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to suggest to the Police Commissioner the advisability of establishing one standard rate of taxicab fare rather than the present maximum and minimum rates now in force in Boston.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, chapter 392 of the Acts of 1930 of the Massachusetts Legislature gives the Police Commissioner of Boston full power over the taxicabs operating in Boston; and, pursuant to the enactment of that chapter, in 1931, the rates were established for the various taxicabs. Those rates are still in existence and, for some unknown reason, the rates are not consistent. There are two rates. There is a maximum rate and a minimum rate. The maximum rate is 45 cents for the first mile, and 30 cents each mile thereafter. The minimum rate is 25 cents for the first two-fifths of a mile, or a fraction thereof, and five cents for each additional one-fifth of a mile or fraction thereof. The result is that a person going from the South Station to the North Station, as many of our service men now do, might get into one cab one week and pay one rate, and get into another cab the next week and have to pay a higher rate for the same distance covered. This has led to all sorts of controversies, and all kinds of trouble. In order to offset this, the commissioner has recently ordered all taxicabs to paint on their sides "Minimum rate" and "Maximum rate." And I believe in the daytime this is all right. You are going to get into a cab where you can read the painted letters and determine whether you pay the minimum or the maximum rate. But at night, when you want a cab, you certainly cannot read what is on the side of the cab. Most every city has standardized rates. I don't know why Boston doesn't have standard rates for cab fares. The ones who suffer, primarily, are the service men who come into this city, and they cannot understand why one week when they ride a certain distance the fare amounts to so much, and the next week, traveling the same distance, in apparently the same kind of cab, they pay a greater fare. This seems to me a matter that might be easily remedied. I therefore hope this order will go through and that some action will be taken thereon.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Will the council object to having the order referred to the Executive Committee?

Coun. HANNON—No.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I don't know what I could add to the remarks of my colleague, as just stated. I had a similar order already drawn up, until my colleague brought it to my attention that he had one that was the same, so we joined the orders. However, I would like to bring out this point, that I have been approached by some taxicab drivers. They have had trouble in the past, and they are having trouble at the present time, where some of these persons that use the cabs give them an argument after they have fulfilled a mission. In other words, there have been the different prices on different cabs, and I know they are in favor of having a uniform rate. On the other hand, I have had also another individual, a customer, who has complained to me about paying different prices for the same destinations. Therefore, I really believe that it ought to be a uniform price and make the people sure that, regardless of the kind of cab they go in, they are not going to be overcharged. And, for that matter, I believe we may be able to eliminate all this confusion that does exist today, and especially where we hear so much about the taxicab drivers being held up. That happened in a particularly sad case in my district where this young man, a good, clean husband and father, was doing his daily work and he was shot to death. I feel, Mr. President, that by having a uniform rate a lot of these arguments may be eliminated. The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PERMANENT INCREASE FOR BOSTONIAN SCHOOL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider the proposal submitted to them by the Council of Presidents, which represents 5,400 school employees, to grant to the school employees a permanent increase of $200 in lieu of the temporary increase now being granted to said group; and also that the Boston School Committee be requested to recognize that by granting such increase to the school employees they will be following the example of his Honor the Mayor who has granted a like increase to the police and firemen.

The question came on the suspension of the rules.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I move that that be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. KELLY—I ask for a roll call.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Muchnick moves the order be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. TAYLOR—Will the clerk kindly read the order again? (The order was read.)

Coun. COFFEY—While I am in favor generally of the order, I don't know whether the councilor would be in favor or opposed if I offered an amendment to the order. I am really under the impression he will be in favor of it. I would like to have the order amended to apply to "the school teachers who live in Boston," because if I am not sadly mistaken, four-fifths of the personnel who teach schools in the City of Boston live outside the city limits, and I think we ought to start in now, and we might make some headway on this order. And in the near future on all other orders that come in for increases in salary we ought to make sure the people who are going to benefit at least think enough of the city that they get their living from to pay a tax within the city limits of Boston. Many of these people live in Newton and suburbs and feel they can come into the city and make their living and pay a small tax rate, and they don't feel they should contribute to this community. So I am going to ask that an amendment be put into the order so that the increase will be allowed to those only who live within the city limits.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and the question came on the motion to refer to the Executive Committee. The motion was defeated, yeas 1, nays 17:

Yeas—Coun. Muchnick—1.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—17.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now comes on Councilor Coffey's amendment.

The amendment—to insert before the words "a permanent increase" the words "residing in Boston,"—was adopted, and the order as amended was passed.

THE SCHOOL LUNCH CONTRACT.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of conferring with the Boston School Committee relative to cancelling their contract with the Women's Educational Industrial Union, who serve lunches in the various schools in the city, on the ground that they are incompetent, they do not serve the best of food, and they do not have enough food to take care of the children in the second lunch period, and thereby save the taxpayers twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) a year which the city has to pay them for their services in the form of a subsidy.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have filed quite a few orders before on this same subject. I understand from figures secured that it is costing the taxpayers to the tune of $20,000 a year for the lunches served by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. Now, of course, I realize that this Women's Educational and Industrial Union is a charitable organization, although I also realize that where they have their headquarters on Boylston street their property is also tax free. That is, other business establishments that are selling the same goods have to compete against the tax-free Women's Educational and Industrial Union. I have received several complaints. I have received complaints that the food has not been the best, and especially there never has been enough of food for the second period, regardless of the report that I received from the School Committee some weeks ago. I have also investigated personally, and I found out that the goods, although this Educational Union is a charitable organization,—that the goods have been sold for profit, and besides they have been reimbursed by the city to the tune of $20,000 a year. So I ask suspension of the rule and passage of the order, and ask that a copy of both the orders be sent to the School Committee.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to ask the councilor a question. Did I understand you said their property was tax free?

Coun. KELLY—I understand so.

Coun. KINSELLA—Likewise, a further question. Are there any functions that they hold in the evenings that are not strictly educational in nature at those quarters that are tax free?

Coun. KELLY—I couldn't answer that. The only thing I was interested in was the lunches being served to the school children. I investigated that thoroughly. I understand their headquarters on Boylston street, their property, is tax free.

Coun. KINSELLA—I was going to suggest only that the tax exemption be refused that organization if they are an organization for divided purposes. If they are strictly educational, we know, under the law, they are entitled to exemption. But if, as Councilor Kelly says, they service the school children of Boston for profit, then I will ask the councilor another question. Does the councilor know to what purpose they put that money they take in as profit? I understood the councilor to say they make a profit in the lunch room.

Coun. KELLY—I couldn't tell you that, councilor, but I know that they receive money to the tune of $20,000 per year besides what they receive for their food in the lunch room. I feel as though, from the complaints I have been receiving in the Dorchester neighborhood, something ought to be done and a change made and, where this is a charity organization, I think it is about time we gave somebody else a chance to compete against them and see that the girls and boys of today, who are the men and women of tomorrow, will have at least a chance of being fed right.

Coun. KINSELLA—If the councilor from Dorchester will accept an amendment, I would like to ask that the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, Mr. Long, be asked for an opinion as to the status of that organization,—whether it is a charitable or an educational organization, or both. But if it is a profit-making organization, I think that tax exemption ought to be denied them.

Chairman SULLIVAN—The Chair will rule that would be the subject for another order.

Coun. COFFEY—A few months ago when Councilor Kelly introduced this order, at the time his order read that an investigation be made of the Dorchester schools, and I was one of the many that got up here, and I asked that the East Boston schools be included, and I think that the order at that time was amended so as to read to include all schools in Boston. I want to congratulate the councilor and tell him he is absolutely right. Since the last time I took the floor on this same order, I have had several complaints from school children, and especially mothers and fathers, who claim that those who have a chance to eat at the first lunch period get sufficient food, but those who have to eat at the second period are usually left without sandwiches and usually without milk. So I hope the order is passed, and that something will be done by the school authorities, and that whoever gets the contract next year for the schools will see, above all, that the children receive enough food, even if they have to raise the prices. The only kick I get is the children who, at the second school period, sometimes have to go without lunch because there is not sufficient food provided for them.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, when orders of this nature have been introduced within the last six or seven years—and they have been introduced here on numerous occasions,—I have had reason to come to the defense of an organization that conducts the cafeterias in the schools. During the last few weeks and since Councilor Kelly introduced the last order, I likewise have received complaints from pupils and from their parents and from the teachers in the schools. I have heard complaints as to the quality of the food and as to the quantity of the food. I believe it is the first time I have taken the opportunity to complain against the method in which the cafeterias are conducted. I believe the schools can give adequate food, in view of the fact that other restaurants seem to be giving food and this, after all, is a business enterprise. I know that in schools throughout this city, where the pupils from Brighton attend, according to the pupils and the teachers and the parents, there has been inadequate food, both in quantity and quality.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EDGESTONES AND SIDEWALKS, NEVADA AND STURBRIDGE STREETS.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install edgestones and granolithic sidewalks on Nevada and Sturbridge streets, in Ward 17.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 2 and 3 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor May 1, 1941, of Américo A. Desimone, to be a Constable authorized to serve civil process upon filing bond.

3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 1, 1941, of Alexander Dick, Stephen W. Leavitt, Ellsworth M. Adams, to be Weighers of Goods.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. Shannon and Russo. Whole number of ballots 17; yeas 17, and the appointments were confirmed.

TAX FREE STATUS OF WOMEN'S EDUCATIONAL UNION.

Coun. KELLY and KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request an explanation of the tax-free status of the Women's Educational Union and the reasons for granting tax exemption if it has been granted.

Coun. KINSELLA—Just briefly, Mr. Chairman. I don't want to cast any reflections on the good work those women apparently are trying to do, but if they own any extensive properties in Boston, or even one building that they use as a gathering place, and the exemption of taxes has been granted to them under the guise of educational activities or charitable activities, when that isn't the full purpose of the organization—and I understand it is a profit making organization—then I don't see any reason why the benefit of the tax exemption law should be applied to them. I would like to have that stated in the record.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rules.

STATE LOTTERY FOR PAYMENT OF VETERANS' BONUS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to draw up a bill for a state lottery at the next session of the Legislature to pay for a state bonus for veterans.

The order was declared passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. CHASE moved a reconsideration; declared lost. Coun. CHASE doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The clerk called the roll, and reconsideration was refused, yeas 4, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Muchnick, Scannell—4.

Nays—Coun. Coffey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—11.

NAMING OF PETER J. O'NEIL SQUARE.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the junction of Mt. Hope street and American Legion Highway be named Peter J. O'Neil square in memory of a veteran who died recently in the Roslindale district, and that suitable signs be erected designating same.

Coun. FEENEY—I have filed this order at the request of the James C. Shea Post, American Legion, No. 190, Roslindale. They held a regular meeting last Friday and unanimously adopted the following order: "That the City Council of Boston be petitioned to name the junction of Mt. Hope street and American Legion Highway the Peter J. O'Neil square, in memory of a veteran who died recently in the Roslindale district." Peter J. O'Neil was a veteran of World War I, and he lived in this district, near the square to be named in his honor, for forty-five years. He was married,—the father of six children and the grandfather of seven. He has been a leader for many years in the community and active in civic affairs of that district. He was well known for his interest in the veteran activities of the Mount Hope section of Roslindale. Mr. President, I see in the minutes, as distributed to the Council members today, a veto of his Honor the Mayor relative to a similar request for a veteran who was killed in this war for the naming of a square in his memory, and his Honor the Mayor pointed out in his veto message that he has done so because he intends to veto all similar requests until the end of this war. In substance, I believe that is his message. Mr. President, I hope his Honor the Mayor will reconsider the action taken by him on this order relative to George T. Scott, Jr., and the several similar orders that have been passed through this body since this war began. I sincerely hope that this order, and these other orders, will be reconsidered by him, and that this square will be named in honor of Peter J. O'Neil, veteran of World War I. It is the hope of the James C. Shea Post that this measure will be acted upon favorably, because they have made appropriations to conduct a ceremony on May 30. They have made arrangements with the Holy Name Band of West Roxbury, and they also have, thus far, three organizations that are going to act in the ceremonies in conjunction with them. I sincerely hope that the order is passed.

Coun. HANLEY and HANNON offered the following:

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

SAFETY MEASURES FOR METROPOLITAN HILL "DUST BOWL."

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take the necessary legal action to force the owner of the land in the Rosindale-Hyde Park Metropolitan Hill section of Ward 18, known as the Metropolitan Hill "Dust Bowl," so called, to do the following in the interest of public health and safety: To eliminate the danger of drowning to small children in the several water-filled excavations located there; to drain or pump off the stagnant water which covers most of the area and which constitutes a breeding place for mosquitoes and a serious health menace to the people of the community and to fill and level these flood points; to erect a suitable restraining safety crash fence for automobile traffic and a suitable safety fence to protect children and adults from danger to life and limb around the excavation which borders Beech street extension, near Asheville road, in Hyde Park; to erect a suitable restraining safety fence around the edge of the high cliff bordering Beech street extension in order to protect children and adults from death or serious injury; to erect a suitable restraining safety fence in the rear of the small homes on Halloran street in Hyde Park where excavations by contractors have gouged out dangerous cliffs which now constitute a menace to the safety of small children and adults alike who live in the immediate vicinity; and to post suitable danger warning signs throughout the area in the interest of public safety.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, I think I ought to say a few words before the Council debates this order, because it is rather an extended order in that it covers a great deal of territory. It seems that, Mr. President, this Metropolitan Hill dust bowl was created by contractors who dug out many hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of good fill from this section, known as the Metropolitan Hill section of Rosindale. This has been regarded as the finest residential section of my district and as a result of the excavation project over a million dollars worth of taxable property has been lost to the City of Boston forever. I protested with others in that community before I came into this Body, but to no avail, and the work wasn't stopped until after I had been elected a City Councillor. There are cliffs out there that are frightening—a menace to children and to adults alike. It is a crime the way that district has been utterly destroyed by avaricious contractors who have been permitted to destroy this district through the grace and permission of this administration. If this administration had performed its duty to the people of the district we would have the same beautiful district that we had prior to this excavation project, and perhaps a million dollars worth of future taxable property. Up until the time that this project had been put through there were homes being built up in that area, and new streets have been laid out, and people had been buying lots of land for several years prior. And now that district, Mr. President, has had irreparable harm done to it, and it can never again be regarded as a desirable location for a residential district. So I sincerely hope, Mr. President, that this order is adopted and that the Mayor will take action through the Law Department, if necessary, to force the owner of this land, who worked in conjunction with the contractors and who sold the people those homes and then destroyed the district—I sincerely hope, Mr. President, that the Mayor will force this property owner to alleviate, in part at least, the hazards that he has left in that district for the people who live there. I sincerely hope that this order will be passed and that it will be lived up to, to the letter, and carried out by his Honor the Mayor.

The order was passed.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. MUCHNICK, at 4.12 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 15, 1944, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Apr. 24, 1944.

A special meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 12:05 p. m., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Messrs. Foley, McDevitt, Norton, Ward and White.

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF CARDINAL O'CONNELL

The Chairman offered the following:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an omniscient God to grant surcease from his earthly labors to our beloved Cardinal and lead him to his haven of rest in His Celestial Kingdom, we, the members of the Boston School Committee in meeting assembled offer the following resolutions in his memory:

RESOLVED, That by the death of William Cardinal O'Connell the city, state, nation and world have lost a courageous and inspired leader;—a leader whose brilliance of mind, eloquence of tongue and deep religious fervor have left their mark indelibly inscribed upon the memory of mankind; a leader whose firm conviction of right and justice, of charity and love for his fellow men, served as the guidepost for all to follow; a leader who, blessed by God in an eminent degree, gave of his wealth of talents unselfishly that this world might benefit from his presence in it; and be it further

RESOLVED, That as guardians of the children he loved, we, the members of the Boston School Committee, do proclaim to the world his saintly life and inform our children of a life that was a true exemplification of the principles of democracy. For he, from humble beginnings, was able by his own efforts to elevate himself to the rank of Prince in the Church he served so well; and be it further

RESOLVED, That in his memory the flags on all school buildings be placed at half-staff for the remainder of this week; and that the schools and the administrative offices of the School Committee be closed on the day of his funeral, Friday, Apr. 28, 1944, so that the children and teachers may have the opportunity to ask God in their prayers to gather our great leader to His Heavenly Reward.

The preamble and resolutions were adopted by unanimous vote.

The members of the Committee, in this connection, made the following statements:

Mr. McDevitt: The death of His Eminence brings sorrow to the hearts of the people and children of all religious beliefs. Humane and kindly in person, brilliant and keen in intellect, gracious and affable in manner, devout and deeply religious in bearing, His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell was a true shepherd of his flock.

Mr. Norton: In the passing of His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, Prince of the Church, whose death we mourn today, Boston has lost its leading citizen, and our nation and the world have lost a great churchman and a great statesman. A man of vision and a man of action, he has left as a monument to his zeal and arduous labor innumerable churches, schools, hospitals, and institutions, which he has created and fostered. Fearless in the expression of his convictions on moral issues, he constantly inculcated tolerance and neighborliness toward those not of his faith. His message was ever that of true Christian charity and loyal devotion to God and country. We shall not see his like again.

Mr. Ward: From a humble cottage on Gorham Street, Lowell, to Cardinal of a great archdiocese,—that is the story of William Cardinal O'Connell whose death the nation mourns.

Early in his career he took as his motto "Vigor in arduis" which is translated "Strength or vigor in difficulties." If any man throughout his lifetime ever lived up to a motto, it was he. For almost sixty years as a parish priest, as Rector of the North American College in Rome, as Bishop of Portland, and Cardinal Archbishop of Boston he manifested a rugged spiritual courage and moral strength that had its influence in the Archdiocese of Boston and beyond.

He was ever the faithful shepherd of his million spiritual subjects. He was a profound scholar and wise administrator. For over fifty years he fought for the highest civic and spiritual ideals. His clarity of vision and broadmindedness were recognized by all his fellow citizens. His was a noble life, the life of a Prince of the Church dedicated always to Christ His King.

Honors came to him in abundance, but they were always accepted with becoming dignity and rare humility. Despite his exaltation from poverty to the highest spiritual and civic prominence, he was ever a man of the people; their peace, their spiritual and temporal well-being and their happiness were the objects of his special consideration.

Cardinal O'Connell was always interested in education. He built up a parochial school system second to none in the nation, but he was also interested in public school education and on many occasions he pointed out pitfalls to be avoided. He deplored Godlessness in the training of our youth.

So we mourn the passing of a great churchman, a great leader and a truly outstanding American.

Mr. White: The passing of His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, is an irreparable loss not only within the Archdiocese of Boston but throughout this country and the world. He was truly a world personality and his zealous work in behalf of his religion and his country earned for him the respect of men of all religious and political faiths. His humility, his care for the lowly and humble, his scholarly attainments, his grasp of the basic principles of good living and good citizenship, were inspiring and directing forces for world betterment.

Those near and dear to him have lost a wise counsellor and friend. The world has lost a spiritual and civic leader whose deeds will long be remembered.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

LOUISE KANE,
Secretary

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first shipboard takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

AIRCRAFT MATERIAL PRODUCTION 41 PER CENT OF TOTAL AUTOMOTIVE WAR JOB.

Behind current attempts to knock Germany out of the war by means of airpower, stands the teamwork of the automotive industry, which has done much to get bombers in the air over Hitler's domain.

The motor industry, starting as a scrub team in the aircraft field a year before Pearl Harbor has since attained major league stature.

In the two years since December 7, 1941, the industry's output of bombers and fighters has constantly soared. Measured in dollar volume, it rose from $400,000,000 annual rate of production on the day of the Japs' assault to $4,300,000,000 on the second anniversary of that "day of infamy."

The same upward spiral took place in deliveries of all forms of war materials by automotive plants. When Pearl Harbor news struck, they had reached an annual production rate of $1,777,000,000 for all forms of military requirements: aircraft, military vehicles, tanks, guns, ammunition, marine engines and other equipment. Today the annual production rate tops the $10,000,000,000 mark.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

RELIEF EXPENDITURES FOR SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT FOR MONTH OF APRIL SHOW DECREASE OVER CORRESPONDING PERIOD FOR 1943—REPORT OF COMMISSIONER PRESENTED TO MAYOR SHOWS DROP OF $3,916.12, DUE TO REDUCTION OF 158 CASES—FUNDS FROM FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR MOTHERS OF VETERANS OF PRESENT WAR AIDED IN LOWERING COSTS.

Relief expenses for the Soldiers' Relief Department for the month of April of this year show a decrease over those of the corresponding month of 1943, according to the monthly report submitted to the Mayor by the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner, Thomas A. Fitzgerald. The report reads as follows:

May 9, 1944.

HON. MAURICÉ J. TOBIN, Mayor.

THOMAS A. FITZGERALD, Commissioner, Soldiers' Relief Department.

Report for April, 1944.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the Soldiers' Relief Department report for the month of April.

Relief expenditures for April, 1944, show a decrease of $3,916.12 in comparison with expenditures for the corresponding period in 1943. This decrease is caused by a reduction of 158 cases in relation to the overall case load for the corresponding month of April, 1943. A comparison of World War I cases exhibits a decrease of 145 cases and $3,194. Although there were only six more World War II cases aided during April, 1944, as compared with April, 1943, expenditures were so much less because most of the 109 mothers of veterans of the present war who were aided during this past month are now receiving Federal Allotments and Allowances and this department merely supplements the government allowance. The item—board, moving, fuel, etc., for April, 1944—is so much higher than March, 1944, and April, 1943, due to the accumulation of fuel bills for the winter months which were not submitted for payment until now.

The 836 cases aided during the month of April, 1944, represent a total of 1,567 individuals benefited through the facilities of the Soldiers' Relief Department. There were 155 cases dropped from the relief rolls during the month of April, 1944, of which 61 were dropped because of obtaining Federal Allotments and Allowances. The remainder were dropped chiefly because of the acceptance of defense work, private employment and other reasons.

Commissioner.

REPORT OF HELEN E. CLEAVES, DIRECTOR, MANUAL ARTS, ON ATTENDANCE AT EASTERN ARTS ASSOCIATION CONVENTION, AT NEW YORK CITY, APRIL 13 TO 15, 1944.

The following is the report of Helen E. Cleaves, Director of Manual Arts, on her attendance at Eastern Arts Association Convention in New York, April 13, 14, 15.

"TOMORROW'S REALITIES CHALLENGE ART EDUCATION."

This was the theme of the meetings. I attended ten sessions during three days and participated in a few discussions. Our thoughts were directed to the new designs needed for the air age, including the decentralizing of cities into "circumferential living areas," the airplane being the enemy of concentration.

Mr. Louis Untermeyer spoke brilliantly of America's new confidence in its own arts. "American Arts are here. Give them a break."

Mr. Edward Rowan, Assistant Chief of Division of Fine Arts, United States Treasury, says that the Government plans to support art projects on a talent basis, not on a welfare basis, as in W. P. A. depression emergency. At least one per cent of building costs should be reserved for decoration. The Government should offer art competitions, the judges to be professional artists. Chile now reserves five per cent of the building costs for the decoration of buildings with murals, sculpture, etc.

Mr. Edward Hall, Director of Universal School of Handicraft, Radio City, urged us to "give them something to do with their hands" as a prevention of delinquency. Make schools less formal. Create an environment where children can use their energies. They have more than we have. Juvenile delinquency is largely social delinquency.

Miss Roberta Fansler of the Metropolitan Museum of Art said specialization has created isolationism. Vocational training and departmentalization separate people. Art is an integrating influence. It puts life together, interprets our world to us through imagination and sympathy.

Miss Boston of Boston, England, gave startling glimpses of experiences in Coventry and London after air raids. A Coventry mother actually wrote a note to the school teacher. "Please excuse Janie for being late. She was only dug up half an hour ago." Miss Boston proudly described the gold-fringed silk flag which she is taking back to her Mayor from our Mayor Tobin.

Dr. Burton Fowler, Principal of Friends Central School, Germantown, Pennsylvania, said that "the Creative Arts are the most striking development of Modern Education. Art itself is almost a perfect model for education." Man cannot learn by books alone.

There is a notable tendency to group all the arts and realize their interrelation in both learning and living. The arts and sciences are also inseparable.

The exhibitions were small but more significant than the old type of mass display of product.

I sincerely hope that more Boston teachers and supervisors may attend the next convention.

We held a meeting of Boston Art Teachers on Monday, April 24, at the Teachers College, to share with them the inspiration of the meetings, but this is no adequate substitute for one's own hearing, seeing and participating in the meetings. Miss Margaret Stone, Assistant in Manual Arts, and I felt privileged but selfish in being the only two from our city.

I am chairman of the Evaluating Committee and Miss Stone is a member, so we share the responsibilities of making the next convention even better than this one. There is always room for improvement, but the convention was very successful and inspiring.

Respectfully yours,

HELEN E. CLEAVES,
Director of Manual Arts.

WAR HEROES PARADE ON "I AM AN AMERICAN DAY."

Contingents of the Army, Navy, Marines, Waves, Wacs and other military groups led by the men who have just returned from the fighting fronts marched from Copley square up Boylston street to Tremont, to Park, to Beacon, to the Hatch Shell on the Esplanade where appropriate services were held to celebrate "I Am An American Day," Sunday evening, May 21.

Many of the heroes accepted the invitation of the Mayor to be his guests and they witnessed the gala program arranged by the Bureau of Americanization.

Among the many features of the program at the Hatch Shell were the internationally known Trapp family, led by Father Franz Warner, the Mah Goon family, Sheila O'Donovan Rossa, well known soloist, Phyllis McLaughlin and many others.

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin delivered an address.

NATIONAL MARITIME WEEK PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, The conquest of the Atlantic Ocean by steampower was started when the good ship "Savannah" left port on May 22, 1819, successfully crossing the ocean, partly propelled by steam; and

Whereas, The President of the United States with the authority of Congress has proclaimed May 22, 1944, as National Maritime Day to honor the 125th anniversary of the Savannah's voyage; and

Whereas, Boston all through the centuries has been and is a great shipping port, the city has every reason to celebrate this national day with gala events; now, therefore,

I, MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby designate the time from Sunday, May 21, 1944, through Saturday, May 27, to be proclaimed National Maritime Week.

All maritime organizations of Boston are requested to join in paying honor and tribute to the men of our great merchant marine who have so bravely and successfully transported the huge amount of merchandise in the midst of hostile enemies, above and below the seas.

Also I call special attention to the efficient United States Coast Guard for its eternal watchfulness over Boston's port. Our United States Navy together with the Coast Guard are highly commended.

American-LaFrance Foamite Corporation and the aerial ladders to be attached to these trucks are also of American-LaFrance manufacture. This apparatus has always given satisfactory performance to the Fire Department. However, investigation has evidenced that the Mack type of tractor has been used in conjunction with the American-LaFrance type of aerial ladder in various cities and apparently is giving satisfactory service.

In view of the information gathered by the Fire Department and also bearing in mind the indisputably reputable record of the Mack Motor Truck Company in the manufacture of heavy motor equipment, I would recommend, in the interests of obtaining actual knowledge of the performance of the Mack tractor, that a contract be awarded the Mack Motor Truck Company for furnishing one tractor at $6,996.62, and that a contract be awarded the American-LaFrance Foamite Corporation for furnishing two tractors at a net price of $7,105 each.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

It appears from the bids that the Mack Motor Truck Company of 75 North Beacon street is the low bidder with a price of $20,989.86 and a delivery date of ninety calendar days after the receipt of preference rating per form W. P. B. 1319 and approval of specifications by W. P. B. per limitation order L43 amended.

The second bidder is the American-LaFrance Foamite Corporation of Elmira, N. Y., with a total net price of $21,315, shipment to be made 120 days after receipt of approved priority on form W. P. B. 1319, or AA5 or better.

Both companies are experienced in the drawing of heavy loads by means of motor apparatus. Approximately $100 difference in price for each piece exists between these two bidders. In view of the small difference (which is less than one per cent of the total cost involved), ordinarily we would recommend the placement of this entire order with the American-LaFrance Company, inasmuch as the original equipment to be replaced was of their manufacture and the remaining equipment to be attached to the new apparatus is of American-LaFrance construction.

However, the Mack Company has furnished detailed drawings satisfactory to this department and it is willing to post a cash bond to guarantee that its equipment will give satisfactory service. Likewise, an investigation shows that Mack Tractors are installed with American-LaFrance aeriels in the cities of Baltimore, Bridgeport and Allentown, Pa., there being nine such pieces of equipment in these cities, apparently giving satisfactory service.

In view of this fact and the reputable character of the Mack Company, I believe that we should try out one of these Mack Tractors installed under an American-LaFrance aerial.

Accordingly, I am accepting the recommendation of Chief Pope as consistent with my own views in the matter of the disposition of this proposal.

It is to be noted that on July 30, 1943, an order was placed with the Mack Company for one pumper and with the American-LaFrance Company for two pumps. The LaFrance pumps were due approximately October 25, 1943, and they were delivered in January, 1944.

The Mack pumper was due on January 28, 1944, and delivery has not yet been made. It is presumed that the Mack delivery will be made within a reasonable period of time if they accept your order for one tractor. Otherwise, it would appear that the American-LaFrance Company is in a better position to make deliveries than the Mack Company.

Due to the conflicting claims of the superiority of the respective equipment offered in these bids for tractors, we would like to have deliveries made approximately at the same time from the LaFrance Company and the Mack Company so that we can commence our comparisons of these pieces of equipment at the earliest possible moment in anticipation of future purchases.

Sincerely yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

February 28, 1944.

To The Fire Commissioner.

Subject: Bids on the Purchase of Motor Tractors.

Referring to the bids that have been submitted for the purchase of three motor tractors for service on American-LaFrance aerial ladders, I make the following report and recommendations:

The low bidder is the Mack Motor Company. The second lowest bidder is the American-LaFrance Company. The bids are very close; the total difference being about $300.

It appears to me that the best and safest practice would be to award the contract to the American-LaFrance Company who built the aerials and who are thoroughly aware of the strains to which the tractor will be subjected. In addition, we have had no experience with the Mack tractor, while we have had years of experience with the American-LaFrance tractors and have found them most satisfactory.

However, in view of the fact that we will be purchasing more tractors and there may be a greater difference in price in the bids, I believe we are justified in learning from experience the merits or otherwise of the Mack tractor. Therefore, I recommend that the contracts be awarded for the purchase of two tractors of the American-LaFrance and one of the Mack.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

BOND SALES.

Labor, farm, school and women's groups were responsible for 1943's greatest sale of E Bonds.

Using the person to person approach, Payroll Savings added two million workers—bringing its ranks to 26.4 million. Payroll Savings allotments jumped from 355 million in December, 1942, to 445 million in October, 1943. Thousands of labor-management War Bond committees were organized.

Farm committees worked intensively through personal solicitation and farmers organizations to convert a large share of the largest farm income in history into War Bonds.

In the schools, the nation's youngest group of Bond buyers is rapidly enlisting every pupil in America.

In answer to this order, I would like to inform the City Council that before any sale is consummated a public auction is always conducted, notices of which are published in the two editions of the City Record previous to the sale. Inasmuch as the City Record is available to all councilors, we feel that any further notification is unnecessary.

My dear Mr. Carey,—An order was passed in the City Council requesting that arrangements be made for the prompt repair of the yard in the rear of the Henry L. Pierce School on Washington street, Ward 17. This yard has not been repaired, first, because the building was abandoned for school use, and secondly, Government priorities prevented this department from purchasing asphalt material;

Now that the building will no doubt be occupied again for school purposes it is our intention to improve the conditions surrounding this building as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,
JAMES J. MAHAR,
Superintendent of Construction.

TRANSFER FROM PARKMAN FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Board of Park Commissioners requesting the transfer of the sum of $35,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund to the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

I submit herewith an appropriation order, and respectfully recommend its passage by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 11, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners, you are respectfully requested to ask the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $35,000 which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Park Commissioners as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $35,000

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1944, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1944, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $35,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $35,000

Referred to Committee on Parkman Fund.

APPROPRIATION FOR RECREATIONAL PROGRAM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—War-time conditions must not be allowed to interfere with the physical health and well being of the youth of Boston. The number of rejections for service in the armed forces of young men, for various physical defects, would seem to indicate that something was lacking in our physical training programs.

Healthy bodies and healthy minds in the youth of the nation are its greatest asset. I intend that the youth of the City of Boston shall have every reasonable opportunity for healthful recreation properly supervised and directed.

I therefore transmit herewith an order for the transfer of the sum of $25,000 from the Reserve Fund to be entitled "Special Appropriation for Recreational Program, Development, Activities, Etc.," in order to provide the necessary funds to undertake and establish a comprehensive program.

Prompt consideration and passage by your Honorable Body is requested.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $25,000, to the appropriation for Park Department, Special Appropriation for Recreational Program, Development, Activities, Etc., $25,000.

RESANDING OF DEWEY BEACH, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following.
Ordered, That the Park Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to resand Dewey Beach in Charlestown.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF WADING POOL, DOHERTY HEIGHTS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the other trustees of the George Robert White Fund for the purpose of considering the advisability of constructing a wading pool for children, to be located in the Doherty Heights Park, Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, and for said construction to be undertaken, if possible, at once.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

POLLUTION OF PUBLIC BATHING WATERS.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Corporation Counsel to determine the liability for the pollution of waters used for public bathing purposes at public beaches; and further, to determine what measures can be taken to bring about an abatement and correction of this condition of pollution, by the responsible and blameworthy parties.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, just a word on that last order. I saw a condition of pollution last Saturday which defied description. We have over in Charlestown a huge terminal at which the Liberty ships dock and at which lumber and other cargoes are handled. It appears that one of the ships sprung a leak in its oil tank, and lost 50,000 to 100,000 gallons of oil, and when the tide came in it swept up onto the beach two or three inches of scum of heavy fuel oil, polluting the water with this oil and debris. I certainly think some action should be taken, and I believe that the Corporation Counsel may be able to find out who is responsible and what measures can be taken to abate and correct this condition of pollution.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTORATION OF PAINTED LINES FOR CHARLESTOWN CROSSWALKS.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be directed to restore the painted lines that define crosswalks, wherever necessary in Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WATER IN FRANKLIN PARK FOR VICTORY GARDENS, ETC.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to turn on the water in Franklin Park for the purpose of supplying water for the Victory Gardens.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, because of the dry weather the Victory Gardens at Franklin Park are in very poor condition. Last year the Park Department furnished water to the patriotic citizens who were willing to devote their time to taking care of Victory Gardens. For some reason or other the water has not been turned on this year, and I think everything possible should be done to assist these people in properly taking care of their gardens.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I would ask if the gentleman from Ward 12 would be willing to have the order amended by adding the following words, "and the lot on Adams street adjacent to Cedar Grove"?

Coun. TAYLOR—Yes, Mr. President.

The amendment was adopted, and the order as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTECTION FOR ALL EMPLOYEES UNDER PENSION AND SOCIAL SECURITY LAWS.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consult with the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston and provide proper legislation to insure that every employee of the City of Boston, whether on a yearly or daily salary, be assured of some protection under the pension laws, or the social security laws.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, during the past decade many laws have been passed relating to the insuring of the protection of the pension law and the social security laws for employees of the City of Boston. Our pension system particularly has been regarded all over the country as a fair criterion of what a pension system should be. However, it has been called to my attention that some employees of the city have been unable to avail themselves of the provisions of the retirement system because of the fact that they are employed on a per diem rather than on a yearly basis. I have in mind a woman who has been employed for several years as escort and door attendant in the Horace Mann School for the Deaf and Dumb in Roxbury, who has faithfully performed the duties of her employment, and yet, because she has not been on a yearly employment basis is not eligible for retirement or for social security. The matter has been called to the attention of the School Committee. It was suggested that she be transferred from a per diem to a yearly employment basis, but I believe the matter should be treated in a broad way and that all such employees, in the schools or elsewhere, whether on a per diem or a yearly basis, should be treated in the same way, and should not be allowed, after they have given their lives in loyal service, to face old age without any social security or pension being afforded to them. Therefore, I have written to Superintendent Arthur L. Gould of the School Committee in regard to the matter, especially referring in my letter to the case I have mentioned of the escort and door attendant at the Horace Mann School, and received under date of May 9 the following reply: "This matter was placed before the Boston Retirement Board a few years ago together with the cases of other per diem employees in the School Department. After considering the entire question of such employees in the School Department and in other city departments, the Retirement Board stated, in a communication from William D. Kenney, Executive Officer, under date of January 24, 1940, that it declined to approve their joining the Boston Retirement System even though the School Committee should vote to make them permanent."

Mr. President, I believe we are all interested in insuring a happy future, a happy old age, to all employees in the service of the city. If, therefore, as appears to be the case, we have employees of the city who are not now eligible to join our retirement system, the statute should be amended so that they might come under the social security act and the pension system. They are entitled to protection just as well as anybody else. The mere fact they get paid by the day instead of by the year should not deprive them of the same consideration extended to those on a yearly salary. So I hope, Mr. President, that this order will be heeded, and that some action will be taken for the loyal employees of the city who have given their lives in service and face old age without any social security or any type of pension being afforded to them.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BOARD OF RECREATION.

Coun. BAYLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That chapter 451 of the Acts of 1943, entitled "An Act Establishing a Board of Recreation in the City of Boston, and Setting Forth its Powers and Duties" be, and hereby is, accepted. Referred to Committee on Parks and Playgrounds.

PARKMAN FUND REPORT.

Coun. TAYLOR—I move that the two orders now in the Committee on Parkman Fund be withdrawn from the committee and referred to the Body. They have been in the committee for a long period of time—over thirty days. I understand that that money is needed for the Park Department, for its use, particularly for payment of wages of employees. Also I am informed that there is some quirk in the law as to that particular fund, where the city might not be entitled to it after a certain period of time. So I move that those orders be brought back before the Body.

Coun. DWYER—On the motion, Mr. Chairman, as chairman of the Committee on Parkman Fund, I wish to state that the Committee on Parkman Fund held one hearing, at which we had the City Auditor and also Mr. O'Keefe of the Park Department. A full attendance was there, and both Mr. O'Keefe and the City Auditor advised us that this money would not be needed until some time in June. Also, Mr. President, the Committee on Parkman Fund voted unanimously to lay this matter on the table until two of their members, who are both attorneys, would have time to look up the law in regard to whether or not the intent of the will of Mr. Parkman was being lived up to. And I understand, Mr. President, that this committee will receive a report from these attorneys this week, at which time our committee is going to have a meeting, and will then bring back a report. I hope, Mr. President, that this Council will not take away from your committee, sir, a matter that they are seriously considering. Mr. President, if that is done, it is the first time it has been done, to my knowledge, since I have been in here, and I hope the Council won't start establishing a precedent along that line. If there was a division in the Committee on Parkman Fund, that would be one thing, but the Committee on Parkman Fund have voted unanimously to lay this matter on the table until they have further information. And I hope the Council will not take this matter from the Committee on Parkman Fund.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I believe these matters should go to committee, but I think they should be acted upon with dispatch, and especially where money involved is needed by the city, particularly for payment of wages to employees of the city. I don't intend to rush the chairman or anybody else, but the orders have been in committee for a long time, over thirty days. If the chairman will assure us that there will be a report on it next week, I have no desire to cause any controversy and will gladly withdraw my motion. But I assure you that if there is no report next week, in fairness to the employees of the Park Department, I am going to make this motion again. Consequently, I withdraw my motion.

Coun. RUSSO, KERRIGAN and CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draw up legislation to be presented at the next session of the Legislature whereby the sanitary code be amended to require hospitals and drug stores to label all containers and bottles containing boric acid with the words "Caution—Poison."

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, some time ago the people of America were astonished and, with sadness, were informed of the loss of four infants in a hospital where boric acid had been mistaken and given to these babies. I realize, Mr. President, the great help that boric acid has contributed to the safety of humanity in its various purposes. I also realize, Mr. President, that when things such as that take place something ought to be done. Surely, when a dog who has never harmed anybody before has been left alone, and then at some time bites some one, something is then done about it. Similarly, when a human being has never had anything to do against the laws in connection with his fellow man all his life, he is given the privilege of being among his fellow men until such time as some illegal act is committed. Certainly, Mr. President, boric acid has been the means of committing an act, and through that act the lives of four infants were taken away. I believe, therefore, something ought to be done whereby a label should give notice to each and every one that if it is used internally it is poison. Therefore, I move suspension of the rules and passage of this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF DRAINAGE DITCHES, HAZELWOOD SECTION, WARD 18.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to deepen and clear out the drainage ditches in the Hazelwood section of Hyde Park, in Ward 18, in the swampland bordered by Austin street and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, which constitutes a bad breeding place for malaria-carrying mosquitoes, resulting in a serious health menace.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

Foley in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor truck belonging to the Paving Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report on petition of Philip J. Murphy (referred April 24) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to Fire Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of nineteen hundred thirteen dollars and seventeen cents ($1,913.17) be allowed and paid to Philip J. Murphy in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor apparatus belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.
Reports accepted; orders severally passed.

COMMISSION TO STUDY PENSION LAWS OF BOSTON.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint a commission to study the pension laws of the City of Boston, with a view to increasing the minimum payment now provided and to establish a minimum number of years of service at which an employee may retire and be assured of at least one half pay.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, for many years now the employees of the City of Boston have been members of the contributory retirement system. Money is taken out of their pay each week to afford them the so-called luxury of living later on with an assured income. However, it gripes some of us when we find out what this income consists of. For instance, you meet laborers who have given the best years of their lives to the city for their pensions when they reach the age of seventy, and then they find out that they are going on the munificent sum of $40 a month for the rest of their lives, after they have contributed for a number of years to assure themselves of some income, $40 a month! They get that much on old age without contributing a penny, and this amount has stayed at the same level through the depressions and through the years of rising prices and inflation. There has been no increase made, and no attempt to increase it. The same thing holds true in the number of years of service. A man going to be pensioned here goes up to the pension office and inquires how much money he will get if he does retire. Nobody up there can tell him. You have got your option; you must make a decision, and then they will figure it out for you after you have made your choice. I think there should be some minimum number of years, twenty to twenty-five years' service, at which any city employee who is retired could be assured of retirement and assured of at least half-pay. These are changes, I think that are called for because of the increased cost of living. We have given a raise to this employee and that employee, but we have forgotten the poor old man who works for the city for years, the poor laborer, I mean, who is going to be asked to spend the later years of his life living on $40 a month. A man retired from the city at the age of seventy years would really be better off if he went up there and took out the fund that he had in the retirement system and spent that on a good time, and then went on old age assistance. He would be assured of just as much from the city. Every city employee is contributing to the retirement system, and I know that we are often cautioned and told not to interfere with it. It is a good system. It does have its good points, and it is valuable, but it should be brought up to date. Forty dollars a month might have been sufficient to live on some years ago, but certainly nowadays it is not sufficient. If the city and state can give to an elderly person an old age assistance of $40 a month as a gratuity, then certainly the old laborer and the old employee of the City of Boston, who has contributed for years to assure his well being in old age, is entitled not merely to just as much as the old age recipient, but to a great deal more, because he has contributed out of his earnings over a period of years. This is a matter which might well be investigated because it is a matter which I think calls for a remedy.

Coun. RUSSO—Will the clerk please read the order again?

(The order was again read by the clerk.)

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I am very glad that my colleague has presented that, and I also wish that the Mayor would look into the retirement fund of the employees that are receiving pensions and look into old age assistance, whereby an employee who has been employed by the City of Boston many years finally is retired and receives $53 a month, and where the wife of this particular individual has made application for old age assistance and they have taken that $53 and put it into an allowance for that woman. By that I mean that they have taken the $53 and if the budget only amounts to $65 for both, only $12 more is contributed to that woman. I say, Mr. President, that in the case of those individuals that are retired and are receiving a pension, that pension is for themselves, and I don't think it is fair that the old age assistance board should take that into consideration and deprive that man of livelihood in his old age. It is bad enough to live on $53 a month without deducting more out of it. I hope the Mayor will do something about it. I don't think it is fair to these people. They shouldn't take that money away from the pension of these men and put it in with the old age assistance that the wife should receive. Therefore, I hope the Mayor will look into it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW WAGE SCHEDULE FOR HOSPITAL AND INSTITUTIONAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested by his Honor the Mayor to submit a complete new wage schedule calling for substantial increases to hospital and institutional employees.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I would like to have it brought forcibly to the attention of the people of the City of Boston that we still have employees at the hospital that are trying to live on $10, $12 and $14 a week. I listened with interest to the urgent plea of his Honor the Mayor over the radio the other night, and to the sad plight the institutions were faced with. He gave a very, very eloquent plea, an urgent plea, and I hope he gets a great response from what he calls the "angels of mercy." No matter how big that response may be in the main, they will not be experienced help, and if the hospitals and institutions have been depleted of help in the past they certainly will be more so in the future. I think if we recognized it with a little more money it would prevent the condition as it exists today from getting any worse. I hope this order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACQUIRING OF CLARENDON HILLS OVERPASS.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to enter into negotiations with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad relative to the city acquiring without cost the Clarendon Hills overpass in order that it might be put into proper condition with suitable lighting facilities to provide people living in the Metropolitan Hill district of Roslindale, Ward 18, with a public way over the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad tracks.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, I filed this order after several consultations with the legislative agent of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, relative to installing of suitable and proper lighting on the overpass at Clarendon Hills, which affords the people living in the Roslindale section of Metropolitan Hill their only means of passing over the railroad tracks at that point, and the railroad informed me, through its legislative agent, that they were most reluctant to do any work in the way of installing lights or improvements because, for some time now, they have discontinued the stopping of trains at that point, and their riders no longer use the overpass. And so he pointed out to me that perhaps the city might be interested in taking that over in order to provide the people of that district with a public way. As it is now, it is a private way, and the people, rather than use the overpass, which does need some minor repairs, are prone to walk across the tracks, and it is the main line to New York. It is used commonly by children and adults alike, and unless some steps are taken to eliminate this carelessness and this danger, sooner or later there is going to be a fatality in that district. If I recall correctly, only a few years ago there was a death resulting from a serious accident. A person was struck by a train in that immediate vicinity. And so I wish to offer this order, in the hope that the City of Boston will confer with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad officials so that some arrangement may be made so the city will take over that structure without cost and maintain it as a public way for the people of that district.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF STREET LIGHT SHIELDS, HYDE PARK.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove the shields from street lights on River street and Hyde Park avenue, which are main thoroughfares, and in the Hyde Park business section proper.

Coun. FEENEY—I offer this order because for some time now the Army has lifted restrictions in this city with respect to the sky glow. Hyde Park avenue is one of the main thoroughfares of our community, and the lighting prior to the war was inadequate in itself, and now it is intolerable. There has been a general lifting of restrictions throughout the city. As a matter of fact, down on Cambridge street there aren't any shields at all on the highway at that point, and that faces the open sea, and if it is safe and proper to eliminate the shields in that district, certainly it is safe to eliminate them out in Hyde Park, which is many miles removed from the sea. Neon signs are facing the waterfront in certain parts of the city, and the Army apparently has raised no objection. And so, Mr. President, I see no reason why the authorities couldn't at this time remove the shields in that particular part of my district and provide suitable lighting for the safety of the public.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION, WARD 18.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct tarvin sidewalks on Park street, in the Hyde Park district of Ward 18.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct tarvin sidewalks on both sides of Westminster street, in the Hyde Park district of Ward 18, between Hyde Park avenue and Greenwood square.

IMPROVEMENT OF GREENWOOD CIRCLE.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to beautify the appearance of the Greenwood Circle in the Hyde Park district of Ward 18, by installing new crosswalk surfaces and the planting of new grass and hedges, and whatever other changes which, in the opinion of the Park Commission, would further enhance its beauty and appearance.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FLOODING OF PROPERTY ON BRAEBURN ROAD.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to waterproof a section of the stone wall surrounding the George Wright Golf Course in the Hyde Park district of Ward 18, at a point near Braeburn road, and to raise the golf course surface level by several feet at the extreme southeast corner, near Braeburn road, in order to end the flooding of adjacent homes and property on Braeburn road during rainy periods by surface water from the George Wright Golf Course.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. KINSELLA, at 3.25 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 22, 1944, at 2 p. m.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being. —American City Magazine.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout. —Municipal Review.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—43.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

ODD ITEMS FOR WAR PRODUCTION.

Many an unusual item has crept into the shopping lists of automobile purchasing agents as a result of war production needs.

Toothpicks, dish mops, pure mutton tallow, dry ice, canvas foot covers, police whistles and razor blades are just a few of such implements being used by one company in its production of aircraft engines and combat vehicles. Toothpicks are used by the first-aid departments for medical dressings.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,858,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,828,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

ALMOST 3,000,000 IN NAVAL SERVICES.

By the end of 1943 it was estimated that the following totals of personnel were on active duty in the U. S. Navy, U. S. Marine Corps and the U. S. Coast Guard:

	U.S.Navy	U.S.M.C.	U.S.C.G.	Total
Officers	201,000	29,700	10,500	241,200

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1944.

No. 23

MAYOR TOBIN JOINS WITH LEADING CITIZENS IN PAYING TRIBUTE TO BOSTON'S WAR DEAD DURING MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES ON BOSTON COMMON—EXPRESSES FERVENT HOPE THAT PEACE WILL COME SOON AND THAT PAGAN FORCES WHICH SOUGHT TO SUBDUE AND DESTROY CIVILIZATION IN THE WORLD WILL BE OVERCOME AND BURIED IN OBLIVION—ALSO OUT OF THE HOLOCAUST SHALL ARISE A GREATER UNITED WORLD UNDER THE GUIDANCE AND WILL OF THE SUPREME BEING.

At the Memorial exercises on Boston Common on Sunday, May 28, Mayor Tobin spoke, in part, as follows:

Memorial Day, 1944, is the most tragic of our lives. Over six hundred of our boys to date have made the supreme sacrifice. To pay tribute to them is the duty that brings us here.

Memorial Day—a day set aside for remembrance of those who have departed. Men and women do not easily forget those with whom they have been associated or whose achievements stand out. So it is with us today. We have erected this memorial as an everlasting monument to our relatives and friends who share the glories that come to such as die heroic deaths. Here in future years and on future memorial days we and our children will gather in pride of memory and honor.

Memorial Day—a real memorial day should be every day for us as we lift our thoughts to God. Folks who do not show reverence for those who have lived and suffered miss that which is highest and best in human beings.

For us who are gathered here today, it is for us to devote our earnest prayers to helping the relatives of those we memorialize bear their heartaches and losses with fortitude—mothers and fathers, wives, sisters, daughters, sweethearts, sons and all the relatives and friends who have been informed from time to time of their men killed in action in global carnage who need the courage which companionship fortifies.

All for Country.

With bated breath we listen to the newscasts over the radio and learn from them how utterly ugly war is. We are consoled, however, with the thought that those we love face it all, even death, to uphold the traditions and ideals for which those already dead have given their all to preserve our United States of America.

God grant that the list of names we honor today does not grow too long. God grant that peace shall be restored to the land before too great a number of our relatives, our sons and our daughters, shall have paid with their lives to preserve us a nation, and to save the world for civilization from the horrors of dictatorships and those paganisms which men blindly lusting for power have tried to force the nations of the world to adopt.

Let us, while we are gathered here to memorialize the departed, hold in eternal reverence the names of all men and women whose lives were sacrificed in other wars and in this for the purpose of helping to preserve our nation founded on liberty and justice for all.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 17, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—You have undoubtedly heard that the War Production Board has allotted for civilian use a supply of penicillin. A number of hospitals in each metropolitan area have been allotted a limited supply which they are permitted to purchase through the office of Penicillin Civilian Distribution of the War Production Board located in Chicago, Ill.

The allotment which the Boston City Hospital has been given through that office is six million units for the month of May and subsequent allotments will be designated from month to month. Unfortunately, the price of this penicillin is set by each producer and the office of Penicillin Civilian Distribution places these orders with different producers in rotation so as to equalize, as nearly as possible, the cost to the various purchasers. We feel obligated, at the Boston City Hospital, to have some of this supply.

In view of the fact that the cost of the amounts we order may exceed $1,000 for each month, I am writing to you to ask your permission beforehand to make these purchases, and I will notify you each time when these bills for penicillin reach this office. Will you kindly inform me as soon as possible if this meets with your approval.

Very truly yours,

JAMES W. MANARY, M. D.,
Superintendent.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 18, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising for bids, to the Hersey Manufacturing Company, 161 E street, South Boston, for furnishing parts for Hersey motors to the Water Division of the Public Works Department.

The Water Division has had a great many Hersey motors in service over a period of years and as these motors break down they are taken out and repaired in our own shops. As the Hersey Manufacturing Company is the manufacturer, both of the motors and the parts, no advantage would be gained through public advertisement for bids.

The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,669.15, with a cash discount of 2 per cent for payment in ten days.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, May 18, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to Marshall & Co., for furnishing incandescent lamps for various city departments in the amount of $1,200.

These lamps were furnished by this concern during the period following the expiration of the old contract and the making of the new one which is now in process.

Marshall & Co. has agreed to grant the same discount that existed under the terms of the last contract; that is, 37 per cent on standard package and 22 per cent on broken package lots.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, May 18, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of May 4, 1943, bids were to have been publicly opened and read in this office on proposals for furnishing denatured alcohol or equivalent anti-freeze for the various city departments. As no bids were received, the dealers on the department mailing list were requested to submit informal quotations and the only dealer prepared to supply the city's requirements was the Automotive Distributors, Inc., which quoted a price of 67 cents per gallon on "Thermo Royal."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Investigation by this office discloses that the current situation as regards procurement of this commodity is even more acute than last year, inasmuch as the War Production Board has recently effected a 27 per cent reduction in the allocation for this area.

Automotive Distributors, Inc., by reason of its previous contract, has offered to guarantee delivery of the city's requirements under a contract this year at no increase in price. In view of the extreme shortage and having in mind the necessity for an assured supply of anti-freeze, your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without public advertisement to Automotive Distributors, Inc., 30 Brighton avenue, Boston, for furnishing approximately eighty-one drums of "Thermo Royal" at 67 cents per gallon. The approximate amount of the contract will be $5,500.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG.
Superintendent of Supplies.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 17, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The following Council order dated December 20, 1943, which was received in this office on April 26, 1944, was discussed at a meeting of this commission held on May 11, 1944:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey and report of the traffic conditions at Haymarket square, with the view of formulating plans for the elimination of hazard to pedestrian traffic."

This commission favors a plan to establish a bus way in Haymarket square, it being understood that it will be necessary to secure legislative approval before it can be constructed.

POLLUTION OF WATER AT PUBLIC BEACHES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of May 15, 1944, concerning the liability for the pollution of waters used for public bathing purposes at public beaches.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 19, 1944.
Arthur C. Carey, Esq.,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—I have your letter of May 17, 1944, requesting my consideration and report of the order of the City Council passed May 15, 1944, as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Corporation Counsel to determine the liability for the pollution of waters used for public bathing purposes at public beaches, and further, to determine what measures can be taken to bring about an abatement and correction of this condition of pollution, by the responsible and blameworthy parties."

The subject of pollution of waters embraces in general a wide field not merely in the law but also in public health administration. The pollution of waters which wash upon public beaches may be caused by the use of lands and waters in which the city may not have exclusive control and jurisdiction, but in which others, including the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, may have paramount interests and rights, and in some instances exclusive control and jurisdiction. In view of the wide scope of the order of the City Council and the absence of any information as to the identity of the public beaches involved or the causes of pollution of the waters it would be impractical, if not impossible to attempt to make the determination called for in the order.

In order that a determination of the liability for the pollution of waters may be made, and an appropriate remedy prescribed, it is necessary that information be furnished as to the identity of the public beaches involved and the nature, cause and source of the pollution. It would seem that such information might be obtained from the department of the city having control of the beaches and also from the Health Department.

This department stands ready to cooperate with the City Council and with departments of the city which bring to its attention specific information relating to the problem.

Yours very truly,

FRANK J. MURRAY,
Corporation Counsel.

It will be necessary to have the property owners of the above-named streets canvassed in order to determine whether or not they are willing to pay their proportionate share of the cost of the installation of edgestones and granolithic sidewalks.

The War Production Board will have to give their approval to this type of construction work after the abutters have signified their intention to pay their proportionate share.

Kindly inform this office if you desire a canvass of these streets made.

INSTALLATION OF DRAIN PIPES, HYDE PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1944,
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of May 8, 1944, concerning the installation of a drain pipe to take care of surface drainage between the drainage outlet in the eastern corner of the Wesley G. Ross Playground in Hyde Park and the drainage intake pipe near Frazer street in Hyde Park.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
May 17, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—To comply with City Council order May 8, 1944, relative to surface drainage at the Wesley G. Ross Playground in Hyde Park, it will be necessary to build about 600 linear feet of 4-foot six-inch diameter and two-foot six-inch diameter conduit at an estimated cost of $18,000, which work is part of a proposed post-war project that will complete the main line surface drainage conduit in this area at an estimated cost of $100,000.

While war restrictions prevent the construction of any part of this project at this time, we have ordered that the existing open brook be cleaned and the grade lowered as conditions will permit so as to prevent as far as possible the standing of surface water on marsh land adjacent to the brook.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

OPENING OF REGISTRATION OFFICE, NORTH END.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1944,
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners relative to your order of May 8, 1944, concerning the opening of a registration office in the North End from June 12 through June 21, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 10 p. m.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Election Department, May 17, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—This is in reply to your communication of recent date with attached City Council order relative to opening a registration office in the North End from June 12 through June 21, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 10 p. m.

The Board does not favor this proposal in view of the fact that City Hall is located in Ward 3, within walking distance of the North End section of that ward. City Hall has been open for the registration of voters since April 26 and will continue to be open through June 21, with office hours from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. from June 12 to 21. Thus, Ward 3 has the most ample provisions for registration of any ward in the city, and there would hardly seem to be justification for amplifying the present arrangements.

We trust that this explanation will be satisfactory to you.

Very truly yours,
BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
WILLIAM A. MOTLEY, JR., Chairman.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 18, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This is in reply to Council order dated May 8, 1944, which reads as follows: "Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to paint suitable danger signs on the street surface of Seminole street, Mattapan, in Ward 18, near the junction of Tampa street, to warn motorists of children playing at the foot of the hill on Seminole street."

The following is a report of our engineer:

"We have no record of an accident where personal injuries are involved taking place at the intersection of Seminole and Tampa streets. I talked with an old-time resident on Tampa street and he doesn't recall seeing or hearing of an accident at this location. Both streets are residential streets with very little traffic, and probably no through traffic using them. I do not believe that we should spend the time and money on an intersection of this type."

WARD 1 PLEBISCITE RE EAST BOSTON AIRPORT.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to arrange for a plebiscite in Ward 1 on the matter of expanding the East Boston airport.

Coun. COFFEY—After reading the Boston Daily Globe this morning, I was under the impression that his Honor the Mayor was going to send in to us today an order transferring certain lands in the East Boston section over to the state for development and enlargement of the East Boston airport. But, after having this out with the Mayor last Friday, I guess he quit cold and didn't have the courage or intestinal fortitude to send the order in. In other words, he quit cold for fear of what I might have to say today, which probably would be a repetition of what I told him in his own car to his teeth, last Friday. I have been fighting the expansion of the airport and am going to continue to fight it, regardless of how anybody throughout the entire City of Boston may feel. I am making a fight for the people of East Boston. I know the feeling, I know the sentiment. They don't want the airport, they didn't want it at the beginning, and they don't want it now. They don't want these thieves—I might call them—who are working in close harmony with both the Mayor and the Governor, to come into our town and expand this airport and take away two of the most natural parks that we have there,—Wood Island Park, which is the best park in the United States, and Amerena Park, which is second to none within the entire city limits. Both those parks will be taken—not on this order that will come in from the Mayor, that I thought might come in today, but at a later date.

I am going to be long, and I am going to be windy, and I hope my voice will last because I haven't made a speech for a long time. But I have had a purpose in keeping quiet. I have had certain individuals that I have been obligated to for the past few years for making me successful. I have fulfilled most of those obligations, practically all. Now I am where I was when I first came up here, free and clear, with a clear mind and a clear conscience, to get up and call a spade a spade, as I have in the past and will, no doubt, in the future. Now, I have a copy of the Boston Daily Globe in front of me, this morning's Globe, telling about the expansion of the East Boston airport. Well, I have a lot of evidence. I have been accumulating a lot of evidence over the last few years about this expansion. I knew that some day I would have to fight this, and I knew that a couple of pats on the back and an automobile ride and a meal once in awhile weren't going to stop me from fighting this steal, as I might call it, of the East Boston airport. First, I will begin by saying that when we in the City Council turned the land over to the state I was under the impression, the same as most of the legislators that I talked to, that the land was going to be turned over because the city was running the airport at a deficit, and members of the Legislature said to me, "Well, we feel it is a state proposition." Henry L. Shattuck was duped, the same as I was, and I will prove that before I am through today. He was under the impression the state should take over supervision of the airport because if there is any money spent the state benefits as much as the city out of the airlines operating there, and we thought the state was better able to take care of the bills instead of having the city expend all kinds of money, whereas the state was going to benefit anyhow. When this airport first started, or the expansion, the East Boston Free Press, which is operated by James Maguire, a former member of the Finance Commission, had written article after article explaining to the people throughout the entire state that the airport, to begin with, wasn't in a suitable site, that nearly every pilot that ever comes in and lands there will agree that the airport is in a bad location because of fog and other difficulties they have when they take off or land at that point. And they feel, as we have always felt, that the airport should be inland. That is why last year I introduced an order in this Council asking the Governor to build that airport between Boston and Worcester, or between Boston and Providence, where there is plenty of vacant land. Now, to give you a general idea of what they are doing. They are dredging the harbor. They are going to put in 10,000 feet of concrete runway and build four 5,000-foot concrete runways out into the harbor. You gentlemen yourselves can figure how much money the state could save if they built those runways inland instead of out into the water. On top of that they are going to tear down Governor's Island—tear down a hill, and take Wood Island Park away from us, with its eight natural ball grounds, its gymnasium, and its quarter-mile track. That all will be taken away in the near future, according to the plans I saw in the State House at General Hale's office. In the near future they are going to take all the houses on Prescott street and along Neptune road. I don't think I will go into all this today because I imagine this will be referred to a committee, and at that time I can bring out things I would only have to duplicate if I brought them out today. But I might say this, that in the Mayor's office last Friday, while I was down there, there was a former Representative who was supposed to have this thing in the bag. This is all supposed to be cut and dried. He is the money man. In fact, he was everything but named yesterday in yesterday's Boston Herald, and he is working for a former Congressman who, too, is supposed to have this thing all cut and dried as far as we here are concerned, and this is supposed to slip through because it is going to be for the best airport in the United States—going to be for the future of the city and state at large. They don't care, of course, what happens to little old East Boston. I represent East Boston, and I do care. And this former Congressman was supposed to be a candidate for the United States Senate against Governor Saltonstall, but who is not now a candidate, he is going to open up a new airline in East Boston, with the blessing of the Governor and with the blessing of others who will operate airlines in that town. Then, if the information I have is correct, the executive of that company is going to be no less than that much-touted, all-American bluff from the Boston Herald, Bill Cunningham. He is supposed to step into an executive position in this new airline that is coming into East Boston. Mind you, none of these airlines could get in, according to Henry Shattuck—and he ought to know what he is talking about, as we saw by the statement he made on the floor of the Legislature on June 12, 1943, when Shattuck proposed this enlarging of the airport, and his argument was the same as I or anybody could give now,—that the Governor never thought of this airport as being an improvement to the war effort, as the government today hasn't spent one red copper on the expansion of this airport. They have started off with $4,750,000, just to build runways, and out of that $4,750,000 they opened bids to have those four runways built, and they only received one bid from an outside concern, outside of Massachusetts, and that concern bid $6,300,000 to build those runways, one quarter more than the appropriation called for. Now they are doing it piecemeal. They intend to build as much of the runway as they can with the $4,750,000, and then in the next session of the Legislature keep getting, getting, getting, until they spend approximately $50,000,000. When I talked to the Mayor last year and asked him about the plans for the expansion of this airport he said, "I never saw them." And then I went upstairs to Mr. Malley's office, in the Planning Board, and said, "Have you got plans for the expansion of the airport?" And he said, "No, the Mayor has them out to his house." He said that the present City Messenger, who was then his chauffeur, according to Mr. Malley, said that he came up to take the plans to the Mayor's house. And still, the very next day, when I asked the Mayor he denied he saw the plans, and last Friday he denied that this former Representative had seen him in regard to the airport. And everybody knows this former Representative is running around for this former Congressman who is going to be interested very much in this new airline that is coming into East Boston. Reading from the Globe of June 12, 1943,—I won't bore you with all of it: "Shattuck Hits 'Monopoly,' Representative Henry L. Shattuck, Rep., of Boston, led the opposition with an attack on Chandler Hovey, chairman of the Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission and a director of the American Airlines which, Shattuck said, 'now has a monopoly of the business to the West and South' from East Boston. Officials of the United, Transcontinental & Western"

That is the one my friend the former Congressman is interested in—

"Eastern and Northeast airlines desire to establish air routes to Boston," Shattuck stated, "regardless of the proposed expansion. 'There is no mention of the inadequacy of the airport in the C. A. A. examiners' report on an application of the United Airlines,' Shattuck added, the application having been turned down because it was stated that Boston has sufficient service."

"As an opponent of the United's long effort to give Boston a direct connection to the West, we find American Airlines," he continued, "which now has a monopoly of the business to the West and South. And among the directors of American Airlines is the chairman of our Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission."

You gentlemen might remember that the chairman of this commission resigned right after the bill was passed in the Legislature.

"It is not possible that if he would use his influence—talking about this chairman of the commission—to call off the American Airlines' opposition we might allow all these great companies to come into Boston without considerable expenditure until after the war?"

"It is evident that there is not competition for the Boston business with the airport as it now is."

"Chandler Hovey is listed in the annual report of the American Airlines as senior partner of Kidder, Peabody & Co."

Now, as I said, I won't be too long today. There are other angles that enter into this. It is not only the expansion of the airport itself, but the Boston and Maine want to open up the old Narrow Gauge Railroad track that has been defunct for the past few years, and as a result of their opening this up, they are going to run spur tracks, going to have freight sheds, build storage houses, and do everything necessary to handle this freight coming in by these big transports. Now, the Boston and Maine, for example,—take this land that is going to be bought by the state and is going to be paid for in full. I have here some forty bills that the Boston and Maine Railroad owe taxes on to the City of Boston. And, just a rough idea,—on page 970, the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad, owe a total tax of $9,110. Of that they received an abatement April 22, 1943, of $4,644, better than half. The next one, too,—$1,795, on the south side of Marginal street. They owe $4,752, and received an abatement of $396 on that appraisal. Another, on page 1403, they owe $2,970 and received a full abatement on that,—$2,970. In other words, bringing it all up, they have owed something like $45,000 in back taxes, with accumulated interest not added here. The Board of Assessors saw fit to grant them abatements of $18,000 on land they are now going to sell and get full credit for, as if the land was paid up in full, and as if their taxes were paid in full. Now, I don't have to go back too far to tell you about McDonald and Company. If my information is correct, he is the First National Bank. And, again, if my information is correct, he is the man that tells the Mayor whether to run for office or not. I can go back to a letter I sent to the Law Department in May, 1942, and the answer I got to that was a copy of the agreement which was entered into by the Mayor,—by the Finance Commission, those fellows that work for nothing. Whether they get cuts in contracts for doing it I don't know, but I know that only a fool will work for nothing. If there wasn't a $2,000 salary with this job, I wouldn't take it for love or money, but a salary goes with it and keeps me up here. That is why I have taken this job and will hold it for a little while longer, I think. But, in answer to the letter I sent to the Law Department, they admit that the Mayor, the Finance Commission, the Law Department and McDonald and Company, who is in reality the East Boston Development Company, got together. They admit that McDonald and Company owe $446,000 to the City of Boston in back taxes and hadn't paid one cent of that for the past twelve years,—not one penny. Now, they entered into an agreement because the Navy Department stepped in in April, 1942, and took a lot of the vacant land in East Boston and built some oil tanks. As a result of that I immediately started from the assessors and on to the Law Department, making a lot of noise, and after making all these contacts the Finance Commission stepped into the picture, and they held a hearing, and as a result of that hearing they said that $396,000 should be paid to the City of Boston on this land, that the taxes are owed by the Boston Port Development Company. So they entered into an agreement with the Boston Port Development Company, and that agreement stipulates that on April 1, 1942, $125,000 shall be paid on back taxes from the Boston Port Development Company to the City of Boston. That payment was made. The next payment agreed to was $40,000, to be paid October 1, 1942. Well, about that time we held a meeting here, the Committee on Public Lands, and that payment was not made up to October 1, and later on I found out that payment was made November 9. Now, in 1943 another agreement had been made for another $40,000 to be paid April 1. That $40,000 was not paid April 1, but was paid in August of last year. But it was only paid because at that time the Committee on Ways and Means, the Governor, the Corporation Counsel and Mr. Hopkins held private hearings behind closed doors in the Ways and Means Committee. And McDonald, an outsider, who had no right in there, went in there that day with Mr. Hopkins, who was supposed to collect those taxes for the City of Boston. I have told this to Mr. Hopkins, to his face, on the floor of the Council, at that hearing—and he couldn't deny it because he was in there. There is a stipulation in this agreement that if these payments are not made within thirty days of the time they are due, the Land Company, over their signature, over the signature of the Mayor, the Finance Commissioners and the signature of the Corporation Counsel, agree that all the holdings of the Boston Port Development Company will be turned over to the City of Boston. And they further agree they will not contest the cases in court, and they will turn them over if they don't live up to their agreement. Now, they paid $40,000 in August for the bill they owed April 1, 1943. The city could have stepped in then and there and foreclosed. They could have taken all that property with the agreement of the Boston Port Development Company, because I have it in writing before me here, right from the Law Department. The next agreement was that $122,000 should be paid November 1. $122,000—of that all that was paid was $40,000. So that the Boston Port Development Company still owes the city $179,000. They have agreed to pay this or else turn over the land to the city. Still the city, the Finance Commission, the Mayor, or anybody else has not seen fit to foreclose and take this land away from them. And then, if the city wants to turn it over to the state for the expansion of the airport, the city at least will make a profit instead of letting McDonald make a profit. They have never lived up to their agreement. I have that from the Law Department in black and white. That can't be disputed. Now, we come up to the fact that $675,000 is going to be expended for the enlargement of this airport. Out of that McDonald and Company has already agreed, as the Boston Port Development Company, to take $180,000 for the land that they own. In other words, they are going to take $180,000, and they still owe the city $179,000, which they have no intention of paying,—which the Mayor has no intention of making them pay, which the Finance Commissioners have no intention of making them pay,—because they are the controlling body. The Governor, come hell or high water, is going to have this expanded, and he has the blessing of the big shots in Washington because he is going to spend money out of the state treasury. And the Federal Government isn't going to allocate one dollar. This goes right down to the Mayor's office, and there is only one time I ever got on the floor and gave one word of praise to him,—when he made the statement, which now proves false, that he wouldn't stand for taking Wood Island Park, and he knows now it was condemned to be taken. Not only that, but all the houses on Prescott street and Neptune road are going to be taken. And they are going to tear down the chimneys on some of the houses that will interfere with landings of those airplanes. Now, we have four different set-ups in this picture. We are supposed to be protected here, in the first place, by the Finance Commission, who stated in a letter they sent to the Law Department, which I have here, that they did a great piece of work when they made this agreement with the Boston Port Development Company. They don't tell you in that agreement they gave them an outright grant of $160,000 that they will never have to pay the city. They don't tell you they don't have to pay any accumulated interest for the past twelve years that they owed that money. And they don't tell you that in the future on any piece of land that is sold in East Boston, owned by the Boston Port Development Company, they are to receive, if the land is sold for between the figures of $2,500 and $50,000, a 25 per cent abatement; and if the figures are over $50,000 to $250,000, they are to receive a 50 per cent abatement. So that in the end the Land Company not only will settle the bill with the city for $179,000, but they will get half of that back in cash, and won't have to spend one nickel out of their pockets, even though they have owed the city these taxes for the past twelve years. I ask you, gentlemen, are we going to stand for it? You don't come from East Boston and don't see the picture like I do. If I came from your districts probably I would see it in the same light that you people do. You want a big airport, — that is fine. You want the city and the state to benefit by it, — that is fine, too. But stop and think of this: They haven't even touched that place, and have appropriated $4,750,000. They are coming in and expending $675,000. On top of that, they will have to spend, according to this morning's paper, $450,000 for drainage. They have done nothing yet. They have to dredge that whole harbor. They will have to take Pigeon's Cove after they leave Wood Island Park and go all around Bayswater street. We read in the paper every day that when our boys make a landing on foreign shores within twenty-four to forty-eight hours they have an airport built. Here we are going on to build this airport and it will take three to four years. And on top of that they are going to build a new tunnel. I saw those plans. It is a two-way tunnel. And on top of that tunnel, on top of that, they are going to build an over-structure highway from Porter street to McClellan Highway. In other words, before they get through they are going to spend some $50,000,000 of the state's money, and not one nickel is allocated by the Federal Government. And if the Federal Government thought there was any value to this airport, they certainly would have taken it right after Pearl Harbor. The fact that they have done nothing is the proof of the pudding. It is of no value. As far as the Federal Government is concerned, I hope this matter is referred to committee, so that at a later date I can bring out whatever evidence I have got, and not talk in generalities like I have today.

The order was referred to the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. BAYLEY, for the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred May 15) transferring $25,000 from Reserve Fund to appropriation for Park Department, for recreational program, development, activities, etc.—that same ought to pass.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, at the hearing the officials of the Park Department informed us that this money will be used for equipment on playgrounds, for bats and balls and the like and will be distributed to playgrounds all through the city, in all districts. I think there is no more worthy object for which we can spend money than for equipment to take care of the children of Boston.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order. The order was passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

RESURFACING OF PORTION OF WEST BROADWAY.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the trustees of the Boston Elevated to reset and resurface with smooth paving that section of the roadway used by the Boston Elevated on West Broadway, from Dorchester street to Dorchester avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES' WAGES.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be instructed by his Honor the Mayor to inform the City Council what action, if any, has been taken by them to grant the employees of the City Hospital and the Mattapan Sanatorium a pay increase.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, the last few years there have been several orders introduced here relative to the employees of the City Hospital, trying to get them a living wage. The trustees have been kicking this thing around now for the past two years, and I must say, Mr. Chairman, that the chairman of our Hospital Committee hasn't been one bit of help to us. We were up there recently on the order introduced by the councilor from Ward 13, Councilor Hannon, and Councilor Fish from Ward 16, who had the welfare of the employees of the hospital at heart, but it seems as though our chairman at every turn for the last two years has been hurting the employees of the hospital. It seems he gets the committee up there, and it seems that a few trustees just attend that meeting and give the councilors a dinner, and it seems as though some of the trustees only attend to hear some dirty stories told by some others. I think it is about time we did something and stopped kidding the employees of the City Hospital. We are going to have the same situation up there that we have at Long Island, in giving starvation wages. It seems every time we go up to the hospital to get a report the trustees are eating something. It is about time they did something for the employees. I think it would be justice to the employees to remove some of the trustees up there. They have one man, Doctor English, who is fighting for the employees, but he is only one member of the board. I say they should remove some of the trustees from that board. They can take care of some of them up there and give them nice raises, because certain influences from this Body go up there, but those workers in the tunnels, the orderlies, and the transfer porters, — those are the ones getting $16 and $17 a week. We are going to have the same condition there as is existing now at Long Island Hospital. You can be crippled and be maimed, and you can go out and earn $40 a week. That is why we have the condition at Long Island. And unless we get on to ourselves and demand that the trustees of the hospital give those employees an increase, and stop kidding us, and stop kidding the Mayor, and give those employees what they are entitled to, we will have the same conditions there. Every other hospital has granted pay raises, and the employees at that institution, several of them, have given up opportunities because they were told they were going to get a raise. We were told they were going to get a raise. Well, it is a long time coming, and I think it is about time something was done. I ask for suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—I want to talk briefly on this. The last order introduced here was introduced at the same time as the order introduced by Councilor Dan Sullivan and myself, as a result of a study of working conditions up at the City Hospital. As a result of that everybody up at the hospital was under the impression they were going to get a raise even if it was only $2 a week. As the councilor has well brought out, there are fellows up there working for fifteen years, getting $16.50 a week and two meals, and, of course, they probably don't even eat the meals there. And those are about the general conditions that exist up there now. Now, to top this, after the report had been made to the Civil Service Commissioner, he, in turn, had set up new ratings in the City Hospital. The people up there feel worse than the people at the Welfare Department. A kitchen man up there for ten to twelve years is now rated as a food man. Nobody knows what the rating is. He isn't given any rating but that of food man. Of course, the way they are all rated now, there is no encouragement for them, no matter how long they have been there,—no junior or senior, or anything that might bring them into a category that would bring more money for them. We know a mistake has been made. It was over a year ago when this order was first introduced, and the members of this hospital were promised a raise, and they never received it, and never will, and they know it, and they are going to take it out of somebody as a result of knowing it.

Coun. CAREY—This matter has, as the councilor from Ward 9 well said, been before this Body on many occasions. Through the kind cooperation of the newspapers, as usual, the public of the city have been acquainted with the fact recently that you can't get help at Long Island Hospital, and you can't get help at the City Hospital. And what do you expect? Year in and year out we have budgets presented to us,—budgets of every department of this city, one of the most important of which is the department that deals with the ill and the suffering,—and yet no money can be found to make more attractive the work of the Boston City Hospital or the work at Long Island Hospital, which, God knows, is the temporary happy landing ground for hundreds of poor unfortunates that have no place else to go. They were created by God Almighty, as you and I were, and they are entitled to human treatment, and that is as far as it goes.

It is well enough to say that they should be taken care of, letting it go at that, but there is a way to do it by providing capable and adequate help. That capable and adequate help can be provided only through proper remuneration for the services that are expected to be performed by that help. It is about time that something was done to help those ill, those suffering, those aged unfortunates. I don't like to see this order take the usual course, and I disagree with the councilor because his order is too meritorious to simply ask for suspension of the rule here. I therefore ask that the order be referred to the Committee on Public Welfare, and I emphasize the word "welfare." Or I ask you, Mr. President, to appoint a special committee in order that this request here that has been gathering moss for years will bear fruit and bring into the City Hospital and Long Island Hospital sufficient help to see that proper work is done for the benefit of those who are ill and unfortunates.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I was just consulting a list of committee appointments, as made up by you, Mr. President, some time after achieving the presidency. Two years ago, because of the fact that some of the boys went into the service, the second name on the list was designated as vice chairman, capable of calling meetings, whenever matters were referred to the committee. But because of a full personnel here now, twenty-two of us, no man is designated in any of those committee assignments as vice chairman, but must await the pleasure of the designated chairman. Mr. President, you have a reputation in Boston politics, and I am speaking to you as a person. You have a reputation in Boston politics that has been well earned over the years. I have heard very nice things about you myself before ever I saw you, but I am not going to flatter you, Mr. President, because I don't think that if any blame accrues to you, or can properly be placed upon you, that I ought to withhold that blame,—and I say this in a spirit of helpfulness, having in mind that the orders of other councilors are persistently and consistently maliciously stifled and avoided. Councilor Sullivan and others in the past have put in orders touching upon hospital matters, Mr. President, and because of the domineering, dictatorial attitude of the little chairman, no action ever has been taken. He can snub and slight the will of twenty-two men in this Body—twenty-one men—as hospital chairman. I dislike intensely to say anything in his absence. I would probably give ten years of my life if he were here today. But, Mr. President, it most certainly does become incumbent upon you, as head of this Body, duly and freely elected, to interpret the will of the Body, that, in the absence of disinterestedness of any committee chairman, you ought to, rule or no rule to the contrary and notwithstanding, appoint a special committee or dissolve the non-functioning committee. I find my name down here on committees on which I will not serve. I say that flatly and without any equivocation,—I will not serve unless a meeting is called within a week of the passage of the order. I was on the elevator and the chairman of the Hospital Committee, who was then as in the last term, the chairman of today, asked me if I was going to attend the meeting on hospitals. I was on it myself last term, and I said I was. It was called for two o'clock, and, without consulting any of the other members of the committee, it was suddenly called off and never held. There isn't any matter pertaining to hospitals, above all other city departments, whether that concerns the material welfare of the employees or the physical well-being of the patients, that is so minor in importance that any self-styled dictator, in the form of a chairman, can hold it at his will and fancy. I second the motion of Councilor Carey that the Chair appoint a special committee composed of the balance of the names in the Hospital Committee as printed, minus the name of the inactive, non-functioning chairman. And if it is permissible—or if it be not permissible—have that newly assigned committee, with its newly assigned chairman, designated for the balance of this term as the Hospital Committee.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I have never held any personal feeling against any member of this Body. I have had my personal quibbles with them, and when they were over they were over. I don't think I ever have uttered a word that was malicious toward any member. The councilor from Ward 8 doesn't happen to be here this afternoon, and I am going to say a good word in his favor. I have the highest respect for him. I have seen Councilor Hurley working down there in off-hours of the evening, and in the early hours of the morning, for the sick in the hospital. I have seen him meeting people there who were blind and going to the eye clinic. I have seen him there meeting the sick and going in to help them there. I think it is unfortunate in this Body that too many of us too frequently speak against another member. If I were to hear a word outside against another member, I would try to say a good word. I say this without any malice. I don't feel that we are doing anything fair in speaking against a member when he is not here, and who honestly tries to do his best for the sick in the hospital and, incidentally, for the employees of the hospital. I think that that should be on the record with the other comments this afternoon.

Coun. HANLEY—Speaking on the order, Mr. President, the principle woven into the order introduced by Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan demands scrutinizing by each and every member of the Boston City Council. I hold no brief for any man on any committee, or any chairman of any committee, but the principle that Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan brought up today has been brought up for the past five or six years, and yet nothing has been done to alleviate the conditions in the various departments of our city, particularly in the Boston City Hospital and the institution at Long Island. There is a cancerous growth increasing today throughout the entire city, and it is because of the man-labor conditions applicable to various men within the corporate limits of our city. The starvation wages given to these men and women are not compatible with justice or with charity, and they should not be utilized in war or in peace. They are entitled to a living wage at all times, commensurate with the cost of living, and until such time as the men of the City of Boston do something to eradicate these causes the effects will challenge and jeopardize the 800,000 people that live in Boston. I commend the councilor from Ward 9, and I hope, Mr. President, that you will appoint a special committee for the purpose of investigating the charges.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—On this matter I have the greatest respect and admiration for my colleague, the councilor from Ward 22 (Coun. M. H. Sullivan), but I am not one that hits or talks about anyone behind their back. If we are going to get any place and try to get the employees of the City Hospital a pay raise, I would never have the opportunity of presenting that order if I depended upon the chairman of the Hospital Committee to be present here. I think if you go through the books you will find him absent more than any other member, or all members put together. I have been up to that hospital, and I go to that hospital just as much as he does, and so do other members. And talking about the employees of the hospital, we have been kidded now for two years about a pay raise for them, and I am not going to be kidded any longer. I will give you an illustration of just what I mean, relative to how far you would get when you have the chairman of the Hospital Committee go up there on the order introduced on March 6 by Councilors Fish and Hannon. We sat at a round table and discussed it. When a call came in we had about five minutes to discuss the order, relative to wages being paid there in the hospital, and one of the trustees was very much interested in who Councilor Dan Sullivan was, because in Executive I said that Stuart Rand, the representative from Ward 5, trustee of the City Hospital, should resign, and the Mayor should remove him because he is also an attorney for the Boston Elevated Railway and a trustee at the hospital, and has access to all the records there. And I think I was justified in asking for his removal. And he wanted to know who Councilor Dan Sullivan was, and there was only one other trustee there. We found out there was a turnover of 1,400 employees at the hospital just for the year 1943. As far as wages were concerned, we didn't get that far, because the call came that dinner was ready. Well, we got down to eat, and then they took us to the best run department in the hospital, and that is in the kitchen. Stuart Rand will take one councilor one way, the chairman, Mr. Dreyfus, will take another councilor another way, the superintendent of the hospital will take somebody else still another way, and you get no place fast. That is the purpose of the chairman. He doesn't want the committee to stay together. I took several councilors through the hospital and showed them conditions there, and they could see why at that time the chairman of the Hospital Committee wanted to spread them out. It has been done before, when you get into a ward and, knowing that they haven't got enough sheets in the various wards, you ask the nurse how many sheets she has and how many blankets, why, you get the "brush-off." They push you right away, and the nurse gets a dirty look to go back to her job. And that is why I say, gentlemen, let us have a showdown with them up there. The result has been that the various councilors get lost and when you get back everyone is gone, and the councilor is left, through no fault of the councilor, because he doesn't know where the others are. I say that the chairman of the Hospital Committee has hamstrung us long enough and kidded the employees of the hospital long enough, and I think, Mr. Chairman, I will withdraw my motion asking for suspension of the rule.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, it appears to me that when this hospital investigation was undertaken there would be one vital, important matter gone into and gone into thoroughly. I have heard from people who have been up there, either as patients or as visitors, that half of the doctors can't talk English. I don't hold that as any great detriment if the man has any medical or surgical skill, but they are refugee doctors and, in spite of the good work that they may do, I am intensely American enough to want to know why the Boston City Hospital has depleted its staff of American-born doctors and sent them over to Europe and opened its doors to doctors from Europe who should have stayed there and attached themselves to the medical and surgical units, instead of coming over here and taking the places vacated by patriotic Americans. Now, I don't intend to become contentious with the councilor from Ward 22 because, if I had a right to criticize any man, the councilor from Ward 22 and every other member of this Body has a right to defend this gentleman, but I think it is talking up to the point to say that any time that any chairman or any other councilor puts in at the City Hospital looking after the interest of the people who made his job possible, is time for which he has been well paid. Councilor Coffey said less than an hour ago if there was no salary attached to this job he wouldn't be here. At least he is to be commended for his frankness and candor. I might ask the councilor from Ward 22 why it was that on two nights, about ten days or two weeks ago, there was nothing sufficiently attractive about the City Hospital to take the good chairman up there on those nights, but he could find time to go into certain wards of this district in this city slandering and maligning people in the ward who, without his permission, Mr. Chairman, had decided to be candidates for other offices. I would like to know where the love and affection for the patients was that night. We are not starry-eyed dreamers here, I hope. We are hard-boiled and material, and we stay in because we are willing to devote the time necessary to the welfare of the unfortunates who don't get any aid or recognition except immediately prior to election day. But, back of the old bugaboo of non-functioning committees, and concerning that bugaboo, without any effort on my part to persuade those who need no persuasion, that committee, or any other, no matter by whom it is staffed or by whom it is headed, that doesn't function to carry out the will of the other members of this Body should be dissolved.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I only want to touch on one thing, and that is in regard to the hospital staff. I spent about eight hours a day at the hospital for nine long months while my little fellow was in there. I saw one doctor that came in that was an all-American football player, as an interne. In one month that man had worked so hard and so long that he lost thirty pounds. That doctor's name is Doctor Healey, in Surgical 2. I saw another little fellow come in from New Hampshire, a graduate doctor, and I didn't think he would make the grade because of his health. He went down to nothing. I only bring that out because they are so short of doctors up there. There is another doctor that is just put on the staff that said to me, "Jim, if I can stay out of the draft for six more months I honestly and willingly would give one of my arms because in that six months I will get more training than I could in the three years I have been here." And that fellow had worked himself into a skeleton because of the hours he has had to put in. I know of what I speak. I saw my little fellow operated on several times. An operation was scheduled for nine o'clock in the morning and was not done until four o'clock in the afternoon. One morning they brought him in at ten o'clock and brought him back at two o'clock, and then brought him back at eight o'clock at night and operated then. You know how emergency cases come in. Case after case comes in, and doctors who never get any living wage—only, by the way, getting something like $6 or $7 a week—have to be there on the job. Now, I want to bring out the fact of the foreign doctors. There was a doctor from Brazil named Doctor Gemaria, and that doctor was advised by four visiting men, the best doctors in this state, not to perform a graft on my boy,—the biggest graft ever done on anybody in that hospital, including the Coconut Grove patients, and he asked my permission, because he said my boy had good recuperative powers. And I gave him my permission, and as a result they gave that boy a new heel. I saw that boy have a heel on his right foot. Today he is running all over the streets, and he has only been out of the hospital seven weeks, after nine long months in there. So I can't help getting up and saying a word for those doctors from other countries, and some other doctors in there will not admire me for saying it. But, thank God, we have them. There was a lady from Puerto Rico, and when I asked her why she was not in the service she said there was only one answer, "My country is not at war." Everybody looks down on them. They are not citizens of this country. They are citizens of their own country and intend to go back to their own country after getting the training here. This Doctor Gemaria is going back and, without fear of contradiction, I say he will be one of the best doctors they will have, because, against the advice of four of the best surgery doctors in this state he went ahead with the operation and came out 100 per cent perfect, when any doctor will tell you they only expect a skin graft to be 25 per cent perfect. Thank God for Doctor Gemaria and others like him. My boy has a good foot and will probably outgrow any defect, because he is only six years old.

Coun. CAREY—I want to commend the councilor from Ward 22 (Coun. M. H. Sullivan). I don't know anything finer than to stand up and befriend a friend, especially in his absence. But I want to make the record clear. I didn't notice whether or not the chairman of the Hospital Committee was in the chair when I was last there, and I think I can say I haven't any doubt but that the councilor from Ward 9 would have introduced his order today whether the chairman of the Hospital Committee was here or not. I personally don't believe that any member of this Council makes a practice of talking about any councilor when he is not here to defend himself, but this particular matter has been brought more to the public's attention during the last two or three weeks than ever before,—thanks today to the cooperation of the Boston press. Today a delegation of women is going to make a trip to Long Island in an endeavor to see whether from freewill offerings services might be made by some women of this community to fill the gaps remaining at the Long Island Hospital at the present time. The Boston City Hospital is the finest hospital in the country, and there is splendid work being done up there. But you go into the City Hospital today and the place is jammed with a long waiting list. You go to the Long Island Hospital and the same situation prevails there; and the same situation likewise prevails at the Sanatorium at Mattapan. But the fact is, and we must acknowledge it, that decent wages and salaries have never been paid to employees of the City Hospital or the Long Island Hospital. I have people coming to me who were notified by the Civil Service that positions were open at Long Island, and they refuse to take those positions because they could earn much higher pay outside in other work. The trouble is that the pay hasn't been attractive enough. You will even notice advertisements from our state institutions begging and calling for help, and you have the same situation prevailing there—starvation wages that are being paid for work to be performed in the care and welfare of the sick and the unfortunate. Pay better wages and you will get more help. The quality of the help, so far as I know, is all right. My remarks are not to be construed otherwise, but the fact remains that the only reason we can't get help at the City Hospital and the Long Island Hospital is because they have never in those institutions paid the wages commensurate with the hours that they have to perform in doing their daily toil up there. You have indicated, Mr. Chairman, you will send this order to Executive Committee. I think it might be well if the entire Council were constituted an investigating committee and was made to see if something couldn't be done to make up a wage that is more attractive, in order that a larger supply of help might be attracted to the City Hospital and the Long Island Hospital and the Mattapan Sanatorium.

Coun. TAYLOR—I wasn't here at the beginning of the debate, but I have learned that reference has been made to the chairman of the Hospital Committee, Councilor Hurley—reference to his activities or inactivities, pertaining to the welfare of the employees at the City Hospital. I have been in the Council for seven years now, and I have seen many chairmen of committees. I want to say right here and now I have never seen any chairman of a committee more devoted to his duty for the interest not only of the patients and doctors at the City Hospital, and the nurses, but all the employees of the City Hospital. Councilor Hurley is the friend of the hospital employees, and they all know it. Upon every occasion when they are in trouble, he is the man they go to. Unfortunately he is unable to perform miracles for them. As the chairman of the Hospital Committee he has no more power than any other member of this Body. If any other member of this Body is desirous of doing something for the hospital employees he has the same opportunity as the chairman of the Hospital Committee has. It is unfortunate the wages of the hospital employees are at such a low standard. It is something that has been going on from time immemorial. When I came into this office, at the same time that Mayor Tobin arrived at the Mayor's office, it was the same situation. And I say right here and now, Mr. President, if there is any man who has devoted his powers and efforts more than any other man in the Council for the entire period of seven years that I have been here, for the welfare of the hospital employees, it has been Councilor Hurley. Any member of this Body knows that Councilor Hurley has no more right and can do no more than any one of us for the purpose of increasing the standard of wages of the employees of the City Hospital. I don't think that there is any employee of the City Hospital that can agree with any remarks that have been made to try to place the blame upon Councilor Hurley. I have seen him in action there. I have seen him coerce even the officials for the protection of some unfortunate employee who is being discriminated against for some reason or other—and when I say discriminate, I don't mean because of any race, creed or color. I mean because some higher official may feel they must place the stamp of approval upon some particular employee. He is entitled to credit and not discredit from any one of us, and I am surprised that any member of this Body, particularly when he is not here to defend himself, can get up on the floor and disparage that man, having in mind what he has done for the employees of the City Hospital.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I was wondering when the councilor from Ward 12 was going to take the floor. Now we will have it out. He uses the word "coerce." That is a very fine word, because he and the gentleman from Ward 8 know it very well. Now he tells you what the gentleman from Ward 8 does up at the hospital. Let me tell you, Mr. Councilor from Ward 12, he doesn't do any more than any one of the other twenty-one members of the Council do up at the hospital. They are up there just as much as he is, and the councilors here don't have to sneak in and out the back doors, and they haven't a key into the superintendent's office, either, Mr. President. It is too bad he wasn't here during the whole argument. I held my counsel before because the gentleman wasn't here, and I hope next Monday he will be here so he can answer, and then we will really thresh it out. He fooled the workers out at the hospital for two years. You don't know, because you never attended any of the Hospital Committee meetings, Mr. President. I attended all that were called. And you use the word "coerce." It was only here last year, when I was in the chair and the chairman of the Hospital Committee introduced an order relative to one Gertrude Folan, and he took the floor here and condemned her down to the lowest. That order, because I was in the chair, I referred to the Hospital Committee. There was a committee called before the Council that Monday. I wonder who coerced the chairman of the Hospital Committee at that time. There was an object there, Mr. President, as long as you want to know it. There was something between the superintendent of the hospital and one Gertrude Folan. Was it because that order was introduced? Was it because the superintendent of the hospital couldn't control Miss Folan? The introduction of that order was very effective, Mr. President, and I think the councilors know what was behind it. It was no good for the employees, as he tried to bring out, but it just gave them something they were looking for for a long time, to take a shot at Miss Folan. Talking about a councilor behind his back, it isn't very long ago, on April 3, in this Body, relative to the colored question, on the baseball license,—it was only a few weeks after the minutes were printed that the councilor from Ward 12 went into my district and brought a bundle of them and left them there to be read, and said he told them who voted for it, and he also mentioned you, Mr. President, as being a grand fellow and voting for that. And I say to you, Mr. President, don't think you are going into my district and use it, because that isn't true, as far as I am concerned. He thought he Could hurt me in my district, and they laughed at him because the colored people know who their friend is. And, as it turns out, the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Muchnick) isn't going to be a candidate now for the Senate. But that is all they were using that colored question for, to gain a few votes, and we will see how many colored votes he really does get in his ward. No one is going to come into my ward and raise any question, or the colored question, of discrimination. I have been fighting for the hospital since I have come into this Body, and I am getting fed up on getting a lot of empty promises for them. You have another order of mine there asking that the Mayor grant the city laborers in all departments a pay raise. They are entitled to it. Other organized groups, such as the Police and Fire Departments, have got a pay raise. And here is the city laborer, earning that money by the sweat of his brow. Yes, they get $3.80 extra—$33.84 a week—but after their pension and deductions are taken out, it is less than $30 a week. They just sent up to the Civil Service Department four months ago to put 104 laborers to work in the city. Four months it took to get that list down here. There is a list standing up there for over 3,000 veterans. They had to canvass that list before they could get 100 veterans, and then they had to go into the civilian list and take forty from the civilian list to make up the list of one hundred to go to work in the city. How can you expect men to take these jobs at starvation wages as they are today? Anyone can go out and earn $30 or $40 a week, and they don't have to kill themselves in throwing ash barrels for a measly $30 a week. I hope when the hospital chairman comes back, that every word of this will be printed, and then let him answer it.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, coming back to the order, although I may agree with some of the remarks made, and may disagree with some, still I feel the order in itself is a very meritorious one. I often have wondered how the employees of the hospitals can work at those institutions. The pay that they get is really insufficient, not only for their own livelihood, but for their families. There are cases back where they took employment in the hospital, they were single persons. They were young and willing to do a day's work well, willing to learn. As the days have gone by they have grown up and are married and have two, three and four children, and today we have some of them that have been working, as has been explained, for ten, twelve and fourteen years, and only receiving $16.50. I wonder. Maybe it is God's will to keep those people there, because I know that you or I, or anybody else, especially in these times, would not stay and work in an institution for that meager pay. Something certainly has to be done. I realize that the employees of the City of Boston in these times are underpaid,—but if there is anyone that is underpaid it is the employees of the hospital. When some time ago there was an opening in the Long Island Hospital for a laboratory technician, what do you think they offered, Mr. President? $600 to $1,000 per year. Would you have accepted that position, after going through school, after spending money for education? No wonder they can't get any help. Certainly something has to be done, and it has to be done now. I know of many cases of boys that have left the hospital, and good luck to them, on leave of absence. You and I can't bring up a family, and bring them up decently, especially in these times, on that money. They are doing something for the country, yes, helping the war effort. Surely, at the same time they are helping themselves and helping their children. I know one particular case that has eight children. He was only getting $22.50 a week. How, under God, do you expect them to stay there and work for that? And when he told me what he was supposed to do I told him to go outside to work. "You can't live on $22.50 a week with eight children. God bless you. Go out and work." And that is the condition that exists today. These are extraordinary times. Even in good times, how could we keep employees intact? Is it a wonder that many of our patients that have been hospitalized in our hospitals are discontented, not because the hospital is not a proper institution or a fine one, but because of the lack of service? And I don't blame the employees sometimes if they don't want to give the proper service, Mr. President. They are not receiving the proper compensation for it. And that is the question today, and I think it is up to us, as the so-called city fathers, to take this issue up, find out who it is for, and once we do that, let it be known just whose fault it is. It is just a runaround. One person sends you to the other, and the other to the other, and you don't know where you are at. Let us have a showdown and find out. I would say, Mr. President, I don't know how these employees work at our hospital. It is even a disgrace to have an individual married, with two or three children, receiving $16.50. You say, "Why don't you get out?" "Well, I have been in there for ten or twelve years. I have at least a little job. I am afraid when this thing is over I may not be able to get a job." And those are the conditions that exist. Well, let us make it interesting for them to go and work in the hospital. Let us give them a livelihood. They are entitled to it, and I believe once we have accomplished that we will have one of the greatest hospitals in the United States, in the entire country and the entire world. I say that if we give them a living wage, enough for them to live as they are supposed to live, then we will have the greatest institution that we ever have known.

Coun. TAYLOR—There is no question about the merit of the order. Nobody can be against alleviating the problems of the hospital employees. They must have plenty, but the only thing that disturbs me is when a man is out of the Hall some one else will attack him without his being given an opportunity to defend himself. It isn't the spirit of fair play, in my opinion, because I know the man in question. If he were here, he certainly would defend himself better than I could. I take no back seat from anyone. I haven't. If I think I am right, I will voice my opinion to that effect regardless of whether everybody else is against me. I have the courage of my convictions. I will vote that way and let it go down in the record, and then I won't be ashamed of my vote afterward or attempt to apologize for it. I say that Councilor Hurley has done a noble job. Reference has been made that he has a key to the front door. That is absurd, and we all know it. There is nobody here that can't go to the superintendent's office if he sees fit to do so, and I know there are many members of this Body, including myself, who on occasion have called up Councilor Hurley and asked him to do something for somebody over there in the hospital. I don't think we can condemn him for that. He tries to place the blame on Councilor Hurley for the wages they are receiving. I say, councilor, why don't you do something for the hospital employees? Are you attempting to make them believe he wouldn't do it and you would do it? You know as well as I that you haven't the authority to do it any more than he has. That comes from some other part of this building. We are all in sympathy with it, and we all want to do something for them, but don't attack a man when he is not here to defend himself.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, one of the nicest things about civic life in Boston is the Damon and Pythias relation that exists between the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) and the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor). I am not being sarcastic. I want to pay tribute to a fellow's right to defend his friend. But merely because a man happens to be his friend doesn't make him a law unto himself, and the gist of this whole debate is the failure of the hospitals to function along the line of the order that was passed by the Body some while back. It is true that we have ranged a little far out and have gone into personalities, but at least we have done it publicly and there is no person in this chamber, member or spectator, who is responsible for the absence today of the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley). His absence is purely a voluntary personal matter, and whether he is in Washington, as I understand, on purely personal business, or whether he has gone down there for some obscure person in his district, is beside the point. He is not here, and certainly twenty-one men do not have to meet the schedule or requirements of any one other. We are supposed to be here, come hell or high water, every Monday of the year, and any man that is out for any reason other than illness certainly cannot expect to have the Body wait until he is ready and composed enough to come here and sit down. Now, as for talking in the absence of a councilor, I don't know why it is that the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) is so terribly disturbed about it. It is in the record and it has been said in front of the members of the general public, said in front of members of the press, and the absent brother has access to that record next Monday or sooner. It appears to me, two or three times within recent months, I have taken to my feet here and asked unanimous consent to make a statement, because the subject on which I intended to speak was a subject that could not be reduced to an order or a resolution, and the gentleman from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor), who probably understood I was going to speak about certain lies that he had uttered in the past about me, objected, and I was religiously sportsman enough in my attitude, as many councilors around me know, to wait until he was in the chamber to ask that permission. I didn't wait until he left to answer one of the numerous convenient telephone calls. I am not going to be charged with talking behind the back of any man in front of whose face I won't talk. If the man is derelict in his duty he should be removed from the position he holds. If the man is going to be allowed the latitude of imposing his will on twenty-one others, then, in brief, we should give him the type of treatment he deserves. But I don't think it is the will of this Body that any one man, occupying the position of committee chairman, can ignore, slight and snub the other component parts of the Council.

Coun. TAYLOR—I don't want to appear contentious or to prolong this argument, but it seems that those that have a hate for the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) are trying to take it out on him today. I wonder if there is any personal reason they have. The gentleman from Charlestown said that I objected to his having unanimous consent. Of course I objected to unanimous consent to a man going to speak on things when we don't know what he is going to speak about. How many remember, not so long ago, when he termed us a gang of "nitwits" to obtain publicity for himself? How many forget he made the statement by unanimous consent on this floor that the only decent people that have the right to vote come from the Back Bay? Are we going to allow a man like that to tread on us or refuse his making statements? Let him put it in the form of an order, like the others do, and I do, and not attempt to indict his own colleagues in the Council. Of course I refuse unanimous consent. I don't intend to get personal, and I don't do it on the floor, so I try to stick to an order as it is given here before the Body, and not attempt to inject personalities into the order. Leave hate outside. This is no place for it, councilor.

Coun. KINSELLA—Well, the gentleman was brief enough, and I will try to match his brevity. Of course, it is long known that he has an agile and nimble mind and tongue, and it is difficult to stay up with him he talks so confusingly. I want to refresh the gentleman's memory on the time I spoke of "nitwits" and wranglers, and I included myself because I have been touched with the stigma that you and a few others have put on the Body.

Coun. TAYLOR—You may be right about yourself, but leave us out.

Coun. KINSELLA—On August 31, 1942, the record will bear me out, the report from which you would not let me read because you wouldn't give me unanimous consent, having been notified by you that the Mayor allowed time off on the Jewish holidays to those of Jewish faith, and a certain councilor took to his feet and asked that it be amended to include Christians on Christian holidays—and I took issue that he shouldn't have cast any reflections on you, your order or your people, and as a result there was a long-winded debate that came about the truth of our remarks. I said that the general public of Boston knew us for "nitwits" and wranglers, and unless we stopped wrangling in this Body we would find a nine-member body, and our conviction will come from the Back Bay where they have such good sense and good breeding as not to fight among themselves.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PAY RAISE ASKED FOR ALL LABORERS.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to grant the laborers in all departments in the City of Boston a pay raise.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

"PICK-UP STATION BOOTHS" FOR SERVICEMEN.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect "pick-up station booths" at the various points leading out of the city for servicemen and any expenses incurred be taken from the Salvage Fund.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, the reason for this order is because throughout the state on all the main highways, there are so-called pick-up booths for service men traveling from their base to their homes. In Boston we have none, but we have them in all sections of the state here as well as in the adjoining states. Some of our boys from Boston cannot afford to pay train or bus fares and thumb their way on the highways. We also have boys stationed in Boston here that live out of town and in some of our neighboring states. I think this order here should be passed because it is against the rules and regulations of the Army and Navy for service men to thumb rides, but they do approve of these pick-up booths, which are so marked on the various roads leading out of the city. The booths are approximately 8 feet long and 4 feet wide, with a settee inside and they are approximately 8 feet high, with a slanted roof. They are well constructed and so marked for service men that it is a pick-up station, and people going traveling in that direction get accustomed to these booths and can drive there and give a service man a lift. Also I have it on the end of the order that any of the expenses incurred be charged to the Salvage Fund. The Salvage Fund, as you know, is money obtained through tin can collection and newspaper collection. I understand there is, roughly, about $10,000 in this fund, and I believe for $2,000 or $3,000 we could set up a number of these pick-up booths throughout the City of Boston. I ask suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF MEMPHIS STREET, WARD 21.

Coun. DWYER offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct Memphis street, Ward 21, and to install edgestones and sidewalks thereon.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASED PAY FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT DIVERS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following: Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to grant a $200 annual wage increase to those members of the Fire Department who are specially qualified as divers and are performing extra hazardous duties.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, this order is proposed by Councilor Hannon and myself. I have in mind in introducing this order that we have three firemen in Boston, namely, hosemen, who are receiving hosemen's compensation, and are performing the hazardous duties of divers. Every week, every so often, they are called upon to practice. Every so often they are called upon by the Police Department to go into the harbor to search for dead bodies and perform other hazardous duties. I think members of the Council will agree with me, due to the fact that these men are actually performing services for the city which are outside their normal course of duty, that the municipal authorities should do something about adequately compensating them for these extra duties. I hope his Honor the Mayor will see fit to urge the Fire Commissioner to grant these three men the extra compensation that Councilor Hannon and I are requesting.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMPLIFYING EQUIPMENT FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, in collaboration with manufacturers of amplifying and two-way transmitting and receiving equipment, procure for the Fire Department such equipment, for the protection of the life and limb of the firemen from the hazards encountered in falling walls, explosions, etc., in procuring aid for stricken persons and firemen, and the audible transmission of verbal orders over the din and confusion encountered at a fire.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION RE TAX ABATEMENTS.

Coun. HANLEY and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to submit to the City Council in chronological order, from 1930 to 1943, inclusive, under the following captions: The number of petitions filed with Tax Appellate Board, the number of petitions denied, the number of petitions approved; total amount of valuation involved in petitions denied, total amount of valuation involved in petitions approved; total amount of taxes abated by approved petitions.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF FENCES AT DANGEROUS PLACES, ETC.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to draw up an ordinance, empowering the Building Commissioner to compel the construction of a suitable fence around property wherein the safety of the public is endangered, especially around razed property, railroad property, and the elimination of "spite fences" that have a deteriorating effect on adjacent properties.

Coun. HANLEY—On that order I would ask you to refer it to the Executive Committee, and request the presence of the Building Commissioner. Due to the lateness of the hour, I ask that that be done next Monday.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

RESURFACING OF CERTAIN WARD 11 STREETS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to resurface Union avenue, Ophir street, Sylvia street, Peter Parley road, Forest Hills street, Beech Glen street, School street (from Washington street to Walnut avenue), Ward 11.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to resurface with tarvia the sidewalks on Park lane, Washington street (from Townsend street to Forest Hills), and install new sidewalks on Beech Glen street.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

RESANDING OF SAVIN HILL BEACH.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resand the beach at Savin Hill.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ALLOTMENTS PAID LABORERS UNDER NON-CONTRIBUTORY RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to draft and present legislation to increase the monthly allotment paid to laborers under the non-contributory retirement system.

Coun. HANNON—Last week, Mr. President, I filed an order and suggested the appointment of a commission to study the retirement system of the city, because it was called to my attention that men who had worked for the city for years, and who had contributed 4 per cent of their wages, which goes into the Retirement Fund, at the end of their years of service, when they attain the age of seventy, have found themselves allotted $40 a month as a pension. I know that some cases have been called to your attention. There is the case of the laborer who worked for the city for twenty-six years, and now he gets a pension of $30 a month. Upon investigation I find that this amount has been established by the Legislature. In order to be amended it must be by legislative act. I think that, certainly, any man who gets a pension from the city ought to get more than $30 a month. That $30 deprives him of getting any old age assistance, and he could probably get $40 a month under the old age assistance act. So I think nothing definite can be done before January, but we should get the Law Department to work now, or get them to draft proper legislation so that any man in the employ of the city, any man or woman, any employee at all, will be sure, not of a pension of $30 a month, or even $40 a month, but be sure of a pension commensurate with the years of service they have given to this city.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAY AREAS IN SOUTH BOSTON AND SOUTH END.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of constructing play areas for the children in the vacant land created by the demolition of properties in the so-called proposed South End and South Boston Housing projects.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, one of the pressing problems before us undoubtedly is still juvenile delinquency. We are looking for places where we can get children off the streets, looking for ways and means to keep the children occupied and keep their minds engaged so they won't be led into wrong. And before us, before the whole city, I think, is a very easy and accessible method of at least occupying some of the children in some of the districts. Over in South Boston we have ruined almost half the town by tearing down buildings over there, buildings that used to contribute good money in taxes to the City of Boston; buildings that housed good stores that paid license fees and proper rentals to the City of Boston. Through some manner of means these houses were torn down. We are told that a housing project was going to be erected there. Instead of that we find vast areas of waste space. There are streets that have proper hard surfaces on them, streets that might be used for roller skating, streets that might be used for games of the children, and yet nothing is done. The same thing holds true in the South End. Down there a whole area has been depleted, and a whole area has been ruined, and instead of houses, contributing taxes and helping to lower the burden upon the taxpayers of the City of Boston, we find, for the last three or four years, nothing but empty spaces, nothing but big holes, nothing but vacated cellars that contribute not to the beauty of the city, not to taxes of the city, but rather contribute to the crimes of the city. These places might well be filled in. These streets—those that are in good condition—might be closed off and the children could be invited in there to play and use these properties. We can never get back the money that has been taken away from us by the silly destruction of these properties. God only knows if ever any housing projects will be erected on these sites, but while we have got these properties and while we have got the problem of trying to find play areas and play spaces for the children, why not combine the two of them? It will be much cheaper than buying other places and building and erecting new playgrounds, new fields of recreation. These fields are here; these properties are there. They are doing nothing but creating an eyesore or a blight on the whole city. They are mere invitations to crime. We could very well get the Public Works Department or the Park Department to combine and fill in some of these places, and rope off some of these areas, and put swings, tilts, and play-yards in there, and give our children some place to play, and make use of these fields that I say are an eyesore, not merely as to the physical appearance of the city, but an eyesore and a reflection on the city that ordered the destruction of these buildings in the first place.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF PARADE GROUND, BOSTON COMMON.

Coun. BAYLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and hereby is, directed to rope off the parade grounds on the Boston Common for the Annual Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company Election and Parade, to be held on June 5, 1944, the expense to be charged to the City Council appropriation for Ropes, Flags and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. BAYLEY, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

Report on petition of Joseph P. Smith (referred May 8) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor truck belonging to Paving Division, Public Works Department, recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of thirty-nine dollars and fifty cents ($39.50) be allowed and paid to Joseph P. Smith in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor truck belonging to the Paving Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report on petition of Harold F. Hurley (referred May 1) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor truck belonging to Sewer Division, Public Works Department—recommending the passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of sixty-five dollars ($65) be allowed and paid to Harold F. Hurley in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor truck belonging to the Sewer Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Reports accepted; said orders severally passed.

INFORMATION ON UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of information. President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. COFFEY—Could you tell me how this last notice got on the calendar, "Recommendations by the Mayor"? It says:

"The order for a loan of $1,500,000 for the construction of public ways, submitted to the City Council April 24, 1944, and referred to the Committee on Finance, becomes effective after June 23, 1944, unless adopted, rejected, or withdrawn prior to that date."

Will you tell me how that happened to appear? It is the first time I have ever noticed anything of that nature.

President KERRIGAN—That was put on the calendar by the City Clerk. It is for the information of the members that the order has to be acted upon within sixty days.

Coun. COFFEY—May I ask the chairman of that committee to bring in a report today so we can act on it today? I make a motion that we now ask the chairman of the committee to bring that order in so we can act on it today instead of waiting for sixty days for it to become a law.

President KERRIGAN—You are not making a motion to recall it from the committee?

Coun. COFFEY—I make a request first, and if the chairman doesn't see fit to bring it in, or doesn't see fit to bring it today, I will make a motion.

Coun. CHASE—The Committee on Finance last week had a hearing on it, and hasn't definitely come to a conclusion as yet as to recommendations. In view of the fact this involves every ward in the city, we had in mind holding a hearing next week and asking the Council to attend before making a recommendation.

Coun. COFFEY—May I ask the chairman, through you, when you called this meeting, or the two meetings that I assume were called, if he had a quorum?

President KERRIGAN—Does the chairman wish to add anything?

Coun. CHASE—Well, there was a quorum—we actually had a quorum.

Coun. COFFEY—I make a motion that this order be brought out on the floor. They have had two meetings. We all know it is street construction; it isn't salaries, and I think we ought to act on it before it becomes too late, like another order a year ago.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—It is my understanding of the rules that a motion has to lie in committee for thirty days.

President KERRIGAN—No, it will take a two-thirds vote of the Council prior to thirty days to recall it from the committee.

Coun. DWYER—Speaking on the motion, Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey), in view of the fact that the chairman of the committee said he was going to have a hearing again this week on it, if he would withdraw his motion. I do that, Mr. President, for one reason,—that I, for one, don't like to vote to take matters away from committees, and if the chairman of the committee says he is going to have a hearing this week, and a report will be brought in next week, I ask at this time the gentleman from Ward 1 to kindly withdraw his motion.

Coun. COFFEY—As long as the chairman of the committee assures me the matter will be brought in next week, I will withdraw the motion.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 4.26 p. m., on motion of Coun. RUSSO, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 5 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

REPORT OF JOSEPH McKENNEY, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR, DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION, ON ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL CONVENTION OF AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION, AT NEW YORK, APRIL 24 TO 27, FINDS BOSTON ONLY LARGE CITY SUPPORTING ATHLETIC PROGRAM OUT OF TAX BUDGET.

The following is a report by Joseph McKenney, Associate Director, Department of Physical Education, of the annual convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which was held in New York City, April 24 to 27, 1944.

The theme of the convention was "Fitness for Today and Tomorrow."

The speaker at the First General Assembly was Major-General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service System, Washington, D. C. He is greatly disturbed at the increasing number of 4-F classifications, with mental disorders and educational deficiencies being the two causes for the greatest number of rejections. The number of rejectees is now equal to our armed forces overseas and greater than our combined naval and marine forces. Major-General Hershey made two recommendations —

1. Start the physical development of the child in the elementary grades.
2. One year of military training for all youths.

Colonel J. Henry Pool, Executive Officer, Assistant Chief Air Staff, Training Headquarters, Army Air Forces, urged more competition in our school program. Discipline is still a problem in the Navy. Athletes are the most desirable group for flight service because of their skill, agility and coordination. The discipline an athlete undergoes is an asset to him in the service.

Dr. David K. Brace, Principal Specialist in Physical Fitness, United States Office of Education, states that 70 per cent of the secondary schools have increased their physical education programs. Even with this great increase only 50.1 per cent of the boys and 46.2 per cent of the girls, junior and senior year of high school, take physical education. There are over one million boys in high schools at the present time not taking any form of physical education.

C. H. McCloy of the State University of Iowa tested 14,000 selectees. He found that their body mechanics and skills were very poor. These selectees improved rapidly in the service. At eighteen years of age the selectees are in very good physical condition. At twenty-three their condition is above the average; at twenty-eight they are only in average condition; and from thirty to thirty-eight their condition is very poor. Students must be taught the carry-over value of exercise to maintain their physical condition. The majority of youths retire from physical activity upon leaving high school.

There is only one solution for the correction and improvement of the body mechanics and skills in our future students and that is the proper development of their body mechanics and skills during their elementary school training.

The need of competitive athletics was never greater. Every branch of service wants the young man who has competed in some form of athletics. The athlete is sought by the Air Corps because of his natural skill, courage and coordination. The statistics of the Army show that the athlete maintains his condition much better than the non-athlete, especially in the front lines. Living in a fox hole with no sleep and "K" rations calls not only for superb physical condition, but also the ability to hold that condition. The non-athlete has not been able to match the athlete under these circumstances.

We must indoctrinate each student with the desire to get fit and stay fit. One out of every three in high school is working after school hours. There is no question but that such employment is breaking down many of the pupils physically. It is a problem facing all of us in the near future, both from an educational and medical viewpoint.

We all realize the crying need for larger and better facilities to carry on a worthwhile program of physical education. Our post-war aim should be adequate gymnasiums, showers, locker rooms, and recreational facilities in every school located in the City of Boston.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH McKENNEY,
Associate Director of Physical Education.

P. S.— It might be of interest to you to know that Boston is the only large city in the country that supports the athletic program from the tax budget. Every other city is trying to adopt our plan.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

REPORT OF FREDERICK J. GILLIS, ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, ON ATTENDANCE AT FIFTEENTH INSTITUTE FOR EDUCATION BY RADIO, AT COLUMBUS, OHIO, MAY 5 TO 8, INCLUSIVE.

The following report has been submitted to and approved by the School Committee:

In cooperation with the Fifteenth Institute for Education by Radio, the Junior Town Meeting League held its first league conference during the period of the Institute, May 5 to 8, 1944, at Columbus, Ohio.

The Junior Town Meeting League has been organized to provide cooperation and an exchange of ideas among those interested in the extension of Town Meeting techniques of discussion for youth groups, both in and out of school.

Attending the league discussions were:

Superintendents of schools; school principals; directors of education; teachers of history, civics, social studies, speech; representatives of societies, associations, or organizations interested in better citizenship; education directors of radio stations; directors of radio education; chairmen or officers of social studies clubs, current events clubs, debating societies, and all extra-curricular organizations interested in discussion.

In connection with the convention, a national broadcast of America's Town Meeting of the Air was held Thursday, May 4, from the Central High School Auditorium. Four high school students chosen by national competition, as were the four students who participated in the broadcast from the Public Latin School on December 9, 1943, discussed the question, "Does Youth Want Social Security from the Cradle to the Grave?"

Discussion during league meetings was held on topics of local forms of Town Meeting organization both during school years and adult life, selection and training of students both as speakers and leaders of discussion, techniques of the Junior Town Meeting, either broadcast or non-broadcast, and program and utilization techniques of this method of discussion.

It was agreed that the Junior Town Meeting offered to the school authorities an implement to train pupils for active participation in adult life in local, state, and national affairs.

Island in Boston Harbor. Arrangements will be made for the police boat to stop at the Army Base Pier at 5.30 p. m. and take you on the interesting and pleasant 25-minute boat ride down the harbor to the island.

Upon arriving you will be given free an excellent dinner in the nurses' quarters. After dinner you may help the nurses in any department you may choose. This hospital is Boston's home for aged people. Many of them need someone to write letters for them, or you may help by folding linens, arranging food trays or similar pleasant tasks. You will not be asked or expected to do anything which might be distasteful to you. Before the war there were ninety nurses to care for these old people. Now there are twenty-six. Your help is desperately needed.

The boat leaves on the return trip at 10 p. m., arriving at Eastern Avenue Wharf at 10.30 p. m. Combine the pleasure of the trip with the knowledge that you have helped the less fortunate.

Miss Ann MacDonald has been appointed by General Kells to organize groups for certain days each week. Miss MacDonald has made the trip and will be glad to supply additional information to those who are interested. She may be contacted on Extension 118.

CHANGES IN CONTRACT.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Walter Reed Corporation have been ordered to make the following changes in the contract for rebuilding of baseball fields at Columbus Park Stadium, Gibson Playground, Joseph Lee Playground and Fallon Field, signed April 11, 1944:

Rebuild entire athletic field by furnishing and laying of sod and sowing grass seed at American Legion Playground, Condor street, East Boston, instead of at Gibson Playground, Dorchester, all as per contract specifications.

Furnish and deliver a greater quantity of loam at American Legion Playground than what was estimated to be delivered at Gibson Playground, as the depth of loam necessary will be greater at American Legion Playground than what was estimated at Gibson Playground. Loam shall be spread to an average depth of 4 inches.

Sow seed on these areas not later than June 10 instead of May 10, and lay grass sod not later than June 10 instead of May 15 as specified in contract.

For these changes in the work, which will be done at American Legion Playground, the contract unit price will be paid, except that an additional amount of fifty cents per cubic yard for loam delivered to the American Legion Playground, East Boston, will be added to contract price.

Additions (estimated), 1,800 cubic yards loam, Item 2, at $2, $3,600; extra hauling charge for loam to American Legion Playground, 2,400 cubic yards, at 50 cents, $1,200—total, $4,800. Contract price, $23,645; additions as per this order, $4,800; contract as standing, $28,445.

An extension of time until June 20, 1944, for the completion of the work under contract has been granted.

BOSTON, May 25, 1944.

MR. WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman, Board of Park Commissioners.

DEAR SIR,—The reason for the changes in the contract for rebuilding of baseball fields at Columbus Park Stadium, Gibson Playground, Joseph Lee Playground and Fallon Field, signed April 11, 1944, is as follows:

A regular schedule of twilight league games had been planned at the Gibson Playground for this year. The rebuilding of this field this season would mean that the schedule would have to be canceled and the games played at some other playground not handy to Fields Corner.

As there has been so much agitation for the rebuilding of the American Legion Playground in East Boston, it is advisable that the Gibson Playground sodding job be postponed, at least for this period of the year, and that work of similar character be carried out at the East Boston playground.

The condition of the present soil at the East Boston location is such that it cannot be utilized as well as the Dorchester location as it is of much poorer quality. This would necessitate covering practically the entire area with about 4 inches of rich topsoil, so necessary for the growing of grass. This means more loam and it also means a higher price per cubic yard for the loam delivered and spread. The contractor feels that this will cost more money per cubic yard due to the transportation and other difficulties that he will encounter in delivering the loam.

Respectfully,

JOHN J. MURPHY,
Chief Engineer and Deputy Commissioner.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,233 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

AIRCRAFT MATERIAL PRODUCTION 41 PER CENT OF TOTAL AUTOMOTIVE WAR JOB.

Behind current attempts to knock Germany out of the war by means of airpower, stands the teamwork of the automotive industry, which has done much to get bombers in the air over Hitler's domain.

The motor industry, starting as a scrub team in the aircraft field a year before Pearl Harbor has since attained major league stature.

In the two years since December 7, 1941, the industry's output of bombers and fighters has constantly soared. Measured in dollar volume, it rose from $400,000,000 annual rate of production on the day of the Japs' assault to $4,300,000,000 on the second anniversary of that "day of infamy."

The same upward spiral took place in deliveries of all forms of war materials by automotive plants. When Pearl Harbor news struck, they had reached an annual production rate of $1,777,000,000 for all forms of military requirements: aircraft, military vehicles, tanks, guns, ammunition, marine engines and other equipment. Today the annual production rate tops the $10,000,000,000 mark.

FURNISHING OF ASH BARRELS BY LANDLORDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 29, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Health Commissioner regarding your order of March 20, 1944, concerning the drafting of an ordinance compelling landlords owning one or more apartments to furnish ash barrels for tenants.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, May 23, 1944.
Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Your memorandum inclosing City Council order of March 20, relative to drafting of an ordinance compelling landlords owning one or more apartments to furnish ash barrels for tenants of apartments has been received.

We have, under the Acts of 1907, chapter 550, section 75, power to compel owners to supply suitable receptacles for tenement houses. A tenement house is defined as "any house, building or structure or portion thereof, occupied or adapted for occupation as a dwelling by more than three families living independently of one another or by more than two families above the first story so living and cooking."

In addition, we have the Health Department regulations dated February 6, 1941, where the owner, agent or occupant of every house, building, flat, apartment or tenement and of every shop, office, store, restaurant or other business or industrial establishment exclusive of tenement houses, can be made to supply "suitable receptacles."

It would appear from the above that we have at present sufficient law to accomplish the purpose of supplying suitable receptacles but it is evident that Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan's order is to place the burden entirely on the landlords.

In my opinion, this would meet with considerable opposition from landlords all over the city because tenants would not maintain receptacles for which they are not responsible.

Yours very truly,
G. LYNDY GATELY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 25, 1944.
Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of May 17, with inclosure, order from the City Council that Greenwood square in Hyde Park be changed so as to enhance its beauty and appearance.

Investigation shows that there is a granite curb around this circle and two crushed stone crosswalks through the circle, five maple trees within the area are in good condition and the condition of the lawn surfaces is only fair, due to the boys coming and going from the Hyde Park High School, which is across the way.

In the center of the area is an electric or telephone pole which is very unsightly and should be removed, but it was in there before Hyde Park was taken over by Boston.

The area could be considerably improved by removing the crosswalks and developing the lawns. However, if the people in the neighborhood use these walks, they should be put in some sort of hard surface like black top or concrete.

I will be very glad to make up an estimate on what it would cost to landscape this area, putting in new walks, etc., or eliminate the walks. The work, of course, cannot be done at this time of the year.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works regarding your order of May 15, 1944, concerning the removal of the shields from street lights on River street and Hyde Park avenue and also in the Hyde Park business section proper.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of May 15:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove the shields from street lights on River street and Hyde Park avenue, which are main thoroughfares, and also in the Hyde Park business section proper."

At this writing, approximately 90 per cent of all the shields have been removed from the street lights of this city. Hyde Park is one of the few sections in which this work has not been completed. I discussed the provisions of the above-referenced order with a representative of the Boston Edison Company three or four days ago, and he assured me that the removal of the shields on River street and Hyde Park avenue would be started at once.

I presume, therefore, at this writing that the above-referenced work has been completed.

Respectfully yours,

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of May 15:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to deepen and clear out the drainage ditches in the Hazelwood section of Hyde Park, in Ward 18, in the swampland bordered by Austin street and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and which constitutes a bad breeding place for malaria-carrying mosquitoes resulting in a serious health menace."

The area referred to in the above-referenced order is privately owned and this department, therefore, has no authority to enter it for the purpose of effecting the desired improvement outlined above.

If, however, malaria-carrying mosquitoes breed in the area, I feel that the matter is one that should be referred to the Health Department, for whatever action that department feels it would be necessary for the owners of the property to take, in order to eliminate such a hazard to the public health of the residents in the vicinity.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,

Dear Mr. Carey,—I am returning the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of May 22:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove dimout shields from all street lights in Ward 18."

In the early part of April I wrote to the Boston Edison Company and requested the removal of all dimout shields from all street lights located within the corporate limits of this city. The Edison Company has had crews removing the shields since the receipt of my communication by that company, and the work has progressed satisfactorily and is approximately 90 per cent completed.

Hyde Park is one of the few sections of the city where the work is not complete, but the removal of the shields in that area is in progress at the present time and should be completed within the next week or ten days.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of May 1:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have all catch-basins cleaned in the Mattapan district of Ward 18."

The department has no budgetary appropriation to allow for the cleaning of all the catch-basins in the city that should be cleaned during the current year. Catch-basin cleaning work, therefore, will be restricted to that done by department forces and, in view of this, we cannot clean all of the catch-basins in any particular district because we have not the facilities to undertake a program of this kind.

The department will be able to clean only those basins in the various sections of the city that are blocked and that of necessity must be cleaned to provide proper surface drainage facilities.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Coun. CHASE, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

Report on message of the Mayor and order (submitted by the Mayor April 24) for loan of $1,500,000 for construction of public ways—recommending reference to the Executive Committee.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the Committee on Finance held several hearings pertaining to the reconstruction loan. We have been unable to arrive at any definite conclusions, simply because of the failure of all members to be there; and, furthermore, because we feel that inasmuch as it pertains to twenty-two wards, the condition pertaining to streets, and so forth, the entire membership should have something to say about it. It is a big loan order, and it involves a serious public question. I think that each councilor in his own territory is better acquainted with the street conditions than the Committee on Finance. Because of that fact we hesitate to make any recommendation. We feel that the various councilors should have something to say pertaining to their streets. I know in my section there are a number of streets that are very badly in need of repair, and I assume it is likewise in other sections. Therefore, sir, your Committee on Finance recommends that this order be referred to the executive session for further hearing and decision.

Coun. HANLEY—I would like to further amend that and ask that the Commissioner of Public Works be invited to attend and tell how this money is to be expended, in view of the fact that there are twenty-two councilors present, and there is a possibility a precedent was set a few years ago to draw a line of demarcation. I believe in fairness to each and every one of the councilors the Commissioner of Public Works should be invited to attend.

The report was accepted and the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 15, 1944, of Roland H. Gustin, to be a Weigher of Goods, and Joseph W. Sheehan and Wilmot W. Jones, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. M. H. Sullivan and Chase. Whole number of ballots 13, yeas 13, and the appointments were confirmed.

DEATH OF MONSIGNOR FRANCIS X. DOLAN.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in meeting assembled records its deepest and most profound sympathy on the death of the late Monsignor Francis X. Dolan.

For fifty-one long years this outstanding citizen and devoted clergyman labored with unquenchable zeal and steadfast love for his God, his fellowman, and his country. His amiable, his meekness, his benevolence, coupled with his priestly love and devotion to duty, are all engraved in the hearts of those who knew him. He extended to all men spiritual guidance and corporal assistance; and he constantly lent himself unsparringly for the advancement and betterment of all mankind because of his deep-rooted belief in the right of all human beings to worship God in their own way. The erection of churches, schools and convents gives eloquent tribute and lasting testimony to his outstanding leadership and construction ability.

On May 27, 1893, he was ordained to the priesthood and it is a fitting and remarkable coincidence that his remains were interred fifty-one years later on May 27, 1944. The sorrow of his flock, whom he served in Dorchester for thirty years, his Holy Church, his city and his country, is revealed in our tribute to one who was in the literal sense of the phrase "a true man of God."

The resolution was passed by unanimous rising vote.

NEW ALLSTON BRIDGE, CAMBRIDGE STREET.

Coun. DWYER offered the following:

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 7 of chapter 44 of the General Laws as amended by section 5 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 the sum of $50,000 be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works for New Allston Bridge, Cambridge street, Allston, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I realize that under the ordinary procedure of the Council this loan order would be referred to the Committee on Finance; but, Mr. President, I ask you, sir, and your Council to give this loan order its first reading. Under our laws, as you know, Mr. President, and members of the Council know and are familiar with, this loan order will have to have two separate readings and fifteen votes on each. I ask for this appropriation at this time, well within my rights, and to protect the citizens in my district and the people who have to travel over this bridge, going to and from and through my district. At the time of the budget hearings it was discovered by your Committee on Appropriations that the bare sum of $25,000 was allowed by the Budget Commissioner for bridge repairs. Of that sum, the sum of $23,000-odd has already been expended for a contract with one Ellis & Company. So, for all the bridges in the City of Boston at the present time, there is a mere sum of $1,100 available to put those bridges in repair and in a safe condition so that we won't have any major catastrophe in this city. Now, the first bridge under the program of the engineer on bridges and Commissioner Hyland for repairs was the Allston Bridge, and since that time this bridge is in a far more dangerous condition than it was at the time when the budget hearings were held. And so, Mr. President, so as not to take any chances of endangering the lives of the people who travel over that bridge, I ask you to have your Council give this its first reading, and then refer it to the Committee on Finance, and let them hold a hearing and have the Public Works Commissioner here and the superintendent of bridges. If they don't say this bridge is in a dangerous condition, and say this money is not needed, I for one will vote against it.

Coun. TAYLOR—In view of the fact that we have one loan order in front of the Executive now, and we have requested the Public Works Commissioner to come up to the hearing, I think it would be a good idea to listen to what he has to say at Executive today. So I move it be sent to Executive.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, ordinarily I would not oppose that motion. But, Mr. President, this is a matter of grave importance. Time is of the essence, and this order cannot go through until it has two readings, two weeks apart. It takes fifteen votes, and I think my request is reasonable when I ask that the first reading be given today, and then let the Finance or the Executive Committee next week have those gentlemen before them. But I ask you, Mr. President, and my fellow colleagues, don't delay today. For the Lord's sake, we are liable to be faced with a horrible catastrophe if anything should happen on that bridge. So I ask that this order receive its first reading today, and there is two weeks' time to have anybody they want before the Executive Committee and also before the Finance Committee.

Coun. TAYLOR—I don't think it will delay it one bit, because after we come out of Executive we are still here, so it isn't a question of delay. We may be able to get some information there. We have been waiting now for weeks on another loan order for the very same reason, but I don't think we should act hastily on one because it originates from the Council and the other from the Mayor's office. I think they both should be given attention.

Coun. DWYER—I, for one, want the Council to receive full information on this loan order. The loan order just referred to by the previous speaker, that is before this Body, is a loan order that affects the entire city. This order affects one bridge in my district. Mr. President, I believe I know more about my district than any other member of this Council or his Honor the Mayor, and I know what is needed in my district and what is not needed in my district, and I am not trying to stop any hearing on this. I welcome a hearing. I think I have been very fair when I say that if the superintendent of bridges, or whatever his title may be—I don't know at the present time—the gentleman in charge of bridges—if he doesn't say this is absolutely necessary, that it is absolutely necessary to do this work, I am willing to vote against it. I know in our district we are faced with a very serious and grave situation, and I ask this Council, where this matter only affects my district, to pass this now and have a hearing long before the two weeks are up.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, it may well be that this can be taken care of out of the money the commissioner has in his budget. It may not be necessary to have a loan. I don't want to deprive the councilor from having anything done any more than anybody else does, but it may be an improper way of going about it.

Coun. DWYER—For the life of me I don't understand the argument the gentleman has just presented. There is plenty of time to get all the information before this order is passed that any member of the Council or all members of the Council want to secure, and I am merely asking for a matter affecting my district to receive its first reading at this time, and if any member of this Council is not satisfied that this is absolutely necessary I ask them to vote against it when the necessary information is given them. But I know what is needed in my district, and I am asking this Council at this time to give this matter its first reading and then hold all the hearings before any committees or any members that they want, and I will be only too glad to cooperate. I hope they will give my district the courtesy of this first reading today.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, half of this bridge happens to be in my ward. It abuts the two, and I am in sympathy with the objectives of the councilor from Ward 21, in so far as actual improvement of the bridge is concerned. On the other hand, the City Charter states we can't do it.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair rules this is a loan order.

Coun. HANLEY—Will you please read the order, Councilor Dwyer?

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order.

(The order was read by the clerk.)

The question came on Coun. Taylor's motion to refer to the Executive Committee, and the motion was lost.

The question came on suspension of the rules and the passage of the order. The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0: Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—17.

Nays—0.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

RECOGNITION OF BOSTON RESIDENTS RETURNING ON FURLOUGH.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to give consideration to the possibility of providing official recognition to those residents of Boston in the armed forces who are returned home for furlough after months of foreign service.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, we read in the papers nowadays that the rotation system of furloughs is in effect, and every so often the newspapers carry a happy story that one hundred or one hundred and twenty of our members are returning home. Only recently we had a number of them come back after serving for twenty-eight months in the South Pacific. Now, I think these kids are heroes. They mean something to us, and I think that the city owes them some form of public acclamation. You go to the movies and you will see pictures of some kids in some small town, and the way the town is turning out to receive them. You read in the papers about the reception tendered to them, this or that individual, who might have some organization behind him, but I think the city itself owes to these kids the duty of showing them publicly that we appreciate what these kids have done for us. And we do appreciate the sacrifices they are making that you and I may sit here and live and enjoy the benefits we have grown up to enjoy. I don't know what form this public acclamation might take. I am not going to offer any suggestions, but I think that there might be set apart one day a week, or one day a month, when these boys who are going to be home only about twenty to thirty days could be welcomed officially by the city. I have attended dinners where the guest was either from Russia, China or some other place, and now we have our own kids coming back here, after offering their lives for us for twenty-eight months, and yet it seems they almost sneak in under cover of darkness, and after two or three weeks they leave us once again. I don't think it is fair. Boston should be just as proud, and I know that Boston is just as proud, of its boys of the armed forces as any other city or town of the country. And yet, up to the present, we have done nothing much to show these kids that they are welcome. A few months ago it was customary to set apart one night a week on which there would be a show put on for the boys on furlough. Even that has been abandoned. You talk to some of these fellows who have been twenty-eight months out on the front, fighting for you and me, and who are at home here, and, outside of notices in the paper that one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty of our boys have returned, there is no other official recognition. In order to get to the ball games, they have to come in town and make application to the U. S. O. The theaters don't do anything. It seems to me that Boston should officially welcome these boys who have offered to lay down their lives for the protection of the citizens of Boston who have remained here at home. I am certain that the merchants of Boston, I am certain that the business men of Boston, I am certain that the theater owners of Boston would cooperate and would set apart one day a week, or one day a month, in order to show these kids we are proud of them and that we do appreciate the great sacrifice they are making for us, and that we want them to know when they went away and we gave them the coffee and doughnuts and we bade them a fond adieu, we want to show them that they are just as welcome here as they were there. I think that the City of Boston should take official recognition of the sacrifice these boys are making. We should welcome them back with open arms, showing them in one way or another that Boston is proud of them and proud of what the soldiers and sailors of Boston are doing at the front.

Coun. KINSELLA—That is a highly meritorious order, and has been in some respects anticipated a little by the gentlemen and ladies who compose the committee for the 17th of June in Charlestown. Mr. John Ray, who is general chairman, conceived the splendid idea of having all the boys in Charlestown home on leave at that time attend all public functions as the guests of the city or the guests of the celebrations committee. He has asked them, whenever they feel free to do so, to either march or be in a parade. They will be officially welcomed at the Armory by the city and by the Mayor. We don't restrict it to boys who go back on leave in any other part of the city. If the city is remiss in showing affection and gratitude to these boys, then the city in its component parts running celebrations this time of the year should bend over backwards to show we are not ungrateful for democracy, as proved under the last war.

I think that all credit should go to John Ray, sitting in the gallery, because on top of his duties—and they are multiple in number—he could think of those boys we have probably automatically forgotten. I hope that no other part of the city will have to make it a purely neighborhood affair, but, in keeping with Councilor Hannon's suggestion, that the city will undertake to welcome those boys back with all the fervor shown when they went away. I hope the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DEDUCTION FOR MEALS OF HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the trustees of the Boston City Hospital to abolish the practice of deducting from the salary of hospital employees money for meals which, many times, are not consumed by the employee.

Coun. HANNON—One of the many constructive measures presented here during the course of the year is the fact that some adjustment should be made in the salaries of the hospital workers. We bandy this back and forth among committees, and as yet we have not accomplished very much. There is one easy method, however, by which some slight adjustments might be made, and that is by permitting the hospital employees to retain, or by giving them, the money which is now deducted from their salaries for meals that they are permitted to eat at the hospital. I don't think that half of the employees of the hospital avail themselves of this privilege of having meals there, and yet each week a certain amount of money is deducted from the salaries because of the fact that these employees have the right to eat these meals there. If they don't eat the meals there, why should they pay for them? Why should it be taken out of their pay? Why not give them the money and, if need be, run a cafeteria up there, and if anybody wants anything to eat, let them pay for it. Perhaps it could be self-sustaining. It might produce money, and might become profitable. At any rate, I think it is a far more equitable way to give these people their full salary and if they want to buy meals at the hospital, let them pay for them and, if not, they should have the right not to have this money deducted from their pay.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, for the past five years that I have had the honor of serving with this Body I have introduced similar orders, because I firmly believe that they ought to be allowed to receive their money in cash instead of by meals. You may recall some time ago there was some argument, and it was brought to the attention of the Council that there was some question in so far as that fact was concerned. But, as I stated in the Council then, and I shall repeat now, I don't believe it is a question of the quality of the food, but it is a question of whether or not the individual is to eat that particular food on that particular day. They have menus, and they have to eat whatever is there. Naturally, we can go in a cafeteria and order whatever we want. They can't. And that is one of the reasons why I believe they ought to give these employees the money instead of the meals, to keep them satisfied. Many of them, as Councilor Hannon has well brought out, when they took positions at the Boston City Hospital, were single men. Today they are married. They have children to support, and it is common sense that they wish to eat at home. That $4, more or less, whatever it may be, certainly would go a long way towards supporting that family. There are many who don't take advantage of eating at the hospital, first, because they can't have what they wish to eat on that particular day; and, secondly, because they wish to enjoy their meals at home. Every one of us who is a father knows we like to eat our meals at home with our family. It would be a great help to them, especially in these trying days, when they are really underpaid. And, as I made the statement last week, I can't see, for the life of me, how we can have employees at the Boston City Hospital or the Long Island Hospital with that meager pay that they are receiving. They are really doing a tremendous work for the compensation that they receive in return, and I am heartily in accord that something be done whereby these employees shall receive money instead of the meals.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF CONDITIONS IN CERTAIN LIQUOR ESTABLISHMENTS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Whereas, There have been serious complaints by citizens of conditions existing in the near vicinity of some of the liquor establishments in the Back Bay and other places in the City of Boston, especially those places in the immediate vicinity of churches and especially on Sunday nights; and

Whereas, The A. B. C. Commission has complete and adequate power to correct these conditions and nothing apparently has been done; therefore be it

Resolved, That his Excellency Governor Saltonstall is hereby requested by the members of the Boston City Council, in regular meeting assembled, to take immediate executive action by creating a special commission to investigate all complaints and lack of action by the A. B. C. Commission; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his Excellency Governor Saltonstall.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as you know, I have on many other occasions complained about the sinister conditions that surround the activities of the A. B. C. Commission and other agencies that are supposed to protect the welfare of the public. Last Saturday night a little old woman, returning from her shopping trip, laden with bundles, was knocked down by a drunk on Huntington avenue, in my district. As I understand, it was purely accidental but, nevertheless, this little old lady, minding her own business, was prevented by this drunk from using the public passageway safely. This is only one affair that has happened in my district, all because of the fact that these "booze" joints are given a free hand by the authorities in conducting their business in any way that they see fit. Not many months ago a certain woman left a cafe in my district in a drunken condition and was followed by a sex fiend who raped and murdered her in the hallway of her home. Today that murder has remained unsolved. People in my district have not forgotten that incident. Nor do they forget the conditions that exist in my district. On Huntington avenue and other places in my district the drunks not only openly urinate on the sidewalks in the presence of women, but many women in the district are afraid to pass by these liquor joints because they fear being insulted or assaulted. These conditions exist every day and night in my district, especially on Huntington avenue. Some of these joints are located in the near vicinity of churches. Some are located directly opposite churches, and churchgoers in many instances are forced to use side streets on Sunday night in order to avoid the disgusting sight of drunks and their insulting remarks. Now, Mr. President, I submit to you that it is about time that something be done about this matter. I feel that the time has come for action by his Excellency Governor Saltonstall. The A. B. C. Commission was created for the purpose of protecting the public's welfare. They are well staffed with investigators and have plenty of power to put an end to this public nuisance. Many of these liquor joints should not be permitted to remain in existence. There are many in existence that openly violate the law without any check, or without any fear of being checked. Why should churchgoers be molested by drunks who frequent these "booze" joints? Why should the Governor permit these "honky-tonk" cafes and cheap hotels in the immediate vicinity of churches to continue doing business on Sunday? Conditions are bad. They need investigation and correction, and I am calling on Governor Saltonstall to do something about it. In today's Post the following articles appear. This one appeared on the front page, and I quote from the Boston Post. The headlines are "Priest Raps A. B. C. License. Declares Revere Permit Railroad Through."

"Sharp criticism of the Revere Licensing Board was made yesterday by the Rev. Michael J. Houlihan, pastor of St. Theresa's Church, in Revere, in what he called a 'report to the parish' on the transfer of a liquor license."

"He said that nearly two months ago the North Shore Cafe, on North Shore road, at Beachland avenue, petitioned for a transfer of the license to a new location across the street. He protested at the hearing April 11, he said, but was never officially notified that the board had granted the petition."

"I never was officially notified," he said, "but the petition was railroaded with this grant through the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board at the State House." He said he was told at the A. B. C. that "things were handled legally," but he added that he was handled unfairly."

Here is another one that appeared in today's Post, and I quote. The headlines are "Asks Flock to Sign Petition. Brighton Pastor Opposes Liquor License."

"The Rev. Michael Norton, administrator of St. Columbkille's Church in Brighton, yesterday appealed to his parishioners to sign a protest against the granting of a liquor license to an establishment on Cushman avenue, not far from the church."

"At the 10.30 a. m. Mass Father Norton denounced places 'with baby carriages parked outside while women drink inside' and 'so-called restaurants serving rubber pork chops, which are opened as an excuse to sell liquor on Sundays,' he said."

"We have had a hearing before the Boston Licensing Board," he said, "and they rejected the petition. Now an appeal has been taken to the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board."

"This is purely a residential district and no such establishment for the sale of liquor is needed there. Actually there is no lack of places in Brighton where liquor can be purchased." He then asked all his parishioners to sign the petition protesting that the establishment in the district was not needed, and that it would be deleterious to the district."

Now, Mr. President, you and I know that there is something radically wrong somewhere. I am convinced that there is something very seriously wrong with our government authorities when they permit such conditions to exist. Is the A. B. C. asleep? Don't they know the true conditions that exist, or don't they care?

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I agree wholeheartedly with the councilor from the Back Bay (Coun. Chase). I am very happy that he is calling upon Governor Leverett Saltonstall to eradicate some of these abuses. Until such time as the City of Boston, through its duly elected officials, composed of his Honor the Mayor and the twenty-two City Councilors, has the power to confirm and approve people on the Licensing Board and the Police Commissioner, these abuses will not be eradicated or mitigated. Home rule has been taken from the City of Boston. His Honor the Mayor can neither appoint nor confirm the Licensing Board or the Police Commissioner. When you have a division of authority you always have graft and corruption, and that is why the various political checks can always be obtained when these men aspire and procure greater political office. I commend you, Councilor Chase, and I hope that his Excellency the Governor will try at least to mitigate these abuses.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—The situation complained of in Brighton happens to prevail in my own ward. I never try to harm anybody engaged in a legitimate enterprise, but I feel that the sentiments expressed by the administrator of St. Columbkille's Church in Brighton are duly in accord with the sentiments of the people of Ward 22, who are aware of the fact that twenty-seven liquor licenses are already in the Brighton district. They have taken every worthwhile spot in the business section, and now they want to come into the residential sections, such as Cushman avenue in Brighton. They are really going into a residential district where there are women and children and respectable family people. I am in accord with the sentiments expressed, and I hope the A. B. C. Commission will take some action in the granting of the license, but I dislike to harm anybody engaged in a legitimate enterprise. However, I feel that Ward 22 has plenty of liquor establishments at the present time.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I don't offer any defense of anybody in the liquor business. I have never thought that there was any crying need for liquor places to be open on Sunday or on holidays that were secular in nature. But you may be certain that they are open, because the hypocritical public wants them open. From time to time we hear talk in here and elsewhere about abuses in the liquor industry, and in night club management, and the complaints originate from people who are perfectly willing that every establishment of these types be located on the other side of the tracks. That is perfectly all right for a lot of people who are just as respectable as those in the better parts of town to have a lot of drinking establishments, package stores, and, as my good friend (Coun. Chase) has said, "honky-tonks." And then they try to put the blame for rotten conditions on the operator of the place, who isn't responsible for their conduct when they leave his place. If ever we live to see the day when the public will become much more civic-minded instead of hypocritical, we will get the conditions that the public is always hollering for. You recall the prohibition era. The law said, "Thou shalt not," and then, after enough of them were murdered and others were poisoned and others rendered blind and insane from the concoctions that they willingly and knowingly drank, the law was changed by deleting one word, "not." Whereupon it became perfectly legal, perfectly respectable, to drink again in places that were improved only to the extent of cleaning up the windows and taking the lock off the door. If there is one thing I cannot stomach, it is that cheap hypocrisy. It is all right in my town to come into the neighborhood where we don't have, as they say, all modern improvements, and give us package stores and liquor stores by the score, patronized by people who don't want them in their neighborhood. If that is true—and you know it is—I have more to tell you. You certainly don't think that all these package stores and liquor stores are being supported by wage-earners exclusively, I hope. A good deal of their patronage comes from the sanctimonious, psalm-singing, churchgoing elements that want you to live as they tell you to do, but don't make any effort to live that way themselves. I don't care whether it gets into the prints or not. And, mind you, I have absolutely no scorn for anyone engaged in the business, or for those who patronize it, but let us call it exactly as it exists. If they had their way about it, every neighborhood that is considered to be the other side of the tracks would have all of these locations foisted on them to supply the wherewithal of Mammon for those who come from the heights down into the lowlands and go back into the heights and from the heights preach a sermon. Councilor Chase is entitled to walk around his district, and so are the people of his district, without being frightened or menaced or compromised in any way by word or by action of any resident in the district or anyone who comes in for a good time. But simple fairness dictates that the A. B. C. Commission cannot be every place at one time, and they really should say that they cannot be every place at one time and to tell them of those conditions. We cannot be every place at one time, and at times we are the subject of bitter criticism because we are not, and everyone in here has had that experience. Well, let us not criticize men charged with the enforcement of rules and regulations of the A. B. C. Commission, when they can't go to those places until they know that infractions of the law exist. And, as to the conduct of those people when they leave these places, I don't see how, by the most fantastic stretch of the imagination, the responsibility for my actions outside one of those places can be coupled on the man who served me inside. I offer every hope and encouragement to Councilor Chase that those conditions will be immediately abated, and permanently, but, while we are condemning, let us condemn those truly and properly responsible.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, will you please have the clerk read the order again? (The order was read by the clerk.)

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I had something in mind today relative to introducing an order for my section of the South End, but the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) has covered the entire area when he included the city. A week ago they had a meeting amongst the civic-minded citizens of the South End section; also the police captain and the chairman of the Licensing Board, Mary Driscoll. Here in the city it was brought out that the same conditions existed that the councilor from Ward 4 stated existed in the Back Bay. It was interesting to hear the councilor from Ward 22 (Coun. M. H. Sullivan) say that there were sufficient licenses in the Brighton area. He has fifteen out there. In the area bounded from the north end of Broadway to Columbus avenue there are two hundred. The whole meeting last week was interpreted and reported wrongly to the newspapers, relative to classing it as a red light district. It is the people from other sections of the city and from out of town who come into the South End here because there are some two hundred liquor establishments in the South End area. You don't find that number in Dorchester, West Roxbury or Roslindale, or the entire Brighton area where there are only fifteen. The councilor from Ward 4 should be commended for putting in this resolution asking the Governor—and putting the blame right on the Governor—to remedy these conditions. The reports in the newspapers last week stated that citizens of the South End were no good, which is absolutely a lie. Residents of the South End are fine, decent citizens and taxpayers. It isn't the citizens of the South End that would cause that area to be called a red light district. It is the people, as I said before, coming in from other sections, from out of town. They make these conditions the way they are. If they eliminate some of the establishments in the South End, the city would be better off.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rule.

SWIMMING POOL, RYAN PLAYGROUND.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following: Ordered, That the chairman of the Park Commissioners be directed by his Honor the Mayor to investigate the possibilities of constructing a swimming pool in Ryan Playground, Sullivan square, for adults.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FENCE AT NORTH FERRY, WARD 1.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following: Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to proceed immediately to erect a fence at the North Ferry on Summer street, Ward 1, for the protection of the children of the district.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I introduced a similar order back in March. Since then we had a letter sent from the Mayor's office to the owner of this property. It is an old coal loft. As the result of that we found out the taxes were paid up to 1943, and there was very little the city could do about erecting a fence, but I have an answer here from the Public Works Commissioner, George G. Hyland, which states that in view of the fact that this property is owned—it is a dangerous hazard—that the fence could be erected in the middle of the sidewalk, which is city property, and would save children from being drowned. When I introduced the order in March two children had fallen through into the icy waters at North Ferry, and both were saved. Yesterday a child was seen to fall over and disappear. The mother and father of the child ran frantically to the wharf and had all the neighbors from the housing project down there, and there were practically 500 people searching, and they eventually brought divers and they were diving two or three hours, trying to locate the boy's body. In the meantime the boy had come from the other side and gone home and changed his clothes and gone to the moving pictures. Now, the Public Works Commissioner admits it is possible for them in the City of Boston to build a fence on this sidewalk which is never used. It is a section of the town that nobody uses. Across the street from it there are guards from the Bay State Fishing Company, which is doing Government work, and on the other side is a Coast Guard station, so a fence could be built there. So I ask suspension of the rule and passage of the order, and that the Mayor please put up a fence before somebody is drowned. I might call attention to the fact that before we had the hulks removed in East Boston two children had to be drowned, before they were eventually removed.

Coun. RUSSO—I wish to commend the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey) for this order. As a coincidence, only this morning I had some of my friends from East Boston come to me asking that something be done in this respect, and I am very glad that the councilor from East Boston has introduced this order and that they are really going out to get petitions to see that the fence is erected there. I understand it is very dangerous for the children and adults, and I do hope that they will do something about it.

Coun. HANLEY—I introduced an order last Monday and asked that it be referred to the Executive Committee due to the lateness of the hour. At the present time, Councilors Coffey and Russo, the Building Commissioner and one of the Assistant Corporation Counsel are outside for the purpose of drawing up an ordinance compelling all private and public ownership to construct suitable fences when the safety of the public is jeopardized. I was in full accord with Councilor Coffey's order a few weeks ago. A memorandum was sent by the Public Works Commissioner, and it was on that, together with complaints that I received from my own district, that I am asking that an ordinance be drawn up compelling those people, under fine or conviction, to erect a suitable fence at that place. That has been referred to the Executive Committee, and I am sure that some light can be thrown on the subject.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I move that we take No. 2 from the calendar.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is out of order. The question is on Councilor Coffey's order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF ASSEMBLY HALL, FENWAY MEMORIAL.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following: Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council as to the type of building they expect to erect in the Fenway and whether or not the assembly hall in said building is to be used for public gatherings for veteran organizations.

Coun. COFFEY—This order has been before us for some time. I know that everybody present here, every member of the Body, knows that I introduced an order way back in March, March 27, for the erection of the veterans' hospital, a war memorial from the White Fund. I have also introduced orders asking the Attorney-General and the Corporation Counsel to give rulings as to whether or not it was legal to build a hospital with the White Fund money; also whether it was legal to build a war memorial from the George Robert White Fund. I don't know whether you gentlemen received this letter that I received through the mail from the 101st Infantry Veterans Association, A. E. F. It says:

"Councilor James S. Coffey, 451 Meridian Street, East Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir,—The enclosed resolution was adopted unanimously by the members of the 101st Infantry Veterans Association, A. E. F., at a regular meeting held at the John T. Fallon Post, No. 1050, V. F. W., 29 Florence street, Roslindale, on May 21, 1944.

It was further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mayor Tobin and members of the Boston City Council.

Sincerely,
ALBERT F. SEARS, President."

This goes on to name the honorary president, first vice president, second vice president, treasurer, and so forth. I don't know whether you gentlemen received this letter or not. Personally, I don't like the reading matter of this letter, and I intend to do something about it. It says:

"Whereas, The Boston daily press recently published articles concerning the proposed plan to erect a Memorial Monument Shaft to the dead of all wars in the Fenway, at Boston; and

"Whereas, This matter has apparently been discussed and planned in secret sessions without apparent opportunity for discussion or the rendering of opinions by those who served with and alongside of many of our highly honored deceased comrades; and

"Whereas, There seems to be a general trend by paid politicians to entirely disregard those citizens, who by their patriotic service in times of war have developed a higher sense of obligations and duty, and who by said service have gained real authentic knowledge on many subjects, namely, war veterans with actual combat service with the enemies of our Great Nation";

This goes on for a couple of more lengthy paragraphs. The part I don't like about this is the fact that they assume we have held these meetings behind closed doors. We are "paid politicians." What the hell! I wouldn't be up here unless I was paid. Look at the last five Commanders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and look at the last five Commanders of the American Legion. Every one has taken a state or a Federal job. They have bettered themselves. For the ten years that I have been in office I have yet to take a job, and don't think I haven't been offered all kinds of jobs since I have been a member of this Body. I think, in all fairness, that these people were misled. Evidently they were when they made statements that this matter has been planned and discussed in secret sessions. Of course, they don't know that we have no control whatsoever over the George Robert White Fund. They don't know that I have introduced all these orders for the veterans. They don't know that I have mailed 6,900 letters to people in my district, only because of one fact,—the newspapers failed to mention any order that I have introduced. Whether it is Coffey or not, it does not matter at all. It doesn't interest me at all what the newspapers say, because Uncle Sam will carry a letter to everyone in town for 1½ cents, and, thank God, I have 1½ cents. So if the newspapers want to take it out of Coffey—I ask for quiet by the press—I know it is a funny thing, all the press think they have to do is step in, knock you off and shut you up. They will never shut me up. They can take sly pokes and digs, but when I want to retire from politics I retire on my own, not because of what the newspapers say and what they print. Only recently at a radio studio I have had four reporters come to me and get a copy of my speech, but nothing appeared in the newspapers, only those $42 ads that I paid for on the front of the Boston Post, even when the fellow was found not guilty and the jury was only out eight minutes. The following morning, knowing that the newspapers wouldn't carry it, I put an article in that cost $42, to let the public know that we won the case. They took a sly dig at me out in the Hyde Park section just two weeks ago. I said thanks to the reporter that my name was mentioned once in awhile. That is like dropping out of four contests. I had to get in four before being mentioned. What I am getting at is this. Those orders should have been mentioned in the Boston newspapers, because, after all, when an order is introduced for the veterans—and God knows we have got enough of them, and enough have suffered hell so far—but you will pick up the morning paper and you will see a piece that a crazy veteran is killed by the police of Boston. You will see that. You wouldn't see that that veteran just came home and was mentally sick and mentally deranged. "Crazy veterans"—that is what is carried in the headline; not the fact that the veteran has come back after he has gone through hell, and didn't get the treatment he deserved. And many a boy is hiding up behind that Legislature that should be in service, but is immune from the draft because he is a member, but still can't see fit to pass a bonus bill or give them hospitalization, but still, when they come back and shoot and kill, they are "crazy veterans." Here are orders that I have introduced for the veterans, and I said this in a statement that I wrote to the people in East Boston, because I am smart enough to give myself any publicity, after being up here, or I would never get it. If it was a city or state contest, they would have had me, but it is only a little local contest. As long as they want to fight, they can have it. I will never go down and be retired, or go to them and have them say to me, like to some of you fellows, "You will get a write-up. You are for re-election. How much is in it?" I have heard that. It isn't the first time I have mentioned it on the floor of the Council, that they tried to stick me up a long time ago in a contest, and when I brought that out that was the end of any publicity in the Boston newspapers. But, as I say, to hell with them. I have introduced an order that his Excellency the Governor call a special session of the Legislature to provide ways and means to provide a bonus for the veterans and a rehabilitation program for Massachusetts veterans. I have introduced an order that the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds for the erection of a hospital in the City of Boston. I have previously presented orders for an appropriation to erect a memorial for the veterans of all wars in the central section of East Boston, such as: "Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to prepare legislation for presentation at the next session of the Legislature whereby the city employees be permitted to accept a pension by the city on half-pay after twenty years of service in order to create vacancies for returning veterans," and "Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment of legislation providing for payment of a $200 bonus to veterans of World War II upon discharge from the service." Those are a few of the orders that Coffey introduced. Not one word appeared in the Boston papers. Now, the Boston papers have carried those orders and kept my name out of it, saying just that the Boston City Council passed such and such an order, to let the veterans know that the Boston City Council is trying to do something in a small way for their benefit. But not one word, because somebody might ask the question, "Who introduced the order?" Then, out of a clear sky, we receive this, and my brother-in-law happens to be Deputy Sergeant at the American Legion. I am a charter member, and also a charter member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in East Boston. I have always been fighting for legislation. I did it in the State House. Then, to take up the letter, being condemned and criticized for something we have no control over. These people are under the impression that the Mayor and the City Council, as their letter states, passed this order for a war memorial of a million dollars, and that secret sessions were held behind closed doors. We are all getting paid—it implicates as much. We are all paid politicians. We are not elected officials to receive a salary. We hold secret meetings. If they want to place the blame where it belongs, let them place it on the George Robert White Fund and the Mayor of the City of Boston. They have complete control over what the George Robert White Fund is going to do with their funds. I can holler to high heaven to get one of the George Robert White Fund Trustees to attend any of the meetings pertaining to this memorial, and also to the hospital for veterans, but still we are condemned and crucified because of the fact that these people are misled and are under the impression we have had secret meetings, and that we have passed this order without giving them an opportunity to be heard. So, in all fairness to us, I am going to ask that this order be referred to some committee, and that every man's name that appears on this letter, over the signature of Albert F. Sears, who is president, and who I grew up with,—I am going to ask that every one of those men be invited to attend that hearing, so we can tell them what the members feel and tell them what we tried to do for the veterans of this and the last war, and let them know sincerely and honestly that we had nothing to do, in my opinion, with this deal for this war memorial. It isn't going to be of any benefit, as they state in the other paragraphs that I didn't read—unless there are going to be halls large enough for regular gatherings or meetings, that veterans can attend for regular conventions. Let the men attend the meeting, let them give us their side of the story, and certainly we will give them our side.

President KERRIGAN—The order will be referred to Executive.

Coun. COFFEY—I don't think the order should go to the Executive Committee—any committee, but I don't think the Executive Committee. They are not holding any hearings. We want the veterans down here. We want them to face us. I want them to prove some of these charges that they have made.

President KERRIGAN—We could refer it to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. COFFEY—Public Welfare, I think would be a good committee. Is there a Committee on Military Affairs? Any committee but the Executive Committee. We are not holding hearings in the Executive Committee.

President KERRIGAN—The Committee on Public Welfare?

Coun. COFFEY—Post-War Planning Committee.

The order was referred to the Post-War Planning Committee.

VETERANS' HOSPITAL IN BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds for the erection of a veterans' hospital in the City of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Talking briefly on this, I would have to repeat things I have said in my order of March 28, I think it was. In reading the return letter that we received from the Corporation Counsel as to the ruling, I think the hospital could be built, and I use as an argument the fact that health units have been built, and that health units have been built for the poor of the city, and that in itself is one class of people, for the poor of the city. Their only argument is that this would be built for a certain class of people which would be the veterans. So I ask that this also be referred to the Post-War Planning Committee.

The order was referred to the Committee on Post-War Planning.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Some members are anxious to get away. I ask for No. 2 on the calendar.

Coun. SHANNON—Mr. President —

President KERRIGAN—Do you yield to Councilor Shannon?

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I yield.

HOLY NAME A. A. ROAD RACE.

CONVEYANCE OF INTEREST IN ROWE'S WHARF.

On motion of Coun. RUSSO, the Council took up No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Order authorizing the conveyance for the sum of five hundred dollars to Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, Trustees of the City's right, title and interest in land at Rowe's Wharf, 350 Atlantic avenue.

On May 1, 1944, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 15, nays 6.

The question came on giving the order its second reading and passage. The roll was called, and the order was rejected, yeas 12, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, M. H. Sullivan, Scannell, Taylor—12.

Nays—Coun. Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Keenan—5.

There not being a sufficient number of affirmative votes to pass the order it was declared rejected. Coun. COFFEY moved to reconsider; carried.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I now ask for a roll call on the order itself.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, my interest in this is entirely impersonal. I explained before the Council previously that I think it is a good thing for the city, and I know there are some members that are absent that would vote in favor. Some have gone, but I hope when they return to the chamber, if they return this afternoon, the customary courtesy of allowing them to record consent will be accorded to them.

The order was rejected, yeas 13, nays 5 (a two-thirds vote being necessary for passage):

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—13.

Nays—Coun. Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Keenan—5.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.48 p. m., on motion of Coun. DWYER, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order at 7 p. m. by President KERRIGAN.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred from Committee on Finance today) for loan of $1,500,000 for construction of public ways—recommending that same ought to pass.

Coun. COFFEY—How many votes are needed for the passage of the order?

President KERRIGAN—Fifteen votes, councilor.

Coun. BAYLEY—I move that the amount be cut from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000.

The motion was declared not carried.

Coun. BAYLEY—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

The roll was called and the motion was not carried, yeas 5, nays 10:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish—5.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Hanley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—10.

Coun. CHASE—I move reconsideration of the vote, and I would like to say a few words. As I look about the chamber I see just fifteen votes, if I am counting correctly. Fifteen votes would be necessary to pass this loan order, either in whole or the amended amount, and I know, Mr. President, from my observation, and from what I have heard, that quite a number of the councilors will not vote for $1,500,000. On the other hand, Mr. President, I believe all the members will vote for $1,000,000. I am not sure. In view of the fact that the Commissioner of Public Works, the Committee on Finance, realize the necessity of repaving some streets that are badly in need of reconstruction, I feel that for the welfare of the city we should give them some money, and I hope, Mr. President, the Council will not bite off their nose to spite their face by taking action which will not give the commissioner any money. I, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, heard the commissioner say that he is willing to accept and glad to get $1,000,000, having in mind later on if it is necessary he will come before the Council for further moneys. Now, Mr. President, I don't think we should stop the Commissioner of Public Works from performing the necessary street repairs, and I trust that the Council will reconsider their vote, reduce the amount to $1,000,000, having in mind that $1,000,000 will be voted, so we can do the thing which is right by the city.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsideration of Councilor Bayley's motion to amend the order.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, regardless of whether the amendment carries or not, we are dealing with $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money. From that glowing example that took place in the executive chamber, I hope that nothing like that happens out here. It is about the most miserable and despicable thing that I have ever seen while I have been a member of this Body, and I think the one who did it was a louse. If a measure can't come up here and be lost or won fair and square, it shouldn't be sent out. Those closest to the Mayor are not present here at this time—why, I don't know. I saw fit to stay, the same as the other members present. I don't want to see anything railroaded through or go by default, where there is $1,000,000 or $1,500,000 involved. That is a hell of a lot of money, and if ten per cent of that is kicked back, whether to the contractor or to a campaign fund, that is still a hell of a lot of money, and too much money for us to play ball with up here. We have our opinion; we have the right to our opinion. We can vote Yes or No. Nobody has ever told me how to vote here, and I have as yet never asked anyone to vote my way. I have never embarrassed anyone. I have always had my own opinions, and I will continue to have them as long as I am up here, but I don't think this thing should be railroaded through. If they have fifteen votes to pass it, all well and good. But don't vote to lay it on the table so it can be won by default. Let us be responsible, the councilors here, not a few, but all of us. We either pass the thing or we defeat it, but let us do it in an honorable way, and not by any tricks, such as three or four walking out of the chamber or doubting a quorum and asking that the thing be tabled. Let us win the vote honestly and squarely if we are going to. It is not our fault that those closest to the Mayor are not present here now. Don't let anybody carry the bag for them. Let them carry it themselves. They walked out. They stayed long enough to see fit to disappear in the last few minutes. Then they can't be too much interested in this order. I hope reconsideration does not prevail, and I hope the order is voted on as it is, and no tricks are substituted. If they are, we will go into it a little deeper before the vote is taken.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsideration of Councilor Bayley's motion to amend. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and the motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 6, nays 9:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Russo—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Hanley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—9.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the passage of the order for $1,500,000. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and the order was rejected, yeas 11, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Feeney, Hanley, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—11.

Nays—Coun. Coffey—1.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I move reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—In contrast to the motion in Executive, I now move that this be laid on the table for one week.

President KERRIGAN—The vote for reconsideration has passed.

Coun. COFFEY—I doubt the vote.

President KERRIGAN—The vote on reconsideration is doubted. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. CHASE—I rise to a point of information. What is this motion?

President KERRIGAN—Reconsideration.

Coun. CHASE—Who made the motion?

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Maurice Sullivan.

Coun. CHASE—I desire to talk on that motion. Mr. President, as I stated a few minutes back, apparently this Council is not willing to accept this loan order for $1,500,000. Again I reiterate—

Coun. COFFEY—Excuse me for interrupting. I rise to a point of order. What are we talking on?

President KERRIGAN—The motion to reconsider.

Coun. CHASE—Again I reiterate that, in my opinion, there are sufficient votes necessary, fifteen votes, for $1,000,000. A number of councilors who remained silent have indicated their willingness to vote $1,000,000, although they remained silent on $1,500,000.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I wish you would check the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) impugning the motive of any other councilor.

Coun. CHASE—I am not impugning, I am merely making a statement of fact. A number of councilors did indicate to me a willingness to vote $1,000,000 but not $1,500,000. The only reason I took the floor is I think the Public Works Commissioner should not be thwarted in carrying out his duty as Public Works Commissioner. There are streets badly in need of repair, and we ought to give them some money, and in view of the fact we apparently have the necessary votes to give the Commissioner of Public Works $1,000,000, I frankly believe we should, in justice to all, reconsider this vote and then proceed to vote $1,000,000.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, it seems to me that when a loan order comes into this Body there is always a very lengthy argument as to whether we should pass the loan order or whether we should reduce it. I have heard men here today say that we should reduce this loan order $500,000, but you don't hear them say why we should reduce it. I can sit here all the evening, but for the life of me I can't understand—and there may be something else in the wind, as you might say—why there are men in this Body who will not vote for the repair of streets in the City of Boston. As far as I am concerned, I will vote to repair all streets in the City of Boston, and if I am asked why I am voting for this loan order, then I want to say I want to see the streets in this city in a fit condition and, for the life of me, I can't see why men should come in here and say, "Let us cut it $500,000," and not give this Body an exact argument for this reduction. I shall vote for this order, and I shall not vote for any reduction, and I hope the members of this Body that are here today, and the members that are sitting here may sit until midnight, but, as the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey) said, let us throw it out the window or let us vote for it. Let us do one thing or the other.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair declares a recess of fifteen minutes.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that we adjourn. I think that comes before any recess. I doubt a quorum.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey doubts the presence of a quorum.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I thought that I had asked for the floor.

Coun. CHASE—If I remember correctly, you did declare a recess and the point was not in order.

Coun. SCANNELL—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. SCANNELL—I heard the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey) doubt a quorum right after I spoke.

President KERRIGAN—A roll call is now in order to determine the presence of a quorum.

The roll was called: Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Feeney, Hanley, Kerrigan, Muchnick, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—12.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. President, prior to the announcement by the clerk, I understand, sir, it is within your powers to order the men in the building to come into the Council Chamber.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair is exerting all his powers now to get them in.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Am I correct that we are now on the question of reconsideration?

Coun. CHASE—If I remember correctly, the Chair had already declared a recess. How could the Chair possibly entertain a motion when the Council is in recess?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair always has to entertain a motion.

Coun. CHASE—Your gavel struck and you declared a recess and the motion was made subsequently. As I understand, you hadn't called the Council back to order after calling a recess.

Coun. COFFEY—I want the roll call announced.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Would the Chair inform me if the Chair had recognized the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey)?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair recognized the councilor from Ward 1. The clerk will proceed with the roll call to solve any doubts on the presence of a quorum.

The roll was called again: Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Feeney, Hanley, Kerrigan, Muchnick, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—12.

President KERRIGAN—A quorum is in attendance. The Chair will declare a recess for fifteen minutes.

(A recess for fifteen minutes was taken at 7.30 p. m.)

President KERRIGAN—The Council will come to order.

Coun. COFFEY—I doubt a quorum.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey doubts a quorum. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called: Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Feeney, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan—11.

President KERRIGAN—We have less than a quorum present. The Chair declares the meeting adjourned.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair declares the meeting adjourned.

Adjourned at 7.50 p. m. to meet on Monday, June 5, 1944, at 2 p. m.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,858,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,828,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FOOD INSPECTIONS.

Seventeen inspectors were employed in this division of the Boston Health Department in 1942 for the purpose of insuring the food supply of the city. During 1942 the various activities of the Division were as follows:

• SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS IN BOSTON.

In Boston all slaughtering of animals and dressing of meat must be conducted at the Brighton Abattoir. This establishment, known officially as the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association, was founded in 1870 by an act of the General Court in order to prevent the existence of numerous slaughterhouses within the city limits. Private individuals, if living within six miles of Faneuil Hall, were required to bring their animals to Brighton for slaughter. This step was taken since the very nature of the business frequently gives rise to public health problems, chief of which are noxious odors and rodent control.

In 1876 an inspector of the Board of Health was first stationed at the Abattoir to supervise slaughtering operations and to prevent the use of diseased or under age animals for food purposes. At that time the Abattoir was the main source of meat supply for the entire city, since transportation facilities did not yet permit the shipment of dressed meat for any distance. During 1876 approximately 74,000 cattle, 274,000 sheep and 8,000 calves were slaughtered. In 1942 the Brighton Abattoir handled a total of 149,948 animals.

Animals Slaughtered.

Cattle, 43,158; calves, 75,675; swine, 27,505; sheep, 3,012; goats, 598.

Total Weight of Condemned Animals and Parts.

Whole animals, 21,676 pounds; parts of animals, 20,211 pounds; putrid meat, 615 pounds. Total, 42,502 pounds.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

BOND SALES.

Labor, farm, school and women's groups were responsible for 1943's greatest sale of E Bonds.

Using the person to person approach, Payroll Savings added two million workers—bringing its ranks to 26.4 million. Payroll Savings allotments jumped from 355 million in December, 1942, to 445 million in October, 1943. Thousands of labor-management War Bond committees were organized.

Farm committees worked intensively through personal solicitation and farmers organizations to convert a large share of the largest farm income in history into War Bonds.

In the schools, the nation's youngest group of Bond buyers is rapidly enlisting every pupil in America.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout.—Municipal Review.

$50,000,000 WATER-SUPPLY PROJECT IN CALIFORNIA.

The city of San Jose has entered into contract with the Water Properties Company, Ltd., of San Francisco, to provide the city water from the head waters of the American river in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe. The agreement is for thirty years, during which time the municipality will acquire title to the local distribution system and receive a proportionate share of the production and transmission systems.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being.—American City Magazine.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.3 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1944.

NO. 25

THE WORLD WILL NEVER KNOW REAL PEACE AGAIN UNTIL THE VOICE OF GOD BECOMES THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE, HON. CHARLES S. O'CONNOR, CLERK OF THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT FOR SUFFOLK COUNTY, TELLS AUDIENCE IN ADDRESS AT MEMORIAL FOR THE DEAD OF THE CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT—ALSO SAYS BOSTON AND ITS PEOPLE MUST NEVER BREAK FAITH WITH GUARDIANS AND HEROES OF PEACE WHO DESERVE TO RANK NEXT TO OUR SONS AND KIN WHO MAKE SUPREME SACRIFICE THAT THE WORLD MIGHT CONTINUE TO BE FREE AND TRUE BROTHERHOOD SURVIVE.

Address delivered by Charles S. O'Connor, Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court for Suffolk County, at the memorial for the dead of the Boston Fire Department, at Forest Hills Cemetery, Sunday, June 11, 1944.

No, there is no death in the realm of Christian faith nor can the living be freed of the obligations of its charity.

On this sacred occasion, in the atmosphere of this feast day of the Fire Department's spiritual remembrance of its dead, it is a sad but beautiful duty that you perform this morning.

There never was a flock so well attended
But one dead lamb was there
There was never a hearth so well defended
But had one vacant chair.

It is the thought in these words of Longfellow that brings you fire fighters of Boston to Forest Hills Cemetery this morning. The atheist who defies God, the infidel who ignores Him, the agnostic who doubts Him, would find themselves here, at this sacred spot, in a world they could not understand, in an atmosphere they could not breathe. They would destroy faith in this life and hope in the next; they would give to the divine gifts of affection, of memory, of loyalty and love, the icy kiss of unbelief. They would leave us nothing but six feet of grave and ashes and forgetfulness and abandonment.

This wonderful world that God gave us! Mad men have made of it a desert; the painted and gaudy desert of materialism, adorned with artificial flowers and poisoned with hate — a desert they have now painted with blood. But you, of the Fire Department, and your auxiliaries bring a benediction to the good earth this morning.

Day of Remembrance.

Although throughout the year the department stretches forth its hand in Godlike charity to its living comrades in distress, it reserves this day of remembrance for those who have gone from us, to whom we are bound as with a golden chain, who live today in the brightness of a home beyond the stars. With martial music, slow tread and solemn dirge, you approach as near as we may to the veil of mystery and death, to clasp again the vanished hand, to press once more to our breast the heart that is stilled. In this hallowed moment, far from the hum of industry and the laughter and gaiety of the world, here sits enthroned this morning the very soul of brotherhood.

Here you have your rendezvous with the past. In spirit you gather together the vacant chairs in the firehouses and, from the halls of memory, adorn them again with the happy faces of those you have loved long since and lost awhile. Today you draw aside the veil of separation and out of the misty past your comrades come, and we hear their joyful voices again.

We see among them now no class or distinction, no race or creed, no rulers or ruled, no officers or privates, no poor or rich, just fellow fire fighters who have slipped out into the starry night to await the promise of an Eternal Dawn.

Hovering above you this morning are the spirits of those of your comrades who have entered the bivouac of the dead, who set their lives at a pin's fee for the protection of human life and the preservation of property in this beloved City of Boston.

For Peace and Security.

Today is for the Boston Fire Department its feast day of memories, for memory is the only friend that grief can call its own. Ah! if they could only speak to us this morning, they from whose minds have been stripped the false and hypocritical theories of statesmen and the pagan standards of living in a crazy, mad world. They would plead with you and me, not only for national glory on the field of battle, but to preserve, for our America, for your children and your children's children, the peace and security that are your gift from God, transmitted through the immortal Washington.

They would plead with you for a real service to America and a real loyalty that means a brotherhood of the highest type of American manhood — a service to America that does not discriminate as to race, color or creed. It means bringing ideals of religion into the councils of the nation and into the hearts of its people, with the charity that can come only from spiritual truth.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

REPORT OF FREDERICK J. GILLIS, ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, ON ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL CONVENTION OF AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION, AT NEW YORK, APRIL 24 TO 27, INCLUSIVE.

The following is the report of Frederick J. Gillis, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, on attendance at convention to which he was school delegate:

The annual convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation was held in New York April 24 to April 27, 1944. The convention theme was "Fitness for Today and Tomorrow."

Practically every phase of life was treated from the viewpoint of physical fitness, by representatives of the armed forces, industry, education at all levels, and the ordinary citizen.

The keynote speaker at the First General Assembly, Major-General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service System, urged that schools and civic bodies pay attention to the health and physical condition of the child, even from infancy. He contrasted the remarkable recuperative powers of the wounded members of the armed forces who had been properly conditioned physically for life since early childhood with the slow recovery of those who had been brought to top physical condition through the armed forces program, without a basic preliminary development. Team work by all educational authorities was stressed, emphasizing appropriate tests early in the educational program; remedial instruction at all ages when necessary; development of physical skills during youth; and proper conditioning for living for all. The carry-over value of such early fitness training cannot be overstressed if health in middle age and later life is desired.

The government Victory Corps program for schools was praised. Some regret was expressed at the lack of Federal financial aid to carry this program into effect in certain states.

Physical education specialists declared that proper instruction in physical education should be given to all school children by specially trained physical education teachers. Dr. Jesse F. Williams, in discussing "Crucial Questions in Health and Physical Education," declared that health education is the right of all school children, and should be given only by properly trained health teachers.

Recreation for all, cleanliness, discipline in group recreation, the contribution of public and private agencies, the contribution of management and labor, and post-war needs in the field of recreation were not neglected.

It was emphasized that the schools carry a great responsibility. The United States leads the world in its belief in education and the provision of education for all, in a democratic way. We must be certain that the schools of our land provide adequate programs of physical fitness. It is the schools' responsibility to provide the tools, the skills, the desires and actual participation, so that every boy and girl knows what to do, can do it, and has the attitude of mind to want to do it throughout life.

Daily instructional periods for all ages and "after-school" instruction and competition represent a standard which must be maintained if the schools and colleges are to fill their proper responsibility for education, the education of our youth for physical fitness.

Beyond its service to the school population, the school has a responsibility to the community as a whole to provide facilities and, where possible, leadership for after-school and holiday participation in sports and physical fitness programs.

If this is to be done in the democratic way, then one of our aims must be to create in every person's mind that his personal physical fitness is a necessary patriotic act. Hence, every man, woman, and child must have the opportunity for sports and athletics, easily available irrespective of economic status or geographic location. To this extent, physical fitness may be considered a Federal, State, and Municipal Government responsibility.

"Make America strong by making strong Americans."

RESPONDING TO MAYOR TOBIN'S PLEA FOR NURSING AID FOR LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

Boston Port of Embarkation civilian employees and WAC personnel are responding to the recent appeal of Mayor Tobin for aid in attending patients at Long Island Hospital for the aged and sick. Under a program set up at the instance of Brig.-Gen. C. H. Kells as Port Commander and directed by Miss Ann MacDonald, groups of fifteen volunteers leave the Port by police boat at 5.30 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday to serve at the hospital until 10 p. m. as nurses' aides to help cheer and care for ill and unfortunate inmates.

The Port program is part of a city-wide plan directed by Mrs. Lily Marie Scanlon of the Boston Committee on Public Safety, who receives applications of volunteers at 55 Tremont street. Operating on regular schedules from the Eastern Avenue Wharf, boats carry the volunteers to and from the hospital during morning, afternoon and night hours.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

Nine catch-basins to be remodeled and nine drop inlets and one catch-basin to be built in Kilmarnock street, between Boylston street and Queensberry street, in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $2,140.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULING.

Voted, That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of roadway resurfacing, estimated to be one (1) week, vehicles are excluded from the following street, effective June 12, 1944: Milk Street, Boston Proper.

From India street to Atlantic avenue.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR DWYER REGARDING CALENDAR.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. DWYER—My point of order is, Mr. President, that I don't believe we can consider the calendar as presented to us today, as I think that a statement on it is incorrect, and not a statement of fact of what happened at the last meeting. And I hope, sir, you will so rule. The calendar is before me today and under "Unfinished Business" it says: "Question of solving doubt on motion of Coun. M. H. Sullivan, declared carried on May 29, 1944, to reconsider vote rejecting loan order of $1,500,000 for Construction of Streets." I think, Mr. President, that is in error, and that it never was declared carried. I can find nothing in the minutes, Mr. President, that says it was carried.

President KERRIGAN—The vote for reconsideration was passed, and Councilor Coffey doubted the vote, and no action was taken on it. Therefore, the matter is on the calendar legally.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, according to the minutes of the meeting, on page 252, you yourself, sir, in answer to Councilor Coffey, who excused himself for interrupting, and arose to a point of order, and wanted to know what we were talking on—President Kerrigan says, "The motion to reconsider." And from there on I can see at no place where it says in the minutes that the motion was reconsidered.

President KERRIGAN—The motion to reconsider was declared carried. I said that on the record, and the question then was solving the doubt which is pending now.

Coun. DWYER—You yourself, Mr. President, stated the motion was to reconsider. That is what I am going by.

President KERRIGAN—That is right. The vote for reconsideration was passed, but the vote was doubted.

Coun. DWYER—I can't find that.

President KERRIGAN—It is on page 252.

Coun. COFFEY—Still talking on the subject matter that Councilor Dwyer talked on, I think the wording of this is all wrong. It says that it was declared carried. It couldn't have been declared carried unless there was a roll call vote in the affirmative, but I think the motion before us now is the motion of reconsideration. Am I not right when I say that it is pending?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Coun. COFFEY—Then it couldn't have been carried because there was no roll call vote taken on it. When I doubted it, that killed reconsideration, because no roll call had been taken.

President KERRIGAN—No; no roll call.

Coun. COFFEY—The wording on this calendar leads the members to believe that it was carried.

President KERRIGAN—I did declare that the motion for reconsideration was carried.

Coun. COFFEY—Then a doubt was claimed and no roll call taken on the doubt. So reconsideration does not prevail, but reconsideration is pending.

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on order (referred May 29) that trustees of George Robert White Fund advise Council as to type of building they expect to erect in Fenway and whether or not assembly hall in said building is to be used for public gatherings for veterans' organizations—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

RESURFACING, ALVAH KITTREDGE PARK.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN and HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appropriate a sum sufficient to provide for the installation of a black top surface in the park area of Alvah Kittredge park, in Ward 9, said sum to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Coun. MUCHNICK, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 10) appropriating $11,757.40 from income of Board of Real Estate Commissioners for Foreclosed Real Estate, Emergency Reconstruction—recommending that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on passage of the order.

The roll was called, yeas 14, nays 0:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Dwyer, Feeney, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, M. H. Sullivan—14.

Nays—0.

Coun. COFFEY moved to reconsider the foregoing vote.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor.

Coun. COFFEY—I would like to talk on reconsideration. I would like to have the chairman of the committee explain just what these moneys are used for. I would like to know if it is to be paid for the Houghton and Dutton building.

Coun. FISH—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. FISH—I dislike to sit here not recording myself for or against, and I seek some information.

President KERRIGAN—Will the chairman of the committee explain further?

Coun. MUCHNICK—I will be glad to. At some time in the past when work was done on the Houghton and Dutton building, the Federal Government asked to have certain work done which was not included in the contract. That work was paid for as a matter of convenience by the City of Boston. We were reimbursed by the Federal Government, and this appropriation is to take money out of the regular city funds and put it into the Houghton and Dutton fund for appropriation purposes. That is all explained in the message of his Honor the Mayor, and, as I remember, the councilor who asked the question was present at the committee meeting when the matter was taken up.

Coun. COFFEY—I want a vote on reconsideration, and I hope the Council will go along and give me reconsideration on this matter. This is a very important matter, and a touchy matter, and I hope the Council will go along and give reconsideration on it.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor of reconsideration. It is a vote.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I doubt the vote.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsidering the appropriation, and the clerk will call the roll.

Reconsideration prevailed, yeas 10, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan—10.

Nays—Coun. Muchnick—1.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that this order be laid on the table.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey moves this order be laid on the table. All those in favor? It is a vote.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Muchnick doubts the vote. The clerk will call the roll on the motion to lay the matter on the table.

The motion was lost, yeas 8, nays 9:

Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hurley, Kelly, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan—8.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hannon, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, M. H. Sullivan—9.

The question came on the passage of the order. On motion of Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred April 17) appropriating $9,500 for Board of Zoning Adjustment—recommending reference to Executive Committee.

The question came on acceptance of the report, and the message and order were referred to the Executive Committee.

ROPING OFF CHARLESTOWN STREETS, JUNE 17.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be directed to rope off the streets along the line of march for the parade of June 17 in Charlestown and that the expense of same be charged to the City Council appropriation for Ropes, Flags and Stakes. Passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN ORDER FOR CONSTRUCTION OF STREETS.

On motion of Coun. SCANNELL the Council voted to take No. 1, under unfinished business, from the calendar, viz.:

1. Question of solving doubt on motion of Coun. M. H. Sullivan, declared carried on May 29, 1944, to reconsider vote rejecting loan order of $1,500,000 for Construction of Streets.

Coun. SCANNELL—I move that No. 1 be taken from the calendar.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Scannell calls up No. 1 on the calendar. The question is on the motion to reconsider. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I move that this be amended to read $3,000,000.

President KERRIGAN—The motion at the present time is out of order. The question is on solving the doubt on reconsideration. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. CAREY—I rise to a point of order. I tried to get your attention before the roll was called. I hope we won't spend a lot of time this afternoon, Mr. President, trying to find out what we are driving at. I don't, myself, know at this time just what a yes or a no vote will mean here.

President KERRIGAN—A yes vote, councilor, means reconsideration prevails, and the order will be considered.

On roll call vote the motion to reconsider prevailed, yeas 17, nays 0:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Feeney, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—17.

Nays—0. The question came on the passage of the order for $1,500,000.

Coun. BAYLEY—If it is in order, I move that the amount be cut from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is in order.

Coun. KELLY—Talking on the motion—

Coun. CAREY—I asked to be recognized first.

Coun. KELLY—I yield.

Coun. CAREY—I also want to talk on reducing the amount from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. It might seem strange that I stand here this afternoon and take the side of those who want to see the original request of the Mayor granted. I voted last Monday to approve this loan at the Mayor's request for $1,500,000, in order that we might have better streets in the City of Boston.

All one has to do is to drive about the city, not only in the residential section, but in those ways that lead into and out of the city, the main streets or avenues through which the business of the city must pass during the twelve months of the year. There are many streets in the City of Boston that are a disgrace, and have been a disgrace for some time.

Up to two or three years ago, because of the assistance that was given by the Federal Government through the W. P. A. program, some improvements were made in the streets of the city. I don't think enough was accomplished at that time. I don't think that the city obtained its full share and had done what should have been done with the cooperation that was being given by the Federal Government. Good streets are an asset to any community. I don't know whether $1,500,000 can be spent this year or not. It doesn't necessarily have to be spent this year.

To do the work that is contemplated by the Public Works Commissioner necessitates certain planning. Some of those plans have been made. I am not entirely satisfied with the program that has been set up by the Public Works Commissioner, but I don't think it is fair for us to tie his hands.

We are coming into the middle of June. Street work has got to be done, particularly in the summer months and the early fall. To grant this loan today necessarily does not mean the Public Works Commissioner can go to work tomorrow morning and start purchasing and accumulating material and other necessities that are required for the construction of these streets.

I don't want to have my action here interpreted as trying to curry the favor of anybody in being able to go along in this $1,500,000 request. We owe it to the people of the city to give them the best we can in the way of good streets. That is one thing we can give to the taxpayers in the city and feel that they are getting their money's worth.

I have no drag with contractors or anybody else, so, as far as that is concerned, it doesn't make a bit of difference to me whether this loan is disapproved completely, whether it be reduced in amount, but I have in mind the interests of the taxpayers of the city who are entitled to some return on the taxes that they are paying yearly in order to make our city and keep our city more presentable.

I don't suppose $1,500,000 is a great deal of money for this purpose. In some of the wards, according to the Public Works Commissioner, he has certain plans contemplated that will require the expenditure of certain amounts for work that will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Some of the estimates go as high as $75,000, and, after all, I am not too familiar with it, but I don't believe—I am not an engineer, I mean—but I don't believe that a great deal of work can be done in any one district for $75,000. If you multiply $75,000 by 22, representing 22 wards of the city, it can easily be seen that $1,500,000 won't go very far. Now, all of this money does not have to be spent this year. We have been behind in many ways, and one of the most visible ways is in making our streets more presentable, not only to the taxpayers, but to well advertise the City of Boston to those who visit us during the twelve months of the year. I hope that the reduction of this loan from $1,500,000 will not prevail. I certainly do hope, however, that some action will be taken here today in order that the Public Works Commissioner might be encouraged, that the program might be started as soon as possible before the year is much further spent.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, speaking on the order, the amendment to cut the loan order from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. I suppose everybody is more or less selfish. The streets in suburban Boston and Dorchester in particular are in terrible condition. I wish this was a loan order for $4,000,000 or $5,000,000, and we could well spend it throughout suburban Boston. This is something we have got to offer the taxpayer, and something that every councilor is asked in his particular ward: "When is this street going to be resurfaced? or when is that street going to be resurfaced?" I have streets in my ward, Mr. President, that have been on the list for the last four or five years to be resurfaced. There is no question or doubt in my mind that if this amendment prevails, to cut this from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000, a lot of streets in suburban Boston won't be done. The streets in downtown Boston are in pretty fair shape. It is time we took care of the people in suburban Boston, especially in the five Dorchester wards, where the streets, in my opinion, are in very bad shape. I trust this amendment won't prevail but that later on we can raise this order further, from $1,500,000, at least up to $3,000,000, so that we can have the street work done that is badly needed.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I wish to concur with the two gentlemen that spoke before me. I certainly would like to see the entire $1,500,000 passed, but, for some reason or other, there are members of the Body that don't want to pass it. There are other members of the Body who honestly want to cut it down. I feel, as Councilor Carey and Councilor Kelly do, that there should be some repairs to the streets in the City of Boston. I want to see it get started. I am afraid that the $1,500,000 will not pass here today, and I think—I may be wrong in my parliamentary knowledge—but I think if we defeat this motion to reduce it and then the $1,500,000 is brought before the floor and is defeated, under parliamentary procedure I don't think we can reconsider it again, which would mean that another loan order would have to come up, and there would be a further delay in time, and the chances are there would be no construction until we arrived at the month of October. Consequently, I am going to vote for the reduction, because I feel if I vote for the reduction there are members here in this Body who honestly feel they want to reduce it and at least these gentlemen will vote for the $1,000,000, and we will have a sufficient number of votes for the $1,000,000. If at some later time it is felt that more money is needed to carry out and complete the program, then there is nothing to prevent his Honor the Mayor from sending up another loan order asking for more money. So I say to you who are interested in having your streets fixed in the City of Boston, so that a start may be made—I ask you to cooperate with the motion to reduce, so that we will be sure of having something. Otherwise, if that motion is defeated, and then the $1,500,000 comes up, there is no reconsideration and the order is killed, and we will have nothing. If we can't have $1,500,000, let us have the $1,000,000.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I move that the order be amended to read $3,000,000. The larger sum takes precedence over the smaller sum, and I move it on this ground, that the additional $1,500,000 be used exclusively for the residential streets of each and every one of our districts. The streets contemplated by the Public Works Commissioner are main streets that are used largely for the Boston Elevated, for inter and intra state trucks and buses, and the residential parts of our districts that pay for the upkeep of our city are neglected. The Public Works Commissioner gave an itemized account of how this money was to be expended, provided it is passed by the City Council, and I believe that you and I, gentlemen, concur in this one thought, that no residential streets are to be contemplated at the present time; that they are all main streets, and no one, from the looks of your countenances, in executive session, concurred with the Public Works Commissioner. I have listened to orders, and I have introduced orders myself on various streets that I know need repaving, that need construction, and not one of them is contemplated in the $1,500,000. I therefore move, Mr. President, according to the rules of the City Council, that $3,000,000 be voted at this particular time, and that the increase of $1,500,000 be used exclusively for residential sections, wherein the taxpayers of Boston carry our great city.

Coun. DWYER—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. DWYER—Are we allowed, Mr. President, to specify how that money is spent, — on what streets?

President KERRIGAN—We have no right to specify.

Coun. DWYER—So if $3,000,000 was passed, it could still be main streets?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Coun. COFFEY—I just want to touch slightly on something that the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) has stated. I hope that the councilors will not be misled when he says that if we kill the amendment then the original order for $1,500,000 will be killed. I think he is wrong in that statement. I think we should kill the amendment and then I am almost certain that sixteen will vote for the original order of $1,500,000. I think if he looks around the chamber more closely he will agree about that number who will vote for the passage of the $1,500,000. There is no sense in cutting it, because in cutting it certain streets are going to be left out, and a lot of councilors here are going to be disillusioned anyhow. A lot of streets in your district are not going to be repaired. You only think they are. That looks good on paper until they get your vote, then they will go ahead and do the streets that they had in mind doing anyhow. The fact I didn't like last Monday appeared when I came in the chamber. I found out certain contractors were soliciting votes for the passage of this order. That didn't look good. In fact, it looked very bad to have any contractors come in and solicit votes where money is to be spent. And don't think it is a joke, because they did ask to give them a vote. And I know two councilors who didn't vote last week because of that fact,—they didn't want to be implicated. I am not one of them. I am one that stayed to the end. The vote was 11 to 1. That is a victory for me because it is usually 19 to 1. But I don't like contractors coming to ask councilors to give them a vote on $1,500,000, because it looks as though they were going to be in on some of those contracts. I think the amendment ought to be killed, and I think there are enough votes for passage of the original $1,500,000.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, certainly the question of $1,500,000 may seem a small sum, and it may seem a large sum. It still is $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money. As I stated in the Council here time and time again, I will not go along on reducing anything that pertains to the education, to the health and to the sanitary conditions of our city, and especially the streets of our city that we each and every one of us has to see every day of the week.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—What amendment is before the Body now?

President KERRIGAN—$3,000,000.

Coun. RUSSO—I am going along as far as the $3,000,000 is concerned. The only thing I wish to remind this Body of is that it is not very nice to get up on the floor and state time and time again that Boston Proper receives the most benefit out of everything that is done here in the City of Boston. And speaking of the particular streets, I am only wondering whether or not they are under the impression that Boston Proper is only Washington street or Tremont street. I am only wondering if they go down to the district which I represent, which is Boston Proper, in the residential district, and find out the conditions that exist there. As I told his Honor the Mayor today, I am willing to go along on this order provided that if there are streets in my district, in the residential district that need repairing or reconstruction more than any other streets that the Public Works Commissioner has recommended, that he will, in turn, give that consideration and approval. I realize that we have not done any street reconstruction for a few years, and I also realize, Mr. President, that the longer we wait the more money we will have to spend. That is something we cannot get away from. However, we shouldn't entirely forget the residential section of our city, the people that live in our city, the people that have to be in our city twenty-four hours a day. They are the ones that ought to be contented first, and unless we do so, to a certain extent at least, how under God are we going to arrive at satisfying the people of the City of Boston? I say, Mr. President, that if there are streets in our residential district that need repairing, give them consideration. They are entitled to it. Those people are paying the bill.

Coun. HANNON—Four or five members of the Body have already preceded me. I feel that I agree with each and every one of them, excepting the gentleman from the Back Bay (Coun. Bayley), who is anxious to reduce this amount from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. I feel that any amount of money spent on the streets of the City of Boston is money well spent, and where it is going to be spent is up to the individual councilor. Of course we are not all going to be satisfied, but I suppose it is up to each and every one of us to go over and fight and see that he gets a fair shake of the dice. However, I think in offering these various amendments we are apt to put a fly in the ointment. I am going to vote for the amendment of the gentleman from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley). If $3,000,000 can be appropriated and used for street construction, I am in favor of it, and I will take my chances in getting my share of work for my district. However, I am not as optimistic as the gentleman from East Boston (Coun. Coffey) who seems to feel if the $1,000,000 is defeated, the $1,500,000 might still get by. I think it, too, might be defeated. The gentleman from Ward 11 has well pointed out that the larger amount takes precedence over the smaller amount, and in order that we might get a vote on the $1,500,000 order before we get a vote on the $1,000,000, I now offer an amendment, Mr. President, that we reduce the $1,500,000 to $1,499,999.99.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, it is rather odd we should be discussing amendments when we haven't settled the main question. I never believed that the city business ought to be conducted on a compromise basis. I said here two years ago, and several times in that two years, and say again today, I have respect for department heads who are charged with various phases of public work. It appears to me that if they say they want and need $1,500,000, we should satisfy ourselves first as to the need for that, and satisfy ourselves of the guaranty they offer that every cent will go into construction, and unless we are satisfied on those grounds, I don't think we ought to vote any amount of money. As to $3,000,000, that amendment most certainly will enable us to do 100 miles instead of 50 miles of streets. We were informed last Monday by Mr. Hyland that there were 710 miles of streets in Boston. A mile at current prices costs about $30,000. Therefore, 50 miles would cost about $1,500,000. It would be 14½ of 710 miles. And since we can't spend too much every year, it would be some time before we have the 710 miles done. Now, I think that the only sensible course for this Body to follow is to think in terms of the $1,500,000, which is the amount printed on the calendar, and was the amount under consideration last Monday. We belated the issue when we discuss amendments to the $1,500,000, which was asked for. I don't like to compromise this matter. I far prefer to vote $1,500,000, than to take two-thirds. What is the matter with the other people in the other 16 miles of streets where there would be something done? That wouldn't be the argument to use for advancing the amount by 100 per cent. All that work can't be done that year. We are only carrying over some next year, and next year we can vote another $1,500,000. I think, and you will agree I am quite sure, what we ought to do first and foremost, is settle the business of $1,500,000 before offering any compromise. That appears to be the only thing to do. I am not sure I will vote for any amount other than $1,500,000. We are going through the old motions of the old Houghton and Dutton building all over again. You will remember we started with $486,000 and came down to $300,000, and finally voted $200,000; and six weeks later we voted $95,000 more. So, in effect, we gave them $300,000, the compromise figure, but gave it to them in six or seven weeks of bickering and quarreling. I would like to ask you gentlemen, as a question of primary importance at this moment, to vote either $1,500,000 or nothing, because they know what they want, and if they don't they aren't functioning properly as department heads. And I move that all amendments be stricken out until the $1,500,000 is settled.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is out of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I am certainly not opposed to any $3,000,000 amendment. I would be glad to see that amount of money spent for streets, but I am afraid of one thing. I know the sponsor of this motion is very serious and very sincere in his motion, and there is no question in my mind that if it passed and came up for a second reading he would vote for that $3,000,000, but I am afraid of one thing, Mr. President, that if this $3,000,000 is passed, when it comes up for the second reading there are certain members here who would probably vote for $1,500,000, who would never vote for the $3,000,000. And if the time comes for the second reading some of those who want to throw out the thing altogether will turn around and vote the other way against the $3,000,000, and, as the result, we won't have the 15 votes when it comes up for the second reading. Now, it may be a good parliamentary plan, and it may not; I don't know. But I am rather fearful of it, and I trust the members of this Body will consider that before they cast their vote.

Coun. DWYER—I hope the $1,499,999.99 will not prevail. I also hope, Mr. President, that the $3,000,000 amendment will not prevail. I think, Mr. President, we listened last week, a great many of us did, to the chairman of the Committee on Finance, who told us that the Commissioner of Public Works admitted at the hearing held before his committee that he didn't need $1,500,000 this year, that he had no positive assurance he would spend $1,500,000. I think, Mr. President, if the amendment offered by the councilor from the Back Bay (Coun. Bayley) was accepted today that we would be doing something that would be entirely in conformity with the wishes of the Commissioner of Public Works. And, Mr. President, I for one have no assurance from the Commissioner of Public Works today what work would be done in my district. At the hearing in executive committee last week the Commissioner of Public Works submitted a program of what streets he intended to do. I went up to him and looked over the chief streets in Ward 21, and he gave me the streets he contemplated doing, and

I asked him, "Commissioner, what, if any, streets do you guarantee to do if you get this money this year?" He said, "I can't guarantee you anything. I do submit this program, but as far as promising to do any of the streets, I am not promising to do any of them." So I say if they receive $1,000,000 this year, I think they will have ample and sufficient, and I hope, Mr. President, the previous two—the latter two—amendments will not prevail, and that the amendment for $1,000,000 will.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am not so sure whether the Public Works Commissioner says what he is doing or not. In one breath they say they don't know whether he can spend that money or not, and at the same time he comes over here and presents a $2,200,000 program. Councilor Coffey says he heard it was $4,000,000, but I heard he presented $2,200,000. Why did he present it if he didn't intend to spend it? And certainly there are plenty of places to spend it. But even if he does spend the $2,200,000, if he got it, 90 per cent of that is going on main streets and 10 per cent on residential. There are going to be a lot of disappointments around here when that is done. That is the reason, even though I was out of turn at the time Councilor Hanley made the amendment, that I intended at the proper time to amend it to $3,000,000. Priorities are lifted now, residential streets can be constructed, and they haven't been able to construct them because of governmental regulations over the past three years. Why shouldn't we increase it and do the residential streets? Even if you get $2,200,000 you won't get them, according to his program. That is why I am strongly in favor of $3,000,000, and I hope that amendment prevails.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I have no objection to having the amount increased to $3,000,000, but I am a little afraid, too, that on a second reading we might wind up with nothing. The councilor from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley) is certainly very sincere when he moves that the amount be increased to $3,000,000, but I still wonder if we would get any guarantee that we would have for every dollar spent on a main street a dollar spent on what we might call the side or off streets. There are some of the main thoroughfares—there is hardly a road in the city, as a matter of fact, but what a main thoroughfare passes through it. In my district we have Huntington avenue and Jamaica way. In Charlestown there is Rutherford avenue. In Dorchester there is Galian Boulevard and Blue Hill avenue and other thoroughfares. I think the Council would further have to tie down the Public Works Commissioner by being more specific and saying that when he refers to the residential streets he means the side streets or the streets that are off the main thoroughfares. I hope that the Council as a Body will take this matter—I don't question their sincerity—there is of course bartering as to how much each is to have done in his district—but the Public Works Commissioner has told me he is going to do some of the side streets, not many, but one or two, in my district, in addition to doing some work on Huntington avenue. I would like to see the $3,000,000 approved here. But we can't afford to play a game here that will keep us here for several hours and finally wind up getting no place. I don't like to see the amount reduced to $1,000,000. I would like to see money saved, but if we borrow $1,500,000 it doesn't mean it has to be spent this year. But I don't see any sense in economizing to the extent of reducing this loan of $1,500,000 to $1,000,000, and later on finding ourselves favorable to some recreational program or some other item that might well cost the taxpayers a quarter of a million or a million in a few years, through the setting up of some board over which we would have very little control once they got the authority. I am not familiar specifically with the condition of every street in the sections represented by those who are in favor of reducing this amount to $1,000,000, but, to repeat, the money doesn't have to be spent this year. I have been against loan orders before,—sewer loan orders,—and have voted to reduce the amount of those loan orders because one third of the amount requested in those orders was to be spent for salaries to be paid during the present year, salaries that the taxpayers were going to borrow on for 30 years to come. In this case here there has been approximately $146,000 established in the tax rate for the year 1944, which is the city's burden that must be inserted in the tax rate in order to permit the loan of this $1,500,000. Every cent of it, therefore, is to be spent on street construction. This is not one of those loans where we need to do a great deal of suspecting and wondering if there is some nigger in the woodpile. As I said when on the floor before, I don't know whether any contractors are going to get this work. I presume they will. Thank God I don't have to depend upon them. It might be better if the city spent every cent of this money to the employment itself of the manual labor and the purchasing of the equipment that would be necessary to do this work. But, after all gentlemen, the year is getting late. I think we can depend on the Public Works Commissioner. I have always found him a very sincere department head, and I rather admire him because he refuses to guarantee anything in particular, any particular street area, to any particular councilor. He might well say, "Yes, I may do this street in your district, or do that street." I have a feeling that he is going to do some work on the side streets in addition to doing some on the main thoroughfares. If there are sufficient votes here to approve the borrowing of $3,000,000 I shall gladly go along with it, but I certainly hope that before too much milling around is done here this afternoon the members of the Council will treat this matter with the seriousness it should be treated with and agree at least to borrow $1,500,000 as requested in the last order.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I hope the $3,000,000 does not prevail. And, going right to the point, why I hope it doesn't prevail is this: we have enough holidays in the state now without making a contractors' holiday.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President—

Coun. RUSSO—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. RUSSO—My point of order is, can the Council add any sum on the order that has been sent up here from the Mayor?

President KERRIGAN—The Council can amend the order by increasing it at the first reading.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am going to go along with the amendment that the councilor from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley) has sponsored, increasing the sum to $3,000,000. Last week when the commissioner, who attended the executive session, read off the various streets, I noticed the majority of the councilors were dissatisfied with the streets that he listed. Several months ago before this loan order came into the Council, I was asked to submit the names of streets in my district which I wanted repaired. I submitted the names of two short streets which were residential streets, and last Monday they were not on that list that the commissioner had. That list for the entire city was made up mostly of main streets. That is all well and good, to do the main streets, but what about the residential streets that need repairing, streets where the youngsters play? Also, gentlemen, we can't lose sight of the fact that we are going to have a post-war program and, just thinking alone of my ward, of the two streets he had listed—Columbus avenue and Washington street—Columbus avenue I have an idea, which I presented to the Public Works Commissioner some time ago as to the sidewalks on Columbus avenue, erecting an island all the way from Roxbury Crossing to Park square. As it is now, it is a race track, and it would give the people that have to cross Columbus avenue a little protection. That is in line for a post-war project. That is something we cannot very well overlook, either. These projects are something we are going to have after this war is over. We have to create jobs for the boys coming back, and if we are going to spend $70,000 to repair Columbus avenue, from Massachusetts avenue to Roxbury Crossing, and then in a couple of years rip it up again, well, that is $70,000 of the taxpayers' money that is wasted. The same way with Washington street. He had Washington street listed in my ward, and the whole expense he had charged to Ward 9 was $104,000. Washington street, from Dudley street to Elmwood street, another appropriation of approximately $34,000. Three-quarters of that is in Wards 11 and 12, and the other one-quarter is in Ward 9, but it was charged to Ward 9. Also, connected with that on the post-war project we hope, as the plans are completed, to remove the Elevated structure on Washington street. And what are you going to do? Spend $100,000 more of the taxpayers' money this year resurfacing Washington street there and then have to rip it up again when we put a tunnel out there? The same condition can exist in your own district. That is the situation in my ward, and I feel that a lot of this money is being spent on main streets, where we can let it go for the post-war planning, and the extra $1,500,000 could be spent in the residential district, and I believe that is where the money should go,—into the residential district of the city. Who are we catering to? The taxpayers of Boston or the taxpayers from out of town? I say, let us give the taxpayers a break. No taxpayer will complain of this $3,000,000 loan order being passed, because they know then they are going to get some action for their money. As long as the taxpayers know they are going to get action for their money, you will never hear any complaint, and I hope the $3,000,000 passes.

Coun. CHASE—If I remember correctly, the Commissioner of Public Works stated that he wasn't quite sure that he would find it possible to spend $1,500,000, due to the fact that he may have difficulty in securing bids and finding sufficient man power to do the work. He did, however, stress the fact that many of the main streets in the City of Boston are in dire need of immediate repair, and he did ask the Committee on Finance, Mr. President, to grant him at least $1,000,000, and he stated that if he needed more money in the future he could come in and ask for the extra $500,000, or whatever was necessary, in addition. Now, I see no reason why we should prolong this argument, in view of those facts. The Commissioner of Public Works is an expert. In my opinion, he is a conscientious public official, and he has done a good job to date. He knows the business of reconstruction of streets, and I think we should rely on his word. He is not anxious for $1,500,000. I want you to take my word, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, he has specifically told me he would be glad to get $1,000,000. He wasn't quite sure if he could perform $1,000,000 worth of work. He stated if he did the work and needed more money he would be in asking for more money. Now, in view of that fact, why should we prolong this argument? In my opinion, it is doing justice to all concerned, especially to the City of Boston, on those main streets. The commissioner is particularly anxious to repair those. Hundreds of thousands of automobiles are travelling over the main streets. The city is being faced with possible lawsuits for damage done to private citizens' property because of the condition of those streets, and they should be repaired. I think we should take the commissioner at his word and give him the $1,000,000. If he needs more money let him come in later on and we will grant it to him. I don't think we should prolong this discussion. Let us do right by the city and give the commissioner $1,000,000, and tell him, "If you need more money, come in and we will give you a hearing and, if you feel you need it, we will grant it to you."

Coun. KINSELLA—I am heartily in favor of the suggestion that we streamline this debate, but, if we give $1,000,000 on an amendment it means he can do about 33 miles of streets. Who in here is willing to have his district cut down from what is now arranged in the matter of the 17 miles, between the 33 and the 50, that $1,000,000 or $1,500,000 will do? There was some dissatisfaction, as Councilor Dan Sullivan pointed out, with the streets already listed. But let us take just a specific case. Suppose they contemplated work in Ward 4 and the net result of all this debate is they get $1,000,000 and tell the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) they are eliminating a street or two streets that total one half-mile in length from his ward. Is he willing to attribute that to the fact that he cut the appropriation to $1,000,000? That would mean 17 miles of streets—or whatever it amounts to. In other words, are we prepared to relinquish a little in each ward to reduce this figure from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000? And I am back where I started ten minutes ago, at the outset of the remarks. We haven't yet decided on giving $1,500,000 or withholding it. Let us settle that first, and then amendments will be in order. I think we ought to give them $1,500,000. It is their estimate, and unless we want to compete with them as engineers and surveyors we will accept their estimate. There is always a sufficient vote in the Council to give them another $500,000. I think we ought to vote $1,500,000 or nothing. There is no use putting us on the spot. The contractors want their money, and how. They will not do anything for charity. I lose half a mile in Charlestown; Councilor Hannon loses half a mile in Ward 13; Councilor Coffey loses the same; the same for Councilor Sullivan. And yet we think they can maintain the original schedule. They cannot unless they get the original amount. Let us give them $1,500,000.

Coun. KELLY—I am not interested in any main streets being done at all. The reason I am voting is because I am interested in the side streets in Ward 15. As far as I am concerned, Mr. President, if it is cut to $1,000,000, the only thing we will have done is the main streets. And if I was a member of the Committee on Finance, or the chairman of that committee, as I was for the last two years, I would have made my position known to the Public Works Commissioner. On no condition would I be interested in cutting from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. I can appreciate the position of the chairman of the Finance Committee. He lives in Ward 4 in Boston. If he is interested in main streets, that is his business. Personally, when I go before my people I have to speak on side streets, and those are the streets that I am interested in. I haven't any construction done in Ward 15 over a period of three years. The streets are in bad condition, not only in Ward 15 but in all of Dorchester. If this is cut to $1,000,000, suburban Boston won't get anything. As far as I am concerned, I wouldn't vote for a loan order for $1,000,000 because I know Ward 15 wouldn't get a cent of it. I am interested in having this order put up to $3,000,000 or $4,000,000, so that suburban Boston will get its share. I think it is time we catered to the taxpayers of Boston. Let us do something for the taxpayers of Boston, and if we do something for the taxpayers of Boston we will raise this loan from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, because the taxpayers of Boston live principally on the side streets of Boston. There are very few taxpayers on the main streets.

Coun. HANLEY—in fact, a wrong impression might be concocted from some of the remarks of my distinguished colleague. I have no ulterior motive, either, for the contractor or contractors. I am interested in one thing, in rehabilitating Boston from the slum district which it has degenerated into to the plane on which it was created. I have used an arbitrary figure of $3,000,000, and I believe if all the facts were known and presented to the entire City Council the $1,500,000 is merely an arbitrary figure concocted by him. He may have an ulterior motive of obtaining a political chest. Last Monday I intentionally asked the Public Works Commissioner to appear before the Executive Committee for the purpose of itemizing the entire expenditure, and each councilor was present and heard the remarks of the Public Works Commissioner, stating the streets to be reconstructed, and I believe that no one councilor was in full accordance with the remarks of the Public Works Commissioner. And I might say right now that of all the men that his Honor the Mayor has appointed as commissioners, I take my hat off to Commissioner Hyland, not because of his physical stature or because he might have a little temper that arises sometimes, but I believe he is qualified to hold the position. That is all I ask of any commissioner. The $3,000,000 that I ask, Mr. President, to be amended was for the purpose of taking up those side streets, as Councilor Carey well termed them, of the residential sections that carry the tax load of the City of Boston. On Washington street, as Councilor D. F. Sullivan brought out, from Dudley street to Elmwood street, I believe three quarters is in Councilor Taylor's and my wards, and I believe in that area the majority of those homes are owned by the City of Boston, with no tax payments coming or accruing to the treasury of the City of Boston, and the side streets for which I asked, and which were passed unanimously by this Honorable Body are not even being contemplated by the Commissioner of Public Works. I want one impression removed from the minds of my colleagues, that I don't care one iota for any contractor or the filthy money that he might throw into a political campaign. I believe that the City of Boston as a corporation should have one unit for the reconstruction of streets and the acceptance of streets, and done by city employees and done by the youth of today, who will be returning from the war zone for jobs at living wages. And until such time as the City of Boston has a department made up to that effect there will always be bribes, and there will always be coercion by the man who shakes the greenbacks and makes the other men toe their mark.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, is there no way in the wording of this order that it can be worded, or amended, as to read that $1,000,000 of this $1,500,000 be spent for side streets and $500,000 for main streets? Is there any way the order itself can be amended so that two-thirds of this money, no matter how much is passed, will be spent on side streets?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair is doubtful on that.

Coun. COFFEY—Can't we get a ruling on it before we pass it? It seems that everybody wants the side streets done.

President KERRIGAN—The City Clerk informs the Chair that it would be an interference with the executive branch of the City of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, the way the order reads now, regardless of the City Clerk, I still say it can be amended, and I would like a ruling from the Law Department. If it can be amended, no matter what proportion is passed today, we can have it read so that two-thirds of the money, regardless of how much is passed, will be spent on side streets in Boston, and the other one-third on the main streets. I would like this referred to Executive until we get a ruling from the Law Department.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey moves the matter be referred to Executive. It is not a vote.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—Do you ask for a roll call?

Coun. COFFEY—No, I want to talk on it. Mr. President, I was the only one that voted in the affirmative, and probably three voted in the negative, and all we have talked about here for the last hour and a half is side streets. Here is an opportunity to get side streets done if we want them. I know that Councilor Kinsella asked Commissioner Hyland what he was doing in Charlestown, and he said, "Rutherford avenue." And if I am not mistaken there aren't more than three houses on the whole street, if that many, and I know in my district they are spending $78,000 on the main thoroughfare for the horse and the dog tracks, so I can't understand why members get up and discuss this for one and a half hours, and when we have an opportunity to amend it so as to read that two-thirds will be spent on side streets, or residential streets, and the other one-third on main thoroughfares,—I can't get enough votes to refer this to Executive and have some one come down from the Law Department, and I am almost positive they will rule we can amend it so that two-thirds of this money will be spent on side streets and the other one-third on the main thoroughfares.

Coun. TAYLOR—There is no question but what there is a lot of merit in what the councilor states, but I think the great majority of us have confidence in the City Clerk, that his rulings at all times are usually correct, and I don't think we ought to waste any more time. If we are going to let it, let us lick it, and if we are going to pass it, let us pass it. I think we ought to have confidence in the City Clerk. He has been here long before the members of the Law Department, and we should abide by his opinion.

The question came on reconsideration, and reconsideration was refused.

Coun. COFFEY—I doubt the vote.

The roll was called, and the motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 4, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Hanley, Russo, D. F. Sullivan—4.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Seatonell, Shanton, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

The question came on Councilor Hanley's motion to amend to $4,000,000, and the motion to amend was passed, yeas 14, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—14.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Hurley, Kinsella, Muchnick, Taylor—8.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey asks for reconsideration.

Coun. COFFEY—The only reason I ask reconsideration is that I think that if this order is going to be killed, I really and honestly believe that $1,500,000 will pass. I hope that reconsideration prevails.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsideration. All those in favor? The Chair is in doubt as to the vote. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and reconsideration was lost, yeas 7, nays 14:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Hurley, Kinsella, Scannell—7.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—14.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on giving the order a first reading as amended, $3,000,000. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. TAYLOR—Do I understand that the amendments come first?

President KERRIGAN—The amendment was carried, $3,000,000, which defeats the other amendments.

Coun. TAYLOR—I thought that that was on reconsideration, Mr. President?

President KERRIGAN—Reconsideration did not prevail, did not pass.

Coun. TAYLOR—It was 14. I understand it requires 15.

President KERRIGAN—That was on the amendment.

Coun. TAYLOR—May I ask what is coming up now?

President KERRIGAN—We are giving this loan order of $3,000,000 its first reading.

Coun. TAYLOR—Do I understand all you require is a majority vote to amend it?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Coun. HANNON—Can we now amend the loan order, as amended?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will entertain it.

Coun. HANNON—I offer an amendment to make the sum $1,499,999.99.

Coun. HANLEY—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. HANLEY—in the event that this motion offered by Councilor Hannon is defeated, does it defeat the entire loan order?

President KERRIGAN—No, we then vote on the $3,000,000.

Coun. RUSSO—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. RUSSO—In case the $3,000,000 loan order is defeated, does it go back to the original order?

President KERRIGAN—The original order is automatically rejected by the substitution of the $3,000,000 loan order.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to raise a point of order on Councilor Hannon's amendment.

The point of order is this: that since the suggested amendment does not materially or substantially affect the original amount asked for, could it not be ruled that the amendment is facetious?

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the amendment offered by Councilor Hannon.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, there are fourteen members of this Body who signified that they wanted $3,000,000 for residential street purposes, that is, a portion of it should be used for residential street purposes. The vote was 14 against 8.

I don't know why they should change their minds now to vote for this new amendment. We might as well have thrown the whole discussion out today. I think they were sincere when they voted for the $3,000,000, and I hope that they will vote to defeat this amendment to bring it back to the original estimate, as was submitted on this loan order.

Coun. HANNON—Since the $3,000,000 has been substituted for the $1,500,000, is it now in order to move that the amendment be amended by the insertion of the original sum of $1,500,000?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule that it is.

Coun. HANNON—Then I will offer an amendment that the loan order as amended be amended to $1,500,000.

President KERRIGAN—You withdraw the other motion?

Coun. HANNON—I withdraw the other motion.

The reason I do this is because this loan order takes 15 votes in order to get by. There was reconsideration on the loan order last week. We either have to debate it today or we reject it. I would like to see the $3,000,000 adopted, but it had only 14 votes, and if it doesn't get 15 votes then everything is defeated; it is all lost. I am in favor of $3,000,000, and will vote for it if we can get 15 votes, but there is no sense in kidding ourselves, no sense in wasting all this time. We have talked it over, and we have 14 votes for $3,000,000. We need 15. I doubt if we are going to get 15. That is why I am offering an amendment to bring it down to the original order of $1,500,000.

Coun. RUSSO—I asked a point of information, and the answer was given to me in Executive, but I still maintain in parliamentary procedure that if an amendment is being voted upon and the amendment is defeated, that it goes back to the original order. I don't know whether or not I am right. I believe I am. Will you answer me, Mr. President?

President KERRIGAN—Will you state that again?

Coun. RUSSO—My point of information is this: when an amendment is made to the original order and a vote has been taken, and the amendment is lost, I believe that it is the original order that should then come up for consideration.

President KERRIGAN—You are exactly right, but in this case the amendment passed.

Coun. RUSSO—Did I understand right when Councilor Hannon made another amendment?

President KERRIGAN—He made a motion to amend the $3,000,000.

Coun. RUSSO—To amend this to $1,500,000?

Coun. HANNON—In order to clarify the situation, I withdraw my amendment.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Hannon withdraws his amendment.

Coun. COFFEY—I offer an amendment that the order now read $1,500,000.

Coun. BAYLEY—I move that the order be amended to read $1,000,000.

President KERRIGAN—That motion is out of order, councilor. Councilor Coffey's motion comes first. The question comes now on amending the order from $3,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Coun. KINSELLA—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. KINSELLA—Wasn't the ruling made a few minutes ago that the acceptance of the $3,000,000 amount in amended form automatically killed consideration of any amount represented in the original order?

President KERRIGAN—No. It merely killed the original order.

Coun. HANNON—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. HANNON—We are voting now on $1,500,000. If this is defeated, then we have still before us a loan order of $3,000,000, have we not?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Coun. HANNON—A further point of information. In order to adopt this amendment we need only a majority vote?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

Coun. HANNON—in order to adopt the loan order we need 15 votes?

President KERRIGAN—That is right.

The roll was called, and the motion to amend to $1,500,000 was lost, yeas 7, nays 14:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Hurley, Kinsella, McCormack, Scannell—7.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—14.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the first reading of the $3,000,000.

Coun. BAYLEY—I move that the order be amended to read $1,000,000.

Coun. FISH—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. FISH—How many times can a motion that has already been amended be further amended?

President KERRIGAN—As long as the Council wants to amend it, the Chair will recognize it. Councilor Bayley's motion to cut the order from $3,000,000 to $1,000,000 is now before us. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the motion was lost; yeas 4, nays 17:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer—4.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—17.

President KERRIGAN—The motion to reduce to $1,000,000 is lost, and we will now have the first reading on the $3,000,000.

Coun. COFFEY—I am afraid we are not going to get 15 votes, so I now move that this order be amended to read $1,499,999.99.

President KERRIGAN—You have heard the motion. The clerk will call the roll on its passage.

The roll was called, and the motion was lost, yeas 4, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Coffey, Hurley, Scannell, —4.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Dwyer, Feeney, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—13.

Coun. CHASE—I move that the loan order be cut to $1,100,000.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, on the original motion, I believe a larger sum takes precedence over a smaller one, and no action has been taken on that as yet.

President KERRIGAN—The larger sum has passed, and these motions are in order because we are trying to get a first reading on the order as amended.

Coun. HANLEY—in other words, this can go on all afternoon and way into tomorrow.

President KERRIGAN—The previous question. The question comes on Councilor Chase's amendment to $1,100,000.

Coun. COFFEY—On Councilor Chase's amendment, wouldn't it be wise for us to refer to Executive and have Commissioner Hyland over and ask him, if he receives this $3,000,000, can he guarantee that half the money will be used on side streets that we want so badly? I move that we refer it to Executive.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reference to Executive.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I believe I can answer the gentleman's question. If I understood Commissioner Hyland correctly he impressed me with the thought that he was not quite sure that he could spend $1,500,000. He said, "At least give me $1,000,000, and if I need more I will come in and ask for more, but at least give me $1,000,000 and let me get to work." That was his plea. Now, in view of that plea, I don't think that the Commissioner of Public Works could make any such guarantee. I don't think he could spend $3,000,000 under the conditions of manpower shortage, and so forth.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on Councilor Coffey's motion to refer to Executive.

Coun. CAREY—I would like to remind the councilor that there is no compulsion that Commissioner Hyland spend $3,000,000 this year. This $3,000,000 can be borrowed through the putting into the budget for this year the sum of $146,000. The $3,000,000 can be spent this year or next year or the year after. By voting $3,000,000 today it will save the necessity of adding $146,000 to the budget for the next year, in order to borrow next year for street repair.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on reference of this order to Executive. The clerk will call the roll.

The motion to refer to Executive was lost, yeas 1, nays 19:

Yeas—Coun. Coffey—1.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—19.

Coun. COFFEY—I give up, Mr. President.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on Councilor Chase's motion to reduce $3,000,000 to $1,100,000. The clerk will call the roll.

The motion was lost, yeas 3, nays 16:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey—3.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—16.

Coun. TAYLOR—I move the previous question.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Taylor moves the previous question.

The previous question was moved and it was a vote.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that we adjourn.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Taylor's previous question is passed. Councilor Coffey moves that we now adjourn.

The motion to adjourn was not carried.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the passage of the $3,000,000 order. The clerk will call the roll.

The loan order as amended to $3,000,000 was passed, yeas 18, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—18.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer—4.

President KERRIGAN—The order has received its first reading.

Coun. CHASE—I move reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Chase moves reconsideration.

Coun. CHASE—Talking on the motion, Mr. President, as your chairman of the Committee on Finance, I desire to reiterate what I have already told you gentlemen, namely, that the Commissioner of Public Works, who is an expert and a very conscientious public official, came before your Committee on Finance, and stated that he would like to perform needed reconstruction of streets in Boston, because of the dire condition that they were in. He stated that he had doubt he could perform $1,500,000 of work on these streets. Now, the Council has been placed in the ridiculous position of granting $3,000,000 when the Commissioner of Public Works has only requested $1,500,000. I submit to you, sir, that the primary reason why this Council was created was to act as a check on excessive expenditures of money and, while I have confidence in his Honor the Mayor, and the utmost confidence in the Commissioner of Public Works, I don't think that the position this Body has taken today is very becoming to us. I, like all other members of the Council, would like to have certain side streets repaired in my district. I had the opportunity of entertaining the Commissioner of Public Works as your chairman of the Committee on Finance, and I know what the Commissioner of Public Works stated to me. He had entertained grave doubt because of the manpower shortage and because of the shortage of asphalt, and so forth, priorities, whether or not he would be able to do $1,500,000 worth of work. And he agreed with me that he wasn't particularly anxious to get $1,500,000; that he would appreciate it if the Council would give him $1,000,000 so he could perform the necessary repairs on the main streets of Boston. He said that many of these main streets were in such dire condition that possibly the city would in the near future be faced with lawsuits because of damage done to private property.

Coun. RUSSO—Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. CHASE—I don't care to yield. Now, I am taking this stand in reliance on the Commissioner of Public Works' conscientious and very able service which he is rendering to us and to the city as our Public Works Commissioner. It is on his recommendation that I am led to take this stand. I don't claim to be any expert as far as street repairs are concerned. I am going in accordance with the judgment of the Public Works Commissioner. He originally had come before us asking for $1,500,000, and he stated quite specifically that he doubted very much if he could use $1,500,000. Now, we have taken the stand of granting $3,000,000 when he doubts very much if he can use $1,500,000. I don't think this position is very becoming, sir, to the City Council. And I think that we should guide ourselves primarily by what the Public Works Commissioner told us. I hope, sir, that the members of your Body will reconsider this vote and vote for a similar sum, nearer the amount that the Public Works Commissioner has asked for.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the Finance Committee that brought this report into the Body, if I am not mistaken—the report was that the order ought to pass for $1,500,000. I am only wondering now if they didn't have the opportunity to amend that and bring in their report here, or is it perhaps that he may be bringing in a minority report? I would like to find out what was the action of the Committee on Finance.

Coun. CHASE—I would like to assure the gentleman from Ward 3 (Coun. Russo) that the Committee on Finance was unable to come back with a report either favorable or in the negative—simply because we did not have a quorum, but we referred the matter to the Executive session, having in mind that it involved a great public question, and that all the councilors should have something to say on the matter.

Coun. COFFEY—I have to go along wholeheartedly with the chairman of the committee. I know he has held three hearings on the matter. Talking today with several councilors and the Mayor, I know that the Mayor said, "If you can't go along and give me a loan of $1,500,000, I would be satisfied with $1,000,000." I can't for the life of me, see why we are passing a loan order for $3,000,000 without any guaranty the work is going to be done. It is ridiculous to me that when there were enough votes for $1,500,000 to go by—I can't for the life of me see why it has been increased to $3,000,000. We have no assurance that side streets in the residential sections are going to be done. We know the main streets will be done, and all that will be done with this, $3,000,000 can be expended this year, will be to increase the mileage on the main streets only. I don't think we gain anything by having this order go by as $3,000,000, because if we get $1,500,000 passed we know what to expect. Now we get only additional mileage on the main streets.

Coun. CAREY—May I ask that the original communication from the Mayor be read?

(The clerk read the message from the Mayor.)
Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, the reason I asked that the communication be read was because I want to emphasize to the members of the Council that there is nothing in the communication that says that this money was to be borrowed to be spent this year. The money is asked for the purpose of repairing and reconstructing streets. Of course the Public Works Commissioner might have said, and I take the word of the chairman of the Finance Committee on it, that he doubted he would spend $1,500,000 this year. That wasn't the original intent at any time. I have the interests of the people of the city at heart just as well as the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase). If he questions whether or not there might be any dishonesty in expending the $3,000,000, he has to similarly question the honesty of spending $1,000,000. Who wants to raise the question of honesty in the spending of the money? I don't think it is a fair question to raise. The important matter to consider here is the construction and the repair of the streets of the city, many of which are badly in need of that repair and that construction. There is no promise that this money is going to be spent completely this year. We have heard a great deal said about post-war planning. What better move could the members of the City Council make than make available at this time a loan of $3,000,000 that would enable the Public Works Commissioner, in the event that this war might end soon, to go ahead with plans to carry out a worthwhile street program? He doesn't have to spend this money this year. It was at no time asked for with that in mind. The money can be spent as needed, and in the time that will be required, and there is nothing wrong in the Council agreeing to borrow $3,000,000, even though the Mayor and Public Works Commissioner only asked for $1,500,000. And I hope that reconsideration will not prevail.

Coun. CHASE—The gentleman from Ward 10 (Coun. Carey) has brought in a question which infers that I question the honesty of the people responsible for the reconstruction of streets. I don't question the honesty of Commissioner Hyland. As a matter of fact, I think he is a conscientious public official. I think he is one of the best men we have in city service, and I have always said so. But, Mr. President, I am putting myself in the position that I actually hold—that is, I hold a position of trust. The citizens of Boston elected me here to see, among other things, that there wouldn't be any wrong expenditures of the taxpayers' money. And, while I don't entertain any thoughts of dishonesty on the part of any person involved in this matter, I do think, and I am justified in taking the stand I do, as a reasonably prudent man,—I think inasmuch as the Council's duty is to watch the purse strings of the City of Boston, the same way as the cashier of a bank or the Governor or anyone else. We would have him act in a manner as I suggested we act, namely, that we be a little more prudent in passing out the city's money. The Mayor and the Commissioner of Public Works have only requested $1,500,000, and we throw in $3,000,000, double the amount that they ask. How would any business institution carry on its business? I am darned sure if you were to go to some business firm and ask for $1,500,000, they are not going to throw out $3,000,000 to you, and it is our job to act as a check. That is what we are here for,—reduce the budget, pass on loan orders. We are not here to make it possible to squander. And, while I have the utmost confidence in the Commissioner of Public Works, I still think that I personally would be putting myself in the ridiculous position of giving the Commissioner of Public Works $3,000,000 when he only requested $1,500,000. It doesn't make sense, Mr. President. I sincerely hope, sir, that your Body will reconsider this matter.

Coun. TAYLOR—I dislike at any time to make a motion to shut off debate. For two weeks we have been discussing this matter pro and con, and I think that everybody's mind is made up. So, therefore, I make a motion to move the previous question.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is on the previous question. All those in favor?

The previous question was moved, and it was not a vote.

Coun. TAYLOR—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

Before the roll call was finished Coun. Taylor withdrew his doubt.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I believe each and every member is well acquainted with his duty as a City Councilor without recounting once again by one councilor or any group of councilors. We have the specific power and duty to increase or reduce or reject any item in the budget or in any loan order. The Finance Committee, Mr. President, that you appointed was remiss in their duty to the City Councilors by not bringing back a report on this particular loan order. It was referred to the Executive Committee, and the Public Works Commissioner was invited. At no time did the Public Works Commissioner make use of the quotation that he could use $1,000,000 or $1,500,000. He asked for $1,500,000, and he presented an itemized account of how this money was to be expended. At no time—and I believe my hearing is good—did I hear the Public Works Commissioner state that he could go along with $1,000,000. What his Honor the Mayor said today I don't know, except what Councilor Coffey has said. But if $1,000,000 was sufficient, then his Honor the Mayor should have the honor and the courage to ask for $1,000,000. At no time did the Public Works Commissioner state that any side street was to be taken care of, and that is what I am interested in, and I believe the other 21 councilors also. Main stems or main thoroughfares, the state should utilize the money that they are taking away from the motorists to construct and keep in repair. The side streets—I will say it again—are the taxpayers of Boston, and they, and they alone, are responsible for keeping Boston in good condition. I am well acquainted with reducing loan orders. I increased the order to $3,000,000. Councilor Fish would have done it sooner if he was recognized, and I ask that his name be appended to it. The gentlemen from the Back Bay (Coun. Bayley and Chase) have asked that $1,500,000 be reduced to $1,000,000, and it was defeated by parliamentary procedure. The $3,000,000 was passed by parliamentary procedure, and the rules of the Council that require 15 votes. Why prolong debate? This can go on ad infinitum. Why prolong the debate? The $3,000,000 has been carried, and will carry throughout the afternoon.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, I wish to rise in support of the position of my colleague from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase). I, too, have occupied a position of trust and have been sent here for a first term by the people of my district, and I feel that I am representing them the best I can in the position I have taken. I come from one of the large taxpaying wards of the City of Boston, and their interests must be looked after. You gentlemen have a chance to pass on the budget. There is a provision in the city charter that you cannot increase that budget.

Coun. HANLEY—I believe the City Clerk should inform the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Bayley) we have the right to increase, reject or reduce the budget.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, I believe that when the budget appropriation was submitted to the City Council that couldn't be increased by the City Council. Maybe I am in error.

President KERRIGAN—Appropriations cannot be increased; loan orders can.

Coun. BAYLEY—I was trying to say appropriations made in the annual budget cannot be increased.

Coun. HANLEY—I stand corrected.

Coun. BAYLEY—Not satisfied with the $1,500,000 request by one of the most competent officials in the City of Boston, we double it. It is too bad, perhaps, we don't have a chance to double appropriations in the budget. I think this is an example of going too far, when we disregard the taxpayers. I would be remiss in my duty to my ward if I didn't take this position, and I hope and still feel that $1,000,000 is sufficient.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I thought I was going to stand by and go along with this $1,500,000 loan order for the repair of the streets of Boston. I stood here, stood here for two weeks, and I heard the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Bayley) say "Let us reduce this to $1,000,000." But I can't, for the life of me—I have asked him time and time again, "Why do you want to reduce it?" And he says that he just wanted to have it reduced. As my colleague said here today, "Yes, if we need $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 to fix the side streets of my district, and the side streets of Roxbury and Dorchester, then let us vote for it." It is all right to listen to cut a loan order from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000, but they won't listen to the members of this Body who are representing the poorer sections of this city, to advance this loan order so that in the poorer sections of Boston the streets can be fixed. I say let us vote this reconsideration down, and I hope that this loan order for $3,000,000 will pass.

Coun. KINSELLA—I hope reconsideration does not prevail. I said some time ago that I would like to see the matter of $1,500,000 acted upon favorably or unfavorably, because it was the amount contained in the original order. Yet I didn't hesitate to vote for $3,000,000 when it appeared to be the will of the Body. Altogether too often in this Body we are prone to think of our districts instead of the city. I don't know why the gentlemen from the Back Bay tries to make us out profligate with city money. I can't see any prodigal expenditure of public money when it is going into twenty other wards of the city, leaving out Wards 4 and 5, for apparently they need no improvements. And if they don't, I should say they should have the good grace to go along with us who do need them. We have 20 wards exclusive of Wards 4 and 5 that Councilor Scannell has accurately said house, the poorer people of the city. I have had occasion to come in town quite often and use the Back Bay streets as thoroughfares over which I pass, and I don't see the destruction and ruin that I see in other parts of the city. When I go out to Roxbury I see rutted and broken highways, and it is a shame and disgrace to the city, and I contrast them very unfavorably with the streets in the Back Bay. All the life of this city doesn't spring from the Back Bay. I haven't given them a pretty high opinion in the past, but the more I hear about the Back Bay lately, the more I have thought I was wrong in giving them such an opinion. I am sick and tired of that "across the tracks" attitude that they have in the Back Bay. We are just as good as they are, and, while neither gentleman has impugned us socially, nevertheless, there is that undercurrent in the Back Bay that, if the Back Bay doesn't want it, the money shouldn't come for Boston. I would like to ask a few pertinent questions about the Back Bay, but I will not ask them here. I think they owe a duty to the city in recognizing the will of the majority here. They offer objections repeatedly. Their objections were heard; their objections were entertained, and their objections were acted upon. And now, if the majority rule still prevails in this Body, and it most certainly has by a vote of 18 to 4, I don't know why we should have imposed upon us the obligation of sitting here another hour attempting to knock out reconsideration, which question never should have been raised. I have had some unkind things to say about certain areas that were contemplated fixing, but I must say, by and large, the areas selected in Charlestown are perfectly all right with me if they need the repair. I am not going to be specious in my quarrel with anyone and ask them to repair streets that do not need it. As for the $3,000,000 and all these laudatory remarks about honesty of George Hyland, no one has ever questioned George Hyland's honesty in money matters or anything else, perhaps. We don't have to have George Hyland here. I would vote for $6,000,000. But I think we are getting away from the fact, even though the $1,500,000 cannot be spent this year—probably can't be spent next year it can start in April instead of having an order coming in here dated April 17 and acted upon almost two months later, on the 5th of June. He will have the money then, won't he? I, too, sir, have a public duty to perform. Nobody else has any honesty in his heart, apparently, but the gentlemen from the Back Bay. You let something go wrong up there and they don't come to the Council. They have a line right into the corner office where they are listened to. But in our districts they have to come to us. Is it any wonder they criticize when we want something? There is a little too much of it. That is the old injection of class again. They are up on the heights apparently, and we are down in the Netherlands. Well, I would rather stay in the Netherlands with the honest people I find there than to go up on the heights where a puff of wind will blow you away. I hope reconsideration is defeated.

Coun. RUSSO—My two friends and colleagues from the Back Bay, for whom I have the highest respect and esteem naturally I respect their opinion, and in turn I wish that they would respect mine. I have been through the Back Bay and I have seen those streets very nice and smooth. I wonder if they have gone down through my district and found those cobblestone streets? I haven't got those streets smoothed off down there, and I don't know why not. I believe more money should be given in order to make our streets in Boston more presentable and more inhabitable. There is no question in my mind, Mr. President, in so far as the honesty and integrity of the commissioner is concerned, but I wish to bring this thought out, Mr. President,—they themselves have questioned in a way his integrity and honesty by reducing from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000. It is the same thing as increasing it to $3,000,000. I believe that is their opinion, and I believe that they ought to respect the other man's opinion also.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I think that every one of the eighteen councilors that voted for the $3,000,000 is acting very, very intelligently, and acting for all the people of Boston, including the people who are represented by the four that voted against it. I say that for this reason: if we approved the $1,000,000 today we would have had to pay $146,000, which was already appropriated for this anticipated loan. That would figure we were paying 15 per cent for that loan. On $1,500,000 it figures approximately 9 per cent. That is why I say, when they have increased it to $3,000,000 and allow us to borrow for 5 per cent, they have acted intelligently and in the interest of every citizen of Boston.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, much as I dislike to disagree with my distinguished colleague who has just spoken, I find I have to at this time. I was one of the four who voted against this $3,000,000. I am very happy to say that I am one of the four who voted against it. Mr. President, for the life of me I can't understand how my brother can vote for $3,000,000 when it has been already described and the story of the Public Works Commissioner has been told, of how much money he was willing to take, and also his Honor the Mayor today,—how much money he would be willing to have. Now, my brother has just stated a situation regarding $146,000 that has to go on the tax rate if any borrowing is done. Mr. President, that has already been put in the budget and, while that costs ten cents on every $1,000, this $3,000,000 has got to be repaid, too, and while that $146,000-odd came up here earmarked for street loans, it was discovered during the budget hearings that not one cent would be spent for streets. It was going to be gobbled up for paying the salaries of the Public Works Department and the Street Commissioner. Even that $146,000 won't pay the salaries of both departments, where the Budget Commissioner cut them, and that is where they are going to get that salary, to keep those men on the pay roll. They have to dip into what we give them in the loan order to keep these departments going. I think we are entirely within our rights if we want to vote for reconsideration. As far as parliamentary procedure goes, it is the right of any member to stand up and ask for reconsideration if he gives a good reason why it should prevail. And I don't think that any of the previous speakers have stated that his Honor the Mayor would even sign this $3,000,000 loan. I would be very much in doubt as to whether he would or not. After all, I agree that his Honor the Mayor has a grave responsibility before him, and I think he would hesitate a good deal before he would accept this $3,000,000. His Honor the Mayor has issued various statements as to how he has cut down various loans in the city before, and I say again, that I think he will hesitate before he signs it. In conclusion, I voted for $1,000,000 for a street loan. I don't think now that I would vote for any amount until I am convinced by the Public Works Commissioner or his Honor the Mayor that at least some work on some streets in my district will be done. I stand before this Council and reiterate what I said before, and I defy the Public Works Commissioner or any one else to say anything different, and I say now—I asked the Public Works Commissioner how much of the program he has for my ward he would complete this year, and he told me he couldn't promise me one thing. While some differ with me, as long as I am in this Council, I reserve my rights as regards casting my vote, and I will always cast my vote the way I think it is for the best interests of the people of my particular district first, and then for the rest of the city. Mr. President, I hope reconsideration does prevail.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I couldn't help sitting back and getting a kick out of some of the remarks of some of these sanctionious councilors. Christ, you can't help as you sit here and think back over a period of years on some of the things they have done, and some of the things they have said—you find them on one side one week and on the other side the next week. I don't think they know themselves what side they want to be on from week to week. Maybe it is according to what response they get from week to week, but nobody is going to do or how to do it. After they get up here and speak for three or four hours themselves, they either want to move the previous question to shut off all debate, or lay the matter on the table to shut off debate, or they want to tell us why don't we go along by what the majority says. As far as I am concerned, I have never cared what the hell the majority said. It used to be a victory for me when it was 19 to 1, instead of 21 to 1. For three long years I got that vote, until some councilors got wise to themselves, and then they found out that they made up part of the city government. They are supposed to be on the Council and are part of the city government, although it has never functioned that way. Lately they have got wise to themselves and stood up and in a very loud tone have told us what they felt about certain people in the City Hall and outside the City Hall. But to listen to some today get up and say, "Why don't you abide by the majority?"—that is won today by a fluke. There were enough votes to kill these both, the $1,500,000 and the $3,000,000. The $3,000,000 went by a fluke, and nothing else, and the same councilors who are screeching and saying they won't vote for anything except what the Mayor asked for, $1,500,000, vote about face for $3,000,000. Some councilors got up and said, "Why don't you abide by the rule of the majority?" and they have made statements they wouldn't vote for anything but $1,500,000. So they have had a change of face during the two and a half hours we have discussed this matter. And, as I said, it is only by a fluke, only by bitterness on some of the councilors' part, that $3,000,000 got by. And when I asked that a ruling be made by the Corporation Counsel as to whether we could word this order sent in by the Mayor so as to assure us that side streets would be done, the Body refused to send the order out into Executive and send for the Corporation Counsel to give us a ruling. Then, again, I wanted the matter sent to the Executive Committee, and to get Mr. Hyland over, and the only reason I take my hat off to him—and everybody will agree he is the only department head within the entire city that shows up every time we send for him—that is the only reason I take my hat off to George Hyland,—if he has an argument he will come and argue it out. He won't take orders from the Governor like the Finance Commission does. He doesn't work for nothing, like the Finance Commission. I would like to know what the hell they get on the side. There wouldn't be any members of this Body candidates unless a salary was attached. Everybody wants to sit down in their ward, still you refused twice to send it out to Executive, this order asking for a ruling from the Corporation Counsel, asking if this order could be worded so as to include side streets. And then you refused to send to Executive and send for George Hyland to ask if the side streets can be done if $1,500,000 voted for. I will do the same as others have done. I don't know a contractor in Boston, and I don't want to know them. As soon as I see the word "contractor," whether visible or not, appears alongside the word "graft," because I never knew a contractor who got a contract that didn't "kick in" to some one. As I said, I don't want to know them, and I don't know them. A couple of the members of this Body last week were approached by contractors and asked to give a vote on the $1,500,000 appropriation, which looked as though they knew in advance who was going to get these contracts. I don't care what the councilors here do or say, I have never carried an argument outside the floor of this Council, but I get a kick out of people talking for an hour and then wanting to shut off debate by saying that we ought to go by the decision of the majority. Sometimes the decision of the majority is absolutely wrong. As I said, within the past year or two, some councilors have been going along with the majority. Some of those who have gone along with the majority have turned over and found themselves in the minority within the week, and that is bound to happen. We can't all agree with the Mayor. We are not going to. There are certain things I am going to fight the Mayor on, and I am honest enough to tell him. I told him today when I asked the members downstairs regarding this order—and of course Councilor Hanley wasn't there—but there were eight or nine of us there, and you remember what he said, "If I can't get the $1,500,000, I hope you will go along with the $1,000,000 loan," and he asked about eight or nine, and I was one that said, "No"; I didn't say "Yes." And afterwards I had a talk with him, and like everybody else there are certain streets I want done, but my streets can't be fixed until after the horse and dog track season, and the dog track season isn't over until late in October. So it looks as though no repair work could be done this year. Still, when I heard Councilors Shannon and Feeney and Hanley say that there are streets in their section, I considered and voted for the $1,500,000. But why double it? And, without attacking anybody—because I don't give a damn and don't care what to hell anybody says that comes in here—I have always said that, and I will again—but I say, don't make this a contractors' holiday.

Coun. RUSSO—I can't help getting up on my feet and saying, what is the sense of kidding ourselves? It is the same thing over and over again. The Mayor said if he couldn't get $1,500,000, then vote for $1,000,000. May I call your attention to what happened in the Houghton and Dutton building? An order was sent here for $300,000. We reduced that to $200,000, and by the time we got through we voted for about $400,000. Why kill ourselves? Why not face the facts? The facts are that the streets do need repairing. The facts are that the streets need reconstruction. Why kill ourselves? In the program that the Public Works Commissioner presented to us he said that this is the program of $2,200,000. On paper it seems fine, but I have about five or six streets in my district that are going to receive reconstruction, but that is on the $2,200,000 program. They want $1,500,000; they will be satisfied with $1,000,000. They will only be coming up here again. Why not face the fact? The fact is, give them enough so that they can't say when we go to them when one of our streets needs repaving or needs to be fixed—then they can't say they haven't got the money. It is the same story over and over again. Why wouldn't they accept the $1,000,000 if they couldn't get the $1,500,000?

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsideration. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 4, nays 16:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer—4. Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hurley, Hannon, Keenan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. E. Sullivan, Taylor—16.

DAILY CLEANING OF SAVIN HILL BEACH.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Park Commissioner to clean the beach at Savin Hill every day during the summer season.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUEST TO MAKE TEMPORARY ALLOTMENT TO EMPLOYEES PERMANENT.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to make permanent the present temporary allotment of $200 to city and county employees.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MAXIMUM PAY, POLICE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. HANNON and TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Police Commissioner relative to correcting the present situation relative to salaries of those employees of the Police Department who have not attained their maximum pay as police officers.

Coun. HANNON—Some months ago this Body passed an order requesting that the Mayor confer with the Police Commissioner to shorten the period of time during which the patrolmen of the Police Department could attain their maximum salary of $2,300. As it is now, the patrolman has to wait five years. He starts at $1,800 and attains $2,300 five years later. An order was sent out by his Honor the Mayor to the Police Commissioner correcting this, and the period was cut down from five to three years; but the order was so worded that a person the second year would get a $200 increase rather than $100, and the third year he would receive a $200 increase. But through some manipulation of words this increase must become effective on the anniversary date of an appointee, January, 1944. Because of the multiplicity of words in that phrase, a certain situation has arisen whereby some members of the Force who have been on only two years received more pay than those on for three years, and those on for three years in many instances received more money than those that were on for four years. This has been called to the attention of the police officials, and we have been assured it is going to be corrected, but when and how it is going to be corrected nobody knows. Confusion reigns. Even the auditor's office hasn't been able to straighten out this tangled mess. I think when this Body voted to cut down the period from five to three years which it would take a patrolman to reach his maximum salary, we intended that the fellow on the Force for three years would receive his maximum salary. Now, by some quirk of the English language, or some misinterpretation of our intentions, they have manipulated our order so that some fellows on for ten or eleven months longer than another fellow receive $100 less salary. I have received fifteen or twenty calls from patrolmen who went on in September who received less money than the fellows that went on in April or May the next year, because of the fact they have inserted a clause in the order granting this raise. They have inserted the clause: "It shall become effective on the anniversary date of the officer's appointment, subsequent to January, 1944." I think that this is a matter that could easily and should speedily be straightened out.

Coun. TAYLOR—I think that Councilor Hannon has covered the subject very thoroughly, and I will not prolong the debate with further reference to this matter. But my attention has been directed to this by some patrolmen affected by this same proposition. It seems an injustice is being done to about twenty or twenty-five patrolmen who were appointed on December, 1940, and those policemen who were appointed subsequent to December, 1940, are receiving more money than those appointed much earlier than they. It is a grave injustice, and I think the Mayor should confer with the Police Commissioner so that this can be remedied at once.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLANTING OF TREES, WARD 17 STREETS.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to plant trees on St. Gregory street extension and Packard avenue, in Ward 17.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SANDING SECTION OF MALIBU BEACH.

Coun. KELLY and FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the Metropolitan District Commission the matter of sanding the unsanded section of Malibu Beach, Dorchester.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROPRIATION FOR INCREASES TO CERTAIN UNDERPAID EMPLOYEES.

Coun. FISH and FEENEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an appropriation order in the amount of $100,000 before the tax rate is set, to provide for increases to underpaid Hospital, Sanatorium and Institution employees.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, at the hearing last Monday it was brought out that everybody, the Superintendent of the City Hospital, the trustees, and everybody along the line with any power, was in favor of the employees getting an increase,—those who now receive, if I recollect correctly, under $26. And since there are about 900 of them involved, it would cost approximately $140,000 to $150,000. So I am asking that $100,000 now be provided, so when the time comes, after reclassification is ironed out up there, then if they receive the increase the money will already have been appropriated, and their increase cannot be cut from $4 to $2, on the basis of the excuse that the money isn't there.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING SHERWOOD STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. McCORMACK offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving and to construct new sidewalks on Sherwood street, from Brown avenue to Cummins Highway, Ward 19.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Park Commission to acquire land in the Mount Hope section of Roslindale, in Ward 18, suitable for the construction of a small playground and that such a playground be constructed as quickly as possible and proper equipment installed to provide the children of Mount Hope with a badly needed play area in their district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DEEPENING OF DRAINAGE DITCHES, HAZELWOOD SECTION, WARD 18.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately order the owner or owners of property to deepen and clear out the drainage ditches in the swampland bordered by Austin street and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, in the Hazelwood section of Ward 18, which constitutes a bad breeding place for malaria-carrying mosquitoes, resulting in a serious health menace.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF BURMA STREET, WARD 18.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Burma street, in the Mattapan district of Ward 18, as a public highway.

Coun. COFFEY—I move we adjourn.
President KERRIGAN—Councillor Coffey moves that we now adjourn.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. COFFEY, at 5.20 p. m., to meet on Monday, June 12, 1944, at 2 p. m.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS BY HON. CHARLES S. O'CONNOR.

As the clouds deepen over the world, while power-mad dictators are hurling millions of humanity into a vortex of horror, it is well this morning that we pause to visualize the supreme importance and the indispensable power of religion in the affairs of men and nations. It is not religion that has failed—religion is the one power that has never been tried. In its place we have class hatred and revenge, racial intolerance, economic avarice and greed, and a crazy, unbridled nationalism that seeks to throw us back to the paganism of the Caesars.

We see the work of ages destroyed, the whole political and moral world convulsed as by an earthquake, the beautiful blasted into ruins and the vultures of famine screaming above a once abundant earth. But the wolfish pack now seek shelter and safety. Their particular little world is collapsing. Now they must come out from the shambles of the desert they have made, even though their homecoming be through smoking ruins and the remnants of the ruined and battered civilization.

The neo-paganism of the world accepts God Almighty as a merely tolerated alien in the midst of His own Creation. But we look back in the history of the struggle for American Independence and we find the great Washington, when the clouds of discouragement were thick upon him, surrounded by his poor, famished and hungry patriot army in rags and tatters, leaving the bloody imprint of their feet on the snows of Valley Forge, kneeling there in a snowdrift pleading to the Eternal God of the Nations for succor and aid in his distress. That prayer was answered when Louis of France opened wide his arms and his treasury to the faltering infant republic and made possible American Independence.

THE VOICE OF GOD.

And so let us be deeply reverent in the light of faith today. The world will never know peace, real peace, until the voice of God becomes the voice of the people. In the words of John Boyle O'Reilly, "The work that men do is not their test alone—the love they win is far the better chart." How well you fire fighters have won the love of the people. Greater love hath no man than that he offer his life for his friends. How well has this great fire-fighting force subscribed to and exemplified this ideal.

Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war. Our heroic sons on a dozen fronts are at this moment facing the blinding fury of battle, accepting disease and bullets and death as the price that you and I might continue to be free.

The heart of America pulsates with pride and everlasting gratitude as we read of their unconquerable spirit and the triumphant course of their arms. But I tell the people of Boston, up near these courageous sons give the firemen a place in the line of duty, in the field of heroism.

What an ominous and fearful sound is the cry of Fire! How instant is the response! Upon towering ladders they creep, laboriously dragging after them the ammunition, hidden in smoke and frequently in flame, to destroy this consuming monster. Up they go to meet it all! The sudden and unexpected explosions that sear and kill—the search for the entrapped—the cry for help—the acid fumes, the crumbling and crashing walls—and the still forms of mangled firemen that often lie upon the ground, some of them never to rise again, faithful unto death. That is warfare in the midst of peace; that is what we call the home front; that is why the fire fighters are beloved of all Boston—loved by children who are thrilled—loved by their elders who understand what heroism and sacrifice mean. This memorial today of the Boston Fire Department is a reverential and sacred one in spiritual remembrance. But it's something else—it's a solemn reminder to the people of this metropolitan city with its great buildings, its happy homes, its teeming population—a reminder—lest we forget. Lest we forget! Boston and its people must never break faith with these their guardians and heroes of peace, nor with the memory of their heroic dead.

To you, dear comrades of the past, gone but not forgotten, we pray that God will grant you the privilege of looking down this morning from on high upon your comrades as they gather here so that you will see that you are not forgotten. Rest, spirits, rest in the peaceful, eternal sleep of the just, in the beautiful and beatific vision of the God Who made you!

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

best advantage of the city to grant this service contract without advertising.

The reason for this request is because we have obtained an experienced firm that will furnish the highest grade office services at a rate of 3 per cent which is 50 per cent less than the established rate of the Boston Real Estate Exchange.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL M. DRISCOLL,
Chairman,

Board of Real Estate Commissioners.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 2, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The matter of cleaning beaches in this department is a very important one. Due to the shortage of gasoline, transportation to outside beaches is rather difficult and because of the extreme hot weather we are having, the beaches of the city, particularly those in the South Boston area, have become greatly overcrowded. Due to the great crowds the beaches are very dirty, being covered with broken glass and debris of all kinds.

Because of the shortage of help and the difficulty of obtaining men to do the cleaning of the beaches, it has been found necessary to make outside arrangements for this work. During the months of July and August last summer we retained the services of William J. Banfield, 50 Terminal street, Charlestown, and his work was very satisfactory.

I therefore request permission to retain the services of Mr. Banfield for the cleaning of the beaches this year under the same terms as last year, namely, that he is to furnish a five-ton truck for which we pay at the rate of $18 per day, also three men at the rate of $1.40 per hour, which makes a total of $51.60 per day. It is our desire to pay Mr. Banfield on a series of service orders and as a service order has to be written every fifteen or sixteen days for an approximate amount of $800, the work will entail an expenditure of over $1,000 during the summer months.

I respectfully request that we be allowed to award this work to Mr. Banfield without advertising, as the Board of Park Commissioners feel that nothing would be gained by advertising. The cost of the work is to be charged to B-39, Park Department budget.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

BOSTON, June 1, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—A license given by this department to Mr. Edward E. Adams of the Mills Automatic Merchandising Corporation, 130 Broad street, Boston, for the operation of penny weighing machines in some of the buildings in this department, expires on June 30, 1944. This license has been held by Mr. Adams for some years, and last year he paid the city the sum of $400 for the privilege.

These machines are owned by this company. Mr. Adams has informed us that recently there was a robbery in the Municipal Building, South Boston, in which some of his machines were destroyed and the money in them taken. He reports that his receipts from all his machines in the Park Department will amount to a sum between $600 and $700 for the year ending June 30, 1944.

He has asked us to give him an extension of the license for one year at a rental of $350, which is $50 less than he has paid during the past year. He has promised, further, that if business conditions improve after the year, he will be glad to pay an increased fee.

Our business relations with this firm have been very satisfactory over a period of years and, as it would be difficult to get another concern that would have the necessary machines, it is respectfully requested by the Board of Park Commissioners that you allow us to extend this lease to Mr. Adams for a period of one year from July 1, 1944, at a rental of $350.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 2, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On December 14, 1943, we requested permission to award, without advertising, repair work to the steamer "Michael J. Perkins" in the sum of $5,282.48. Same was approved by your Honor on December 22, 1943.

We were unable to obtain a definite estimate for repairs from the Bethlehem Steel Company until after the work was completed, as the pressure of work on contracts for the Government is so great that it was impossible to give special attention to outside concerns. Repairs which had not been anticipated were discovered after the work progressed, necessitating a much greater expenditure.

I respectfully request that you approve, without advertising, the added amount of $5,471.52 to be awarded the Bethlehem Steel Company, making a total of $10,570 for the contract.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH P. DONAHOE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 31, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—For some time the steam pump at the Calf Pasture pumping station has been out of operation due to a breakdown, with the result that we have only one source of power, namely, electricity, available for the operation of the other six pumps.

In a pumping station of this kind it is most important to have at least two sources of power available for the operation of the pumps and, in view of this, it is essential to put the steam pump in commission as soon as possible. The so-called walking beams of the steam pump have developed cracks, and the only practical way to effect the necessary repairs is to weld these cracks.

We have received informal quotations from the Middlesex Welding Company, Somerville; the Harding Welding Company, Quincy; and the Massachusetts Welding Company, Boston, for doing the necessary welding work on the walking beams. The bids have varied from $6,500, which was submitted by the Middlesex Welding Company, to $1,000, which was submitted by the Massachusetts Welding Company, the Harding Welding Company submitting a bid of $1,032. The bid of the Middlesex Welding Company was submitted in the above-referenced amount, because that company did not feel that welding the present cracks in the walking beams would be satisfactory without removing and renewing the present reinforcing plates and forgings. It is the opinion of the engineers in the Sewer Division that, while this method would result in a better job, they did not feel that we were justified in incurring such an expense, because it is the intention of the department to replace the steam pump with a Diesel pump when the existing purchasing restrictions are lifted.

It is my opinion, therefore, that it would be to the best interests of the city to have the above-referenced welding work done by the Massachusetts Welding Company, at its bid price of $1,000.

It might be necessary to do some additional welding and, in view of this, we feel that an item should also be included which would provide for the hiring by this department of a welder, welding machine, and welding rod, for a period of seventy hours, at $4.50 per hour, thereby making the total contract price $1,315.

No advantage would accrue to the city by publicly advertising for bids for the above-referenced work, because very few welding companies are interested in this particular welding job, and we had some difficulty in obtaining bids from the above-referenced three contractors.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the Massachusetts Welding Company of 79 Clapp street, Dorchester, for welding existing cracks in the so-called walking beams of the steam pump at the Calf Pasture pumping station, at a price of $1,000, and for the including of an item for the renting of a welder, welding machine and welding rod for a period of seventy hours, at a cost of $4.50 per hour.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, June 12, 1944.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KERRIGAN in the chair. Absent, Coun. Kinsella.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the flag.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointment, viz.:
Weigher of Coal for term ending April 30, 1945: Herbert E. Duffill, 52 Oak street, Dorchester.

Laid over a week under the law.

REPAIRS TO GEORGE WRIGHT GOLF COURSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 12, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Park Commissioner relative to your order of May 15, 1944, regarding certain alterations and repairs to the George Wright Golf Course.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 25, 1944.
Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of May 17, with inclosure, order from the City Council regarding certain alterations and repairs at the George Wright Golf Course.

I would be only too glad to do anything I could for Councilor Feeney, but in the present instance the Golf Course was in existence before these houses were built and, naturally, we are not to blame as our areas were graded as they are today. I would have to change 500 linear feet of Fairway in order to cut down on the area of ground that slopes towards the Brae Burn road end of the Golf Course. The amount of material that would have to be excavated on this Fairway would bring it up to the new grades, respraying the loam excavated, seeding and attempting to grow turf over the disturbed area would run into quite an amount of money.

There is no responsibility on the part of the city to help the condition owing to the fact that the city land was bought and developed prior to the development of the private land.

I appreciate the fact that the home owners have got to contend with this, but investigation shows that waterproofing this stone wall as requested in the order would not help to any extent. I cannot tear up the Golf Course at this time of the year, and all I can say is that at the close of the golf season I will try and do something, although we are not responsible for the conditions.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

SWIMMING POOL, RYAN PLAYGROUND.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 12, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Park Commissioner relative to your order of May 29, 1944, regarding the possibilities of constructing a swimming pool in Ryan Playground, Sullivan square, for adults.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, June 6, 1944.
Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of June 1, with inclosure, order from the City Council regarding the possibilities of constructing a swimming pool in the Ryan Playground, Sullivan square, for adults.

There will be a number of complications in the construction of a pool in this area, due to the filling, also the fact it will be necessary to have a chlorinating plant to insure a pool that would be free from all diseases.

It will be necessary for this department to make soundings, plans, etc., which will take some little time. I will have some soundings made in the near future and submit to his Honor the Mayor a plan for a pool of this nature, which, no doubt, is badly needed in Charlestown, due to the fact that Dewey Beach is closed up by direction of the health authorities.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

SURVEY OF PRIVATE WAYS, WARD 20.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 12, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Board of Street Commissioners relative to your order of February 28, 1944, regarding a survey of all private ways in Ward 20 for the purpose of accepting, laying out and constructing as public ways when and if construction of streets will be allowed by the Federal Government.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
June 6, 1944.

Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—Referring to the order passed in the City Council:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Street Commissioners to make a survey of all private ways in Ward 20 for the purpose of accepting, laying out and constructing as public ways when and if construction of streets will be allowed by the Federal Government."

Upon receipt of your communication a list of all private ways in Ward 20 was compiled and we find that they number 249. To make the necessary surveys and plans of all these ways (to the exclusion of other departmental work) would take at least two years with our present working force.

Included in the above list are two streets, namely, Montgomery and Linden streets; surveys and plans have been made of these streets and a public hearing has been advertised. Other streets in Ward 20 which have been ordered laid out and constructed are Morey road, Vincent road, Weld street, Miami street and Maynard street. Also there are several streets in this ward for which surveys and plans were made and they were ordered laid out and constructed, but no entry having been made by the Public Works Department they have been allowed to lapse. Surveys and plans have been made for Alder street, Amesbury street, Berwick street, Durant street and Hazelmere road.

It has been the policy of this Board not to lay out streets, unless

(1) A sewer has been built in the street.
(2) Fifty per cent of the abutting property has been built upon.

Exceptions to the second part of this rule might occur if the street under consideration was a connecting link between two main thoroughfares.

Yours truly,
JOHN A. DONOGHUE,
Chairman.

SURVEY OF WARD 10 SIDEWALKS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That a survey be made of all sidewalks in Ward 10 with a view to making the necessary repairs at the earliest date possible.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. BAYLEY, for the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, submitted the following:

Report on order (referred May 22) that Mayor arrange for a plebiscite in Ward 1 on matter of expanding the East Boston airport—that same ought to pass.

Coun. COFFEY—Just briefly on the order, Mr. President, I introduced the order three weeks ago today, and I went and talked to the Mayor of Boston the following night, in the presence of others, and he said that, in his opinion, the people of East Boston were 99 per cent in favor of expansion of the airport. That is a result of the survey that he had made himself. If that is right, I hope he grants us a plebiscite. He at one time granted a plebiscite to the Hyde Park district regarding the dog track. If this is so, and the people of East Boston do vote 59 to 41 in favor of enlargement of the airport, of course I will take a back seat and abide by the decision of the people. But, where the Mayor admits that 99 to 1 are in favor, I don't think there would be any objection to a plebiscite for the people of East Boston, so that we can find out their pleasure in this matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN ORDER FOR ALLSTON BRIDGE.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, at this time I move, sir, that the loan order that was referred on May 29 to the Committee on Finance for a hearing, be brought before the entire Body.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the motion.

Coun. DWYER—Speaking on the motion, Mr. President, I am sorry the chairman of the Committee on Finance is not here. I hesitated before offering this motion until he was in the chamber. He was here originally and stepped out, and I wouldn't at this time have made this motion unless it was called to my attention that the Chair was going to ask for a recess. Now, I ask that this loan order be brought before the entire Body for the following reasons: I am going to be as brief as possible, because this has been hashed and rehashed several times on this floor. Mr. President, I have to start at the beginning so that all members will have the entire facts before them. On March 8, in this chamber, your Committee on Appropriations was holding a hearing, a public hearing, with the Commissioner of Public Works, George Hyland, and the Division Acting Engineer of Bridges, Mr. Thanisch, present. Councilor Carey was the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations that day and, as a result of questions asked by Councilor Carey, it was brought out that the Bridge Department, through Commissioner Hyland, recommended an appropriation of $512,500 for repairs to bridges throughout the entire city for this year. That appropriation of $512,500 was cut by the Budget Commissioner and his Honor the Mayor to $25,000. Commissioner Hyland said at that hearing that $25,000 wasn't enough to put in safe condition the first bridge on that program that he had to be repaired this year if this money was available, and that first bridge was the Allston Bridge, which is in my district. At that time Commissioner Hyland said that it would take at least $40,000 to put new hangers, some of which he found in a very bad condition, and he said that this work should be done this year. Now, after the allowance of $25,000 was made it was found that there was an encumbrance on that in the sum of $23,000-odd, that went to pay a bill owed to a contractor for a previous bridge repair. And so that left an amount at that time of a bare $1,100 available. So, on March 13 of this year, Councilor Carey and myself submitted an order requesting his Honor the Mayor to submit a supplementary budget providing an additional appropriation for these bridge repairs and Councilor Carey and myself went into lengthy discussions and explanations as to why these bridges were in need of repair, and why this money was needed to repair same. His Honor the Mayor took no action on that order of March 13, and up to date there has been no action by the Commissioner of Public Works or his Honor the Mayor on this particular matter. And so, as a result of no action being taken, and having in mind that this bridge was declared unsafe by the Commissioner of Public Works, on May 29 I introduced a loan order for $50,000. That loan order at that time received its first reading from this Body with seventeen yeas and none against it. Now, I know that you, Mr. President, and the entire Council are familiar with the situation as regards loan orders. I know that everybody here knows that in order for this loan order to go into effect, not alone has his Honor the Mayor to sign it, but also his Honor the Mayor has to submit a special appropriation of $148,700-odd, representing some ten cents on $1,000 on the tax rate. Mr. President, if this loan order is passed today we will, in addition to the loan order, have, if his Honor the Mayor submits his special appropriation of $148,700, approximately $200,000 for bridge repairs in this city. Now, it has been called to my attention that at the present time this bridge in my district is not only in a deplorable condition, but it is in a very unsafe condition, and it is imperative that some action be taken on it. I went to the Commissioner of Public Works, to his office, today and after waiting patiently, interviewed him, and I asked the Commissioner, was he going to make any repairs on the Allston Bridge this year. And his answer to me was "No," and I asked him why, and he said that the reason why he wasn't going to make any repairs this year was that there was no money available because it was brought out the other day by the auditor's office that at the present time or on May 31 there was only $316.06 available in the bridge repair account to do all the bridges in the City of Boston. So, I further asked the Commissioner of Public Works, —I asked him was the Allston Bridge badly in need of repairs, and he said "Yes," and he said that he already was on record to that effect. Now, I ask this Council to take this matter from the Committee on Finance,—not that I am one who asks to take matters away from committees, and especially I would be loath to take any matter from the Committee on Finance, but at the time I introduced this order before this Council the chairman of the Committee on Finance rendered a report on a matter that was pending before him in his committee as regards another loan order. During his remarks, in part, he said that he felt that where the loan order at that time before him affected all the districts in the city, he thought it should go before the entire Body, as the different individual councilors knew what was best for their districts. Now, Mr. President, if members of this Body are not interested in the bridges in their districts, and I think they are, I want to inform you, sir, that I, for one, am very much interested in this bridge that affects my district and affects all the people of this city and the entire Commonwealth who travel over it. There is no question but what the bridge is in a dangerous condition. And so, without going against the Committee on Finance, who tried to have a hearing on this matter and were unsuccessful—they were unsuccessful, Mr. President, because, in the first instance, there was not a quorum present; and, in the second instance, the chairman didn't like to go along with a hearing on this matter because the Commissioner of Public Works wrote a letter, and I have the letter that he wrote, not to the chairman, but to the Clerk of Committees, and I am going to read that letter. He says: "I have your communication of June 7 requesting that I attend a meeting of the Committee on Finance that is to be held in the Council Chamber next Friday, June 9, at 2 p. m. I am sorry I am unable to attend this meeting, due to a previous engagement which I cannot cancel at this time. Very truly yours, George Hyland, Commissioner of Public Works." Now, Mr. President, your chairman of the Committee on Finance, at my suggestion was also kind enough to invite Mr. Thanisch, acting engineer, and Mr. Thanisch has also written a letter addressed to the Clerk of Committees, which reads: "Referring to your letter of June 7, 1944, requesting my presence in the Council Chamber on June 9 at 2 p. m., I am informed by the Commissioner of Public Works, while he received the same request, he will be unable to attend the meeting. In my position of Acting Division Engineer it would not be proper for me to attend the meeting without the commissioner, since I am not in a position to speak with authority." While I am not going to comment on either of these letters, I am going to say that while three members of the committee were in that chamber, I went to the telephone and I called the Commissioner of Public Works, and he had left for lunch a short time before. I called Mr. Thanisch, and he had left for lunch a short time before. And then I called the Acting

Commissioner, Mr. Sullivan, Dan Sullivan, and Dan Sullivan told me that while he was Acting Commissioner of Public Works, the title only allowed him to sign pay rolls, and he had no authority whatsoever to order any division engineer to attend any meeting. And, of course, while I neglected to say so, the reason I called Mr. Sullivan was to see if he could get anybody in authority to appear before your Committee on Finance, and tell us whether or not this bridge was in an unsafe condition. And so, in view of the fact that we could not get the Commissioner of Public Works, and we couldn't get the Acting Division Engineer, or anybody else in authority, from the Public Works Department and, in view of the fact that the Commissioner of Public Works states he is already on record that this bridge is unsafe, and that he cannot do the work unless he gets the money I hope that this Council will take this matter from the Committee on Finance and discuss it, if they will, do what they will with it, but act on it today.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as the chairman of your Committee on Finance, I called a hearing last week—

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I believe this is a motion, Mr. President, to take from one committee and send to another committee.

Coun. HANNON—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. HANNON—I think the motion is just to take it from the committee.

Coun. TAYLOR—Even on that, taking it out of the committee, Mr. President, I would like to refer you to Rule 14. As chairman of the Rules Committee, I attempted to have the rules changed so that within a period of thirty days a two thirds vote could take it out of the committee, but the sponsor of this motion was against it, as well as many other members, and it was defeated. The rule specifically says that any matter referred to a committee may be recalled by a majority vote of all members of the Council if such a matter is not reported upon within one month of date of reference. I submit that one month has not expired yet, and I now state that the motion is out of order.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule it can be withdrawn by a two thirds vote within the thirty-day period.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I attempted to put that in the rules, to clarify a situation that occurred several times last year, when the President declared there was no such rule. I attempted to put that in the rules without success.

Coun. CHASE—As chairman of the Committee on Finance, I called a hearing for last Friday on this loan order. Because of lack of a quorum, we were unable to call the meeting to order, and Friday I didn't entertain any informal session simply because the Commissioner of Public Works' officials interested in this matter were not present to give us needed advice on it. And in view of that, the Committee on Finance was unable to bring back a report. The gentleman from Brighton (Coun. Dwyer) contends that the bridge is in need of repair. Of course, I am not a bridge expert, and I assume that the Commissioner of Public Works with whom the responsibility of repairing the bridge is lodged, should be given an opportunity to express his views on the matter, since the expenditure of the money will be done under his direction and supervision. Naturally, in view of being unable to get the needed information from the gentleman last Friday, and in view of the fact there was no quorum, the Committee on Finance did not bring back a report. I hope that the committee will be able some time this week to entertain the Public Works Commissioner at a subsequent hearing and find out as to whether or not this bridge is actually in need of repair.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, very briefly. I don't think the councilor from Brighton (Coun. Dwyer) in any way suggested any reflection on the chairman of the Finance Committee. He stated that the chairman of that committee did everything he could to hold his hearing, and I hardly think it is fair for the chairman of the Finance Committee to try to give the impression that it is only the councilor from Brighton who states this bridge is unfit. We got that information the first of the year from the Public Works Commissioner. Anybody who was in attendance at the Appropriations Committee meetings would have heard it, personally, or anybody who cares to refer to the transcript could read the testimony of the commissioner. And I believe if the bridge is as unsafe as the Public Works Commissioner himself says, I believe there should be some action today. I feel more so that in order to get this $50,000 we would have to pay in $148,000 for the privilege of borrowing. I think there are so many other unsafe bridges that that $200,000 could be used for that we shouldn't hesitate on public safety. As I repeat, it was no reflection, as I understand, from the councilor from Brighton on the chairman of the Finance Committee. It is only his urgent request to have the money appropriated as soon as possible and get these bridges fixed.

Coun. CAREY—I want to bear out, Mr. President, upon the record the remarks made by the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) and I, too, feel that something should be done about this particular matter. I am not in favor of taking a matter out of a committee. As a matter of fact, this particular subject has not been one of recent origin. We first heard of it when the budget hearings were being held some months ago. This is a matter of life and death, believe it or not. I well recall the hearing on the bridge repairs budget at the time Commissioner Hyland and his assistant engineer, Mr. Thanisch, were here and there was no question at that time as to the seriousness of the situation. I don't intend to put Mr. Thanisch on the spot, but I admire the man for his frankness. After all, he is the one, as I understand, who made the investigation, not only as to the necessity of repairing this bridge, but several other bridges and in an offhand way, at the time that he was here—Mr. Thanisch, I mean—he made a remark to the effect that he would not want to have any responsibility placed upon his shoulders if any catastrophe occurred there because of the falling in of this Allston street bridge. As Councilor Dwyer says, there was an amount of $512,500 asked for in the bridge repairs budget, and that was reduced to $25,000 by, we understand, the Budget Commissioner before that budget reached the City Council. The question, of course, was asked of Commissioner Hyland as to what the money was needed for, and he said, "This is for the repair of our bridge structures. That is an item out of which all the major repairs are paid for, on the structures." I asked the commissioner, to quote me, who it was that recommended these repairs,—the engineers? And Commissioner Hyland's answer, to quote him, was "The engineers do have inspection of the bridges. Last year it was almost impossible to get steel available to make repairs. Whether or not we can get it this year I am not sure. It was pretty difficult to get steel last year." There was a further question about it, and there was one answer of Commissioner Hyland that I want to bring out,—two answers, rather. I asked him, to quote me, "Do you feel $25,000 is going to be enough this year?" Commissioner Hyland's answer was, to quote him, "Well, I hardly feel that way, that $25,000 will be enough." I asked him, to quote me, "How much in your opinion do you figure you should have there?" Commissioner Hyland's answer, to quote him, was "In my own opinion, at a minimum, I would say $100,000. I think we need that to make certain the bridges are in a safe condition." Later on I asked the question of Commissioner Hyland, to quote me, "What bridges have you in mind?" His answer was, to quote him, "First is the Allston Bridge." Councilor Dwyer answered, to quote him, "Where is that?" Mr. Hyland answered, to quote him, "On Cambridge street." I asked the commissioner, to quote me, "What do you figure it would cost?" The commissioner answered, to quote him, "$40,000. That was to put new hangers. We found some in very bad condition." Now, we had a very capable stenographer taking down the minutes that day, and we are not finding any fault with the minutes, but there was certain conversation that was off the record, so to speak, and there was no question, Mr. President, but what the Commissioner of Public Works and Mr. Thanisch, his engineer, particularly the latter, having made the inspections, were very much disturbed over the condition of that bridge. Some three years there were approximately $500,000 borrowed to make these bridge repairs. This matter has been hanging fire since the budget hearings were held. As Councilor Dwyer has said, an order was introduced asking that the supplementary budget be sent in for the necessary money to make these repairs, and subsequent to that, something that had not been done previously, the Council here passed a loan order asking that the necessary money be made available. But, apparently, nothing is being done about it. Perhaps nothing will be done until it is too late. Certainly, as far as the City Council is concerned, the dangerous condition of this bridge has been made known. And I, for one, cannot understand, why the seriousness of this situation is not being properly considered. Although as I said in opening, I dislike to take a matter from a committee, and it is my recollection that I have always previously refused to vote to take a matter from a committee, I personally feel, having listened to the remarks made by the commissioner and Mr. Thanisch, together with the questions asked by the members of the Council at the time the bridge repairs budget was being heard, that this particular matter is of sufficient importance to take it from the committee and see if by doing so some immediate action can be taken.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as chairman of your Committee on Finance, I have no objection to having this matter recalled from the Committee on Finance, on condition that it be referred to the Executive session for hearing, in order to ascertain definitely from the Public Works Commissioner whether or not it is, in his expert opinion, absolutely necessary to make these repairs. If I could have that understanding, sir, I have no objection to having the matter recalled from committee. I cannot express the opinion of the other members of the committee but, as chairman, I have no objection, provided it is referred to Executive session in order to hear the Commissioner of Public Works on that subject.

Coun. COFFEY—I don't know for the life of me why we should make any stipulation that he is willing to have anything come from the committee provided we take it up in Executive session. We either take it out or we don't. It is an emergency; something that should be done immediately. If anything happens out there, I don't want it on my shoulders as one being responsible for a catastrophe or anybody being killed or injured. Mr. President, I think the thing is an emergency. It has been proved by the councilor from Ward 10 that the Commissioner of Public Works made a statement the first of the year that the first bridge he would want to repair if he got this money was the Allston Bridge, so there must be dire need of this work. There are a lot of things that enter into this. We have a two thirds vote. I doubt if anybody has the courage to vote against it. The Mayor can consult the Public Works Commissioner. If it is in need of repair he can sign the order, and they can go to work and put these repairs in. But don't let us quibble about a measly $50,000, especially as we were so willing last week to double the loan order from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000.

Coun. CHASE—Frankly, I feel that it would be highly irregular for the Council to be adopting this loan order unless we hear from the Commissioner of Public Works who is responsible for the repair of the bridges. I personally don't claim to be an expert on bridges. The responsibility is with the Public Works Commissioner. It would seem to me, having in mind the kind of gentleman that he is, that if this bridge was in as bad need of repairs as it has been contended he would come before our Body and urge that we appropriate the money or pass this loan order. Now, I have no interest for this order, nor have I any particular interest against the order. The only thing I have in mind is that, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, I have a certain responsibility. I don't care to see a loan order adopted in an irregular manner. I don't think it is becoming of us to adopt it unless we hear from the person who is responsible for the repair of bridges. After all is said and done, he is the only man—he and his assistant are the only men whom we can rely on, and I don't think there is an expert amongst us that can pass judgment as to whether or not this bridge is actually in need of repair. I don't say that it isn't in need of repair. It may be badly in need of repair, but I do think, sir, that we should proceed in regular order and ask the Public Works Commissioner to come up before us in order to determine, in his opinion, if this bridge should be repaired. And I hope, sir, that the Council, if they do vote to recall this order, at least will be fair with the Public Works Commissioner and the Committee on Finance. Let us do this on a regular basis, and ask the Commissioner to come before us.

Coun. COFFEY—May I ask a question?

President KERRIGAN—Does the councilor care to answer?

Coun. CHASE—I will be glad to.

Coun. COFFEY—Was the Public Works Commissioner invited to attend this last meeting? Did he show up?

Coun. CHASE—He acknowledged the invitation and said that because of a previous engagement he would be unable to attend. I don't take that as an affront to the committee. He is a busy man. He is head of the sanitary and highway divisions. He has a hundred and one different duties to perform besides repairing of bridges, and I don't think that the commissioner has deliberately affronted the Committee on Finance, and I would give him an opportunity.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I don't want to delay the business of the Council and in order to be fair and go along with what I asked for and said when the original order was introduced, I would welcome a hearing on this. I am willing to have this referred to the Executive, and if the Commissioner of Public Works will come over, O. K.; if not, I am going to ask later on in the meeting that this matter be acted on. So I am willing to have it referred to the Executive Committee and have the information secured.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I believe the question before the Council is taking it from the committee. Now, a precedent was set two weeks ago, and the Finance Committee, through lack of a quorum, brought back $1,500,000 to the entire City Council, and it was referred by you, Mr. President, to Executive. I believe at the present time the question before this City Council is taking it from the Committee on Finance, and the disposition, once it is taken, is then up for debate. I, therefore, move, Mr. President, that the points of order taken up by the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) are out of order. This is not reference to the Executive,—this is taking from the Finance Committee who, through lack of a quorum, were unable to pass or reject a recommendation by the distinguished councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) on a loan order which was passed unanimously by seventeen councilors present that day. I therefore move, Mr. President, the points of order by the councilor from Ward 4 are out of order.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. COFFEY—What is the question?

President KERRIGAN—The question before the house is to recall the order from the Committee on Finance.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I think it was very unwise of the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) to get up and state that he has no objection to this order going to Executive. You know yourself, Mr. President, that since you have been up here I doubt very much, with the exception of approval once, when the Mayor has sent word up to "stick along, boys, there is something coming up after Executive, and I need your vote,"—this happened once, twice, this year—and I would be willing to wager Bill Dwyer the hat that he lost last week that there won't be fifteen votes here when we hold our meeting after Executive. Something may happen on that bridge. Somebody might be killed. Nobody expected the Coconut Grove disaster, but it happened, and all we are doing is sending a request down to the Mayor to approve this loan order. If he wants to he can; if he doesn't, he doesn't have to. And certainly he is going to consult Mr. Hyland and his engineers. We have held a meeting. We have asked Mr. Hyland to appear. We couldn't get him. We asked one of his assistants to appear, and in his absence, he refused. Surely there is some engineer over there with enough ability to come over and tell us whether this bridge is in dire need of repairs or not. I believe it is, because the Public Works Commissioner asked for some $40,000 in the budget for repairing this same bridge, and I don't want to be a party to anything that might happen out there. And, as I said a moment ago, let us pass it along and send it to the Mayor. Let him consult Mr. Hyland—he will come to his meeting—and his consulting engineers, and then, if it is in dire need of repair, the Mayor can sign the loan order and they can go ahead, if they don't think it is in a safe condition, and we have lost nothing here today but a little wind.

Coun. CAREY—I personally don't know whether the action of the Council two weeks ago—I wasn't here when the vote was taken—whether the action of the Council in originating the loan order was a proper thing to do. There have been two weeks elapsed in the meantime, however, and we might have been bombed. Whether or not the Council action was right, the tax rate has not yet been declared.

Coun. DWYER—Will the gentleman yield?

Coun. CAREY—I yield.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I would like to inform my distinguished colleague that at the time the loan order was introduced the question was raised whether or not it was introduced legally or whether it was legal or not, and the Chair ruled it was legal and proper.

President KERRIGAN—That is correct.

Coun. CAREY—Thank you. What I wanted to say was that the tax rate hasn't yet been declared. The Mayor of the city still has to submit a supplementary budget to the City Council for a sufficient sum of money to make his repairs, in which case it will not be necessary to appropriate $146,000 in order to borrow this $50,000. I therefore feel that the Council should take some action on this matter today, and take it from the committee, vote again on it, send it to the Mayor, then, if the Mayor doesn't want to sign the Council's request, asking for the loan of this money, let the Mayor submit a supplementary budget to the City Council asking for sufficient money to make these repairs, and that can be done. It isn't too late, because the tax rate hasn't yet been declared. If the rate were declared, it would be too late to submit a supplementary budget. This bridge is decaying more every day. Let us take this from the Finance Committee, send it to the Mayor, get the money, and get these repairs before somebody's life is lost out there.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am going to go along with the vote to have this matter taken from the Committee on Finance, to show that at least I am willing to go half way; but I am doing so, sir, on the grounds the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) has no objection to having the matter referred to Executive session. I hope, sir, that after we pass on this matter we will then vote reference to the Executive Committee.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on recalling the matter from the Committee on Finance. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the matter was recalled from the Committee on Finance, yeas 17, nays 0: Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—17.

Nays—0.

Coun. HANLEY—I now move the loan order pass.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on the passage of the loan order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I sincerely hope that your Council will not vote passage of this loan order without at least hearing from the Commissioner on Public Works. I have in mind at page 723 of the budget hearings for 1944, where the gentleman from Brighton, Councilor Dwyer, in cross-examining the Commissioner of Public Works pertaining to the safety of this particular bridge, received the following answer: From the Commissioner of Public Works, Mr. Hyland, in answer to Councilor Dwyer, I quote: "I don't think there is any immediate cause for alarm, but we don't like structures to reach a point where a catastrophe might happen. The hangers have shown signs of corrosion. I don't think there is any need of alarming the people out there." Now, I think, in fairness to the Public Works Commissioner, that you should at least refer this matter to Executive session and let us hear the story from the gentleman who is responsible primarily for repairs of bridges. I hope that the Council will not adopt this order without at least consulting the Commissioner of Public Works in Executive session.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I recall distinctly some four years ago when the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) was very vitally interested in the repairs that were contemplated on bridges in his district, and I recall distinctly that he left no stone unturned to evidence his interest and make sure those repairs were made. Now, what is fair to him is likewise fair to the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer). As I see this picture now, there have been no arrangements made to provide any money to make these repairs, repairs to hangers, which, in the words of Commissioner Hyland himself, were admitted to be in very bad condition at the time the bridge budget was heard. Because others have gone to sleep on this matter, are we as members of the City Council, going to do the same thing? The councilor from Ward 21 has related the financial condition of the bridge repairs division. The only thing left there now is sufficient money to buy a few postage stamps. In the meantime those hangers are decaying more and more every day. How does Commissioner Hyland know for a fact, especially in view of what Engineer Thanisch had to say, that there is no cause for alarm? I like Commissioner Hyland, and he was frank enough to say those hangers were in very bad condition. If they were in bad condition several months ago, when this budget was being heard, and nothing has been done in the meantime, I am sure they must be in very bad condition today.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I was willing to be fair and have a hearing on this matter, and I so stated publicly. But, after listening to the remarks of Councilors Hanley, Coffey and Carey, I realized that I was making a serious mistake. Mr. President, it has been stated by several members of your Council here today that this bridge is in a bad condition,—or the hangers are in a very bad condition, and I call your attention, sir, to page 721 of the transcript report of the hearings of the Committee on Appropriations. In response to Chairman Carey's question, Mr. Hyland said that $40,000 was to put new hangers. "We found some in very bad condition." That amount was $40,000. Now, this particular bridge not alone affects the people in my district, but it affects the entire citizenry in the neighboring districts and the neighboring cities and towns,—all those that come through this particular street and over this bridge. And I think one of the previous speakers—in fact two of them—have very well brought out the fact that if this order receives its second reading today it will then be up to his Honor the Mayor, and I am sure that if his Honor the Mayor receives this order from your Council he will look into it personally, that he will go out of his way to have the Commissioner of Public Works, and also the division engineer of the bridge department, before him. And if those gentlemen don't tell his Honor the Mayor that this is necessary, I hope his Honor the Mayor will not sign this loan order. But I know, if his Honor the Mayor talked with Mr. Thanisch, who knows something about bridges,—if he talks with him and gets his report, I know that his Honor the Mayor will sign this loan order and will not alone take care of the repairs on my bridge—or the bridge in my district—but will repair several of the bridges that are badly in need of repair throughout the entire city. And so, Mr. President, I hope that this Council will vote for this loan order, having in mind that this Council knows very well that this loan order cannot go into effect until his Honor the Mayor signs the same. I am willing to abide by his decision if he will only talk with Mr. Thanisch and Commissioner Hyland as to whether or not this bridge is badly in need of repairs.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, if a bridge needs repairing, I am the last man to oppose it. I don't know whether or not this bridge needs repairing, and certainly if we pass a loan order and the Mayor is instructed, or advised, by the Commissioner of Public Works that it doesn't need repairing, he is not, certainly, going to sign the loan order, and we are wasting our time. If it does need repairing, this is certainly no way to go about it. We not only have to make a loan of $50,000, but there has to be an appropriation of some $148,000 at the same time to do it. In other words, we have to get $200,000 to repair a bridge which requires $40,000 in expenditure. I am sure that anybody who understands anything about finance at all will have to do it that way. The only way to do it is to have the Public Works Commissioner or the Mayor send up an appropriation of $40,000 or $50,000, or whatever is necessary in order to do the thing right. This way seems ridiculous, and it is certainly not logical in carrying it out to its conclusion.

Coun. BAYLEY—The chairman of the Finance Committee was perfectly willing to have this matter taken from his committee and asked to have it referred to the Executive Committee. I rise to state my position. I believe we should get all the information we can get on this matter. At the beginning the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) was perfectly willing to have this matter referred to Executive. In his speech two weeks ago he said that he didn't want anyone to vote for this bridge unless everyone thought it was absolutely necessary. I don't know whether it is absolutely necessary or not, but I am willing to be swayed by the Commissioner of Public Works and his subordinate, whose job and public duty it is to make sure the bridges are safe. I don't see any harm in referring this to Executive Committee, so we can have these gentlemen here to speak on it. So I move that the matter be referred to Executive.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I have never voted against any improvement in any ward, and it is not my desire to. It so happens that half of this bridge is in my ward. I am just as much interested as the councilor from Ward 21. I ride over the bridge about every day. I have seen nothing to indicate it is in a hazardous condition. I think that the top can be taken care of by the paving department, due to the fact it is a public highway. If the structure needs any repairing, I would like to know about it. Accordingly I will favor the motion to refer to Executive Committee.

Coun. CAREY—I don't like to do things that are ridiculous, and I agree that it is ridiculous for the members of the Council today to have to pass a loan order in order to force a hand. Now, the councilor that has just taken his seat tells us that he rides over that bridge every day, and the paving department can make resurfacing repairs to that bridge. I haven't heard anyone here today who has said anything regarding the bad condition of the surface of the bridge. We have tried to impress upon the members of the Council the serious condition of the bridge from the standpoint of the hangers that hold up that bridge. As was said by the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) I had earlier stated that I don't like to see $148,000, the equivalent to a ten-cent addition on the tax rate, made necessary in order to borrow $50,000. I think it is a silly thing to do. This matter has got to be forced in some way. I sincerely and firmly believe that the Mayor is not going to sign this loan order. I do think, however, and sincerely so, that something has got to be done by the Council in order to see that the matter is forcibly brought to the attention of the Mayor, and I know, myself, that it is a firm conviction on the part of Engineer Thanisch that if something is not done to that bridge some serious consequence might very likely result. It is too bad that we have got to do ridiculous things in order to force an issue, but if we have to be ridiculous today and vote for this loan order in order to have the Mayor submit a supplementary budget for sufficient money to make these repairs, then I, for one, am going to be ridiculous.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on referring the matter to Executive. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the motion to refer the matter to Executive was defeated, yeas 10, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hurley, Kerrigan, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—10.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Shannon—11.

Coun. BAYLEY—I move reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will call the roll on reconsideration.

Coun. CHASE—in view of the fact that some of the members of the Council were not present at the time this debate on this matter took place, I think it is only fair for some one to enlighten them. As I understand it, this is a very simple proposition. We are endeavoring to secure information from the Public Works Commissioner as to whether or not, in his opinion and the opinion of his expert assistant, this bridge has any urgent need of repair. If this bridge is in urgent need of repair and the Public Works Commissioner will acknowledge that fact, unquestionably I believe the Council as a whole will adopt the loan order. But, in fairness to the Public Works Commissioner, in fairness to his assistants, and in fairness to the Mayor, I don't think we should take executive powers in our own hands and rely on no one when we have experts to guide us. And I hope that this Body will be fair to the Commissioner of Public Works and at least give him the opportunity to guide us in voting on this matter. It is his responsibility and I trust that this Body will vote reconsideration.

Coun. COFFEY—Not to prolong this, but I think the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) got unduly excited over nothing. Surely the Public Works Commissioner was invited to attend and didn't attend, and none of his assistants attended. They were called repeatedly at the meeting. I attended it. The Clerk of Committees called, and the gentleman from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) called and tried to get somebody over here. We don't need the Public Works Commissioner. The Mayor can decide whether the bridge needs repairing or not, and it is much more certain that the Mayor will get the information from the Public Works Commissioner than from us. Let us send it along. The Mayor will consult Commissioner Hyland, the engineers, and if the bridge is in dire need of repair he goes ahead with the repairs; if not, he just throws the order in the wastebasket, the same as he does with 99 out of 100, and we have lost nothing.

Coun. TAYLOR—I haven't made up my mind definitely what I am going to do on this matter. Commissioner Hyland is always at our beck and call. Just because he was unable to appear one time when he had a previous engagement is no reason to condemn the man for his unwillingness to come before the Body. I am sure he will be here this afternoon. I don't see how we can negotiate a loan order in the Council when we have no advice on this from those who know something about it. I am not going to place myself in that position. If the bridge needs repair and it is necessary, I will vote for it, but I won't vote for it without getting that information, and I don't see any reason why those who are always calling for things to be sent to committee for information now deny us that opportunity.

Coun. FISH—I don't see what further Commissioner Hyland could tell us if he did come here. He tells us the first of the year that the bridge is in a dangerous condition, and it is the transcript of those Budget Committee meetings. What more can he do? That was six months ago. Was he lying to us then, or are we going to believe he is a truthful man? And if he did speak the truth, wouldn't the bridge be that much more weakened after another six months' period? Councillor Dwyer has given us an opportunity for which we should be thankful, in calling attention to the dangerous condition to the City of Boston. Bear in mind this, that every hanger that was in that bridge was placed there for the safe construction of that bridge, and if one hanger is weakened, even one, it places the weight and the burden on the other hangers, not one of which are there unnecessarily. This Council can do as they please, but I will never be a party to stalling this order when it comes to safety.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reconsideration. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and reconsideration was refused, yeas 9, nays 11.

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Kerrigan, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—9.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Shannon—11.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on giving the order a second reading. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the order was refused a second reading (fifteen votes being necessary for passage), yeas 14, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—14.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Hurley, Muchnick—3.

Coun. HANLEY—I move reconsideration. I am not well acquainted with the bridge in debate by the councillor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer), but I know that it is an unwritten law among all legislative bodies to extend the courtesy to the member of that district who brings into the Boston City Council any matter that might protect or might jeopardize the life and limb of his constituents. Now, Councillor Bill Dwyer has brought it out more forcibly than I can, both in the Appropriations Committee meetings and on the floor here today. A few weeks ago seventeen distinguished councillors concurred harmoniously with Councillor Bill Dwyer, and today the question has arisen that we are taking over the executive powers of his Honor the Mayor. And yet the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) who should be well acquainted with the charter of the City of Boston, has insulted our intelligence by injecting such a tirade against the twenty-two councillors. We all know that his Honor the Mayor has the power to veto anything that is initiated by the Boston City Council. A loan order has been brought up and passed by seventeen members of the Boston City Council. And through you, Mr. President, using your discretionary powers, you sent it into the Finance Committee, and again they were remiss in their duties by not bringing back a report. I move for the passage of the loan order, asking a second reading, and I believe that my point of order takes precedence, because of the fact that it was at one time sent into a committee. Now, I never like to have it on my shoulders that I am jeopardizing the life and limb of any man or any woman within the corporate limits of Boston. City, State and Federal governments were never intended for a profit. They were intended to render service, and in rendering service the taxpayers are compelled by law to amortize any debt that the city incurs. It is most disgraceful that the City Council, twenty-two members of the twenty-two segments of Boston, have refused you, Councillor Dwyer, the courtesy that has been and should be extended to the councillors, and I hope reconsideration prevails, and that this be given its second reading.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, this is an order for $50,000. I understand from testimony that Commissioner Hyland gave before the budget committee hearings that this bridge, in his opinion, would take $50,000 to make it a safe bridge. I think we have all the information we can secure on this bridge. That is why I voted against the order going to Executive session. Now the question is on reconsideration, and although I realize that practically $40,000 of this money will be spent in the Allston section, it is, in my opinion, well needed to be spent there, and I don't want to be, in part, with my vote, depriving the Allston section of getting a bridge repaired that needs repairing. That is why I am going along with this order. I think every member of the Council should put himself in the councillor's position from the district. I know that if it affected my district I would want the councillors to go along with me. As far as information goes, we have all the information we want about the matter. As Councillor Fish well stated, Commissioner Hyland stated six months ago it was in need of repair. Six months afterward it would be in worse need of repair. If the Mayor doesn't see fit to pass a loan order, he can veto it, but at least we have done our duty.

The roll was called, and reconsideration was voted, yeas 14, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—14.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase—2.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on giving the order a second reading.

Coun. COFFEY—I hope the members here who voted against this order realize the seriousness of it. Some have gone to extremes this afternoon to stay on the Mayor's side of the question. It seems they are more afraid of embarrassing the Mayor than they are of the safety of the public. May I inform them that anybody might be killed? It might be a member of their own family, going over that bridge. We don't know, we are not certain. We have had that happen just a short time ago when we had the Coconut Grove disaster. That hit hard right in the City of Boston. Nobody ever dreamed of it, but it did happen. Now, the councillor from Ward 22 (Coun. M. H. Sullivan) I think, has been very loyal to the Mayor. In fact, he has been too damned loyal, in my opinion, for the members of this Body. It is only a short time ago that he was soliciting votes for some kind of public improvement out there in his ward, some kind of building, and everybody went along with him so that he could get that improvement and get a loan order vote for the loan order through here. This is something where he is not only jeopardizing the councillor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) but, by his own admission, he is jeopardizing the public in his own ward and, as I stated, throughout the entire city. Never mind how my feelings are toward the Mayor of Boston. That doesn't enter into it. The fact is, we are not embarrassing him; we are just sending an order to him, and he can do as he darned well pleases about it. He can bring the Public Works Commissioner in and if he says that repairs are needed, let him sign the loan order, and he can put them in. If they are not needed, the Public Works Commissioner can tell him and nothing is lost by passing this order today. But, for God's sake, let us put it through so that if anything happens out there we won't feel that any member of the City Council is responsible for it.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I will be very brief. I have told my story here on several occasions, and it is the same story all over again. I only hope, irrespective of the feeling or whether different members of the Council favor or care for me or not, that they will be impartial in their vote in this matter and think of the people in my district, the people throughout the entire city, and the people who use this bridge. It has been stated before here by several of the members, and I myself touched on it that without any idea whatsoever of embarrassing the Mayor on my part, I am willing to stand by his Honor the Mayor's decision after he has talked with the Commissioner of Public Works, George Hyland, and the acting engineer, Mr. Thanisch. If they tell his Honor the Mayor that this bridge is not in dire need of repair, then I ask his Honor the Mayor to veto it. But I know that they will not do so. I told the members of the Body earlier in the day what Mr. Hyland stated to me in his own office today, that he, back at the budget hearing, stated that this bridge was unsafe and that he would like to repair it, but he hadn't the money to do it. So, without delaying you the Council at any great length, I ask, sir, that you and your Body give this loan order a favorable vote and allow his Honor the Mayor to decide whether or not he will sign the loan order. Thank you, sir.

Coun. CHASE—in view of the controversy over this and the unwillingness to bring the Commissioner of Public Works to pass on it, it may be a wise idea to call in the Boston Finance Commission to investigate. They have expert engineers. Let them investigate. I think that is a pretty good idea. The city appropriates $50,000 for the purpose of maintaining the Boston Finance Commission.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, will the councillor yield?

Coun. CHASE—I do not care to yield. Mr. President, they have a staff of engineers over there, as I understand it. They have engineers qualified and have sufficient ones to check into it. I think it would be a good idea for them to check this bridge and see if it does need repairs.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I didn't wish to get into this debate about fixing a bridge in Brighton, but there was a little incident that happened in my district just a year and a half ago and, engineers or no engineers, a bridge fell down. By an act of God, there was nobody on the bridge, but that bridge did fall down, and there were engineers looking at it day in and day out. Let us not have any more controversy about this. If the councillor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) feels as though a bridge in his district needs to be repaired, then let us give him the money and stop all this controversy. After all, it is only $50,000, as the councillor well said.

Coun. COFFEY—I couldn't help but take my feet once the councillor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) brought the Finance Commission into this. I don't know why he did it. There might have been some reason behind it, but I have been asking up here five years one question, who in hell are the Finance Commissioners? Does anybody know them? They are a group stuck in there by the Governor to protect the Mayor at all times and issue a statement about once every eight months, and then take a back seat and go into a shell and disappear and play behind the lines. And, as I have said before, anybody who works for nothing is a suspicious character. We have found that out in Washington within the past eight or ten years. Those dollar a year men were getting more contracts from Washington than the Congressmen or the Senators, or probably the Congressmen and the Senators all combined. We have asked the commissioners to come over here on the $1,000,000 steal where the memorial in the Fens is involved. That is nothing but a steal. They didn't show up. None of the members of the White Fund Trustees, including the Mayor, showed up. We disapproved of it, but we couldn't get the Finance Commissioners over here. They made a statement a few years ago to the press that the members of the Boston City Council were interfering with the duties of the Public Works Commissioner, and when I introduced an order asking them to come over here and face us and prove their charges, they didn't have the courage to come over. Of course they won't come over here. Wasn't one appointed a judge recently? And what happened in the slaughter house investigation that took place in this room four years ago last month? What happened? They sent in a report. Five lawyers got $1,250. For what? To get a $25 permit for a man who wanted a slaughter house. They proved that the thing was loaded with graft, and those close to the Mayor were named by affidavit signed by men who tried to get that slaughter house permit. And what did the Finance Commissioners do about it? Nothing. They tried to condemn me, and they couldn't. They gave me a clean bill of health, and where the blame belonged, they didn't have the guts to place it. And since then one of those Finance Commissioners has a job downstairs and another has been appointed a judge by the Governor. "Salty" and Tobin are too close.

Coun. CAREY—I don't care to prolong the argument here. I think we have had the merits of this matter delved into long and con. Of course there have been, have always been, loyalty on the part of one councillor to help a colleague when he was vitally interested in some matter pertaining to his district and wanted to have the members of the Body go along with that councillor. The councillor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) is better acquainted with conditions and necessities in Ward 21 than any other member of the Body. And that likewise refers to each and every individual councillor here. I get so sick and disgusted of hearing the mention of the words "Finance Commission." I wonder sometimes why the councillor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) doesn't give up his job, save the taxpayers $2,000, and let the Finance Commission do his work. We have now in process of expenditure some $75,000 of the taxpayers' money for a survey of our school system. And after the money is appropriated by this generous City Council, what do we find out? That the thought for the survey of the school system was the baby of a member of the Finance Commission. How do you like that, Mr. President and members of the City Council? Isn't it fine that certain men can be given permission, so to speak, supposedly to be watchdogs of the taxpayers' money, but who can always and forever seem to have expended moneys of those same taxpayers that they are sworn to see is well spent? We know the story of the survey of the school system. We have the finest men that can be found any place in control of our school system here in Boston. The school systems throughout the entire country have been fashioned after the ideas that have been put into practice here in the City of Boston, and yet, in order to take care of some pets in way stations we have members of the Finance Commission sponsor and get away with here in the City Council, the expenditure of $75,000 of the taxpayers' money, only to see that their own friends are taken care of. Let us forget, here on this floor, the Finance Commission. I am for good government, decent government, respectable government, and I have tried to give that to the people of my district, and I believe I have, on the strength of what they have shown in my successive elections here during seven years. But if we don't feel ourselves that we have the qualifications to stand here and sit here and act on matters of vital importance to the citizens of Boston, and that we have to call in the "Fin Com", so to speak, then we all ought to quit. We don't need the Finance Commission brought into this thing. I will take the testimony, to repeat once more, of Mr. Thanisch, who had courage enough to say that he hardly dares to go to sleep at night for fear of the danger that exists in connection with that bridge that we have discussed so lengthily here this afternoon. I don't want to embarrass the Mayor of the city. I do wonder, however, why he hasn't taken some action or given some notice to what has definitely been described as a serious condition. It is ridiculous, of course, that the members of this Body should have to pass a $50,000 loan order, requiring an appropriation of $148,000 of the taxpayers' money, adding ten cents on the tax rate, in order to try to have this work done. And I am sincere and firm in my belief that this matter is not being given the attention that it deserves. There is only one way I can see to bring it forcibly to the attention of the Mayor, and that is to go through this ridiculous procedure of voting for this $50,000 loan order in order that we might be convinced within ourselves we have done everything we can to see the residents, not only of that immediate section, but anyone who goes over that bridge, are protected from danger to life and limb.

Coun. COFFEY—I just want to mention one thing. I would just like to call the attention of the councilors from the Back Bay that their colleagues have answered and then ducked.

Coun. KELLY—One thing that I don't like to hear mentioned is the Finance Commission being called in on this. I think the testimony of Commissioner Hyland that he gave before the appropriations committee last winter is good enough for every councilor. I think Commissioner Hyland knows the condition of the bridge, and I am willing to go along with this testimony given six months ago at the budget hearings. I recall an order some three or four years ago that I introduced along with Councilor Coffey asking the Finance Commission to give every name in reference to the work in the way of snow removal. They were getting trucks for certain parts of theirs and that impeded the snow removal. I recall that members of the Finance Commission refused to come over here to the Boston City Council. I hope no motion will ever be made to have the Finance Commission investigate anything. I think Commissioner Hyland is enough, himself. I have found him all right, found him to be a man of his word, found when he tells you something he means it, and you can depend on his word. That is the way I have found him. And from hearing the testimony before the appropriations committee—although I was not there when he gave it—I am satisfied this bridge is in need of serious repair. If it was in need of repair last January, it is now in worse need of repair. I am going along, and that is why I will vote for the loan order. I will put myself in the position of the councilor in that district. As I said once before, I don't want to be any part of voting against this, for fear that if this money is not put in something may happen.

Coun. FISH—Very briefly, we are going to take another vote on a matter which I believe concerns life and death. On the previous votes that have been taken every member did not take advantage of the right—and I may say duty—which is theirs. I am going to request that every member be recorded as either Yes or No on this next roll call.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I believe there is a rule that any member may be excused from voting.

Coun. FISH—I am merely making the request as a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—The point of order is well taken. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. COFFEY—I think there is a rule in our book that every member sitting in his seat must be recorded Yes or No. It can be invoked if brought up by any member of the Body.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule if a councilor does not want to respond the Chair cannot compel him to vote.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I ask the Chair read Rule 24.

President KERRIGAN—For what purpose?

Coun. HANLEY—To enlighten any councilor as to their powers and what they may do in the Council Chamber.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will proceed with the roll call, and the councilors can vote any particular vote as they see fit to vote.

Coun. CAREY—I don't think there is any harm in having the rule read.

President KERRIGAN—The councilor can read it.

Coun. HANLEY—Rule 24 states: "Every member who shall be present when a question is put, unless he is excluded by interest, shall give his vote, unless the council for special reason shall excuse him. Application to be so excused on any question must be made before the council is divided, or before the calling of the yeas and nays; and such application shall be accompanied by a brief statement of the reasons, and shall be decided without debate."

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule that many councilors in this Body haven't responded on votes during the year; the Chair will rule we cannot compel them to vote.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, the rules of the Boston City Council have been adopted unanimously by each and every member that goes to make up the entire City Council, and no precedent was set while I have been a member. No one has ever asked to be excused from Rule 24. I therefore move that Rule 24 be enforced at the present time, through the discretionary powers bestowed upon you, Mr. President, by virtue of your elective office.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—If two members rise to make a speech, Mr. President—

President KERRIGAN—The councilor is out of order.

The roll was called, and the order was refused a second reading and passage, yeas 14, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—14.

Nays—Bayley, Chase—2.

Coun. COFFEY—On the vote of the councilor from Ward 22, I hereby move that he vote either Yes or No.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule the gentleman is out of order.

Coun. COFFEY—We have a set of rules here, and I appeal the decision of the Chair. I think the councilor sitting in his chair should be ruled to vote.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is out of order. There is no method that the Chair can use to make the gentleman vote.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I will be glad to vote. I vote No. I ask to be recorded in the negative.

Coun. BAYLEY—I ask unanimous consent to be recorded as No on the first vote on the order before reconsideration.

CONGRATULATIONS ON PASSAGE OF "GI" BILL OF RIGHTS.

Coun. HANLEY and COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council record its deepest and most profound congratulations to all the organizations and individuals, particularly the Hearst newspapers, who aided and abetted the passage of the "GI" Bill of Rights, a bill designed to ameliorate the many problems confronting the demobilization of our armed forces and their return and rehabilitation to civilian life. This highly meritorious bill includes unemployment compensation, educational benefits and a fund for the purchasing and the erection of dwellings with an amortization fund established and payable to the United States Government.

Coun. HANLEY—Once again the "GI" bill has come from the stinky and smelly rooms of the Committee on Rules in Congress. Once again the powers of that Committee on Rules was circumvented by the dispatch of an eminent Senator from the South, to break a tie. The GI Bill of Rights, sponsored by all the veterans in the American Legion, and espoused by the press, and particularly the Hearst newspapers, under the able sponsorship of our genial and amiable friend, Frank Riley, has, at the present time, passed the United States Senate and it will, before the end of the week be signed and sealed by the President of the United States. The GI Bill of Rights is one of the most advantageous bills that has ever been given to our fighting men, the men who suffered death and suffered disease and change of climates in order that our liberty may go down through the corridors of time to generations yet unborn. It is the first time that any government has seen fit to give to our fighting men those things which probably belong to them. It gives them an opportunity of receiving unemployment compensation for fifty-two weeks after they are demobilized from the armed forces. It sets up an amortization fund of $5,000 for the purchase and erection of homes. It also gives those young youths who left their studies because of our draft law,—it gives them once again the opportunity to further their education in high schools or in colleges. It is one of the most advantageous bills that has ever been placed upon the statute books, and it is only through hard work on the part of the press, reporters and men in Congress that they circumvented the stifling rule of the Rules Committee. And once again it gives me great pleasure at this particular time to commend and congratulate one of the finest men in the newspaper world, Frank Riley, who has been associated with city politics for the past fifteen years, and during that time he has built up a friendship with all men, regardless of their race or creed or their political affiliations. He was given this assignment, and he has reported every word and every deed that would enlighten the constituency not only in Massachusetts, but in every other state in our entire Union. I ask suspension of the rule and passage of the resolution.

SHOWERS FOR CHILDREN IN SCHOOL YARDS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the school authorities to provide showers for the children in our school yards during the summer season.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING OF MERCHANT MARINE MEMORIAL PLAQUE.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor provide lights on the "Merchant Marine Honored Dead Plaque" that has been erected and unveiled on Boston Common.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED ABOLITION OF OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately abolish the office of Civilian Defense and to instruct the City Auditor to disapprove any further payments from this appropriation.

Coun. COFFEY—I so move this order today because of the fact that we had a very sad affair take place yesterday in this so-called drill that we had. In my estimation it was a disgrace. Nearly every newspaper has issued a statement along the same lines on which I am now talking. In my own particular district they even held up a couple from being married,—kept them sitting in an automobile for one and a half hours. On the main street, Meridian street, on which I live, officials or wardens were paid no attention to whatsoever. The fellows going by, when they whistled to stop, they laughed and continued to go. There were $194,800 in the funds last year. I think all that money should be turned back to the city. There is no further need of it, up to six months ago. The Nazis couldn't come across to England, and they are now being invaded, and are absolutely on the defense for the last eight or ten months. Certainly there is no need for continuing this fund. I think that the thing should be abolished, and Mr. Walsh's $7,500 job should be taken out, and others receiving a salary taken out, and the money turned back. They need have no fear of John Walsh—he will get on another pay roll. I think the thing has outlived its usefulness, and there is no need for it. The paper stated yesterday it was only confusion, and probably eight or ten wardens have already quit and are no more interested in the thing, and God knows we are not going to be invaded at this particular time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRINTING OF MORE COPIES OF COUNCIL MINUTES.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be requested to increase from 400 to 1,000 the number of copies of City Council Minutes which are printed weekly for the members of the City Council.

Coun. COFFEY—At the end of my talk I hope this matter will be referred to the Committee on Printing. It seems on Mondays now that all the Printing Department sends up to us is something like 40 or 50 copies of the Minutes to be distributed among us. At a later day they send up probably 400 and some weeks 600. But I still think it isn't enough in this respect. In the event that a councilor introduces an order which is of interest to his district, it is only natural he would like to take 400 or 500 of those Minutes and mail them to a number of families, or to the families who have the largest number of people. In turn, he may do like I do, make a little note on it. "Would you please be kind enough to tell your neighbors about this case? There are not enough Minutes to go around." For example, there are probably five, six, seven, eight weeks in the year when a councilor will introduce something vital to him, to his district, and if he has to go out and get a circular made to send out that information, it is going to cost quite a lot of money, in six or eight weeks, whatever it may be, to introduce an order in his district. For example, I wanted the Minutes on the Jeffries Point section, and I had 300 extracts sent up to me, and they were about that size (indicating), and they also sent me a bill from the Printing Department of $2.65. Well, of course, I could get 300 postcards printed, and what it would cost me would be $1.50 at the printer in my district. But somebody may say, "Well, the excess only cost you $2.65 for 300." But, don't forget it costs, if you want to mail them in a closed envelope, three cents apiece to mail them. So I think, besides having to buy stamps and so forth, the least the city can do is to send up 1000 Minutes or maybe the Committee on Printing may decide that more should be sent up, so in the event that anything vitally important in our district is introduced we can walk up here and pick up 500 Minutes of the meeting, and still have enough for the councilors.

The order was referred to the Committee on Printing.

TAX ON RACE TRACKS THROUGHOUT COUNTRY.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, hereby favors a 30 per cent tax by Congress on all race tracks throughout the country; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each member of the Massachusetts delegation in Congress.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, my motive in presenting this resolution is to have the millions and millions of dollars that are going through the nutcracker machines of this country taxed to help this war effort. In New York on a good day they have $3,500,000 going through the nutcracker machines in that city. In Boston, on a good day, we have pretty close, between the horses and the dogs, to $2,000,000 a day, and there should be a tax. That should be something for Congress to pass where we should have a 30 per cent tax for this war effort. I am referring to the race tracks here in Boston where, in my opinion, they can do what they please, and one man in one year can sell the race track over to another man and, as a result, the Government is being deprived of thousands and thousands of dollars. They have 36,000 people attending at East Boston, and I wonder how many of them care about the bay over there on the battlefields of France, Italy or the South Pacific. They are selfish. The race tracks of this country are selfish and the money power that is in Washington must be outdistanced because when a report from a Senate committee put the 30 per cent on the night clubs of this country and came out with a report there should be no tax on the race tracks of this country, there is something fishy in Denmark, and I think there should be something done about it. Especially at Suffolk Downs something should be done about it, and the Revere Racing Association have done nothing in the interest of this war effort. They have taken men from defense plants, and there was practically a riot over there a few days ago when one of those judges over there gave a decision which was wrong. That is not helping the war effort. If the race tracks of this country want to help the war effort, I think the United States Senate and the House of Congress should put this tax on. It is money that will help build bombers and help build tanks, and get this war over, and the selfish interests—especially here at Suffolk Downs—I know, will have people probably come and contact you and say, "Lay off." But they have tried to stop me for the last four years and haven't stopped me yet. So I hope that the members of this board will go along with the resolution and see if we can get a tax from the race tracks of this country to help the war effort.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRESERVATION OF ROME.

Coun. RUSSO and DWYER offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby records its great pleasure because the armed forces of the United States have captured the Eternal City of Rome without needless destruction and have preserved for future civilization the imperishable objects and monuments of art and antiquity in Rome and the Vatican City; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Staff of the Armed Forces of the United States, by its humane action in time of war, indicates to the entire world that the United States of America is not bent on destruction but bent upon preserving justice for all mankind.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, some ten days ago the hearts of the American people—and I believe the hearts of the entire civilized world—were gladdened by the notification that the armed forces of our country had captured the Eternal City of Rome. And also they were gladdened to know that Rome and the Vatican City were spared from any further destruction. I say, Mr. President, that here in the City Hall of Boston, right in this chamber, we, the councilors of the City of Boston, adopted a resolution presented by me on February 21, when we called the attention of the President of the United States and of Congress to exercise their good offices and the generals at their command to bring about the safety of Rome and the safety of Vatican City. We should also commend, Mr. President, the newspapers of our city, and in particular the Hearst newspapers that four days after the passage of this resolution saw fit editorially to give notice to the people of the United States of America of the feeling of the American people. It is a great satisfaction in our hearts to know that Vatican City and Rome, with all its ancient treasures, shall and will be preserved for the benefit of no one particular race but for the benefit of the entire people of the world. Therefore, I also wish to commend the general staff of our army that saw fit to do that. Rome was received and was eliminated from any further destruction. In conclusion, may I state that empires shall rise and fall, but the Eternal City of Rome and the Vatican City will endure until the end of time. I hope that this resolution will pass under suspension of the rule.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor June 5, 1944, of John F. Tirrell to be a Constable without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Dwyer, Coffey. The appointment was confirmed, yeas 12, nays 0.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LICENSES.

Coun. COFFEY, for the Committee on Licenses, submitted the following:

Report on petition of H. P. Hood & Son (referred December 6, 1943) for driveway opening at 50 New England avenue—that same be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

CLOSING OF ALLSTON BRIDGE.

Coun. DWYER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to close the Allston Bridge to all vehicular and foot traffic, until such time as the conditions of the bridge will afford and warrant safe travel to the above-stated traffic.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I don't know of any conditions that would warrant the closing of that bridge. I ride over it every day, and I think they are making a mountain out of a mole hill. I don't think that the order will be passed, in view of the fact that I don't think there is any justification for it, but I still want to place myself in opposition to it.

The question came on the passage of the order and the Chair being in doubt asked for a show of hands, and the order was passed.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I ask for a roll call.

The roll was called, and the order was passed, yeas 9, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Keenan, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—9.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, M. H. Sullivan—3.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I ask for reconsideration, and, speaking on reconsideration, I know that if this were in any other section of the city, that if it were an order to close a bridge, I would not vote for it unless the councilor from the district told me it was necessary. In view of the fact that part of this bridge is still in Ward 22, or was prior to this meeting, and in view of the fact that I am keeping as close an eye on Brighton as on Allston, and in view of the fact the first time I ran for election I made ten promises and kept every one of them, and in view of the fact that there is nobody criticizing me for anything in my ward, and in view of the fact if there is any need for improvement in my ward, people can find me and know I have a telephone number which is listed, so they can find me, and in view of the fact that I am at all times in my ward, not alone at election time, and in view of the fact that nobody has asked me to get anybody else from any neighboring ward to take care of my ward, and in view of the fact that nobody else from any neighboring ward seems competent to do so, and in view of the fact that nobody else from any neighboring ward can point to a record of achievement like mine in Brighton and Allston, and in view of the fact that nobody can point to any record of achievement—I think this request before this Council today is absolutely out of order. I know that repairs have been done on that bridge to a small extent in my time as the result of my efforts. And I know this, and I have a deep appreciation for practically the entire membership of this Body. I may vary with members upon political actions or upon the merits of any order, yet I have a deep and applied friendship and respect for them, and think if I didn't know the situation, if any councilor in this Body, without exception, had asked me for an order of this sort, if I didn't know the situation I would vote for it. But, in view of the fact that I live within a few steps of this bridge, and in view of the fact that there is nobody else in this Body who lives near the bridge, and in view of the fact that there is nobody in this Body who until recently knew where the bridge was, I think that I am the most competent man in the Body to speak on it. It is right in my neighboring precinct, and I know that the bridge should not be closed. I am not an engineer, but I know if a man who was an engineer came here and said that the bridge was not O. K., I would take his word, but I am as competent on construction as any sponsor of the order, from Allston or Brighton, and I don't care to take his word on it. I ask that the original order go into Executive. If the Chair feels that I am becoming personal, he will rule me out, but I am trying to talk on the merits. I will go along. I have never in my time gone into any neighboring ward and vilified any man or newspaper office, and I have frequently gone and spoken in friendship for men with whom I personally differ. I have tried in the past to go along with the men in this Council, and I have gone along with the councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) and I differ with him on many and most occasions politically.

Coun. HANLEY—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. HANLEY—I don't believe the councilor in his dissertation is talking on the reconsideration. I believe reconsideration is relative to the order. No man's name was mentioned. It was merely sponsored by the councilor in whose district it was to be erected. I ask you to so tell the distinguished councilor.

President KERRIGAN—Confine yourself to reconsideration.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I want to speak so far as the background of the people in my ward is concerned, and so far as the people in Brighton are concerned, for I know most in the two wards. An effort was made to persuade me to vote for this. I never said I was going to vote against it, but it was ascribed to me that I was. And people were told that Maurice Sullivan would vote against it. People told me they didn't give a damn whether I did or not, and I live right next door to it, and people that live there told that to me, despite the fact that an effort was made within the past few weeks to get them to get Sullivan to vote for the order. I have never voted against an order for improvement, and I certainly would not vote against one in my own ward which is necessary. But I ask today that this be referred to the Executive Committee. I think—and I have, I think, indorsed as many orders for improvements here as anybody, some I offered and some I did not—I think that I know human weaknesses. I think it was a good law that precluded the possibility of our inaugurating appropriations, and I may be against the opinion of the Council as to inaugurating loan orders. That is merely my own personal opinion, but I think it is good for the city that we should not, because I know, if we are going to inaugurate loan orders, I will inaugurate them for every street in Ward 22, which will get more than its share. I am going to move to do everything on which loan orders are allowed. They are only allowed on three phases by the Public Works Department, but I say I am fundamentally against it, and yet I would not care to vote against a loan order when my own ward is affected. But I am not voting against improvements in my own section or my own ward, or my own back yard, and I am not voting against them in any councilor's section, ward or back yard. But I may say, this to my mind—and I see it daily—is not a necessity, and I say that it is not an improvement, and I say that we do not know whether it will take $25,000, $35,000, $45,000, $50,000, or $75,000. The Public Works Commissioner, I understand, said it would take more than $25,000 if they were to inaugurate the work, or initiate the work. So I don't think it is necessary. I don't think it is an improvement. And I don't think the street should be roped off, and there is no need of it, and I don't want it roped off, because I ride over it daily, and I am not sacrificing my own life any more than the life of anybody in my neighborhood, and I am not sacrificing the happiness of any family in the neighborhood, and I am not sacrificing the life of anybody in the neighborhood. So far as I can see, there is no need of this, anyway, and no need of roping it off. I think possibly that the majority of people out there are with me, and I know, because I found I made a fool of myself when I found a man was canvassing my ward and I canvassed my ward, too. So I say I see no reason for this, and I have never made a personal remark against any member of the Body. I have had a high estimation of the councilor from the neighboring ward until he tried to pull some tricks on me that I wouldn't pull on him, and just let him try to pull one more.

Coun. DWYER—I certainly hope that reconsideration will not prevail. I am not a member of the Committee on Appropriations, I happened to be in here the day that the Public Works Commissioner stated that this bridge was unsafe. I talked with Mr. Thanisch, acting engineer. Mr. President, I have talked with others since then on this bridge. As a matter of fact, in company with one of the members who I think is in the chamber at the present time, a member of this Body, and a representative from a neighboring ward, I was at the ball game last Saturday. The three of us ran into two gentlemen who discussed this bridge and told us of the unsafe condition of it. Now, before the Body at the present time is the matter of reconsideration. That is what I am going to talk on. I don't know anything about any solicitation in any man's district by anybody for any votes on this matter, and I, for one, have not solicited any neighboring gentleman to vote on this matter. So, as far as I am concerned, I am convinced that this bridge is unsafe and in a dangerous condition. I stated so here on this floor, and I have stated so publicly in my district, and I will continue to state so until they do put it in a safe and sound condition. I told you, Mr. President, and the members of this Council as to my conversation with Mr. Hyland today, and Mr. Hyland agreed at that conversation that he was on record as saying the bridge is unsafe. He also is on record he didn't have the money, that the money is not before us right now. It is a case of closing the bridge until the bridge is in a safe condition. As a matter of fact, the Commissioner of Public Works wanted me to see his Honor the Mayor today as to this bridge or to see him in the near future. And I have already done that. I have taken what remedy I could as far as seeing the Mayor is concerned, back on March 13, when Councilor Carey and myself introduced a supplementary order requesting the Mayor to send that additional money up, supplementary appropriation, and give available funds to fix this bridge. But his Honor the Mayor took no regard of that. I am convinced from every angle that I have of getting knowledge from the city departments' outside engineers that this bridge is in an unsafe condition. And I ask that his Honor the Mayor confer with the Public Works Commissioner and with the acting division engineer, and close this bridge if it is unsafe until such time as it is put in a safe condition. I hope that reconsideration will not prevail.

The question came on reconsideration and reconsideration did not prevail, yeas 6, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Kerrigan, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Scannell—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Keenan, McCormack, Hanley, Shannon—8.

OPERATION OF "PRESIDENT'S CONFERENCE COMMITTEE" CARS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council desire to record their vigorous opposition against any plan on the part of the officials of the Boston Elevated Railway to operate any three-car trains of the President's Conference Committee type unless a conductor is employed on all three cars.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, we have at the present time being used by the Boston Elevated system a so-called President's Conference Committee type of car. No doubt every member of the Council is familiar with those cars. They have been in use principally up to the present time on the Commonwealth avenue subway line. A one-man car, in my estimation, of any type, is not a good thing to operate, for two reasons. It certainly definitely slows up the schedule that the operator of the car must maintain and, of course, then, in order to make up time, altogether too much responsibility is placed on that operator's shoulders. On the most cars there are front and rear entrances and proper protection is not being afforded to the riding public who board those cars from the rear entrance. Now, I understand that the Elevated is contemplating running these President's Conference Committee type cars in three-train groups, with the motorman on the front of the first car and no conductor on that first car, a conductor on the second car, and a conductor on the third car. I honestly believe that there are altogether too many hazards by the elimination of the conductor on the first car. There is altogether too much responsibility given to the man who is driving that car, operating that car, rather, to have to make change, to see that the passengers are on, and having to be careful that he might not close the doors either too late or too quickly. I don't believe that the elimination of a conductor on the first car is going to save the Elevated enough money to warrant them putting such a plan into effect. The safety of the public is definitely being endangered. There is altogether too much responsibility being placed on the shoulders of the operators of that first car, and I therefore ask that the rule be suspended and this resolution be passed immediately.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rule.

CLASSIFICATION OF SALARIES OF COUNTY CLERKS.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:
Ordered, that the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to classify the salaries of the Clerks and Assistant Clerks of the District Courts of Suffolk County, in compliance with the provisions of chapter 447 of the Acts of 1941, and that he be instructed to submit such classification schedules to the City Council on or before June 19, 1944.
The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

JEWETT STREET, WARD 18.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Jewett street, in the Mount Hope section of Roslindale, in Ward 18.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to designate Jewett street, in the Mount Hope section of Roslindale, Ward 18, as a one-way street.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS THROUGHOUT CITY.

Coun. FISH, FEENEY and KEENAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works and Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately put in proper working condition all drinking fountains throughout the city and that drinking bubblers be attached to all outlets; also that ice be used in sufficient quantities to provide the people of the city with cold drinking water at all times.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GLENWOOD AVENUE FOOTBRIDGE.

BOSTON PLAYS LEADING PART IN RADIO EDUCATION BY SCHOOLS — REPORT OF JOSEPH A. HENNESSEY, DIRECTOR OF VISUAL AND RADIO EDUCATION, ON ATTENDANCE AT FIFTEENTH INSTITUTE FOR EDU- CATION BY RADIO, AT COLUMBUS, MAY 5 TO 8, INCLUSIVE — ANNOUNCES STATEMENT AS TRUE.

The following report by Joseph A. Hennessey on meeting of the institute for education by radio was presented to the School Committee:

The Fifteenth Institute for Education by Radio attracted almost 1,000 members to Columbus, Ohio, from May 5 to May 8, 1944. Registration figures indicate that this attendance broke all previous records for the Institute. Although the attendance of many teachers and students from Ohio State University and from the public school systems of Columbus, Dayton, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other nearby cities seemed to result in centering the control and management of the educational work-study projects by that group, important contributions were made to the discussions by teachers from all sections of the country; consequently, a reasonably accurate overview of radio education as it now functions was presented. Without doubt, the number of professional broadcasters attending the meeting exceeded the number of outstanding educators.

Because the current radio discussions sponsored by the Boston School Committee are presented over the air in round table rather than town meeting type of broadcast, the sessions of the Junior Town Meeting League received special attention. Charles J. Benard of the Boston Trade High School participated, as a panel member, in the criticism and analysis of the Junior Town Meeting demonstration broadcast presented at the Institute. Later, at the organization meeting, Frederick J. Gillis, Assistant Superintendent, Boston Public Schools, was appointed a member of the executive council of the Junior Town Meeting League.

The town meeting or forum type of discussion was described as a technique which is adapted for us in both formal and informal instruction, with pupils in school or with adults outside of school. As a school technique for stimulating pupil research and discussion, the town meeting is admittedly more effective than many other techniques commonly employed. As a radio presentation by school pupils, the town meeting requires a different kind of treatment. It seems neither desirable nor necessary for school systems to duplicate in their radio discussions the aims and format of America's Town Meeting, the Blue Network sustaining program. The differences between the typical public school radio discussion and the network broadcast are more important than the similarities. The town meeting merits study as a school discussion procedure rather than as a promotion scheme for the network program.

Educational Value.

On the authority of George V. Denny, Jr., moderator of America's Town Meeting of the Air, the network discussion is forced to compete with entertainment programs of other networks; it must attract a large audience if it is to survive. Dramatic conflicts of opinion and clashes of personalities must be frequently introduced. The educational value of the presentation is dependent upon power to stimulate rather than to enlighten. Another characteristic, according to Mr. Denny, which increases the attractiveness of the program is spontaneous controversy.

The Institute sessions which centered on the study of standards and policies in college courses in radio resulted in disagreement as to the proper place for such instruction. Radio acting, radio speech, radio production, radio engineering or radio publicity, for example, might be treated as separate courses or as subdivisions of accepted courses now being offered in established fields. All educators were warned against the dangers of promising students certain success in radio.

At the meetings which described the educational programs of the major networks, it was indicated that the out-of-school broadcasts which are related to in-school work will be increased. The Federal Education Committee's listening guide, which is prepared to aid teachers to select such programs, has in the past included very few Mutual Broadcasting periods. At Columbus, Mutual announced that, henceforth, it will publish and distribute teacher guide pamphlets for use with its presentations.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
